But if the New Zealand papers can't rejoice over the British success in the Maori war, they are jubilant over the "glorious career of some of the Confederate commanders—exploits which read like the wild adventures of Drake and Raleigh in the olden time," (vide Otago Daily Times) and think no small things of themselves, because the Yankees are having their ships burned and their commerce destroyed by English built and English manned and armed vessels, sailing from English ports, and finding shelter in English ports when chased by an enemy able to fight.

Glorious career, indeed! Paul Jones has never (at least to my knowledge,) been defamed by having comparisons drawn between him and the heroes who conquer merchantmen, and merchantmen only, but poor Drake catches it: never mind; he was a pirate certainly, and so are these modern naval heroes, I suppose. I think the reason Jones gets off so well is, that John Bull don't like to hear him spoken of—its a name that brings up sad reminiscences of sunken frigates and terrified towns,—though I believe 'twas Jones' ship that was sunk. But he was the victor in a hard fight, so his name is not savory.

The latest news the New Zealanders have received from Melbourne is, that the "Shenandoah," (late Sea King) Confederate States war steamer, of eight guns and seventy-five men, has anchored in Hobson's Bay, (Melbourne Harbor) for repairs and somewhat extensive overhauling, and that the good people of that city were showing their love of the South—or their hatred of the North—by deifying her commander, Waddell, for his daring—he having captured and destroyed no less than nine formidable merchant vessels in the short space of three months. I send you a paper containing a list of her captures, and in return desire you to use your influence with the Secretary of the Navy, to induce him to send Capt Winslow out here—or any other Yankee skipper who has got a half-dozen guns under his command—as to meet the British pirate on equal terms would call down the wrath of the Colonial press upon the head of the coward who would be guilty of so mean an action.

The New Zealand mind has been much exercised for the last few months, on account of the unprotected state of the various seaports—the mare's nest discovered by the "Times," of Russia's diabolical intentions with regard to Australia and these islands, in case of war taking place between England and that power,—and the possibility of war between Uncle Sam and his friends over the water, in which case he might send a fast vessel from California and batter down Port Chalmers: [he'd have to fire seventy shells to do it,—for that's the number of houses in the town;] these reasons are sufficient to disturb the rest of the of the mighty editor of the Otago Daily Times—how much more, then, the commonalty. They want forts, and they want ships, and they want men; but they forget their most potent means of defence, which is ——. A ship of war, national or private, which should come here to get anything, would infallibly lose by the speculation, and might think herself very lucky to get off without having all her men, and most of her marines, starved to death; for there's not as much property in the country as would give each man of the ship's company two dollars and a half, if we except the rocks, and there's lots of them in New Hampshire, to be had for the taking, without fighting at all.

We are very respectable in the way of crime out here in Otago, though we can hardly compare with our "Sidney side," where bushrangers rob, burn and kill pretty much as they have a mind to—but the virtuous public protects them, probably from a fellow-feeling, while our unfortunate criminals are hunted down by the police for a single robbery or murder. Our latest case of any importance is that of a Capt. Jarvey, for a long time a colonial skipper, who some ten months ago removed his family, consisting of his wife and two grown daughters, to this island, on account of the sudden deaths of six younger children within one year, in the colony of New South Wales. Shortly after their arrival Jarvey formed an acquaintance with an unfortunate, and his conduct with her led to frequent scenes of contention with his family, though nothing was known by the public. Soon one of the daughters died, in a fit it was reported—then the mother was taken ill, but before she died she declared to her remaining daughter that her husband had poisoned her. Then, before the mother was buried, the daughter had to take refuge with a neighbor, to escape outrage—and yet she allowed three months to pass before she informed the authorities, giving as her reasons, that she feared losing her only remaining parent, and could not see where her duty lay until she had had time to reflect. At the first suspicion of foul play, the body was exhumed, and a large amount of strychnine found in the stomach, and, as a respectable druggist proved by his books and his oath that he had sold that poison to Jarvey, the coroner's jury rendered a verdict of "wilful murder" against him, and he now lies in prison charged with the murder of his wife, and suspected of poisoning at least seven of his children. If half the evidence were true, hanging is much too good for him. He ought to be allowed to live—in a fine room, with a running stream under the window, and plenty to eat—but not a drop of liquid: that's what I'd do to him.

Dunedin (nine miles from here, up the river,) has got to be a fine place for fires: they've had five within the last four weeks, each destroying about $50,000 worth of property—not bad for a new country. There is one fire brigade, but no water, save what is brought in carts from the river. But there's going to be an acqueduct one of these days, and then they'll have plenty of water.

But New Zealand boasts an "Exhibition," and a very good one it is, taking into consideration the country, the people, and the distance out of the world. England, France and other European countries are represented, as well as all the colonies of Australia and Tasmonia, and the Province of New Zealand,—but I don't know of anything from America being exhibited. Send me out a model of the "Kearsarge," and a portrait of Capt. Winslow or of old Abe, and I'll put them in—a great sensation they'd create, if I only had 'em.

Now, dear Chronicle, I've written all that I think might interest your readers, so what follows is private. Look in the Otago Daily Times (a well-conducted, readable paper—but of dotes table opinions,) of Feb. 13th, and in the leading article you will find various questions relating to slavery and the war settled much more expeditiously than the whole North could do it. Cut out the "leader" and send it to Jeff. Davis with my compliments. If the grammar of this billet is in any way defective, you can put it ship-shape—the sentiments are correct and need no alteration.—Send me the paper as usual, and if anything turns up in this quarter of the world to interest you and yours, you shall hear of it from Yours truly, ——— ICE.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

——The 18th N. H. Regiment is encamped near Georgetown. The following soldiers of this regiment are in the Washington Hospitals:

Sergt. Curtis Hix, rheumatism in chest; George Ordway, of Henniker, acute bronchitis; James H. Dersey, Walpole, hemorage of the lungs; E. Wells, Orange, inflammation of the lungs—very low; Chas. E. Smith, Bennington, remittent fever; Jeremiah Whitehouse, Barrington, quite feeble, phthisic. Besides ample medical attendance and nursing, the N. H. Soldiers' Aid Association are doing what they can for their comfort.

—— The Daily Copperhead refuses to be comforted,—insists upon it that slavery is not dead, or if it be that it is a dreadful shock to humanity,—hangs on to State supremacy, and quotes the rebels Lee and Tucker in support of it,—groans over the idea of negro suffrage, and makes itself and its stupid readers generally unhappy.

IRELAND ON THE SOUTHERN STATES. The Belfast, (Ireland) Whig rejoices over the downfall of the Confederacy and slavery, and thinks there will be no insuperable difficulties in the way of a peaceful reunion on the basis of equal rights and free institutions. It says:

When once slavery is removed, and peace is restored, there will be a rush of emigrants from Europe and the Northern States to the South. A new population will arise, which not only will have no quarrel with the North and Union, but will owe everything to them; and which, together with its decendants, will in the course of a generation form the great bulk of the population of the South. In this human deluge, the relics of the older society will be submerged and lost.

A homestead act for the South would bring to Virginia the prosperity of New York, and enable Florida and Alabama to count wealth and men with Ohio and Illinois. To effect this end there will be no need of confiscation. In the unreclaimed or abandoned soil of the slave States there are farms for millions of freemen. By small grants of land to the landless whites, who are, or were, the strength of the rebellion, and the hope of those who count on future disaffection and troubles, they may probably be converted into peaceful and industrious citizens, thus helping to confirm the new order on the basis of the old one, to the overthrow of which they have been blind instruments.

The bugbear of a tropical climate need not weigh much with us in thus forecasting the future. No part of the United States is within the tropics; and Texas, the State which most nearly approaches them, is the seat of German settlers, employed in that form of industry—the cultivation of cotton—in which we are asked to believe no European can engage and live. In this instance, and in almost every other, the facts which are alleged to disprove the possibility of the reconstruction of the Union on the basis of a homogeneous society, North and South, have no existence out of the imaginations of those whose wishes shape their thoughts.

— The colored people of New Orleans have started a daily, to be called the Black Republican.

MAY DAY.—The first of May is an established holiday for the children of Boston. It has been celebrated in accordance with the custom in "Merrie England" with fetes and sports in the open air; but so fruitful has this custom proved of illness, and often of death, from the injudicious exposure, that the consulting physicians of the city have petitioned the Mayor and School Committee to abolish this holiday and appoint the first of June, the opening of genial Summer, instead. A sensible change.

— The London News of April 29 says that the capture of Richmond and the approaching end of the Southern rebellion will compel the French government to reconsider its policy in Mexico, its ostensible aims and its secret objects, and probably to withdraw the flag of the Second Empire at the earliest possible moment from an enterprise begun in bad faith, conducted under false pretenses and directed to no reasonable or avowable ends.

— A Paris Correspondent of the London Morning Post—perhaps Slidell—sent to that journal a long letter in relation to the capture of Richmond. He proves to his own satisfaction, and apparently to the editor's, that the South is as strong as ever; that Lee retreated from Richmond in full force; and that he will, when joined by Johnson, have an army of 150,000 men "which can't be beat."

— A Detroit telegram to the Chicago Times states that rooms have been engaged for Robert E. Lee at Hamilton, C. W., where he is expected to arrive in the course of the current week. Very likely true; as the Times is a copperhead print, friendly to Lee.

— The colored people of Washington have organized an Association for the erection of a building to the memory of President Lincoln, to be devoted to "God, Literature, Science and Art," and the education of colored people as teachers and missionaries.

— Hon. B. Burton was shot in his house at Albany, N. Y., on Wednesday, and is reported dead. A man has been arrested on suspicion.

MECHANIC ASSOCIATION.—The "Associated Mechanics and Manufacturers of the State of New Hampshire," though almost entirely a local Society, and not a State affair, as its corporate name indicates—is one of the oldest and strongest, most valuable and important institutions among us. Yet it is hardly known at all, in its objects or operation, to the public in general.

It was formed in 1802, "for the laudable purposes of promoting and encouraging industry, good habits, an increase of knowledge in the arts they profess and practice, and the common interest of the members; which objects appear to be connected with the general good of the State." Financially, the Association is very strong, having some $7000 or more well invested funds.—And a great deal of good is done in a quiet way, by aid to the families of poor, sick or deceased members. But of late years little or nothing has been done to bring the claims and benefits of the Society before the public; and the early members are growing old and dropping off in the course of nature, while few new ones have joined to fulfil their responsibilities and enjoy the advantages. Every worthy young mechanic and manufacturer in the city ought to join; and hundreds would gladly do so, were the benefits of so doing laid before them. The expense is the merest trifle, and the duties actually almost nothing.

TWENTY-FIVE DOLLAR PRIZE.—Prof. Hinman offers $25 in Tuition to any person who will compose a better play on the word Write, than the following:

Scene, Lawyer's Office, enter Mr. Pun. Mr. P.—Good morning, Mr. Wright: won't you write to the Right Hon. R. I. T. Wright of *Wright*ville, with regard to the right of Rhyte-myer's patent-right writing fluid, and write a request that he will write in reply right off.

Mr. W.—All right, Mr. P., I will do the writing, but I advise you to take a course of writing of Prof. Hinman, teacher of writing; then do your own writing, thereby right-ing the wrongs of business not done in writing.

Exit Mr. P., on the right track.

$5.00 in Tuition to the boy or girl who will write a pronoun of the 1st person, plural number, and change it to a pronoun of the 3d person, singular number, by attaching thereto a part of one letter. Answers, with name and date, may be left at this office.

☞ The Holman Opera Troupe are to give one of their splendid Concerts here, May 10th; and all our musical people who have ever heard this excellent company, will be glad of it.

☞ "Tony Pastor's mammoth Combination, Opera, Farce, Minstrel and Pantomime Troupe," announce two of their grand entertainments in this city, the 11th and 12th insts.

☞ An order from the Navy Department has been issued, discharging all seamen whose term of service expires before July 10. The following vessels at the Washington Navy Yard have been laid up and their crews discharged: Steamer Santiago de Cuba: monitors Mahopac, Montauk, and Saugus; gunboats Yankee, Primrose, Fushia, Baltimore, Jacob Bell, Leslie, Rescue, and King Phillip.

☞ Gen. Wright, with the 6th corps of the Army of the Potomac, arrived at Danville, Va., from Burkesville Junction, last Thursday, having made a march of over 100 miles in four days. On the route and at Danville he captured a large amount of valuable property, including much railroad running stock and machinery stolen from the Government works, at Harper's Ferry, by the rebels.

— Hon. Benjamin G. Harris, the Copperhead member of Congress from Southern Maryland, was arrested on Thursday last by Major Waite, of Gen. Augur's staff, for treasonable conduct in discuading paroled rebel soldiers from taking the oath of allegiance, and urging them as soon as exchanged to return to the South and make farther fight.

— At Springfield, Illinois, President Lincoln's funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon, May 4th. A dispatch has been received from Robert Lincoln stating that his mother requests that Oak Ridge Cemetery, at Springfield, be the permanent burial place of his father. This will be complied with.

— The Senate of Tennessee have adopted resolutions offering $5,000 reward for the delivery of Ex-Governor Isham G. Harris to the civil authorities of the State.

— Only about fifteen millions of the rebel cotton loan were sold in England. Pity there was not more, as its purchasers were the most rabid and unscrupulous secession sympathizers.

— Geo. M. Robinson, the heroic soldier who saved Mr. Seward's life, is in the Douglas Hospital. We are glad to notice a suggestion in one of our exchanges that Mr. Robinson's bravery should not go unrewarded.

— The supervision of New York tenant houses, by their landlords, deserves particular mention. It may truly be called a pay rent-al care.

☞ Persons fond of the fine arts, about to visit Boston, will be glad to learn that the exhibition room of Messrs. Childs & Jenks, so long occupied by the statue of "Zenobia," is again open for the free admission of the public. Messrs. C. & J. have for sale the finest likenesses of our late President that we have seen.

☞ On the 5th of April, 1865, the Bangor "Democrat", so called, put forth the following:—

"With such an army if well or even tolerably supplied, it is in his [Lee's] power to make the struggle as bloody and burdensome for the North as that of 1864.

Let not, then, our readers be deceived by the cry, that peace is at hand through subjugation. The war has now entered upon its most burdensome and exhaustive phase for the North. Marches and counter marches; brilliant advances and disastrous defeats will make up the history of the campaign of 1865, as they have made up the campaigns of the years gone by.

☞ Booth and Harrold stopped at a house in Maryland formerly occupied by Surratt, to obtain firearms which they had secreted there previously, and which Mrs. Surratt had rode out to examine and see in good condition. She left word to have a bottle of whiskey in readiness, and as Booth took a drink, he boasted that "Abe Lincoln and Seward have both been killed." His whole subsequent journey has been traced.

— From estimates made some days ago, it is calculated that we have 500,000 men in the military service, and it is believed that within a month from this date, one half of this force can be dispensed with, and the men mustered out.

Misapprehension. — Common taters, said Mrs. Partington, after the preacher had ended his sermon—he having alluded to some commentators of the good book—common taters, she continued, well all sorts of taters this year are poor enough, but what has that to do with the gospel? Not half so much as the J. Monroe Taylor Gold Medal Soap has, for that will make the outside of the platter clean, if not the inside, besides it keeps folks from scolding or complaining; it is the best soap and needs no revival. 137

Arrandale & Co., Manufacturers' Agents,
167 BROADWAY, NEW YORK,

Announce that all the above list of goods will be sold for One Dollar Each.

In consequence of the great stagnation of trade in the Manufacturing districts of England, thro' the war having cut off the supply of cotton, a large quantity of Valuable Jewelry, originally intended for the English Market, has been sent off for sale in this country. AND MUST BE SOLD AT ANY SACRIFICE. Under these circumstances, ARRANDALE & CO., acting as agents for the principal European manufacturers, have resolved upon a GREAT GIFT DISTRIBUTION, subject to the following regulations:

Certificates of the various articles are first put into envelopes, sealed up and well mixed; when ordered, are taken out without regard to choice, and sent by mail, thus giving all a fair chance.—On receipt of the certificate, you will see what you are to have, and then it is at your option to send the dollar and take the article or not. Purchasers can also obtain a Gold Watch, Diamond Ring, or any set of Jewelry on our list for ONE DOLLAR.

Send 25 Cents for a Certificate.

In all transactions by mail, we shall charge for forwarding the Certificates, paying postage and doing the business, 25 cents each, which must be enclosed when the Certificate is sent for. Five Certificates will be sent for $1, eleven for $2, thirty for $5, sixty-five for $10, and a hundred for $15.

AGENTS.—We want agents in every regiment, and in every town and County in the country and should active agents send us $10 in 10 cents on every Certificate ordered by them, provided their remittance amounts to one dollar.—Agents will collect 25 cents for each Certificate, and remit 15 cents to us, either in cash or in postage stamps. ARRANDALE & CO.,

What the "Press" say of us.

GREAT GIFT DISTRIBUTION.—A rare opportunity is offered for obtaining watches, gold, diamond rings, silverware, etc., by Messrs Arrandale & Co., at No. 167 Broadway. They have an immense stock of articles varying in value, and all are offered at one dollar each. The distribution is very fairly done—you agree to take a certificate of a certain article, enclose 25 cents and may be so or $100. An excellent mode this of investing a dollar.—Sunday Times, N. Y. City, Feb. 19, '65.

Messrs Arrandale & Co. have long been personally known to us, and we believe them to be every way worthy of public confidence. — N. Y. Rostom Correspondent, Jan. 14, 1865.

We have inspected, at the office of Arrandale & Co.'s Agency for Euro; an Manufacturing Jewellers, a large assortment of fashionable and valuable articles of the newest patterns, and we so noticed a large quantity of silver plate, and understand that the whole of these newly imported articles are to be disposed of on a novel principle, giving great advantages to buyers, and affording extensive employment to agents. We know nothing questionable in this very respectable and thoroughly worthy of public confidence and recommend our friends to read their advertisement.—N. Y. Leader, Sept. 3, 1864.

By Messrs. Arrandale & Co.'s arrangement, the advantages must be on the customer, for he has everything to gain, and nothing comparatively to lose. The recipient will be sure to get a dollar beforehand, and he need not send it if he is not satisfied.—N. Y. Weekly News, Aug. 6, 1864.

EMPLOYMENT FOR LADIES.—The most eligible and profitable employment we have heard of for ladies is the sale of certificates for the 'Great Gift Distribution' of Arrandale & Co. A lady of our acquaintance has been very successful in this way, not only in filling her own purse, but also in doing a good turn to those to whom she sold the Certificates, as will be seen from our advertising columns. Gentlemen can also be thus engaged.—N. Y. Sunday Mercury, Aug. 14, 1864.

In our columns, this week, we call the attention of Arrandale & Co.'s Gift Distribution watches, Jewelry, and silver-ware. In payment of that advertisement we received several sets of the jewelry advertised, and we are warranted in saying that, both in finish and quality, they quite exceeded our expectations. They turned out to be just what they had been represented.—True Democrat, (Lewistown,) Aug. 17, 1864.

The British Whig of Kingston, C. W., says, Nov. 30, 1864, one of our lady subscribers acting as agent for Arrandale & Co., and by request bro't some twenty articles, sent as prizes for her agency, to this office for inspection, and without hesitation we can state that each and all of the articles were worth treble the amount of cost to the recipients, and some of them six times.

We have seen some very pretty specimens of Table and Tea Spoons, Gold Watches, Ladies' Chains, Pins, Bracelets, etc., which have been sent by Arrandale & Co., to this place for $1 each.—Angelica Reporter, N. Y. State, Feb. 15, 1865.

The New Hampshire Petroleum Co. is organized with great care, under the management of some of the ablest financiers and most successful business men in the State, whose integrity is above reproach, and who cannot be led by excitement into speculations that have not to their minds a golden foundation. Their lands have been selected with great caution. Mr. N. R. Bates, of Titusville, who has been very successful the past year in selecting Oil Lands and boring wells, was known to some of the gentlemen prominent in starting this company as a man strictly honest, sagacious, and experienced in the Petroleum region, and was solicited to aid in selecting the proper farms. He did so. Col. B. F. Mar. tin, Wm. P. Newell, and John B. Clarke, Editor of the Mirror, of Manchester, J. S. Rogg, Esq., of the firm of Rogg, Houghton & Coolidge, 61 Pearl St., Boston, and Daniel R. Lancaster, of Boston, formerly U. S. Consul, were appointed a committee to visit the farms spoken of. Early in February they looked over the lands selected by Mr. Bates, and became convinced that they were among the very best that could be had. The great Oil Belt seems to be situated between Oil Creek, East Oil Creek, and Allegheny river, and not twenty miles from one point to the other, and the Four Farms of the Company are within the Belt and adjacent to the famous Oil Rich of the great flowing and pumping wells that have yielded the past year to the State of Pennsylvania, as Gov. Curtin, in his Message, has stated, millions of dollars. The last of March, B. W. Harris, Esq., a well-known lawyer of Boston and late District Attorney, and Hon. Moody Currier, a well known man of Dover, N. H., and F. A. Wilcox, Esq., a lawyer of 76 Wall Street, New York, were sent out to see to the titles of lands, and make further examinations. They came to the same conclusions the others had, and the Four Farms were bought, and are now held by the

THE MATTISON FARM.

This Farm contains 84 acres and is near the confluence of Cherry Creek and East Oil Creek.—The lay of the land is beautiful for Oil; high, sands on one side, Cherry Creek running directly through, and a rich undeveloped Coal vein on one side. Every inch of the land is valuable for Oil or boring wells, and there is no waste to it.

The oil belts run from east to west, or from north east to south west, and are from one to three miles wide. The Mattison Farm is in and a half mile from a direct line east of the great Oil flats south of Titusville, from which innumerable fortunes have flowed. Hard by, Steele & Reed are now pouring 4000 barrels per day—the Fountain 200—the Parker 200—and scores of wells are now being worked that yield from 10 to 100 barrels daily. Nine out of every ten wells bored on this flat are a success. A ten barrel well will sell for forty thousand dollars, and a sixty barrel will sell for half a million.

It is believed by good judges that every rod of the seventy-five acres of the Mattison Farm, all that is not good for oil, will be valuable for Coal, as there is no other Coal in that section is worth $15 per ton, and if the vein of coal should work well it would be a fortune in itself. It is spinning and burning freely as Cannel.

The average price of oil per barrel the last year was $10 at the works, the buyers furnishing the barrels. It costs about $1000 to sink and fit a well to the depth of 700 feet, and few go lower than that. It costs $20 per day to work it after it yields oil. Of the Mattison Farm Creek Farm Petroleum Company, says of this Farm Section:

"I consider all the lands located there, as being richer and more productive than any farms of a more full and perfect character than any other that I am acquainted with; and I have expended much time during the last six years in examining and selecting Oil Territory in Venango, Crawford and Warren Counties, in all of which I have made considerable investments.—Professors MAYNARD and SHEPHERD, Geologists of eminence, are of the same opinion regarding the lands generally throughout the Valley of East Oil Creek. If this Farm comes up to the expectations of Prof. Shepherd of Yale College, of Mr. Bates, it will have pumping wells and flowing wells. The flowing wells would sell for large sums of money, and the pumping wells would be worth millions of Dollars, would be of incalculable value. There is abundant room on each acre for 13 wells, and if this farm be one hundred wells, it will make computation of the cost of so many wells, and the yield and profit on the whole in a year, if they are as good as they are expected to be, would be the minimum average of the wells on that Oil Belt, and your income from this Farm alone is over one million of dollars. The Company do not expect any such results, but merely state facts, and let each person make his own figuring and reach his own conclusions.

THE PARKER FARM

Contains 100 acres, is heavily timbered, situated near the road to Enterprise, not far from East Oil Creek, and between Cherry Creek and where the Caldwell Company empties into Oil Creek. They have lately sunk a well right opposite this farm and struck oil. A single good well on this large farm would enable the Company to pay or lease the lands for great sums. The remarks about the location of the Mattison Farm, apply equally well to this.

THE BYLES FARM,

On Pit Hole Creek, contains 105 acres. Its about three miles east of Oil Creek, directly east of the Coquet Well that flows 100 barrels daily, the Jer sey that flows 200, the Maple Shade and other noted flowing wells, and pumping wells without limit. This Farm is on the same Oil Belt and on the right range. There is great excitement on Pit Hole Creek. The Frazer well is on it. It began to flow about the middle of January, and with its sucker rod in, and its pipe seven-eights full of machinery, it has flowed 250 barrels per day ever since.—They have not dared to pull out the sucker rod yet, fearing they had not sufficient tanks to hold the oil. They have not yet built tanks to hold 3,000 barrels. Below this well, on the same Creek, another fine well has been struck, and above it is a spouting well, which, when bored low enough, will yield abundantly. A little farther north the same company, the United States, is putting down a well that looks already better than the Frazer well, and great expectations rest upon it. In sight of the spouting wells, and between the Frazer and the one which has raised so high hopes, is the Byles Farm, all low land, and every rod fit for a well. It is splendidly timbered. It abounds in sand rocks and oil indications. Mr. Bates thinks very highly of it, and has no doubt but we shall find on it flowing wells superior to any yet struck in that section. A single flowing well struck would enable us to sell the farm in small lots for ten millions of dollars. Land on high bluffs some ways removed from the Coquet well, leases for fifty years at the rate of $30,000 for strips twelve rods by sixteen, each down.

THE DAWSON FARM,

On West Pit Hole, contains 25 acres, and is in the same wonderful oil region. It has oil springs on and around it, and many wells are now being bored near it with excellent show for oil. Mr. Bates is now sinking one close to it. In a letter dated March 25, 1865, he says: "My time is showing as finely as it progresses, both in gas and oil, as any well has ever shown at the same depth on Oil Creek; gas at 90 feet; a good show of oil at 112 feet; at 140 feet gas is rising and roaring loudly."

Within rifle shot of this farm, sixteen years ago a well was sunk twenty-seven feet deep for water, and oil came in and spoiled it. We have no doubt that rich oil wells will be sunk on this Farm, and there is land enough, if they are rich, to make the Farm a fortune.

The property of this Company is located on "Coal Run Creek," Meigs County, State of Ohio, about 10 miles from Athens, containing one hundred and five acres of land. A large number of wells are successfully worked in the vicinity, some of which are paying handsome dividends.—This Company propose to commence operations at once, and entertain no doubt that at an early day they will be able to pay a handsome per centage on the investment. The known ability and business qualifications of the officers of this Company afford a sufficient guaranty that the affairs will be conducted in a manner to secure the confidence of those who are disposed to invest in it.

The tract of land adjoining the property of this Company has passed into the hands of capitalists, who have sent out an experienced superintendent to commence operations at once, and their first order for machinery was $16,000. Our property has been examined under instructions from Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, who pronounces the coal, which is in abundance, to be of the best quality, yielding 80 gallons of oil to the ton, and has no doubt, from the location and position of the property, that it will be found valuable in the production of oil. Most companies have to pay very high prices for their coal, all of which we save; oil can be manufactured from the coal upon the property, at a cost not exceeding ten cents per gallon, and it is proposed to commence the manufacture in connection with the sinking of wells. One dollar will buy a share of this stock, which is the par value, and all benefits derived from the lands, either by sales of oil, land or products of any kind, are to be divided among the stockholders, and in addition $200,000 worth of valuable, useful and desirable property will be given to the stockholders, as soon as all the shares are disposed of. The Company adopt this course for the purpose of disposing of their stock at the par value, rather than to sell it, as many companies do, at a subscription price, which is usually one-half. Thus, it will be perceived that every stockholder owning ten shares, for example, will be sure to realize a handsome dividend when the property is divided; a plan which is entirely honorable, and in all respects perfectly legal.

The property to be distributed among the stockholders will be equal to any in the market, and will consist of the following described articles:

$5000 to purchase a HOUSE in Boston or vicinity.
$5000 in U. S. 5-20 BONDS, CERTIFICATES of $500 each.

The Chronicle.

PHILANTHROPY DURING WAR.—A gentleman residing in New York has with great labor prepared a small book which gives a statement of the amount contributed by the American people for philanthropic purposes connected with the war, and which is summed up as follows:

"The total contributions from the States, counties and towns, for the aid and relief of soldiers and their families, has amounted to over $187,205,608 62; that the contributions for the care and comfort of soldiers, by associations and individuals has amounted to $24,044,865 96; that the contributions, at the same time, for sufferers abroad has been $830,140 74; and for freedmen, sufferers by the riot of July and white refugees, have been $639,633 13; making a grand total, exclusive of expenditures of the government, of more than two hundred millions of dollars, ($212,274,259 48)."

It is worthy of notice that while these generous contributions have been made for the soldiers, the ordinary objects of charity have not been neglected. The poor have been well cared for; and all the great charitable, philanthropic and missionary organizations in our country have been well supported and kept in vigorous operation. The receipts of many of them have been larger than during any previous four years of their history. It shows the resources of our people in a wonderful manner.

PRESENTIMENTS.—Burleigh says in a recent letter, "I learned yesterday of a presentiment of Mr. Lincoln's death that has now a melancholy interest. A gentleman of New York quite intimate with the President's family visited Mrs. Lincoln three weeks ago last Saturday. Mrs. Lincoln spoke of her desire to visit Europe, and the intention of Mr. Lincoln at one time to have made the tour. She said that in speaking of the European tour a few days before, the President said in a very melancholy tone, "You can visit Europe, but I never shall." On asking him the reason, he replied that something told him he should never visit the Old Country. Mrs. Lincoln added that she felt very strangely about her husband. That till lately she had never had any fears concerning him. But now she had a presentiment that there was some calamity hanging over him. She did not think he would live till the close of his term. She had done everything to shake off the impression, but the gloom thickened. This conversation was held a fortnight before the President's death. How tragically this presentiment has been fulfilled, a sorrowing nation can tell."

MORE FOOLING.—The Memphis Bulletin's special dispatch says it is stated that the rebel Gen. Dick Taylor sent General Hodge to notify Gen. Dana of the surrender of Johnston to Sherman, and inform him of the terms of the surrender. Gen. Dana gave full credence to Taylor's statement, and arranged an armistice with Hodge, the terms of which are said to be the entire cessation of hostilities, each retaining the right to punish guerrillas, and trade regulations and intercourse to continue under very liberal constructions. The armistice contemplates arrangements on the same plan proposed by General Sherman, unless repudiated by Sherman's superior officer.—The armistice commenced on the 29th of April, and is only to be terminated after 48 hours notice. [The rebels, Davis, Hampton & Co. must have deemed our government and people a collection of soft-heads, if they supposed such terms would be approved by any among us except traitors and dupes.—But the devise gave them time,—and so it may give Dick Taylor time to escape.]

— It appears that the forty or fifty negro soldiers enlisted by the rebels under their act of Congress, and who evacuated Richmond with Lee's army, going toward Amelia, dropped off at the rate of about one for every mile travelled, and when the rendezvous was reached, the white captain and colored corporal alone remained.

— The Christian Register suggests that, instead of building the six or eight monuments in honor of President Lincoln, already projected, a single monument be built over his remains at Springfield, Ill., and that Lincoln Homes for disabled soldiers be established in all the principal cities. Good idea.

— A number of farmers in Albany county, N. Y., who do not take the papers, have large quantities of butter stored in their cellars, which they hold waiting for the price to reach seventy-five cents or one dollar per pound.

— Mr. Geo. W. Soper, an extensive boot and shoe maker of New York, who had lost largely by gold dealing, died on Saturdry morning from an over-dose of opium.

ESTABLISHED
FACTS AND REASONS
FOR USING
DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S
BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR!
FIRST. The extraordinary curative effect of the Blood-Root Elixir was discovered by a regularly educated Physician: and the present proprietor also is a graduate from one of the highest Medical Colleges in New England.
SECOND. The Elixir is not alcoholic, contains no minerals, and may be relied upon as being composed of strictly vegetable substances; and no ingredient is introduced that can unfavorably affect the most delicate constitution.
THIRD. The extensive and successful use of the Blood-Root Elixir, during the past year, proves it to be, without any qualification, the best and most valuable medicine that has ever been prepared for family use.
FOURTH. Medical science and skill have never been able to produce a cathartic medicine of equal power and effect, which contains so many desirable qualities. Its superiority as an aperient consists in its sure and thorough action, operating equally through all parts of the bowels. It never produces griping pains in its operation; nor occasions nausea; its flavor is pleasing and agreeable: and it will not be rejected by the most fastidious child. It may be safely used in all cases where laxative medicine is required. It will promote the comfort and health of both sexes, and of all ages: it will assist Nature during all infantile changes; it will, during the anxious hours of a mother's life, hasten and assuage her maternal pangs; it will render joyous and happy the ingering days of the aged and venerable. And when the Elixir is once introduced into any household, it will therein supersede all other laxative medicine.
FIFTH. The long period which the Elixir was used by the original proprietor, in prescriptions to his patients, and the great and unqualified success which has attended its more general use, during the past year, are confirmed by unsolicited testimonials, which in number and extended results exceed our estimate of our most sanguine hopes so early had anticipated,—therefore we are fortified by unrefutable evidence, that our estimate of the efficacy and value of the Blood-Root Elixir has not been exaggerated.
SIXTH. In examining certificates received during the past year of its successful results, we are gratified in believing that our medicine has not failed in any case where it has been tried, to cure the most stubborn and chronic cases of CONSTIVENESS.
SEVENTH. Most grateful manifestations have also been evinced by patients who have been relieved from LIVER COMPLAINT, of long standing. Also it has been effectual in curing CUTANEOUS ERUPTIONS OF THE SKIN; and in eradicating BLOTCHES OF THE BLOOD. And many afflicted with deep seated incurable SCROFULA, have been greatly benefitted by a moderate use of the Elixir.
EIGHTH. In cases of COUGHS and COLDS it has proved successful beyond any assurance we have ever expressed; and those who have thoroughly tested its effect, believe it to be superior to all other cough preparations.—The Elixir, by its physical properties, equalizes the circulation of the Blood, and removes congestion. It also, when used as a gargle, or swallowed slowly, heals and soothes the irritated and inflamed membranes, from which the cough arises.
NINTH. Many persons suffer periodically from JAUNDICE, which is occasioned by a morbid and inactive state of the Liver. The Blood-Root Elixir is a sure relief from the deponded feelings and painful symptoms which are peculiar to that disease.
TENTH. DYSPEPSIA is an aggravating and disheartening disease, often leading to dangerous results. A limited use of the Elixir, according to the directions, will regulate the stomach and bowels with unerring certainty, and restore digestion to a natural and healthy action.
ELEVENTH. RHEUMATISM the Blood-Root Elixir will readily relieve; its warm and quickening effect counteracts the cold and morbid condition of the fluids, which is the primary cause of all Rheumatic affections.
TWELFTH. Persons subject to HEADACHE will be relieved in a few hours by a single dose of the Elixir.
☞ Every person taking the Elixir should carefully read the printed pamphlet which accompanies each bottle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, MAY 5, 1865.

$100,000 REWARD FOR JEFF. DAVIS. Pres. Johnson, by the Proclamation which follows, dated Washington, May 2, informs the world who the chief murderers were, in our recent affliction, and also offers a good reward for several of them:

Whereas it appears from evidence in the Bureau of Military Justice, that the atrocious murder of the late President, Abraham Lincoln, and the attempted assassination of the Hon. Wm. H. Seward, Secretary of State, were incited, concerted and procured by and between Jefferson Davis, late of Richmond, Va., and Jacob Thompson, Clement C. Clay, Beverly Tucker, Geo. N. Sanders, W. C. Cleary, and other rebels and traitors against the Government of the United States, harbored in Canada:

Now, therefore, to the end that justice may be done, I, Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, do offer and promise for the arrest of said persons, or either of them, within the limits of the United States, so that they can be brought to trial, the following rewards: One hundred thousand dollars for the arrest of Jefferson Davis; twenty-five thousand dollars for the arrest of Clement C. Clay; twenty-five thousand dollars for the arrest of Jacob Thompson, late of Mississippi; twenty-five thousand dollars for the arrest of George N. Sanders; twenty-five thousand dollars for the arrest of Beverly Tucker; and ten thousand dollars for the arrest of William C. Cleary, late clerk of Clement C. Clay.

The Provost Marshal General of the United States is directed to cause a description of the said persons, with the notice of the above rewards, to be published.

DAVIS AND THE ASSASSINATION PLOT. The New York Evening Post brings together several considerations, which raise a strong probability to say the least, that Jeff. Davis was not only privy to the conspiracy to murder President Lincoln and all the Heads of Departments of Washington,—but also that he acted through his vile agent Breckinridge in the negotiations with Sherman, on the assumption that the conspiracy had been successfully carried out.

The Post closes its speculations thus:

To us these facts viewed in their correspondence with each other, seem to show that Davis staked his all, when Richmond was lost, upon the sudden and wholesale assassination of the Heads of the Government, and hoped that under cover of this terrible blow he and his fellows could secure such terms from a disorganized and paralyzed Government and people, as would give them a new hold of power in the South, and time to reorganize for further efforts; with, perhaps, an opportunity to make themselves masters of the whole Union.

JEFF. D.—the N. Y. Tribune's Wilmington despatch says positive information has been received to the effect that Jeff. Davis got away with only $200,000 in specie, the whole of which was a total loss to him in consequence of the train breaking down. Col. Clark of the rebel army, who was in charge of the specie, says the soldiers broke open the kegs, and amid the excitement and tumult, soldiers and citizens appropriated all there was left. The Tribune editorially says Davis, if we may believe the despatch which comes to us from the highest authority, is penniless as well as a wanderer.

☞ The Richmond Whig of the 2d instates that Mosby took leave of his men at Salem, Fauquier county, telling them to disband and return to their homes; that he was bound to TEXAS, and did not want them to accompany him, as it might put their necks into a halter. He then rode off with a small number of his companions.—A steamer was loading at Richmond with tobacco.—Rebel treasury notes were quoted at $3 a $5 per thousand as souvenirs.—Many burglaries are reported in Richmond.—The Government line of steamers from Fortress Monroe to Richmond will be discontinued in a few days. Two lines are to be established immediately by private parties.

— An English shipping house in New York, in its trade circular sent to England by the last steamer, gave an account of President Lincoln's death, and said: "Nearly twenty years ago the writer heard one of the most accomplished public men in Mississippi predict that Jeff. Davis would yet be hung. The same gentleman repeated the prediction on his death bed." As the case stands now, that gentleman has a very fair chance of being classed among the dead prophets.

☞ It appears that the rebel and copperhead plot to burn Philadelphia was discovered in Washington by means of a conversation between two conspirators, which was overheard by a soldier. Discovering that they were followed, the fellows fired upon and slightly wounded the soldier, and fled; but they dropped in firing the pistol, a letter which divulged the whole scheme, and enabled the authorities promptly to frustrate it.

— The Washington Intelligencer says the government has thirty-three millions in gold on hand. It is known that the government is prepared to pay the coin interest due in July.

— A penny paper, to be edited by women, has been started in Paris.

☞ Says the Philadelphia Press, "there is nothing so sure and practical, to-day, as that there can be no more unrevenged treason to the American Union. One good result has come from the rebellion and the foul murder which crowns its decay, like the ghool that grinds its envenomed tooth into the murderer's grave. The rebellion is accompanied to its reeking sepulchre by the individual assassin. And the good result is this: that our peace is to be an unconditional peace. A month ago Mr. Lincoln would consent to a composition or a compromise; now the civilized world demands a complete conquest of all the elements that fomented, forced, and fought the bloody revolt."

BURNING OF COLUMBIA.—The following extract from Gen. Sherman's official report of "The Campaign of the Carolinas" places the responsibility of the burning of Columbia on Wade Hampton:

I disclaim on the part of my army any agency in this fire, but, on the contrary, claim that we saved what of Columbia remains unconsumed. And, without hesitation, I charge Gen. Wade Hampton with having burned his own city of Columbia, not with a malicious intent, but from folly and want of sense, in filling it with lint, cotton and tinder. Our officers and men on duty worked well to extinguish the flames; but others, not on duty, may have assisted in spreading the fire after it had once begun, and may have indulged in unconcealed joy to see the ruins of the capital of South Carolina.

☞ A guard of U. S. soldiers under Lt. O'Brien, have taken to Baltimore two citizens of Calvert county, named Dr. N. W. Browne and Wm. Cochrane, and three other men, on a charge of being concerned in the recent assassination of Union soldiers stationed there. Cochrane acknowledged that he had been for a month in a starving condition, which being known to Browne and others, he was offered large sums of money to take the lives of certain soldiers. He accepted the terrible bribe, and deliberately assassinated two soldiers whilst they were on picket duty. Cochrane received $175 for killing the first soldier, and was to have received $500 for the murder of the other, but was apprehended before the money was paid.—A few nights since as Lieut. O'Brien, Superintendent of the Government farms in the lower counties, was riding, he was shot at by a concealed foe, but fortunately escaped. His horse was killed. The rebels in the lower counties, are committing depredations on the inhabitants and slaughtering numbers of government cattle. They may probably be shot or hung.

☞ Information from Stoneman's cavalry states that Jeff. Davis was at Yorkville, S. C., on the 28th ult., and Stoneman's forces came in on the following day. Davis has one day's start of Stoneman. Jeff. is escorted by two thousand cavalry, well mounted, and commanded by General Dibbell. He is accompanied by Benjamin, Breckinridge, and other notorious characters, and will probably be joined by all the desperadoes fleeing from justice and the United States Government. It is hoped that Gen. Stoneman's forces will overtake and capture Davis, as he is burdened with eleven wagons supposed to contain specie.

FINISH THE GUERRILLAS.—Now that all regular warfare is at an end, it is the duty of government to suppress the guerrillas still scattered through the Southern States, preying on friend and foe. The way to finish these fellows is to declare them outlaws, and treat them as such when captured. The soldiers of the guerrilla chief Mosby have deserted him, but Mosby himself refuses to surrender. We understand Gen. Grant issued orders to Gen. Hancock to give him one hour in which to surrender, and if he refused, to declare him outlawed, and deal out to him the penalty of outlawry. This order is an indication of the course government intends to pursue towards all the guerrillas, and it is the way to get rid of them.—N. Y. Herald.

Dan Voorhies, one of the worst copper heads in the country, has had to leave his home in Terre Haute, Ind.—Exch.

He was in Concord, N. H., July 4, 1863, and made a speech of extra bitterness, highly applauded then by traitors,—but which seems to be rather flat now.

☞ We have received files of New Zealand papers from our correspondent on that side of the world. The opera was in full blast at Dunedin, a billiard tournament was in progress at the same place; and at the Northern part of the domain, Wm. Thompson, leader of the rebellion, had surrendered. The war news was quite lively, but sinks into insignificance when read within a month of American war news.

— The Assistant Surgeon ejected from the Lincoln Hospital at Washington for scurrilous remarks in regard to the assassination of president Lincoln, was John A. Hall, a Canadian. His excuse was that the letter in which the remarks were made was written to a secesh friend with the idea that it would please him. The soldiers about the hospital were kept in ignorance of the affair until after the departure of Hall, from the apprehension that they might lynch him.

— The Austrian dogs are suffering from a plague. Here a plague is suffered from the dogs.

THE NEW ORDER OF THINGS.—Gen. Halleck, commanding the Military Division of the James, has issued the following Order, which probably indicates the policy to be pursued down South:

RICHMOND, April 28, 1865.

Clerks of Courts of Record in Richmond and Petersburg will be permitted to resume their functions on taking the oath of allegiance. All attorneys, counsellors, advocates and proctors, and all others licensed to practice a particular profession, trade or business, the presidents, directors, and officers of all corporations, and all persons availing themselves of the benefit of General Order No. 2. in regard to trade, will be required to take the oath of allegiance to the United States.

Any person in the above mentioned cities—not having taken the prescribed oath—who shall, after the first day of May next, attempt to practice any licensed trade or business, or shall exercise the functions of a president, director or officer of any corporation, will be arrested.

The foregoing provisions will be enforced in the other parts of the State as soon as practicable.

All persons making claim for the restoration of private property before a provost marshal, or any military officer, court or commission, will be required to take the oath of allegiance to the United States; and until the claimant takes the prescribed oath his claim will neither be granted or considered.

All officers of claims in this Military Division are requested to give no clearances or permits to ship or land any goods, or other articles of trade, to any person, or for the benefit of any person, who has not taken the oath of allegiance to the United States.

No marriage license will be issued until the parties desiring to be married take the oath of allegiance to the United States; and no clergyman, magistrate or other person authorized by State laws to perform the marriage ceremony, will officiate in such capacity until he himself and the parties contracting matrimony have taken the prescribed oath of allegiance.

Any person acting in violation of these orders will be arrested, and a full report of the case reported to these headquarters.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—The trial of the conspirators commences on Monday. Payne will probably be tried first for the attempted murder of Secretary Seward and for treason.

The trial of Congressman Harris proceeds slowly. It is said that, in addition to his urging paroled rebel soldiers to take up arms again, he openly rejoiced over the assassination of President Lincoln.

Sixty vessels were put out of commission, Wednesday, and one hundred employees dismissed from the Navy Yard Wednesday. Twenty clerks were discharged from a single bureau in the War Department. Gen. Carl Schurz has added to the retrenchment by resigning his commission. Naval and army resignations are of daily occurrence.

Ex-Governor Aiken, of South Carolina, and G. B. Lamar, of Georgia, were brought to Washington, Wednesday, under arrest charged with obstructing the reconstruction of the Government. Lamar was imprisoned and Aiken is on parole.

— Sergeant Boston Corbett, says the N. Y. Post, writes to a friend in that city under date of May 1st:—"My life has been threatened in a most blood-thirsty manner, but God is well able to keep me."

— A Washington dispatch says the government will pay one hundred millions of dollars to discharged soldiers and others during this month. Forty million dollars worth of certificates of indebtedness were redeemed in April.

—The N. Y. Herald's Hilton Head correspondent says Ex-Gov. Aiken while professing to be opposed to secession, is charged with aiding the rebellion. G. B. Lamar, a violent secessionist, has also been arrested. Both prisoners are understood to be charged with treason, and are to be tried therefor.

—Florida correspondence says 1500 Union prisoners, who had been at Andersonville, were released near Jacksonville on the 23th, and had reached our lines sick and nearly starved.

GOLD, Thursday, 142 1-2. Silver is selling at 4 to 6 cents below the price of gold.

BEEF CATTLE, at Cambridge and Brighton, have fallen in price about 3 cts. per lb.

— Mrs. Bronson and her two daughters were arrested at Baltimore on Friday last on suspicion of complicity with Payne the assassin, who boarded with Mrs. B. in March last.

— Sch. Admiral, Rankin, from Wells for Boston, capsized on Wednesday near Thatcher's Island, and it is believed the crew are lost.

— The N. Y. Evening Commercial says the coal trade is unusually depressed.

— The large shield-shaped silver-plated door-plate of Alexander H. Stephens, late Vice-President of the late so-called Confederate States of America, is now displayed in the window of an oyster house on Washington street in Boston. This trophy from Georgia was secured by one of Sherman's soldiers.

— A letter from Richmond says the negroes manifest no disposition to migrate North, while those at the North are returning to Richmond with their families, so that the fear entertained that the north would be overrun by freedmen will not be realized

— Mr. Seward is so well that he expects to take his place in the cabinet meetings in a few days.

— Twenty-two hundred troops at Riker's Island are to be mustered out this week.

— Ex-President Pierce is reported to be engaged to be married to a Boston girl, daughter of a Colonel in the United States army.—Press.

— The territory covered, or rather uncovered, by Johnston's surrender, embraces the States of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida, or a distance of over 500 miles from east to west.

☞ A gem of a place—Thacher's new Apothecary Store, corner of Congress and Vaughan Streets.

Local.

☞ As we have before more than once remarked in these columns,—and as Rev. Mr. DeNormandie observed in a recent discourse—and in fact as every thoughtful citizen must ever be sadly cognizant of: we have in our whole city, actually no place of public instruction or entertainment—not to mention amusement or recreation, open to the young men of our city. To be sure, for a small every way comparatively unimportant class—(since they have mostly arrived at mature years, and have all the attractions and protection of good homes, and possess the means wherewith to gratify all such needs whenever they like,) the Athenæum affords an excellent retreat.

But we submit that every young man in the city—every mechanic and workingman—(we suppose it would be too great an advance on our present civilization to include the young women too,) ought to have some place open to them, where they might spend their evenings and other spare time profitably. And whoever shall bring this about, we think will perform a most important service to the public, and contribute no little to the well-being of the working classes—the most important in any community.

And in this connection, we are much pleased to learn that the Mechanic Association are contemplating a movement of this character; and have now under consideration, the establishment of a Reading Room, which shall be open to the free use, not only of members, but also to all mechanics and working men. This would be a noble move, in the right direction, and is legitimately within the design of the founders of this Association; they have plenty of strength to carry it out, and would also gain strength by it—and we hope to see it done. We hear the Officers are speedily to call a special meeting of the members, to act on the matter.

POLICE COURT, Wednesday, May 3—before Justice Odell.—The complaint of Deborah Warren against Thomas Roberts, for an alleged second assault on her, was brought up, and the entire day occupied in examination. The judge decided that the complaint could not be sustained by the evidence, and discharged the respondent.

[A spectator of the examination, who heard all the testimony, informs us that the woman's testimony was inconsistent with itself, and considering the character and condition of the parties, utterly incredible; and that the other evidence in the case, with Mr. Roberts' good reputation among his neighbors, makes it highly probable that the woman's testimony in the first case will go for nothing before a jury. For example, she swore that she had not been out for certain days since the second assault; but a, credible witness testified to seeing her out early on one of the days;—and in some other particulars her testimony was contradicted by circumstances, and intrinsically improbable.]

Editors Chronicle:—A very small proportion of the youth of this country have an opportunity (or improve it) to go to a writing school. How, then, can they become tolerable writers?

Every one must be aware that our common schools are not conducted in a manner to produce good writers, as the results show although flooded with copy-books of every name and pretension—as if copy-books and practise alone would make good penmen.

There are two principle causes of this backwardness in the writing department throughout the country. The first is, too little time is devoted to writing—second, lack of ability in teachers to make the exercise profitable and interesting. Let all the common school teachers be qualified to teach writing as well as they are to teach other branches—then let them give one fourth as much time to it as is given to other branches, and you will see as the result, as is the case with Austria, Prussia and Germany, a nation of good writers.

Very respectfully,
G. C. HINMAN.

Portsmouth May 4th 1862.

☞ Some of our exchanges say that ex-President Pierce of Concord is reported to be engaged to be married to a Boston girl, daughter of a Colonel in the U. S. army, but rumor has it here that Col. John H. George is to be the happy man.—Boston Journal, Thursday Evening.

A TRAITOR BOSTONIAN.—The Melbourne correspondent of the N. Y. Herald states that when the rebel pirate Shenandoah arrived there her captain (Waddell), on landing placed her under the patronizing care of Mr. J. F. Maynire, of Boston, our former Consul there under President Buchanan, and who was an earnest and urgent applicant for the same office under President Lincoln, but being superseded by the present Consul, Mr. Blanchard, became a violent partisan of the South; not, however, before drawing nearly a year's pay from Mr. Lincoln's Secretary of the Treasury. Mr. Maynire introduced the officers of the Shenandoah, or rather Sea King, to the Melbourne Club, composed principally of Government officials and would-be aristobracy, who tendered them a dinner.

FROM GEORGIA.—The capture of Macon, Ga., by Gen. Wilson, is confirmed. The place is under the protection of Union soldiers.—Gov. Brown is at Augusta endeavoring to get up a State convention to bring back Georgia to her allegiance to the Union.—The crops in Georgia, including cotton, promise well.—After entering Macon and placing guards, Gen. Wilson withdrew a large portion of his cavalry outside the city.

Gen. Wilson and his splendid force of cavalry reached Savannah last Friday:

— The money stolen and carried off by Jeff. Davis is said to have belonged to depositors in the Richmond banks.

We would again call attention to this indispensable article of Gold Medal Soap, for the laundries and the ladies. What the dear creatures will do when the manufacturer, in the course of human events, steps into another sphere of being, we are at a loss to imagine. Make the most of him while you have a chance to do so, for nature, art or science can never produce a second Monroe Taylor Gold Medal Soap. We cannot say half enough in its favor. After using, you will say the same. 118

See what the most popular and widely circulated periodicals say of our Establishment:

From the "Dispatch" of February 26, 1865.

We take pleasure in calling the attention of our readers to the announcement of Messrs. Devaugh & Co.'s Great Sale of Jewelry, Silver Ware, and Fancy Goods, in our advertising columns. We are personally acquainted with the members of this firm and know them to be gentlemen of sterling worth and integrity. The stock of goods, for variety and extent, we have scarcely seen paralleled.

From the "Mirror of Fashion," March 1, 1865.

Messrs. Devaugh & Co.'s Great Sale of Jewelry, etc., opened on the 15th ult., and we venture to say that no finer display of goods was ever exhibited by any establishment in this city. The ladies thronged their bazaar almost to suffocation, although the streets were rendered nearly impassable by the melted snow and slush. We predict for them a wonderful success.

From the "Ledger," February 28, 1865.

Our lady friends should visit the extensive establishment of Messrs. Devaugh & Co., No. 15 Maiden Lane, if they wish to indulge themselves with a sight which they will long remember—Such a profusion of elegant Watches, Chains, Rings, Earrings, and, in short, of Jewelry of every name, kind and description, we never before witnessed. Their silver and plated ware is superb, and almost casts into the shade the other jewelry establishments which have long been the boast of our city. It is estimated that their stock is worth not less than one million dollars.

How You Can Get a Prize.

Send Twenty-five Cents to us, and as soon as we receive it we will mail you a Certificate showing what you are entitled to. If the article or articles please you, send back the Certificate and One Dollar and we will forward you the article, no matter how costly it may be. If the article is not what you wish, state, when you send the Certificate and dollar, what other article of the same value you prefer, and we will send it. If you wish more than one Certificate send us $1 and we will send five; for $2, eleven; for $5, thirty; for $10, sixty; for $15, one hundred.

Agents are wanted in the Army and in every place. We have an immense stock of goods to dispose of, and need a large number of Agents. Our terms to Agents are very liberal and some even of our Lady Agents are making from $5 to $20 a day. We give Agents 50 per cent. on all Certificates they sell provided they remit not less than $1 for eight.

FOR THE BURIAL OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

Oh, slow to smite and swift to spare,
Gentle, and merciful, and just!
Who, in the fear of God, didst bear
The sword of power, a nation's trust.

In sorrow by thy bier we stand,
Amid the awe that hushes all,
And speak the mighty of a land
That shook with horror at thy fall.

Thy task is done; the bond are free;
We bear thee to an honored grave,
Whose noblest monument shall be
The broken fetters of the slave.

Pure was thy life; its bloody close
Hath placed thee with the sons of light,
Among the noble host of those
Who perished in the cause of right.

ARCANA WATCH.
An Elegant Novelty in Watches.

The cases of this watch are an entirely new invention, composed of six different metals combined, machined together, and presenting an exact imitation of 18 carat gold, called Arcana, which will always keep its color. They are as beautiful as solid gold, and are offered at one-eighth the cost. The case is beautifully designed with Panel and shield for name, with Patent Push Pin, and engraved in the exact style of the celebrated Gold Hunting Levers, and are really handsome and desirable, and so exact an imitation of gold as to defy detection. The movement is manufactured by the well known St. Imier Watch Company of Europe, and are superbly finished, having engraved plates, jewels, carved bridges, adjusting regulator, with gold balance and the improved jewelled action with line dial and skeleton hands, and is warranted a good time keeper.

These Watches are of three different sizes, the smallest being for Ladies, and are all Hunting Cases. A watch of six will be sent by Mail or Express for $125 00. A single one sent in an elegant Morocco Case for $25 00; we will readily sell for three times that cost. We can confidently offer this watch in the United States, and none are genuine which do not bear our Trade mark. Address GILBERT & WEBSTER DUB. CO., Imdawsd Importers, 15 Maiden Lane, N. Y.

Cleanse the Blood.

With corrupt, disordered or vitiated Blood, you are sick all over. It may break out in Pimples, or Sores, or in some active disease, or it may merely keep you listless, depressed and good for nothing. Put you on your back for a month while your blood is impure. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA purges out these impurities and stimulates the vigor of life into vigorous action, restoring the health and expelling disease. Hence it rapidly cures a variety of complaints which are caused by impurity of the blood, such as Scrofula, or King's Evil, Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter or Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Cancer or Cancerous Tumors, Sore Eyes, Female Diseases, such as Retention, Irregularity, Suppression, Whites or Sterility, also Syphilis or Venerial Diseases, Liver Complaints, and Heart Disease. Try AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, and see if it is not marvellous in its activity with which it cleanses the blood and cures these disorders.

During years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla, for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they contained only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, these repeated disappointments have led many of various extracts of Sarsaparilla, which flood the market, until the name itself has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. We call this compound "Sarsaparilla," and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which has fallen upon it. We think we have ground for believing it has virtue which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. We can only assure the sick, that we offer them the best alterative which we know how to produce, and we have reason to believe, it is by far the most effectual purifier of the blood yet discovered by mankind.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL is so universally known to surpass every other remedy for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease, that it is useless here to recount the evidence of its virtues. The world knows them.

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes
—of the—
MAGEE PARLOR STOVE

with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The due or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

The New Hampshire Petroleum Co. is organized with great care, under the management of some of the ablest financiers and most successful business men in the State, whose integrity is above reproach, and who cannot be led by excitement into speculations that have not to their minds a golden foundation. Their lands have been selected with great caution. Mr. R. B. Bates, of Titusville, who has been very successful the past year in selecting Oil Lands and boring wells, was known in the employ of the Pennsylvania Oil Company as a man strictly honest, sagacious, and experienced in the Petroleum region, and was entrusted with the duty of selecting the proper farms. He did so. Col. B. F. Martin, Wm. F. Newell, Esq., and John B. Clarke, Editor of the Mirror, visited Pennsylvania, J. S. Fogg, Esq., of the firm of Fogg, Houghton & Coolidge, 61 Pearl St., Boston, and Daniel E. Lancaster, 409 Broadway, New York, were joined with committee to visit the farms spoken of. Early in February they looked over the lands selected by Mr. Bates, and became convinced that they were among the very best that could be had. The great Oil Basin seems to be situated between Oil Creek, Oil City and Allegheny river, and within not twenty miles from one point to the other, and the Four Farms of the Company are within the Basin and on the same Oil Belt of the great flowing and pumping wells that have yielded the past year to the State of Pennsylvania, as Gov. Curtin says in his Message, fifty per million of dollars. The late Mr. Marsh, N. Y. Harris, Esq., a well-known lawyer of Boston and late District Attorney, Geo. F. Ellis, Esq., a well-known business man of Dover, N. H., and F. A. Wilcox, Esq., a lawyer of 79 Wall Street, New York, were sent out to examine the titles of lands, and make further examinations. They came to the same conclusions the others had, and the Four Farms were bought, which are thus described:

THE MATTISON FARM.

This Farm contains 84 acres and is near the confluence of Cherry Creek and East Oil Creek.—The lay of the land is beautiful for Oil; high lands on each side, with Cherry Creek running directly through, and a rich undeveloped Coal vein on one side. Every inch of the land is valuable for Coal or boring wells, and there is no waste to it. The land runs from east to west, or from north east to south west, and are from one to three miles wide. The Mattison Farm is two and a half miles in a direct line east of the great Oil flats south of Titusville, from which innumerable fortunes have flowed. Here the Steele & Mead well flowed 1000 barrels per day—the Fountain 200—the Parker 200—and scores of wells are now being worked that yield from 10 to 60 barrels daily. Nine out of every ten wells bored on this flat are a success! A ten barrel well will sell for forty thousand dollars, and a sixty barrel well sell for half a million.

It is believed by good judges that every rod of the seventy-five acres of the Mattison Farm, all that is not good for coal, is equal to the Flat below Titusville, and will yield from 60 to 100 bbls per ton, and if the vein of coal should work well it would be a fortune in itself. It is splendid coal, burning brightly as Cannel.

The average price of oil per barrel the last year was $10 at the works, the buyers furnishing the barrels. It costs a little less than $600 to sink a well to the depth of 700 feet, and few go lower than that. It costs $20 per day to work it after it yields oil. G. P. Ball, of the Cherry Creek Farm Petroleum Company, says of this Farm Section:

"I consider all the lands located there, as being richer in Oil, and preventing geological features of a character more favorable for success, than any other that I am acquainted with; and I have spent much time during the last few months in examining and working the Oil Territory in Venango, Crawford and Warren Counties, in all of which I have made considerable investments.—Professors Silliman and Newberry, Geologists of eminence, are of the same opinion regarding the lands generally throughout the valleys of East Oil Creek and Oil Creek proper, and the expectations of Prof. Shepherd of Yale College, of Mr. Ball, of Mr. Bates, it will have pumping wells on it, and the income from the pumping wells would sell for large sums of money, and the pumping wells, if as good as those south of Titusville, would be worth fortunes. Oil Territory is abundant room on each acre for 16 wells, and on this farm for over 900 wells. Just make computation of the cost of a pumping well, and the yield and profit on the whole in a year, if they are as good as they are expected. If they only yield the minimum average of 10 barrels per day, the Oil Belt, and your income from this Farm alone is over one million of dollars. This Company do not expect any such results, but merely state facts, and let each person make his own figuring and reach his own conclusions.

THE PARKER FARM

Contains 100 acres, is heavily timbered, situated near the road to Enterprise, not far from East Oil Creek, and between Cherry Creek and where the Caldwell Creek empties into Oil Creek. They have lately sunk a well right opposite the farm and struck oil. A single good well on this large farm would enable the Company to sell or lease the lands for great sums. It depends upon the location of the Mattison Farm, apply equally well to this.

THE BYLES FARM,

On Pit Hole Creek, contains 105 acres. It is about three miles south of the Oil Creek, directly south of Coquet Well that flows 100 barrels daily, the Jersey that flows 600, the Maple Shade and other noted flowing wells, and pumping wells without limit. This Farm is on the same Oil Belt and on the right range. There is great excitement on Pit Hole. The Frazer well is on it. It began to flow about the middle of January, and with its sucker rod in, and its pipe seven-eights full of machinery, it has flowed 250 barrels per day ever since. They have not dared to pull out the sucker rod yet, fearing they had not sufficient tanks to hold the oil. They have now tanks that will hold 2,200 barrels. Below this well, on the same Creek, another fine well has been struck, and above it is a spouting well, which, when bored low enough, will yield abundantly. A little farther north the same company, the United States, is pumping a well that looks already better than the Frazer well, and great expectations are upon it. In sight of the spouting wells, and between the Frazer and the one which has raised so high hopes, is the Byles Farm, all low land, and very rod fit for a well. It is splendidly located. It abounds in sand rocks and oil indications. Mr. Bates thinks very highly of it, and has no doubt but we shall find on it flowing wells superior to any yet struck in that section. A single flowing well struck would enable us to sell the farm in small lots for ten millions of dollars. Land on high bluffs some ways removed from the Coquet well, leased for fifty years at the rate of $50,000 for strips twelve rods by sixteen, cash down.

THE DAWSON FARM,

On West Pit Hole, contains 25 acres, and is in the same wonderful oil region. It has oil springs on and around it, and many wells are now being bored near it with excellent show for oil. Mr. Bates is now sinking one close to it. In a letter dated March 25, 1865, he says: "My well is showing as finely as it progresses, both in gas and oil, as any well has ever shown at the same depth on Oil Creek; gas at 90 feet; a good show of oil at 112 feet; at 140 feet gas is rising and roaring loudly.

Within rifle shot of this farm, sixteen years ago a well was sunk twenty-seven feet deep for water, and oil came in and spoiled it. We have no doubt that rich oil wells will be sunk on this farm, and there is land enough, if they are rich, to make the Farm a fortune.

Circulars, prospectuses, &c., containing every information, will be furnished on application at the office of the Company, or sent by mail to parties wishing to subscribe. Apply to or address

The property of this Company is located on "Coal Run Creek," Meigs County, State of Ohio, about 10 miles from Athens, containing one hundred and five acres of land. A large number of wells are successfully worked in the vicinity, some of which are paying handsome dividends.—This Company propose to commence operations at once, and entertain no doubt that at an early day they will be able to pay a handsome percentage on the investment. The known ability and commercial standing of the officers of this Company afford a sufficient guaranty that the affairs will be conducted in a manner to secure the confidence of those who are disposed to invest in it.

The tract of land adjoining the property of this Company has passed into the hands of capitalists, who have sent out an experienced superintendent to commence operations at once, and their first order for machinery was $15,000. Our property has been examined under instructions from Dr A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, who pronounce the coal, which is in abundance, to be of the best quality, yielding 80 gallons of oil to the ton, and has no doubt, from the location and position of the property, that it will be found valuable in the production of oil. Most companies have to pay very high prices for their coal, all of which we save; oil can be manufactured from the coal upon the property, at a cost not exceeding ten cents per gallon, and it is proposed to commence the manufacture in connection with the sinking of wells. One dollar will buy a share of this stock, which is the par value, and all benefits derived from the lands, either by sales of oil, land or products of any kind, are to be divided among the stockholders, and in addition $200,000 worth of valuable, useful and desirable property will be given to the stockholders, as soon as all the shares are disposed of. The Company adopt this course for the purpose of disposing of their stock at the par value, rather than to sell it as many companies do, at a subscription price, which is usually one-half. Thus, it will be perceived that every stockholder owning ten shares, for example, will be sure to realize a handsome dividend when the property is divided; a plan which is entirely honorable, and in all respects perfectly legal.

The property to be distributed among the stockholders will be equal to any in the market, and will consist of the following described articles:

$5000 to purchase a HOUSE in Boston or vicinity.
$5000 in U. S. 5-20 BONDS, CERTIFICATES of $500 each.

THE PRICE OF COAL. — It is time that the price of coal should be reduced to a fair standard. We have been paying outrageously for this article for a long period, only to put fabulous profits into the pockets of speculators and carrying companies. Large consumers, such as owners of steamboat lines and foundries, factories, sugar houses, and so forth, usually make their yearly contracts for coal about this season. Let them hold on a little while, and they will find that the rates must be considerably reduced.

The demand for coal by the government will fall off immensely, probably two-thirds, with the reduction of our naval forces.

The factories employed on government contracts will also reduce the consumption considerably.

Labor at the mines and collieries will become more abundant, and consequently cheaper. There is no necessity, therefore, why people should be bound by the quotations of the "coal auctions," which it must be understood are not carried on merely for the sale of coal, but to fix a price whereby a combination of coal dealers and carrying companies are enabled to put the screw on the public. The price of coal has for a long time been maintained as high as twelve or thirteen dollars a ton. Some of these transportation companies paid as high as sixty per ct. to the stockholders in 1864, in cash and dividends. The "fixed prices" of the auction sales, therefore, do not indicate the value of coal so much as the grasping propensities of the monopolists.—Herald.

— The bed of the Mississippi river, from Cairo to the Gulf, over a thousand miles, is pretty thickly strewn with the relics of rebel rams and gunboats; the remains of a whole fleet lie scattered along the bottom of the Yazoo; the fragments of several flotillas rest in the mud of the bayous of Louisiana and in the Red river; and in almost every river and harbor, from Mobile around the coast to Richmond, the changing tides roll over the broken skeletons of rebel iron clads.

— Jeff. Davis's tea set, which has been presented to President Johnson, is in the form of a locomotive with tender attached, and when the tea is ready the whistle screams. The figure of a fireman vigorously rings the bell for supper, and a music box concealed in the tender plays eight popular airs. Altogether it is a unique affair.

— From a general estimate of the number of employees in the War Department alone, in its various ramifications, it is found that about fifty thousand of these employees can be dispensed with. These are persons engaged in a sort of half military, half civil capacity, and including depot guards, quartermaster and commissary assistants, military commissions, etc.

— During the Presidential campaign the friends of Mr. Lincoln claimed that his election would shorten the war, and that in three months after his inauguration it would be practically closed. Those who opposed him insisted his election would protract it at least four years—that peace could never return under his policy. Who was nearest right?

MODESTLY STATED.—Mr. Charles Lanman writes, that while preparing his "Dictionary of Congress" for publication in 1858, he forwarded to Mr. Lincoln the usual request for a sketch of his life, and received the following reply:

Born February 12th, 1809, in Hardin County, Kentucky. Education defective. Profession, a lawyer. Have been a captain of volunteers in the Black Hawk war. Postmaster at a very small office. Four times a member of the Illinois Legislature. And was a member of the lower house of Congress. Yours, &c., A. LINCOLN.

— The Nantucket Mirror chronicles the fact that Capt. George Palmer, for four years an incumbent of the office of Inspector of Customs at that port, has resigned that position in order that Benjamin F. Wyer, a soldier who lost his left hand in the battle of the Wilderness, might receive the appointment.

— Information has been received by the Navy Department of the capture of the blockade running steamer Cora on the 25th ult., by the U. S. steamer Quaker City, thirteen miles east of Brazos. She is a stern wheeler and was bound from Corpus Christi to Bagdag, Mexico, with a cargo of lumber.

— The expense of collecting internal revenue in this country is about two per cent, being some nine per cent less than the expense of collecting revenue in England.

— The London Times is in great want of a prophet. The seer who has done its prophesying for four years past has proved a bad failure, and "the Thunderer" has earned universal contempt in consequence.

— The strike of the English iron-workers is at an end, they having gone to work without having accomplished their object.

ESTABLISHED
FACTS AND REASONS FOR USING
DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S
BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR!
FIRST. The extraordinary curative effect of the Blood-Root Elixir was discovered by a regularly educated Physician; and the present proprietor also is a graduate from one of the highest Medical Colleges in New England.
SECOND. The Elixir is not alcoholic, contains no minerals, and may be relied upon as being composed of strictly vegetable substances; and no ingredient is intermixed that can unfavorably affect the most delicate constitution.
THIRD. The extensive and successful use of the Blood-Root Elixir, during the past year, proves it to be, without any qualification, the best and most valuable medicine that has ever been prepared for family use.
FOURTH. Medical science and skill have never been able to produce a cathartic medicine of equal power and effect, which contains so many desirable qualities. Its superiority as an aperient consists in its sure and thorough action, operating equally through all parts of the Bowels. It never produces griping pains in its operation; never occasions nausea; its flavor is pleasing and agreeable; and it will not be rejected by the most fastidious child. It may be safely used in all cases where laxative medicine is required. It will promote the comfort and health of both sexes, and of all ages; it will assist Nature during all female difficulties; it will, during the auxious hours of a mother's life, hasten and assuage her maternal pangs; it will render joyous and happy the anxiety days of the pregnant and nervous. And when the Elixir is once introduced into any household, it will therein supersede all other laxative medicine.
FIFTH. The long period which the Elixir was used by the original proprietor, in prescriptions to his patients, and the great and unqualified success which has attended its more general use, during the past year, are confirmed by unsolicited testimonials, which in number and extended results exceed any estimate our most sanguine hopes so early had anticipated,—therefore we are fortified by unrefutable evidence, that our estimate of the efficacy and value of the Blood-Root Elixir has not been exaggerated.
SIXTH. In examining certificates received during the past year of its successful results, we are gratified in believing that our medicine has not failed in any case where it has been tried, to cure the most stubborn and chronic cases of COSTIVENESS.
SEVENTH. Most grateful manifestations have also been evinced by patients who have been relieved from LIVER COMPLAINT, of long standing. Also it has been effectual in curing CUTANEOUS ERUPTIONS OF THE SKIN; and in eradicating HUMORS OF THE BLOOD. And many afflicted with the diseases loathsome SCROFULA, have been greatly benefitted by a moderate use of the Elixir.
EIGHTH. In cases of COLDS, COUGHS and COLDS it has proved successful beyond any assurance we have ever expressed; and those who have thoroughly tested its effect, believe it to be superior to all other cough preparations,—the Elixir, by its physical properties, equalizes the circulation of the Blood, and removes congestion. It also, when used as a gargle, or swallowed slowly, heals and soothes the irritated and inflamed membranes, from which the cough arises.
NINTH. Many persons suffer periodically from JAUNDICE, which is occasioned by a morbid and lonotive state of the Liver. The Blood-Root Elixir is sure relief from this depressing and painful symptoms which are peculiar to that disease.
TENTH. DYSPEPSIA is an aggravating and disheartening disease, often leading to dangerous results. A limited use of the Elixir, according to the directions, will regulate the stomach and bowels with unerring certainty, and restore digestion to a natural and healthy state.
ELEVENTH. RHEUMATISM the Blood-Root Elixir will readily relieve; its warm and quickening effect counteracts the cold and morbid condition of the fluids, which is the primary cause of all Rheumatic affections.
TWELFTH. Persons subject to HEADACHE will be relieved in a few hours by a single dose of the Elixir.
☞ Every person taking the Elixir should carefully read the printed pamphlet which accompanies each bottle.

SATURDAY, MAY 6, 1865.

THE CONSTITUTION, AND THE STATES.—A newspaper correspondent speaking of Mr. Holden, editor of the Raleigh, N. C. Standard, a well-known Union man, says:

"Mr. Holden favors the adoption of the Constitutional amendment abolishing slavery, and of recognizing the Constitution of the United States as paramount to any State Constitution."

Whereupon a so-called "democratic" editor remarks:

If the writer of the above had ever read the constitution of the United States, he would have perceived the absurdity of one of the amendments which he declares Mr. H. in favor of; for he would have known that the constitution already provides, Art. VI—2, that the constitution of the United States shall be the supreme law of the land, anything in the constitution and laws of any State to the contrary notwithstanding.

Not quite so absurd as you suppose. Mr. Holden understands that article, and so does the correspondent. But every body knows that the rebels and their dupes at the North, have clamored for a State Sovereignity or Supremacy, which really contradicts the United States constitution as above. Now Mr. Holden proposes, in bringing North Carolina from rebellion, to recognize in her State Constitution and Laws, the Supremacy of the Union. In other words, he would make his State keep step to the music of the Union. We don't see anything absurd in it.

☞ There are various reasons assigned for the arrest of Ex-Governor Aiken, of South Carolina, and G. B. Lamar, of Savannah. A letter from Hilton Head, S. C., says they are charged with treason and will be regularly tried therefor. Gov. Aiken claims to be "an original Union man," an opposer of nullification in Calhoun's time, and a friend of the Union and Constitution ever since. But there are reports contradictory of this; and among others he is accused of furnishing a portion of the brain work which has enabled the rebels to hold out four years, and of having held several advisory interviews with Jeff. Davis. Aiken was the richest man in Dixie four years ago, counting $10,000,000 and one thousand acres of land and as many slaves. To-day he is a poor man. The story of his presenting a farm to each of his slaves is a fiction. Lamar is an avowed enemy of the Union, and has been one of the most industrious and successful aiders and abettors of the rebel cause in Georgia. He makes no secret even now of his bitter hostility to the Union, and boasts of his hatred to Yankees. He is infamously distinguished as the owner of the yacht Wanderer, which engaged successfully in slave piracy just before the war. It is said that both he and Aiken had taken the oath of allegiance before their arrest.

— Ex-Gov. Aiken of South Carolina, in a recent speech in Charleston, said:

"When the people of Charleston District did the honor of making me their representative in Congress, I met their Mr. Johnson of Tennessee. I now take pleasure in stating that I soon became acquainted with him, and found him a most intelligent man. He soon impressed me in the House, by his oratory and his arguments in debate, as one of the most talented men there; and it is no little praise to say so, when such a man as Stephens of Georgia sat on the same floor, and other prominent persons from the different States of the Union. I have the most entire confidence in his ability to administer the government truly and faithfully, having the constitution of our country as his true guide."

☞ On Thursday afternoon, the remains of President Lincoln were deposited in the tomb at Springfield, Illinois, with appropriate solemnities. The procession was long, including the Governors of seven States, members of Congress, State and Municipal authorities, delegations from adjoining States, Free Masons, Odd Fellows and citizens, white and colored. The Hymn, "Unveil thy bosom, faithful Tomb," set to the "Dead March in Saul," was sung, accompanied by a band of music, as the remains were deposited.

BOOTH'S ERRAND BOY ARRESTED.—A day or two since, a United States detective left at a station-house in Brooklyn a boy about fifteen or sixteen years of age, with request to be held in close custody until called for. Yesterday the officer called again and took the prisoner to Washington. The only explanation the officer gave was that he was implicated in the assassination plot. During the time the prisoner was in the station-house, he conversed with some of the police officers, and it was ascertained that he had been employed by the assassin Booth for some months prior, in the capacity of errand boy, and he was supposed, from his connection with Booth, to be cognizant of the entire plot, and the parties concerned in it. He refused to give his name.

— Twenty-two States, including Louisiana, Tennessee and Arkansas, have ratified the Constitutional Amendment abolishing slavery.

RICHMOND ITEMS.—A letter from that city states that prominent citizens of Virginia, who have taken the oath of allegiance, intend to commence earnest action to restore the State to peace footing on the civil basis, abolishing slavery and adhering strongly to the Union.

Gen. Casey, in obedience to an order of the War Department, has suspended the recruiting of colored troops in Richmond.

The Richmond Whig of the 3d has information from Southwest Virginia. No portion of Gen. Thomas' force was east of Bristol. The only U. S. force that penetrated into Virginia was a portion of Stoneman's command.

Gen. Echols, commanding the rebel forces in Southwest Virginia, 4000 in number, has disbanded his troops. Those living contiguously have returned to their homes. Giltner's Kentucky cavalry surrendered to the U. S. on the terms granted to Lee. Basil Duke's regiment, formerly Morgan's, has started for the Mississippi, and Vaughan's Wild Cat East Tennessee cavalry are still at large. The latter are odious in Virginia from thieving.

Gen. Early is confined to his bed at Lynchburg with rheumatism.

A report at Richmond said all the silver plate taken from the people of Richmond in the last hours of the Confederacy has been captured by our forces beyond Farmville.

Rumor also said that Major Thomas P. Turner, the scoundrel who commanded at the Libby prison under the rebel regime, has been captured. He was following in Jeff. Davis's track, and is now on the way to Fort Warren for confinement.

The rebel Gen. Rosser was captured on the 2d inst., in Hanover county, Va., where his wife resided.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.—The trial of Martin Garity on an indictment for keeping a disorderly house in Portsmouth, which was before the Court at the close of our last report, was abandoned by the Solicitor, and a nol. pros. entered.

A second trial of Joseph R. Staples for entering the house of Charles E. Warren, was expected to proceed on Thursday, but was stopped on a motion from his counsel, that he could not have a fair trial during the term, as the jurors had all been in attendance at the former trial. The indictments against him are all continued to the next term of the Court, at which he is held in $1000 bonds to appear.

The second trial of Dr. Young for the murder of Sarah Atwell at Deerfield, was postponed to the October term.

The votes for County Officers were declared as follows:—

For Register of Deeds

Whole number	9,760
Daniel Melcher,	3,928
Hiram Smart Jr., (elected,)	5,832

For County Treasurer.

Whole number	9,763
Samuel P. Treadwell,	3,918
Benning S. Scribner, (elected,)	5,842

For County Commissioner

Whole number	9,741
Scattering,	1
William Griffin,	5,818
John Rowe, (elected,)	5,818

The Court adjourned sine die on Thursday.—Ballot.

GOLD, Friday 143 1-4.

— Mobile bay was cleared of obstructions by means of torpedoes and a galvanic battery. The torpedoes were let down among the obstructions and then exploded by means of an electric wire. About a mile of sunken barges and boats, filled with stones and old iron, were blown up in this way.

— Harrold turns out to have been the agent and confidant of the notorious Dr. Tumblety, who lately suddenly disappeared from Brooklyn.

— It is said Sir Henry Bald de Houghton, proprietor of the pro-rebel organ in Liverpool—the Standard—had £1,750,000 invested in the Confederate cotton loan.—He took one-tenth of the loan at par—and his punishment must be all he can bear.

Local.

☞ Mr. Meinerth has sent us a specimen of his Instantaneous Views,—stereoscopic, of the Lincoln Meeting on Market Square, April 17th. It is a good picture, and well represents the mournful scene.

Also copies of three pictures of the Daniel Street mob, April 10th—that collection of men before which the rebel newspaper fell as flat as the rebel flag did before Grant. One is taken before the smash-up of the Stars and Bars office; the second, during the progress of things; and the last, after all is over—the signs pulled down, windows stove out, and a pile of wrecked goods lying in the street below. These scenes are clear and distinct, and we have no doubt are very accurate representations of the actual occurrences; but as we were at no time present, we cannot personally vouch for their correctness.

☞ The Portland, Saco & Portsmouth Railroad have recently placed on their road a fine new locomotive, appropriately named the "Agamenticus." The machine was built by the Portland Co.

☞ Mr. Shores has sent us a neat pamphlet on "Onion Raising;" but we don't consider it genteel to eat (though it is profitable to raise) the savory esculents; and so we shan't be apt to test the theories of the author.

NOTES OF FORMER DAYS.

Collected and Collated by UNCLE TOBY.

Benning Wentworth died 1770—Dr. Wheelock.—Peter Livius—Sampson Sheaf.

Sunday, October 14th, 1770, the honorable Benning Wentworth, late Governor of this province, departed this life in the 75th year of his age, and on the 19th, his remains were deposited in his family tomb. The regiment of militia attended the funeral under arms, and St. John's Lodge of free and accepted Masons, preceded the corpse to Queen's Chapel, where an appropriate discourse was delivered by the Rev. Arthur Brown, Rector of that church. He was the son of Lieutenant Governor John Wentworth; and was educated at Harvard College, where he was graduated in 1715. On leaving College he turned his attention to trade, and engaged largely in mercantile affairs, which he conducted with great integrity and punctuality. But repeated misfortunes, that followed in quick succession, obliged him to retire from business. He represented this town several years in the General Assembly, and was afterward one of his Majesty's Council. On the removal of Governor Belcher, he was appointed Chief Magistrate of the province. It has been objected against him that all the important offices in the government were filled by his particular friends and near connexions. However just this censure may be, in his administration he was faithful to the King, and endeavored to promote the welfare of the people. He was influential in procuring from the General Assembly a grant of three hundred pounds to Harvard College, towards replacing their library, which had been destroyed by fire. In consequence of this donation one of the alcoves in that extensive library, is marked New Hampshire. He was warmly attached to the Episcopal church, of which he was an exemplary member. He would have established a College in New Hampshire, if it could have been placed under the direction of the Bishop of London, but his views respecting it did not accord with the public sentiment. He afterwards presented to Dartmouth College, five hundred acres of land in Hanover, on which the College edifice and the adjacent buildings are erected.

He continued in office twenty-five years; which is a much longer term, than any other Governor in America ever held his commission.

In 1771, the General Assembly made a grant of one hundred pounds lawful money to the Rev. Doctor Wheelock, President of Dartmouth College, in consideration of the expense of his leaving his parish in Connecticut and, removing to this province to take charge of that institution. The town of Portsmouth, on the 29th of March, to signify their entire satisfaction in the grant, and their cheerful readiness to pay their full proportion thereof, or of a larger sum if the Assembly had thought proper to have granted it,—Voted, unanimously, "That the thanks of this town be given to the honorable Assembly for the above grant, and that the town clerk be desired to present them with a copy of this vote."

The act dividing the province into counties took effect in 1771, and half the courts for the county of Rockingham were removed to Exeter. In the appointment of Judges, Peter Livius, who had been a Justice of the Common Pleas, was not reappointed.

Thomas Packer, Esq., died June 22d, 1771. He had served in the office of Sheriff of the province thirty years, and was universally esteemed an upright, honest man, faithful in the discharge of the duties of his office, but rigidly severe in the execution of it.

The Governor appointed John Parker, Esq., his successor. And in August the honorable William Parker was appointed a Justice of the Superior Court of Judicature, instead of the honorable Thomas Wallingford, deceased.

Colonel Wallingford was a native of Somersworth, where he usually resided. In early life he was in indigent circumstances, and depended upon manual labour for his support; but by industry and economy, rose to wealth and opulence. He engaged in mercantile business, and was very successful. He possessed a large real estate in Portsmouth, and was one of the original purchasers of Mason's patent; by which he acquired a large interest in various parts of the province. He commanded a regiment of militia, and for many years was one of the Judges of the Superior Court. Being in this town on business, he was taken sick at a public house, and died after a few days illness on the 4th of August. His corpse was removed to Somersworth for interment.

At the last annual meeting, the town voted to build a house of correction, in which all idle and disorderly persons in the town should be confined to hard labor, agreeable to law.—In pursuance of which vote, the building was erected in the work-house yard.

The Collector and Controller of Customs seized the brigantine Resolution and her cargo, consisting of 100 hogsheads of molasses, for not entering the molasses, and securing the duties; and put the same under the care of the officers of the customs, and caused the same to be libelled before the Court of Vice Admiralty. But about midnight following the 29th day of October, 1771, a large number of persons in disguise, armed with clubs, entered and took possession of the brigantine, and having confined the officers, proceeded to unload her. The Governor issued his proclamation offering rewards of two hundred dollars for discovering the rioters, so that they might be convicted.

Mr. Hughes resided in this town about twelve months, and then returned to Philadelphia. He was succeeded as Collector by Robert Hallowell, Esq., who removed to Portsmouth in 1771, and continued here about a year.

Mr. Meserve had been appointed Controller of the port of Boston, as a compensation for his losses, and disappointment, in being deprived of the office of Stamp Master. By permission of the British government, he and Mr. Hallowell exchanged offices. Mr. Meserve returned to Portsmouth and executed the office of Collector here.

Mr. Livius resented the neglect, which he suffered, in not being reappointed a Justice of the Court, and being one of the Council, set himself in opposition to the Governor, and entered his objections to questions before the Council. He went to England, and exhibited before the Lords of Trade, a complaint against the Governor and Council, who were furnished with copies of said complaint, and appointed agents to attend to their defence.

The honorable Sampson Shoafe was born at Great Island in the year 1681; he was educated at Harvard College, and was graduated in 1702. After he left College he turned his attention to merchandize, and was largely engaged in the fishery, and West India trade. He was appointed a Counsellor in 1740, and resigned his seat at the Council-board in 1761, being then eighty-one years of age, having held the office twenty-one years. He died at the advanced age of ninety-one, in 1772.

— Most of Gen. Sherman's army will be encamped on the Virginia side of the Potomac. The General's headquarters are to be at Alexandria.

— Mexican agents who are in Washington advertise openly for emigrants to go to Mexico. The object is well understood.

— On Wednesday May 3, the rebel Gen. Jeff. Thompson surrendered his whole army to Capt. Mitchell, U. S. N.

— At Memphis, Tenn., on Thursday, business was generally suspended, by order of Gov. Brownlow, on occasion of President Lincoln's burial.

— N. Y. Tribune's Washington dispatch says ex-Gov. Aiken of South Carolina has had a lengthy interview with Secretary Stanton; and instead of receiving its discipline, he is aiding the government.

— The N. Y. Tribune's Washington dispatch (special) says Washington has been in a furor of delight over the rumor, which gains general credence, that Jeff. Davis and his body guard have been captured by Stoneman. There is no certainty of it yet.

— Gen. Halleck, at Richmond, has issued an order declaring that all persons, without regard to their rank or employment in the civil or military service of the late rebel government, will be permitted to take the amnesty oath. Robert Ould, Capt. Heath, and other rebels who had control of money and valuables sent to the Union prisoners, have been arrested by order of Gen. Grant.

— It is said at Washington, Government has information of over half a million bales of cotton being in the State of Alabama, which will soon be brought to Mobile by the owners.—Also that a formal demand has been made upon the Canadian authorities for the surrender of the assassins within their jurisdiction.

☞ We have already noticed the fact that Pres. Johnson, in removing the National Day of Humiliation and prayer from May 25 to June 1, to avoid Ascension Day, had fallen upon Anniversary Week in Boston. Now we perceive that Thursday, June 1, would be, by usage, the Day of the Universalist Festival; but we learn from the Universalist newspaper, that the Festival will probably be omitted on that account.

— All restrictions on the trade with and in the States of Delaware, Maryland, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia, are removed by order of the Secretary of the Treasury.

"Sparhawk" Estate,

AT KITTERY POINT, about 3½ miles from Portsmouth Parade, is now offered for sale or lease.

The House was built for Mrs. SPARHAWK, the daughter of Sir William Pepperell: it is spacious and elegant, and its location is beautiful indeed. The Land (about 10 acres) is mostly excellent; and lying on Harter's Creek, has advantage of muscle beds for dressing.

If not disposed of as above before the 7th day of June next, it will then be offered for sale at Public Auction. Apply to

Local.

☞ The new Ironclad Agamenticus, built at Portsmouth Navy Yard, sailed from the Yard on Friday, and her trip to the lower harbor and anchorage was made in twenty minutes from the time of leaving the wharf—and her performance exceeded the utmost expectations of those connected with her construction. Her machinery worked admirably, and we are informed the rate of speed attained would average ten knots an hour. After passing through the Narrows, a trial of speed took place between the Monitor and the little steamer Emerald—the latter being well known for the speed made in her trips to and from the Yard,—in which the Emerald was soon left far behind, the Agamenticus passing her easily. In this connection, it is proper to state that from data in possession of one of the officers of the Yard, it is ascertained that this trial actually excelled that of the U. S. Ironclad Monadnock.

The Engines of the Agamenticus were built by Messrs I. P. Morris, Towne and Co., of Philadelphia, and their performance reflect great credit on the builders.—Notwithstanding the immense momentum an arriving at the anchorage,—on "backing" the engines, the ship became stationary in a very short space of time.

We learn that the Agamenticus will remain in the lower harbor for several days, thus affording an excellent opportunity for our citizens to see her as she lays at anchor. PASSENGER.

☞ The formidable steamer Agamenticus left the Portsmouth Navy Yard at half past 3 P. M., on Friday, and dropped below in Lower Harbor, where she will probably remain for the present, with the exception, perhaps, of an occasional cruise along the coast east and west, for the purpose of defending the harbor from any invading craft. We will risk her against anything foreign or domestic, in the shape of a naval battery. *

☞ A fine new House in a good locality, is offered at Auction this morning. Also a good Express Team, with other Carriages, Watches, and Varieties. See Mr. Wendell's advertisement.

Also, sale of farm stock, &c. at Gravelly Ridge, this afternoon.

HONORABLY DISCHARGED.—Capt. J. C. Tilton, the Commissioner of the Board of Enrollment in this District, (in common with all other Commissioners of the different Boards in the Provost Marshal's Bureau throughout the U. S.,) yesterday, May 5th, received from Gen. Fry an honorable discharge. Capt. Tilton had held the office two years, to an hour, when he received the discharge. The multitude of persons who have had occasion to transact business at the Provost Marshal's office will bear testimony with us to his very agreeable and courteous manners, as well as to his strict adherence to the orders of the Government. The Captain leaves in this city many warm personal friends.

H., was arrested by Detective Dunn, in Boston, Thursday, on a charge of stealing $700 in money and a quantity of clothing from Mrs. Ham of this place. None of the stolen money was found. The prisoner was brought to Portsmouth by Marshall Dresser.

In the Police Court on Friday, Eliza Wilson was arraigned, charged with stealing the sum of $750 from the house of Mrs. Ham. She was bound over in the sum of $1000 for her appearance on Saturday morning, and failing to procure the requisite amount, she was committed to jail.

☞ Gen. J. G. Hadley, the veteran landlord, became proprietor of the Franklin House in this city, on the 1st of May; and we hear is making great renovation and improvements in that old and favorite hostelry. The Gen. is a fine and favorite old gentleman, and all will wish him success, which he knows how to ensure.

☞ The Brass Band at Fort Constitution was in this city on Wednesday, and their playing sounded well as they passed our office.

The proof of the pudding is not in chewing the string, but in eating and testing. The same rule will apply to the J. Monroe Taylor Gold Medal Soap. Our better half says it has no equal, and will do much better work, and go much further, besides leaving the clothes in a much better state after washing. We do not hesitate to pronounce it far superior to any soap in the market. Go get a bar and try it—most all the merchants sell it. 139

ART REPLY.—A veteran relates the following: It happened that a mule driver was engaged in leading an unruly mule for a short distance, which job proved as much as he was able to do, and gave full employment for both of his hands. As he was thus engaged, a newly appointed brigadier rode by near him, in all the consequential radiancy of his starlight, when the mule driver hailed him as follows:

"I say, I wish you would send a couple of men down here to help me manage this mule."

The brigadier, indignant at being so familiarly addressed, sternly replied—

"Do you know what I am, sir?"

"Yes," was the reply; "you are Gen——, I believe."

"Then why do you not salute me before addressing me?" inquired the brigadier.

"I will," responded the M. D., "if you will get off and hold the mule."

The brigadier retired in good order.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes —of the—

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE

with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of fuel, and, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

The New Hampshire Petroleum Co. is organized with great care, under the management of some of the ablest financiers and most successful business men in the State, whose integrity is above reproach, and who cannot be led by excitement into speculations that have not to their minds a golden foundation. Their lands have been selected with great caution. Mr. N. R. Bates, of Titusville, who has been very successful the past year in selecting Oil Lands and boring wells, was the agent of the Company, who went out initial in starting this company as a man strictly honest, sagacious, and experienced in the Petroleum region, and entrusted to him the selecting the proper farms. He did so. Col. B. F. Martin, Wm. F. Newell, Esq., and John B. Clarke, Editor of the Mirror, visited Manchester, J. H. Fogg, and the firm of Fogg, Houghton & Coolidge, 64 Pearl St., Boston, and Daniel F. Lancaster, 419 Broadway, New York, a very prominent stockholder in the Farms spoken of. Early in February they looked over the lands selected by Mr. Bates, and became convinced that they had not secured the very best that could be had. The great Oil Basin seems to be situated between Oil Creek, East Oil Creek, and Allegheny River, about twenty miles from one point to the other, and the Four Farms of the Company are within the Basin and on the same Oil Belt of the river, flowing and pumping wells that have yielded the past year to the State of Pennsylvania, as Gov. Curtin says in his Message, $50,000,000 of dollars. The 20th of March, B. W. Harris, Esq., a well-known lawyer of Boston and late District Attorney, J. H. Burns, Esq., a merchant of Dover, N. H., and F. A. Wilcox, Esq., a lawyer of 76 Wall Street, New York, were sent out to see to the titles of lands, and make further examinations. They came to the same conclusions the others had, and the Four Farms were bought, which are thus described:

THE MATTISON FARM.

This Farm contains 84 acres and is near the confluence of Cherry Creek and East Oil Creek—The lay of the land is beautiful for Oil; high lands on each side, Cherry Creek running directly through, and a rich undeveloped Coal vein on one side. Every inch of the land is valuable for Coal or boring wells, and there is no waste to it.

The oil belt runs from east to west, or from north east to south west, and are from one to three miles wide. The Mattison Farm is two and a half miles long directly on the great Oil flats south of Titusville, from which innumerable fortunes have flowed. There the Steele & Read well flowed 400 barrels per day—the Fountain 200—the Parker 500—and scores of wells are now being worked that yield from 10 to 50 barrels daily. Nine out of every ten wells bored on this farm are a success! A ten barrel well will sell for forty thousand dollars, and a sixty barrel well sell for half a million.

It is believed by good judges that every rod of the seventy-five acres of the Mattison Farm, all that is not good for coal, is equal to the Jones & Law Farm, and that each rod is worth $18 to $20, and if the vein of coal should work well it would be a fortune in itself. It is splendid coal, burning freely as Cannel.

The average price of oil per barrel the last year was $10 at the works, the buyers furnishing the barrels. It costs a little less than one dollar per barrel for the depth of wells here, and few go lower than that. It costs $20 per day to work it after it yields oil. G. P. Ball, of the Oleo Oil Works, Pennsylvania Petroleum Company, says of this Farm Section:

"I consider all the lands located there, as being richer in Oil, and presenting greater facilities for a more perfect character than any other that I am acquainted with; and I have spent much time during the last few months in examining the Oil territory in Venango, Crawford and Warren Counties, in all of which I have made considerable investments.—Professors HALL and HARRAND, Geologists of eminence, are of the same opinion regarding the lands generally throughout the valleys of East Oil Creek. If the Farm comes up to the expectations of Prof. Shepherd of Yale College, of Mr. Ball, of Mr. Bates, it will be a mammoth well and fortune to the Company. The flowing wells would sell for large sums of money, and the pumping wells, if so good as those south of Titusville, would be considerable value. There is abundant room on each acre for 13 wells, and on this farm for over 900 wells. Just make the supposition of 700 wells, 500 pumping wells, and the yield and profit on the whole in a year, if they are as good as they are expected, if they only yield the minimum, would be a fortune. Take an Oil Belt, and your income from this Farm alone is over one million of dollars. This Company do not expect any such results, but merely state facts, and let each person make his own figuring and reach his own conclusions.

THE PARKER FARM

Contains 105 acres, is heavily timbered, situated near the road to Enterprise, not far from East Oil Creek, and between Cherry Creek and where the Caldwell Well empties into Oil Creek. They have lately sunk a well right opposite this farm and struck oil. A single good well on this large farm would enable the Company to sell or lease the lands for great sums. The remarks about the location of the Mattison Farm, apply equally well to this.

THE BYLES FARM,

On Pit Hole Creek, contains 105 acres. It is about three miles east of Oil Creek, directly east of the Coquet Well that flows 700 barrels daily, the Jersey that flows 800, the Maple Shade and other noted flowing wells, and pumping wells without limit. This Farm is on the same Oil Belt and on the right range. There is great excitement on Pit Hole Creek. The Frazer well is on it. It began to flow about the middle of January, and will its sucker rod is, and its pipe seven-eighths full of machine-oil, it has flowed 200 barrels per day ever since.—They have not dared to pull out the sucker rod yet, fearing they had not sufficient tanks to hold the oil. The tank they now have will hold 2,200 barrels. Below this well, on the same Creek, another fine well has been struck, and above it is a promising well, which, when bored low enough, will yield abundantly. A little farther north the same company, the United States, is putting down a well that looks already better than the Frazer well, and great expectations rest upon it. In sight of the spouting wells, and between the Jones & Law Farm, which has met so high hopes, is the Byles Farm, all low land, and every rod fit for a well. It is splendidly timbered. It abounds in land wells and oil indications. Mr. Bates thinks very highly of it, and has no doubt but we shall find on it flowing wells superior to any yet struck in that section. A single flowing well struck would enable us to sell the farm in small lots for ten millions of dollars. Land on high bluffs some ways removed from the Coquet well, leases for fifty years at the rate of $50,000 for stripe twelve rods by sixteen, cash down.

THE DAWSON FARM,

On West Pit Hole, contains 25 acres, and is in the same wonderful oil region. It has oil springs on and around it, and many wells are now being bored near it with excellent show for oil. Mr. Bates is now sinking one close to it. In a letter dated March 25, 1865, he says: "My well is showing as finely as it progresses, both in gas and oil, as any well has ever shown at the same depth on Oil Creek; gas at 50 feet, a good show of oil at 112 feet; at 160 feet gas is rising and roaring loudly.

Within rifle shot of this farm, sixteen years ago a well was sunk twenty-seven feet deep for water, and oil came in and spoiled it. We have no doubt that rich oil wells will be sunk on this Farm, and there is land enough, if they are rich, to make the Farms a fortune.

The property of this Company is located on "Coal Run Creek," Meigs County, State of Ohio, about 10 miles from Athens, containing one hundred and five acres of land. A large number of wells are successfully worked in the vicinity, some of which are paying handsome dividends.—This Company propose to commence operations at once, and entertain no doubt but that at an early day they will be able to pay a handsome per centum on the investment. The known ability and commercial standing of the officers of this Company afford a sufficient guaranty that the affairs will be conducted in a manner to secure the confidence of those who are disposed to invest in it.

The tract of land adjoining the property of this Company has passed into the hands of capitalists, who have sunk out an experienced superintendent to commence operations at once, and their first order for machinery was $15,000. Our property has been examined under instructions from Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, who pronounces the coal, which is in abundance, to be of the best quality, yielding 30 gallons of oil to the ton, and has no doubt, from the location and position of the property, that it will be found valuable in the production of oil. Most companies have to pay very high prices for their coal, all of which we save; oil can be manufactured from the coal upon the property, at a cost not exceeding ten cents per gallon, and it is proposed to commence the manufacture in connection with the sinking of wells. One dollar will buy a share of this stock, which is the par value, and all benefits derived from the lands, either by sales of oil, land or products of any kind, are to be divided among the stockholders, and in addition $200,000 worth of valuable, useful and desirable property will be given to the stockholders, as soon as all the shares are disposed of. The Company adopt this course for the purpose of disposing of their stock at the par value, rather than to sell it, as many companies do, at a subscription price, which is usually one-half. Thus, it will be perceived that every stockholder owning ten shares, for example, will be sure to realize a handsome dividend when the property is divided; a plan which is entirely honorable, and in all respects perfectly legal.

The property to be distributed among the stockholders will be equal to any in the market, and will consist of the following described articles:

$5000 to purchase a HOUSE in Boston or vicinity.
$6000 in U. S. 5-20 BONDS, CERTIFICATES of $500 each.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Manchester Mirror describes the unknown man who fell through the Rutland Bridge at Bedford, as follows:

He was five feet two inches in height, about seventy years of age. He had hazel eyes and gray hair, and gray whiskers under the chin: had on a red woolen undershirt, a small-checked calico shirt and white stockings: wore brogan shoes, striped pantaloons, and a small, black, striped coat.—Inside the sleeves of the coat was printed "Arture Westray, 3d Mass. Cavalry." A brass pocket-piece and several English shillings were found upon his person, but no papers.

—— Brackett W. Clark, of Farmington, N. H., was suddenly killed on Tuesday, in J. W. Waldron's mill in that town, by falling on to the machinery, or being caught in it, while oiling. He leaves a widow and three children.

Twenty-four soldiers in the Manchester Hospital have been transferred to the Veteran Reserve Corps, and leave for Point Lookout to-day, in charge of Lt. Eldridge. The indications are that this branch of the service will be increased rather than diminished, while nearly all the volunteer infantry will be at once discharged. The cavalry and some of the light batteries may be retained for a time. The colored troops now in the service will doubtless be retained and their numbers augmented.—Monitor.

— At a recent temperance meeting held in Elmira, N. Y., Rev. T. K. Beecher, a brother of Henry Ward, took position in favor of the use of ale and wines, as a prophylactic for intemperance. He said that he had so taught from his pulpit, and he should do it again—that he had advised Messrs. Briggs & Bovier to rebuild their brewery in the interest of the temperance cause; that he had a barrel of good ale in his cellar, but there was scarcely a saloon in Elmira where a glass of good ale could be procured, as he had tried at almost every one; and that if we formed a temperance organization on the basis of total abstinence, we should act contrary to science, and so contrary to God, and should consequently fail.

☞ The Panama Railroad company have secured a new contract with Columbia, which only needs the sanction of Congress to become a law. It secures a perpetual ownership of the road, and no other road is to be built within 150,000 metres on either side. A French company have secured the exclusive right to construct a canal across the Isthmus, from Chili.

— An ingenious clockmaker of Versailles has invented a clock no larger than the ordinary instruments, which will go for one year, or indeed for a much longer time. The internal mechanism is not altered, but the pendulum is replaced by a horizontal lever, which acts on a twist of elastic wire suspended vertically.

— A Young Woman's Christain Association has been formed in London. Its object is to place within the reach of industrious and hard-working young women, the sources of moral, social, and religious improvement, of which they are too often now deprived.

— According to statistics furnished by the Trieste Gazette, ten thousand Circassian children, of Christian parents, are annually exported from Turkey to Egypt, and sold there, with the full knowledge of the Turkish Government.

— Mr. Lincoln's grandfather, also named Abraham Lincoln, was murdered by an Indian, in 1774, while at work on his farm near the Kentucky river. He left three sons, the eldest of whom, Thomas, was the father of the President.

— The New York Times suggests that as the Chicago Convention (Democratic) did not adjourn sine die, it would be well for that body to meet and reconsider its vote that the war to put down the rebellion had proved a failure.

— "The only man who has been able to drive Gen. Grant, during the war, was his coachman."—He did not drive the Gen., he only drove the horses.

— Brother Ignatius, the English monk, has been observing Lent with such extraordinary rigor that he several times fainted in Church from exhaustion.

— The Government is said to be in possession of a vast amount of evidence bearing upon the plot to burn Philadelphia.

See what the most popular and widely circulated periodicals say of our Establishment:
From the "Dispatch" of February 25, 1865.
We take pleasure in calling the attention of our readers to the announcement of Messrs. Devaugh & Co.'s Jewelry, Silver, Watch, Watch and Fancy Goods, in our advertising columns. We are personally acquainted with the members of this firm and know them to be gentlemen of sterling worth and integrity. Their stock of goods, for variety and extent, we have scarcely seen paralleled.
From the "Mirror of Fashion," March 1, 1865.
Messrs. Devaugh & Co.'s Great Sale of Jewelry, etc., etc., which took place on the 18th ult., continue to say that no finer display of goods was ever exhibited by any establishment in this city. The ladies thronged their banner almost to suffocation, although the streets were rendered nearly impassable by the melted snow and slush. We predict for them a wonderful success.
From the "Ledger," February 28, 1865.
Our lady friends should visit the extensive establishment of Messrs. Devaugh & Co., No. 15 Maiden Lane, if they wish to indulge themselves with a sight which they will long remember.—Such a profusion of elegant Watches, Chains, Rings, Earrings, and, in short, of Jewelry of every name, kind and description, we never before witnessed. Their silver and plated ware is superb, and almost casts into the shade the other splendid establishments which have long been the boast of our city. It is estimated that their stock is worth not less than one million dollars.

The Best Ink in the World!
A CHEAP PRODUCT DISCOVERED.
A Substitute for Costly Galls, and a Writing Fluid produced that challenges Competition!
INK POWDERS
TO CARRY IN YOUR POCKET, FROM WHICH TO MAKE INK AT PLEASURE.
THE INK MADE in Three Minutes.
Forty Cents will buy Powder enough to furnish a family for years.
FREEZING DON'T HURT IT.
An accident revealed to a Machinist, in Manchester, N. H., a certain result which by the aid of Chemistry has been used till the most beautiful writing fluid, better than anything imported or home-made, flowing freer, writing easier, handsomer, as lasting as time, not injuring the pen a whit, has been produced.
It is put up in the form of a small powder, stands all climates, good for years, and can be converted into elegant black writing fluid in three minutes.
A company has lately been formed for the manufacture of these Powders, and although the Fluid has been before the public but a few weeks the most astounding testimonials have been received in its favor, all unsolicited. We select a few from the many.
The greatest qualities of these Ink Powders over everything else in the market are:
1st—It makes an ink of a beautiful, glossy, rich color, that every body will be delighted with.
2d—It flows freely, does not mud up, thicken on the pen or corrode it a particle, and never fades, and will endure as long as the paper on which it is used.
3d—Its cheapness baffles all competition. Forty cents will buy enough to fill fifty common bottles that are retailed at ten cents each.
4th—Convenience. Can be carried to the army, to sea, to the mines, to the oil countries.
5th—Wipe your pen dry after using it, and a single steel pen will last with this ink till the paper wears the point off. It is as harmless as water.
Testimonials.
Mirror and American Office,
Manchester, N. H., Jan. 11, 1865.
To the American Ink Company:—I have tried your Ink Powders. They work to a charm. They make perfect ink in three minutes, the best ink I ever saw. It flows easily, does not gum up the pen or corrode it. I have cleared my inkstands of all other ink. JOHN B. CLARKE.
Melrose, Mass., Feb. 1, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: I wish heartily to thank you for the beautiful Ink which you have given to the public. I have made Ink, for eight years past, from Prof. Ure's Recipe, (made of Aleppo nutgalls, Sulphate Iron and Gum Senegal,) and have sold large quantities of it. Have supplied the schools in this town with it for two years, and every one using it gave it great praise. It is a good Ink, but my occupation is all gone now. Your Ink is the best article of the kind I ever used. This is no puff. Some in my inkstands froze up solid twice and it now flows just freely as at the first, and is not changed in the color a single shade. It is a beautiful black; it flows so readily that I can write one-quarter faster with it than with any other Ink. It ought to be introduced into every school in the United States.
Yours truly, J. W. POLAND.
Washington, D. C., Feb. 4, 1864.
To the American Ink Company: I have tried your Ink Powders, and I think, without any exception, it makes the best writing fluid I ever used. I would not be without. I remain yours, truly, respectfully, THOS. H. HOLMES,
Battery M, 1st Mass. H. Artillery.
Kewanee, Henry Co., Illinois, Feb. 20, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: Received the Powder that you sent, and to say that I am pleased with it is true, but does not express what I should like to say. The community have long wanted an Ink Powder that could stand the test of freezing and that would not corrode the pen, and several have been produced. Prof. Ure's was an excellent recipe, but was spoiled by freezing. I have frozen this to test it, and find that it is not affected at all.
I have introduced it into my school in this place, and I find it a quantity of it. I send a few ready sale. Thanking you in behalf of the community and myself for such a discovery, I remain, very respectfully, your obedient servant,
GEO. W. PARKER.
Deering, March 1, 1865.
To the American Ink Company:—This is to certify that I have given your Ink Powder a trial, and I am happy to state it works to perfection. It has a superiority over all other Inks within my knowledge. And I would cheerfully recommend it to the lawyer, the merchant, or any person whose business requires any amount of writing.—It does not corrode, and flows as freely after being frozen as before. Respectfully yours,
ALMON M. COREY.
Nashua, N. H., March 13, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: The ink made from the powders you sent me is the best I ever used. There is none of that sticky substance about it that there is to most inks, and it flows freely and works to a charm.
Yours truly, GEORGE W. FLANDERS.
Brookline, N. H., March 18, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: I received the Powder you sent me, and I recommend it to all those that have any writing to do, as the best Ink I ever used. I have used J. Moor's Maynard & Noyes', D. J. Ridout's, and many others, but yours far excels any I ever used.
Yours respectfully, G. E. STILES.

MONDAY, MAY 8, 1865.

THE REBEL CONSPIRATORS.—A Montreal item of May 5, says: George N. Sanders and Beverly Tucker are out with another manifesto to-day, addressed to Andrew Johnson, in which they accuse him of a "hellish plot to murder their Christian President," but giving no particulars. They agree to go to Rouse's Point, or some other place, on the charge made in the President's recent proclamation, if the United States Government will pay for their defence and guarantee their safety!

A very large share of impudence is exhibited by this precious couple of scoundrels; but Pres. Johnson will treat them with only such consideration as they deserve. Cleary, the clerk for whom $10,000 reward is offered, also attests his innocence. Per contra, the New York Evening Post's special Washington dispatch, says additional arrests have been made, and further information obtained throwing more light upon the conspiracy to assassinate the President. A correspondent says the confession of Harold and documentary evidence found on Booth's body, fastens beyond cavil the plot and its full sanction upon Jeff. Davis and his Canada Commissioners.

The trial of the conspirators commences this week, before a Military Commission. There are fourteen men and one woman who are regarded as principals. There are about two hundred who are in some way connected with various branches of it. Some are important witnesses, others are suspicious parties. The Government will present a verbatim report of the trial. The Congressional Globe corps are engaged for this purpose. It is believed the trials will last two or three months.

☞ The N. Y. Herald Charleston correspondence of the 1st inst. says Gen. Potter's expedition to the interior had returned, after destroying an immense amount of rebel property. Guerrillas are troublesome again in the southern part of the State.—Another strong force of national troops is to be sent out soon through the State.

The rebel ram Columbia has been raised and found to be in good condition.

The secessionists of Charleston were wild with joy at the assassination of President Lincoln.

☞ Many Army and Navy officers are rapidly sending in their resignations, seeing that the war is over, and being desirous to engage at once in civil pursuits. Steamers are daily arriving at Washington towing chartered vessels, which are brought up to be discharged from Government service. The work of retrenchment goes on in all quarters. Vessels are being put out of commission very rapidly. Contracts are foreclosed, estimates cut down, and on every hand preparations are going forward towards a peace establishment. It is not believed that the expenses of the Government will be more than a million a day from this week forward. Of course when the troops are mustered out the expenses will come down still lower.

☞ Bermuda papers contain a long account of the judicial investigation now being held at St. Georges on the attempt of Dr. Blackburn to introduce yellow fever into New York, Philadelphia, and other Northern cities. Evidence proves he collected while there bedding and clothing taken from fever patients, purchased and infected more clothing packed in trunks left in charge of parties, with orders to forward them to New York in the Spring. One witness testified that Blackburn represented himself as a Confederate agent, whose mission was the destruction of the northern masses. It was also shown that several persons connected with the agency of the Confederate States, were cognizant of the facts. It was stated that there were ten trunks, three of which were found, and the contents buried by the board of health. Blackburn is well known in the Provinces as a leading and ultra rebel.

AMERICAN STOCKS IN GERMANY.—On the receipt of the news of the evacuation of Richmond at Frankfort, U. S. Five-Twenties, which had been dull at 62, rose to 69. Many leading capitalists took advantage of the rise to sell out, but their offerings were all absorbed by small investors. American stocks engrossed the attention of operators of Bourse. "C. S. Bonds," 8 per cents, were quoted at 2 2-4 a 3 5-16, closing at 3. What will they be quoted at when the news of Lee's surrender is received?

Andrew Johnson, the new President of the United States, voted for the Crittenden Compromise in 1861, as a satisfactory adjustment of the difficulty between the North and the South.—Exch.

The world has moved since that time; the rebellion has upset the cause of compromises; and of the compromisers, some swam ashore and others got drowned.

— The Jewish Record says that President Johnson, in the re-issue of his fast day proclamation, has hit upon a day "mal apropos so far as the Jews are concerned, that day, the first of June, being the festival of Shervuous"—whatever that may be.

By Telegraph—Sunday noon.

Washington, May 6th, 12 P. M.—The Secretary of State is better to-night than at any time since the injuries. Frederick Seward's condition is most encouraging. It is thought doubtful whether the trial of the conspirators will begin on Monday, on account of some difficulty which has been found in forming the commission. The trial will no doubt begin some time during the week. Gen. Grant has arrived here from Philadelphia. Mrs. Lincoln will leave for her home in Illinois as soon as permitted to do so by her attending physician.

Montreal, May 6th.—Sanders and Tucker have disappeared. It is reported they have gone in the direction of Halifax.

St. Louis, May 6th.—J. H. Blackburn alias Dr. Tumblety, charged with complicity with Harrold in the assassination and conspiracy, was arrested here to-day in accordance with orders from the War Department.

☞ The new Constitution of Tennessee gives the right of suffrage to all persons permitted by acts of the Legislature to testify in the State Courts. Perley says,—

"It is understood that President Johnson has expressed a desire to have the legislature now in session remove all obstructions to colored testimony, thus securing for the negroes equality before the law, and consequently at the ballot box. If this is done there will be no opposition in the next Congress to the full recognition of Tennessee, and Louisiana can obtain a restoration of her position and privileges as a State on the same terms."

— Lee, Beauregard and Hardee proclaimed in speeches and through the press, that no lady would be safe if the Yankees took possession of the "Sunny land." Yet Beauregard left his wife in New Orleans when Butler took possession of that city.—Hardee left his wife in Savannah under similar circumstances, and Lee did the same thing at Richmond.

— It is reported on good authority that proof was obtained in North Carolina by General Sherman, that Judge Ould, the rebel Commissioner of Exchange, carried on an extensive system of robbing Union prisoners of money and other articles sent to them by their friends at the North. Ould had several accomplices among rebel officers of rank. They have all been arrested and committed to the Libby Prison.

— The crew of the schooner Admiral, which capsized off Thatcher's Island on Wednesday last, were rescued by the schooner Rebecca Atwood, and carried into Rockport. After capsizing, the mainmast of the schooner broke off, when she righted again, and the wreck has since been towed into Gloucester.

— A meeting of Army and Navy officers was held at Hilton Head, April 21st, Gen. M. S. Littlefield presiding, at which a resolve was adopted in favor of having a monument erected over the remains of Mr. Lincoln, at Springfield, the expense to be borne by voluntary contributions from those who have served in the Army and Navy during his administration.

— Detachments of colored troops have been sent out from Richmond to the battle fields in the neighborhood, and employed in the burial of the Union dead lying there exposed for a year past. Several hundred skeletons were put under the sod upon the battle grounds of Gaines' Mill and Cold Harbor, and other battle fields are being attended to in their turn.

— The Richmond Whig says that in the present scarcity of Federal currency among citizens, a pawnbroker's establishment is very much wanted there, where people could obtain, upon their effects, sufficient money to meet present necessities, or possibly give them a start in some business enterprise.

— Advices from the Lower Mississippi represent the overflow existing there to be an extensive one, and liable to be productive of unprecedented damage, should the water keep up until the annual June rise comes on to add another flood to its already exaggerated volume. The river is now 30 miles wide in some places.

— A mass meeting is called in Washington for Tuesday evening by some of the most prominent citizens, to prevent the return of former Washingtonians, who went South and joined the rebellion, but who are now returning and claiming all the privileges accorded to the most loyal citizens.—The call also declares that those in Washington who have approved of their treasonable acts, and desire further association with them, should be regarded as partakers of their guilt.

— "Perley," of the Boston Journal, explodes the story that Booth's head and heart were placed in the Medical Museum at Washington. His body was unmutilated, and was buried privately.

— Applications for National Banks at Richmond, Petersburg, Savannah and Charleston have already been made to the Treasury Department.

— At Richmond out of 22,000 rebel prisoners in Camp, only four declined to take the oath of allegiance.

GOLD, Saturday, 143. Steamers for England that day took out $425,000.

☞ Speaking of Rev. Dr. Tyng, the New York Express says:

Now if the Rev. Dr., as the head of his class, can influence others to stop preaching politics, and re-preach gospel, from 20,000 to 30,000 more people will soon be in churches on Sunday, than are now. There are thousands now, who do not know what to do with themselves on Sunday.

Poor foolish thousands, (says Uncle Toby). If they are so very numerous, and very devotional too, why do they not assemble them selves together for social worship; or go to churches where the pulpits are dumb? By the way, we know of one parish where the copperheads kept the pulpit dumb for years on some subjects, and then left! But we pity the poor preacher who should undertake to "re-preach" such a "gospel" as was would suit the taste of coppery newspapers and allies of Jeff. Davis.

Communication.

HOW SHALL THE REBEL STATES BE RESTORED TO THE UNION?

There seems to be some difference of opinion in respect to this question. In a strictly legal point of view—inasmuch as they were all in the Union prior to the war, and the rebellion has since been subdued—it is held by some that they are still in the Union. If this position be correct, yet it cannot be denied that by their State Legislative acts, or State Conventional acts of secession from the Union, they forfeited all their constitutional rights under the Federal Government. Indeed they repudiated them, contemptuously, when they expressly declared, in their first Confederate Congress, that they had ordained and established a new independent government. It is not, therefore, for the rebels now to turn round and declare that they are now in the Union. It is also true that every intelligent rebel, who voluntarily took up arms against his country and the Federal Government, is guilty of high treason, and legally has forfeited not only his rights, but his life also.

We hold, therefore, as a sound position, that it remains for the Federal Government to declare whether any or all the rebel States shall be re-admitted into the Union, and also upon what conditions. They will not be re-admitted without evidence that they have abolished slavery forever, in pursuance of the acts of Congress, and the President's subsequent Proclamation of emancipation. They must have "a republican form of government," as the Federal constitution declares that Congress shall guarantee to each State such a form. The latter is radically opposed to the enslavement of all within our domain.

Slavery was not established by the constitutions of any of the original States, and we doubt whether it has been by any of the new States. It has been done by legislative acts. Therefore in such cases State conventions need not be called to amend their constitutions. But where a State seceded in virtue of measures adopted by a State convention, it may be requisite for a new Convention to assemble, and rescind such obnoxious measures, and apply to Congress to be readmitted into the Union; and where a State seceded in virtue of a legislative act, the Legislature should be convened, to repeal the secession act, and apply to Congress for readmission. There must be unconditional submission. Until that takes place, the rebel territory may be held as a conquered province. Congress would impose no hard terms, but act in a spirit of liberality towards repentant, "prodigal," returning sinners to the parental government. PRO PATRIA.

SUCCESSFUL STRATEGY.—Some time last Fall, a man named Franklin, alias Morgan, obtained money from a bank in Keene by use of other men's names, and was caught and lodged in Cheshire jail. His trial was to come off the first Tuesday in April. How he evaded it, is told by the Cheshire Republican.

Some time before the day of trial he was apparently taken violently ill, and the physician who was called, found him in apparent distress. But the patient said he had had such turns before and bleeding relieved him; so he was bled and his head bandaged with a white cloth. He continued in great prostration four weeks, one or two physicians attending him daily. He expectorated blood and showed other symptoms so dangerous that his wife was sent for to attend him, and his friends made an effort to have him removed to the jailor's house; but the Attorney General would not permit this and he remained in jail till Saturday, when the jailor and wife being out of town, the male attendant was called by Mrs. Franklin and desired to bring a pail of water. The door was left open during his brief absence, and soon after Mrs. F. called him and asked him to sit by the sick man while she went to the express office. He sat by the patient, who appeared to be sound asleep, an hour or so, and the woman not returning, went to bed. At midnight, as Mrs. F. had not returned, the Sheriff was called, and on opening the sick man's bed an effigy was found, the head of which with its hair and bandage (the face being turned towards the wall) was a perfect counterfeit of the rogue's. The sick man as it appeared, with his wife, walked eight miles in the rain before hiring the conveyance by which he successfully escaped.

— Reel Jones was treated to a ride in Leicester, Mass., on Friday evening, for uttering sentiments disloyal and derogatory to the memory of President Lincoln.

— It is thought that both Bragg and Hampton accompanied Jeff. Davis for parts unknown, the latter in command of the escort.

MECHANICS INSTITUTES.—It is gratifying to learn that there is a project in contemplation for establishing an Institute for the numerous artisans and mechanics of this city. Mechanics are an important and useful class of men, and there is no body of men who deserve to be amused, furnished with rational recreation, instructed and rendered happy, more than industrious mechanics. In our large cities may be found Commercial Colleges, writing schools and associations for self-improvement, but Institutes especially adapted for the Mechanic and Artisan are very rare. Whether this proceeds from a want of interest displayed by mechanics themselves, or from unsuccessful management of such Institutions, it is but too true that they are not numerously patronized, neither encouraged as they would appear to deserve. In Portsmouth there must be several hundred mechanics as shipbuilders, carpenters, machinists, engineers, joiners, and blacksmiths. When these have finished their daily labour, there is not a single Institute whither they can repair for reading or self improvement. This ought not to be.

There is a need of such institutions in this country, for the resort of mechanics, where they can improve and enjoy the leisure hours in reading, listening to scientific and literary lectures on Chemistry, Astronomy, Mechanical Science, Geology, and other interesting sciences. American mechanics are intelligent enough and rich enough to erect and support their own particular institutes. What is there to prevent the Mechanic Association alluded to in your columns from establishing an Institute with a Library and reading-room, lectures, classes in drawing, writing and elocution? Should one thousand subscribers be found, (there are between two and three thousand mechanics alone at the Navy Yard) who would subscribe two dollars per annum, ample funds would be raised for the maintenance of the organization, which might be conducted in a very liberal manner.

In the reading room there should not only be found "Harper", the "Atlantic", and "Frank Leslie",—but also the "Engineer" and "Scientific American". The Library should not only contain the works of Scott, Dickens, Macauley and Hume, but Templeton, Stephenson, Fairbairn, Byrne, Nicholson and other writers on mechanics who furnish the Artisan with valuable information in practical science. The classes should not be confined to penmanship, reading and arithmetic, but models and practical teachers of Mechanical and Scientific knowledge, should have their respective departments. Patriotic Lectures and dry essays on Political Economy, are well enough in their place, and give their result according to their merits; but a good experimental course of Lectures on Chemistry or Astronomy,—in short, on any science, would benefit, enlighten and improve all, and could not fail to be interesting to the men who earn their bread in the sweat of their brow.

There are those who would unite in getting up these improvements, but who are waiting for some influence to appear which shall trouble the water, and make it inviting for them to step in. T. P. P.

☞ In the Police Court on Thursday, James Newton, Wm. Newton and Martin Garraty—three eminent illustrations of the idea of total depravity, were arraigned to answer to the charge of making a brawl and tumult, in a den of iniquity on Penhallow street, and were found guilty, and fined $5,00 and costs $6.42 each.

On Saturday, the frail and erring Miss Lizzie Wilson, was again brought up to answer to the charge of stealing $750.00 from the hospitable dwelling of Mrs. Ham. Ordered to recognize in the sum of $1000 for her appearance at the October Court. There is an old adage asserting that while "prosperity gains friends, adversity is necessary to try them," and so in Lizzie's case; when the hour of trial came, and adverse circumstances, like a sieve had sifted her friends, behold no one could be found to come down with the required amount of bail, and hence she was taken to jail.

Eliza A. Ham, for keeping a noisy and disorderly house, and behaving in an unladylike manner at different times and under various circumstances, was ordered to find bail in the sum of $200. This call for money was responded to with commendable alacrity by some gentlemen present, and E. A. H. was suffered to repair to her "cottage by the—railroad."

U. S. COMMISSIONER'S COURT.—Upon a complaint made by U. S. Detective J. Horace Kent, one Samuel E. Caswell of Barrington, N. H., was arrested by U. S. Marshal Ela and brought before the U. S. Commissioner on a charge of aiding and abetting desertion. He was held in bail to the amount of $1800 to appear at this May term of the Court—in default of which he was sent to jail. Caswell has served the State heretofore.

☞ Save your rags and old papers! Every family can supply themselves with a good newspaper from the proceeds of such savings. Mr. URIAH BLAISDELL advertises to buy them.

☞ An old lady aged 90 years, named Blay, on Friday, walked from Kittery Point to this city and back,—a distance of 9 miles. This old lady was formerly a nurse in Kittery, and one of her protegees is 75 years of age, and far more decrepit than Mrs. Blay.

☞ The Brass Band at Fort Constitution was in this city on Wednesday, and their playing sounded well as they passed our office.

☞ The U. S. District Court holds a session in this city, commencing to-day—Judge Clifford, we believe, presiding.

—— Mrs. Mary Ann Bell, aged 80, died very suddenly at Chester, on Thursday, leaving two children. She was a daughter of Rev. Dr. Borton, of Concord, and the widow of Col. Louis Bell, who was killed in the assault upon Fort Fisher. She was dressed in her cloak, going out to strew flowers on her husband's grave, but was suddenly stopped by heart disease.

—— There are now 21 National Banks in New Hampshire.

— The body of a young man was found in New York harbor on Monday, with a bullet hole through his head and $450 in his pocket. He had the appearance of a United States sailor, and it is supposed that he had tried to desert, but was shot by the sentry.

— Mrs. Perrine, of Baltimore, who was so ready to help Harry Gilmore's guerrillas to divide the spoils captured on the train at Gunpowder Bridge, last summer, has been arrested, and will be made an example of. She is an indurated rebel.

The greatest discovery of the age is the new soap just come out, and known as the J. Monroe Taylor Gold Medal Soap; it not only saves time in washing, but does the work in a much superior manner to all other soaps now before the people. The makers claim it is manufactured on an entirely different principle, and that it is a great labor-saving article, besides going much further than any other soap. Our experience confirms all the inventor claims for it. Try it, and we think all will be convinced of the fact, and will ever have the Gold Medal or none. 153

THE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.—Liberty is one of the dearest blessings which our forefathers handed down to us. It was purchased by the blood of many a valiant revolutionary hero; has been gladdened by a Washington, a Jefferson, a Clay, and a Webster. But dearer still to the hearts of the people is that world-renowned remedy, known as Coe's Cough Balsam. It cures like magic the most violent attacks of croup, and is indispensable in every family of children. Colds, sudden coughs, sore throat, hoarseness, and inflamed lungs, are instantly and surely cured by its timely use. No cough mixture has ever been known that equals it, which accounts for its great popularity with all classes. The young and the old—the rich and poor—physicians, druggists—and all who have ever tested it speak in the highest terms of its merits. We say to our readers—buy it and try it. It costs but 40 cents the bottle, contains twice as much medicine as you can obtain in any other way at the same cost, and all our drug stores keep it. ap11dawlm

FUNERAL OBSEQUIES IN PORTSMOUTH.
REV. MR. PATTERSON'S EULOGY.

We were unable to supply the large demand for our paper on the week when the Proceedings in Portsmouth were published, and have made arrangements to republish the account of the procession, resolutions, odes, &c., in pamphlet form, in connection with the excellent EULOGY of REV. A. J. PATTERSON, delivered on the occasion at the request of the City Government.

AS it will go to press on Monday, it will be necessary for all who wish to procure copies to leave their names at the bookstores, or at the Journal office by that time, as the edition will be regulated by the demand. Price 20 cents; six copies for $1.00.

Portsmouth has the promise of being complimented by the next Legislature in having one of her sons placed in the Speaker's chair. Nothing will prevent it, probably, unless through excessive modesty the candidate declines the honor. We hope for this time that all such personal feelings will be overcome, and our friend Hackett will consent to take the chair, and in a larger field display that presiding ability which he has with so much dignity shown in the Common Council.

On the 28th of April, cherry trees were in bloom in this city. We never before saw them in bloom until the 1st of May. The average time is about the 10th. The grass in the pastures on the 1st of May was as forward as it frequently is on the 20th.

We do not remember a season when the fruit trees were in blossom so early as they are this year. Cherry, plum and peach trees in this vicinity are in blossom and present a beautiful appearance.

THE SEVEN-THIRTY LOAN.—How firmly our government bore up against the great shock of the murder of its Chief Magistrate, is shown by the course of the subscriptions to the seven-thirty loan, from the day of Mr. Lincoln's assassination, April 14:

April 14	$3,642,200	April 21	$2,743,500
April 15	3,710,250	April 22	4,110,900
April 16	Sunday	April 23	Sunday
April 17	2,651,700	April 24	4,271,650
April 18	2,710,500	April 25	4,018,055
April 19	Business sus.	April 26	4,132,000
April 20	2,062,300	April 27	4,560,800

The 7-30 loan, for the week ending April 30, amounted to twenty-four millions.

RESIGNATION OF AN OLD CONDUCTOR.—Conductor B. H. Cram, familiarly known as a popular conductor on the Eastern Railroad for quarter of a century, has been compelled by a continuation of ill health to resign his position. To the travelling public his name has always been associated with a safe, courteous and pleasant trip—and the recent unanimous expression of the Board of Directors, testifying their esteem for him and regret at his leaving their employ, proves their appreciation of his services.

Harper's Weekly, last two weeks, contained creditable wood cut illustrations of the assassination of President Lincoln, the escape of Booth, the assassin, from the theatre, and a representation of Liberty weeping over the coffin of the murdered President. It is said over 200,000 copies of the edition were sold last week, and the press is still running to supply the demand. S. A. Avery agent for the sale of the paper in Portsmouth, has sold 700 copies and has more on hand.

FRANKLIN HOUSE.—General Josiah G. Hadley, well known in times past as landlord of the old Piscataqua House, has, in connection with Mr. Joseph Perkins, taken a lease of the Franklin House. They intend to keep a good hotel there.

Booth's body is hid in deep darkness. Two persons only know where; but, as his body was conveyed away in a boat, it is presumed to be safe at the bottom of the deepest water of the Potomac.

The most desirable unaccomplished event is now the capture, alive, of Jefferson Davis. We believe there is no one burdened with more guilt.

Major Geo. F. Towle, of the 4th N. H. Vols., has been assigned to duty as Assistant Inspector General of the 10th Army Corps, with rank and pay of Lieut. Col.

Lieut. Col. Cogswell of the 11th N. H. Infantry, and Capt. Geo. B. Haley of the 1st N. H. Cavalry, have been honorably dismissed the service for physical disability. Also Lieut. D. Gile of the 4th Infranty, paroled prisoner.

The master of the splendid clipper ship Ladoye, loading at New York for San Francisco, is Capt. John Willey, a native of this city.

Health Regulations.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH of the City of Portsmouth call the attention of the public to the following sections of City Ordinance No. 4, and invite all interested in the promotion of health in the City to aid them in the execution of their duty.

SEC. 3.—All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, &c. shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, nor shall bury them or throw them into the river below low-water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners or occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten days from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time above specified.

SEC. 11. The health officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other thing deemed by them, on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said health officers may, by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel, or enclosure and cause the said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 14. The owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure shall be liable to pay the expense of the removal or destruction of any such nuisance or other thing, as aforesaid, including fees of the health officers who order or cause the same to be removed; and the same may be recovered by action to be brought in the name of the city.

SEC. 16. And whenever any person or persons shall violate any other section of this ordinance, or act forbidden in any section of this ordinance, to which no special penalty is annexed, shall forfeit and pay a sum not less than one dollar nor more than twenty dollars, to be recovered by complaint before the police court of this city.

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease or management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the
MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the
MAGEE FURNACE.

The due or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world.—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

The New Hampshire Petroleum Co. is organized with great care, under the management of some of the ablest financiers and most successful business men in the State, whose integrity is above reproach, and who cannot be led by excitement into speculations that have not to their minds a golden foundation. Their lands have been selected with great caution. Mr. N. R. Bates of Titusville, who has been very successful the past year in selecting Oil Lands and boring wells, was known to some of the gentlemen prominent in starting this company as being strictly honest, sagacious, and experienced in the Petroleum regions, and was solicited to aid in selecting a proper tract for the company. In his letter, dated Pearl St., Boston, and Daniel E. Lancaster, 419 Broadway, New York, we appointed a committee to visit the farms selected by Mr. Bates, and became convinced that they were among the very best that could be had. The great Oil Basin seems to be situated between Oil Creek, East Oil Creek, and Alleghany river, and for twenty miles from the mouth of the Creek, and the Four Farms of the Company are within the Basin and on the same Oil Belt of the great Broadway and Pennsylvania Rock Oil Belt. The past year to the State of Pennsylvania, as Gov. Curtin says in his Message, fifty six million of dollars. The Hon. Charles O'Conor, Esq., a well-known lawyer of Boston and late District Attorney, F. H. Burns, Esq., a shrewd business man of Dover, N. H., and F. A. Wilcox, Esq., a lawyer of 76 Wall Street, New York, were sent out to see to the titles of lands, and make further examinations. They came to the same conclusions the others had, and the Four Farms were bought, which are thus described:

THE MATTISON FARM.

This Farm contains 84 acres and is near the confluence of Cherry Creek and Pithole Creek.—The lay of the land is beautiful for Oil; high lands on each side, Cherry Creek running directly through, and the underlying Oil Rock is in one side. Every inch of the land is valuable for Coal or boring wells, and there is no waste to it.

The oil bells run from east to west, or from north east to south west, and are from one to three miles wide. The Mattison Farm is two and a half miles in a direct line east of the great Oil flats south of Titusville, from which immeasurable fortunes have flowed. Here the Steele & Mead well flowed 2000 barrels per day—the Fountain 200—the Parker 500—and scores of wells are now being worked that yield from 10 to 60 barrels daily. Nine out of every ten wells bored on this flat are a success! A ten barrel well will sell for forty thousand dollars, and a sixty barrel well sell for half a million.

It is believed by good judges that every rod of the seventy-five acres of the Mattison Farm, all that is not good for coal, is equal to the Flat below Titusville. Coal in that section is worth $10 per ton, and if the vein of coal should work well it would be a fortune in itself. It is splendid coal, burning freely as Cannel.

The average price of oil per barrel the last year was $10 at the wells, the buyers furnishing the barrels. It costs a little less than $600 to sink a well to the depth of 250 feet, and a few go lower than that. Allow $20 per day to work it after it yields oil. G. P. Ball, of the Cherry Creek Farm Petroleum Company, says of this Farm Section:

"I consider all the lands located there, as being richer in Oil, and presenting geological features of a more full and perfect character than any other that I am acquainted with; and I have spent much time during the last few months in examining and selecting Oil Lands in Venango, Crawford and Warren Counties, in all of which I have made considerable investments.—Professors MAYNARD and CARPENTER, Geologists of eminence, are of the same opinion regarding the lands generally throughout the valleys of East Oil Creek. If this Farm comes up to their expectations of Prof. Shepherd of Yale College, of Mr. Ball, of Mr. Bates, it will have pumping wells and flowing wells. The flowing wells will yield oil by the sums of barrels, and the pumping wells, if as good as those south of Titusville, would be of incalculable value. There is a good deal of excitement in the Oil Region on this farm for over 900 wells. Just make computation of the cost of so many wells, and the yield and profit of each one for a year, if they are as good as they are expected if they only yield the minimum average of the wells on that Oil Belt, and your income from this farm alone, is over one million of dollars. This Company do not expect any such results, but merely state these, and let each person make his own figuring and reach his own conclusions.

THE PARKER FARM

Contains 100 acres, is heavily timbered, situated near the road to Tarrtown, 1½ miles from East Oil Creek, and between Cherry Creek and where the Caldwell Creek empties into Oil Creek. They have lately sunk a well right opposite the farm, and struck oil. A single good well on this large farm would enable the Company to sell or lease the land for handsome profits, as about the location of the Mattison Farm, apply equally well to this.

THE BYLES FARM,

On Pit Hole Creek, contains 106 acres. It is about three miles east of Oil Creek, directly east of the Coquet Well that flows 700 barrels daily, the derby that flows 200, the Maple Shade and other noted flowing wells, and pumping wells without limit. This Farm is on the same Oil Belt and on the right range. There is great excitement on Pit Hole. The Frazer well is on it. It began to flow about the middle of January, and with its sucker rod in, and its pipe seven-eighths full of machinery, it has flowed 320 barrels per day ever since.—They have not dared to put out the sucker rod yet, fearing they had not sufficient tanks to hold the oil. The tanks they now have will hold 3,200 barrels. On this well, and on the same Creek, another fine well has been struck, and above it is a spouting well, which, when bored low enough, will yield abundantly. A little farther north the same company, the United States, is putting down a well that looks already better than the Frazer well, and engines are already at the work. In sight of the spouting wells, and between the Frazer and the one which has raised to high hopes, is the Byles Farm, a low land, and every rod fit for a well. It is splendidly located. It abounds in sand rocks and oil indications. Are Byles and Frazer rich? We think no doubt but we shall find on it flowing wells superior to any yet struck in that section. A single flowing well struck would enable us to sell the farm in small lots for ten millions of dollars. Land on high bluffs some ways removed from the Coquet well, leased for fifty years at the rate of $60,000 for strips twelve rods by sixteen, cash down.

THE DAWSON FARM,

On WEST PIT HOLE, contains 25 acres, and is in the same wonderful oil region. It has oil springs on and around it, and many wells are now being bored near it with excellent hope for success. Rates is now sinking one close to it. In a letter dated March 25, 1865, he says: "My well is showing as freely as it progresses, both in gas and oil, as any well has ever shown at the same depth on Oil Creek; gas at 90 feet; a good show of oil at 111 feet; at 140 feet gas is rising and roaring loudly.

Within rifle shot of this farm, sixteen years ago a well was sunk twenty-seven feet deep for water, and oil came in and spoiled it. We have no doubt that rich oil wells will be sunk on this Farm, and there is land enough, if they are rich, to make the Farm a fortune.

The properties of this Company consist of 643 acres, principally owned in Fee Simple, of the most desirable Oil Lands, situated mostly in Oil Creek, Penn., upon which there are three wells now down, capable of producing from 100 to 1000 barrels per day when completed, as they are located so near the great producing interests of the Empire, Noble, Sherman and Drake wells, on this noted creek. This Company offer inducements seldom met with. The capital stock is very small for the amount of valuable oil lands the Company possesses. Three engines are already at the wells. Our Agent at Titusville writes us that the well on the McElhany farm has commenced flowing, which places this Company beyond a doubt of success. The Officers of this Company, in placing this property in the hands of the New England public, have full confidence that no properties yet offered are superior, or any out of which larger and more certain dividends may at once be expected. The property of this Company is located on "Coal Run Creek," Meigs County, State of Ohio, about 10 miles from Athens, containing one hundred and five acres of land. A large number of wells are successfully worked in the vicinity, some of which are paying handsome dividends.—This Company propose to commence operations at once, and enterinin no doubt that at an early day they will be able to pay a handsome percentage on the investment. The known ability and commercial standing of the officers of this Company afford a sufficient guaranty that the affairs will be conducted in a manner to secure the confidence of those who are disposed to invest in it.

The tract of land adjoining the property of this Company has passed into the hands of capitalists, who have sent out an experienced superintendent to commence operations at once, and their first order for machinery was $15,000. Our property has been examined under instructions from Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, who pronounces the coal, which is in abundance, to be of the best quality, yielding 80 gallons of oil to the ton, and has no doubt, from the location and position of the property, that it will be found valuable in the production of oil. Most companies have to pay very high prices for their coal, all of which we save; oil can be manufactured from the coal upon the property, at a cost not exceeding ten cents per gallon, and it is proposed to commence the manufacture in connection with the sinking of wells. One dollar will buy a share of this stock, which is the par value, and all benefits derived from the lands, either by sales of oil, land or products of any kind, are to be divided among the stockholders, and in addition $200,000 worth of valuable, useful and desirable property will be given to the stockholders, as soon as all the shares are disposed of. The Company adopt this course for the purpose of disposing of their stock at the par value, rather than to sell it, as many companies do, at a subscription price, which is usually one-half. Thus, it will be perceived that every stockholder owning ten shares, for example, will be sure to realize a handsome dividend when the property is divided; a plan which is entirely honorable, and in all respects perfectly legal.

The property to be distributed among the stockholders will be equal to any in the market, and will consist of the following described articles:

$5000 to purchase a HOUSE in Boston or vicinity.
$5000 in U. S. 5-20 BONDS, CERTIFICATES of $500 each.

The Chronicle.

THE QUESTION AS TO THE CONDITIONS OF SUFFRAGE is intimately, almost inseparably connected with the question of reconstruction. The policy supposed to be favored by President Johnson leaves this matter to be decided by the loyal men who may form the nucleus of the new State Governments. The policy of others would have it acted upon directly or indirectly by Congress. In the meantime it is interesting to notice views taken of the subject by various parties, and the remarkable concessions made by some political organs, feeling their way towards right relations to coming events. They are beginning to treat the inevitable negro as a personage whose existence as a power in the country must sooner or later be acknowledged.—One proof of this may be found in the following sentences taken from a quite fair and able article in the New York World. Had they appeared anywhere else, a few months ago, the World would have hooted at them as fanaticism. It now they are not creditable to its consistency, they are, at least, evidence of its sagacity. The World says:

We are of opinion that the next generation of negroes will either have the suffrage or perturb the State. If the negro population of the South were as small in proportion as that of the Northern States, the question might be decided either way without peril to the public tranquillity. In different Northen States it has been decided variously. In some, we have universal negro suffage; in others, negro suffrage with a property qualification; in others, no negro suffrage at all. Our negro population is so insignificant that all these methods are perfectly safe. But in some of the Southern States, the negroes approximate in numbers to the whites. We do not believe that, in such States, the colored population, when possessing freedom and the means of education, can be permanently excluded from the elective franchise.

Other portions of the same article make these declarations of the more value, since they prove that a large—possibly the largest body of the whites in the rebel States, are no better qualified as voters than the blacks, at the present moment. This passage has a double edge. Universal suffrage suits only with universal education; men who cannot read, who have no knowledge of public affairs, and no training which qualifies them to form opinions on public questions, cannot safely be intrusted with the ballot. On the whole, everybody must admit that the South is likely to be found as poor in intelligent voters, for a generation or more, as it has been found destitute, to its cost, of intelligent patriotism.

— In Italy and Germany the satires and burlesques on the French Emperor's "Lite of Cæsar" sell more readily than the work itself, and are vastly more popular.

See what the most popular and widely circulated periodicals say of our Establishment:
From the "Dispatch" of February 25, 1865.
We take pleasure in calling the attention of our readers to the announcement of Messrs. Devaugh & Co.'s Great Sale of Jewelry, Silver Ware, and Fancy Goods, in our advertising columns. We are personally acquainted with the members of this firm and know them to be gentlemen of sterling worth and integrity. Their stock of goods, for variety and extent, we have scarcely seen paralleled.
From the "Mirror of Fashion," March 1, 1865.
Messrs. Devaugh & Co.'s Great Sale of Jewelry, etc., opened on the 15th ult., and we venture to say that no finer display of goods was ever exhibited by any establishment in this city. The ladies thronged their bazaar almost to suffocation, although the streets were rendered nearly impassable by the melted snow and slush. We predict for them a wonderful success.
From the "Ledger," February 28, 1865.
Our lady friends should visit the extensive establishment of Messrs. Devaugh & Co., No. 15 Maiden Lane, if they wish to indulge themselves with a sight which they will long remember.—Such a profusion of elegant Watches, Chains, Rings, Earrings, and, in short, of Jewelry of every name, kind and description, we never before witnessed. Their silver and plated ware is superb, and almost casts into the shade the other splendid establishments which have long been the boast of our city. It is estimated that their stock is worth not less than one million dollars.

The Best Ink in the World!
A CHEAP PRODUCT DISCOVERED.
A Substitute for Costly Galls, and a Writing Fluid produced that challenges Competition!
INK POWDERS
TO CARRY IN YOUR POCKET, FROM WHICH TO MAKE INK AT PLEASURE.
—FOR—
THE INK MADE in Three Minutes.
Forty Cents will buy Powder enough to furnish a family for years.
FREEZING DON'T HURT IT.
An accident revealed to a Machinist, in Manchester, N. H., a certain result which by the aid of Chemistry has been used till the most beautiful writing fluid, better than anything imported or home-made, flowing freer, writing easier, handsomer, as lasting as time, not injuring the pen a whit, has been produced.
It is put up in the form of a small powder, stands all climates, good for years, and can be converted into elegant black writing fluid in three minutes.
A company has lately been formed for the manufacture of these Powders, and although the Fluid has been before the public but a few weeks the most outstanding testimonials have been received in its favor, all unsolicited. We select a few from the many.
The greatest qualities of these Ink Powders over everything else in the market are:
1st—It makes an ink of a beautiful, glossy, rich color, that every body will be delighted with.
2d—It flows freely, does not mud up, thicken on the pen or corrode it a particle, and never fades, and will endure as long as the paper on which it is used.
3d—Its cheapness baffles all competition. Forty cents will buy enough to fill fifty common bottles that are retailed at ten cents each.
4th—Convenience. Can be carried to the army, to sea, to the mines, to far off countries.
5th—Wipe your pen dry after using it, and a single steel pen will last with this ink till the paper wears the point off. It is as harmless as water.
Testimonials.
MERRIMACK AND AMERICAN OFFICE,
Manchester, N. H., Jan. 11, 1865.
To the American Ink Company:—I have tried your Ink Powders. They work to a charm. They make perfect ink in three minutes, the best ink I ever saw. It flows easily, does not gum up the pen or corrode it. I have cleared my ink stands of all other kinds of ink. JOHN B. CLARKE.
MELROSE, Mass., Feb. 1, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: I wish heartily to thank you for the beautiful Ink which you have given to the public. I have made Ink, for eight years past, from Prof. Ure's Recipe, (made of Aleppa Gall, Sulphate Iron and Gum Senegal,) It is good Ink, but my occupation is all gone now. Your Ink is the best article of the kind I ever used. This is no puff. Some in my inkstands from my son, and it now flows just freely as at the first, and is not changed in the color a single shade. It is a beautiful black; it flows so readily that I can write one-quarter faster with it than with any other Ink. It ought to be introduced into every school in the Union.
Yours truly, J. W. POLAND.
Washington, D. C., Feb. 4, 1865.
To the American Ink Company: I have tried your Ink Powders, and I think, without any exception, it makes the best writing fluid I have ever used. I would not be without. I remain yours,
GEO. H. HOLMES,
Battery M, 1st Mass. H. Artillery.
Kewanee, Henry Co., Illinois, Feb. 20, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: Received the Powder that you sent, and to say that I am pleased with it is true, but does not express what I should like to say. The community have long wanted an Ink Powder that could stand the test of freezing and that would not corrode the pen, and several have been produced. Your Ink was an excellent recipe, but was spoiled by freezing. I have frozen this to test it, and find that it is not affected at all.
I have introduced it into my school in this place, and had I a quantity of it, it would find a ready sale. Thanking you in behalf of the community and myself for such a discovery, I remain, very respectfully, your obedient serv't,
GEO. W. PARKER.
Deering, March 1, 1865.
To the American Ink Company:—This to certify that I have given your Ink Powder a trial, and I am happy to state it works to perfection. It has a superiority over all other Inks within my knowledge. And I would cheerfully recommend it to the writer, the merchant, or any person whose business requires any amount of writing.—It does not corrode, and flows as freely after being frozen as before. Respectfully yours,
ALMON M. COREY.
Nashua, N. H., March 13, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: The Ink made from the powders you sent me is the best I ever used. There is none of that sticky substance about it that there is to most kinds of ink. It flows freely and works to a charm.
Yours truly, GEORGE W. FLANDERS.
Brookline, N. H., March 13, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: I received the Powder you sent me, and I recommend it to all those who have any writing to do, and the best Ink I ever used. I have used J. Moor's Maynard & Noyes', D. J. Ruggles', and many others, but yours far excels any I ever used.
Yours respectfully, G. E. STILES.

PRISONERS TO BE RELEASED.—The War Department has just

Ordered, That all prisoners of war, except officers above the rank of Colonel, who before the capture of Richmond signified their desire to take the oath of allegiance and willingness to be exchanged, will be forthwith released on their taking said oath, and transportation furnished them to their homes. In respect to all other prisoners of war, further orders will be issued.

It is estimated that the exchanges now in progress will exhaust the whole number of Union prisoners held in the South, leaving in our hands and on parole an excess of about 70,000 rebel prisoners to be disposed of. No transportation will hereafter be furnished to rebel deserters or refugees.

Rebel prisoners who persist in their refusal to take the oath of allegiance are to be sent out of the country.

ENGLISH ITEMS to April 28, reach us by the Hibernian. The London Times says the end has come at last, and the great American war is virtually closed by Lee's surrender of the Virginia army. All attempts to establish a Southern Confederacy, must be abandoned.

American 5-20s are quoted at 60.—Confederate bonds not mentioned.

Indignation and grief are expressed in London and Liverpool, at President Lincoln's assassination.

Paris letters say that the news of the assassination caused most profound and universal regret and indignation throughout that city. Mr. Mason, in a letter to the Index, repudiates the crime in behalf of the Confederate States. He had not seen Pres. Johnson's proclamation of reward for Jeff. Davis.

— The U. S. Government has given up the Colony of blacks at Freedmen's Village, Arlington, Va. Work is offered to all willing to labor, at the usual prices, and rent is charged them for their tenements at $4 per month. All incapable or unwilling to accept these terms are to be removed to Mason's Island, near Georgetown. It is almost impossible to induce any of them to migrate North; showing up as utterly false, the old assumption that the freed negroes of the south would rush to the north.

— Roger A. Pryor, in 1860, declared in a public speech, that "the first anti-slavery President who was elected would be assassinated; and if there was no other person to do the deed, he would be the Brutus to plant the dagger in his breast."

Did not slavery deserve to die?—was it not brutal, murderous, base? And ought not its apologists to hold their tongues and hide their heads? U. T.

A MONSTER GRAPE VINE.—The Rochester Courier says there is a native grapevine on the farm of William Hall, Esq., of Barrington, which one foot from the ground measures thirty-seven inches in circumference. It was badly injured by the severe winter some years since, and has yielded less than formerly. When in its full vigor it is estimated to have yielded a cart load of grapes in a single season, larger and better and near two weeks earlier than most of the grapes about which the public hear so much. This monster vine creeps over a very large rock and several adjacent apple trees.

The story of a rebel plot to introduce the yellow fever into New York city by the shipment of infected rags from Bermuda, turned out to be a canard.—Exchange.

No, it did'nt,—though such an item ran the rounds of the press. Halifax papers give an account of the trial of the rebel Doctor who made the attempt. We would like to know what sympathizer told the lie.

—A statement in the Washington Republican that the trial of the President's assassins was in progress, and "hanging would soon commence," is said to have struck the people of that city unpleasantly. No doubt of it.

— The N. Y. Herald advices President Johnson to let the negroes vote, in order to spike the last gun of the abolitionists and neutralize the fire-eating element of the South.

— A public meeting has been held in Carson City, Nevada, to raise a fund by $1 subscriptions, to be presented to Robinson, the brave man who saved Sec. Seward's life.

— The season in New Jersey is nearly three weeks earlier than last year; winter grains are promising, and there are indications of an abundance of fruit.

— The Courier plaintively asks: "Is it possible that the last surprising proclamation of the President is based upon the 'confessions' of a man like Harrold?"

— Oregon advices report the arrest of several democrats, for expressing joy at the death of the President.

— The sale of portraits of J. Wilkes Booth has been forbidden in Baltimore by the military authorities.

NATIONAL DEBTS AND U. S. STOCKS. The creation of national debts is not a modern improvement, but the ability of a nation to provide for a great debt, and to make it the most convenient and best form of personal property, is a modern wonder. The debt of Great Britain was begun by raising a million sterling by loan in 1692, and when her great contest with Louis XIV. was terminated, the debt had reached fifty millions. Many statesman and economists were then alarmed at the great burden which had been imposed upon the industry of the country, but when the war of the Austrian succession had swelled this amount to eighty millions, Macaulay says that historians and orators pronounced the case to be desperate.

But when war again broke out, and the national debt was rapidly carried up to one hundred and forty millions, men of theory and business both pronounced that the fatal day had certainly arrived. David Hume said that, although, by taxing its energies to the utmost, the country might possibly live through it, the experiment must never be repeated,—even a small increase might be fatal. Granville said the nation must sink under it unless some portion of the load was borne by the American Colonies, and the attempt to impose this load produced the war of the revolution, and, instead of diminishing, added another hundred millions to the burden.

Again, says Macaulay, was England given over, but again she was more prosperous than ever before. But when at the close of her Napoleonic wars in 1816, this debt had been swelled up to the enormous sum of over eight hundred millions sterling, or four thousand three hundred million dollars, or nearly one half the entire property of the United Kingdom, the stoutest heart, the firmest believer in national progress and national development, might well have been appalled. But in the very face of this mountain of obligation,—to say nothing of her vast colonial possessions,—the property of the British nation has been more than trebled, and her debt is now a charge of but 12 1-2 per cent. against it.

All that Great Britain has done in paying her debt, we shall do, and more, with ours. We have vast territories untouched by the plow, mines of all precious metals of which we have hardly opened the doors, a population full of life, energy, enterprise and industry, and the accumulated wealth of money and labor of the old countries pouring into the lap of our giant and ever-to-be-united republic. During the fiercest and most exhausting of all possible wars, we have demonstrated our national strength—and all the world over, national strength is but another name for national credit. "As good as U. S. Stocks" will soon be synonymous the world over with "as good as British Consols."

For our part, we think a U. S. Treasury note, bearing seven and three-tenths annual interest, is just as much better than British Consols as the rate of interest is higher. Some of our timid brethren, who shipped their gold to London and invested in consols, are now glad to sell out and invest at home at a round loss,—and serves them right.

WAIFS FROM AN ESTRAY. — Lexington, Mass., April 29.—All the trees are leaving, and your correspondent is about to follow their example, and depart from this little old town, whence he has occasionally dropped you a line. As one of the duties incumbent on a sight-seer, I visited the old house where Hancock and Adams spent the night of April 18, 1775, and was amply repaid by the inspection of one of the class of houses which are fast disappearing before modern improvement—an improvement which manifests itself in many cases by copying in some of our modern fine residences, peculiarities which at once struck my eye in the venerable house I visited. The rooms finished in pine, the elaborate balusters and stairways of the same; the old dresser, where on state occasions such displays of shining pewter were made, and beneath which a row of brightly burnished brass kettles, ranged according to size, shone; the woodwork in remarkable preservation, although never painted, with the sole exception of one room; the grotesque pattern and thick fabric of wall paper, in the few places where such had been used; and the glimpse of by-gone days and customs afforded us in the conversation of the elderly dame who kindly shew us the house, formed an interesting link in the chain which binds the past to the present.

My friend Dia Bolus is a bitter pill, and perhaps 'tis well to leave his vicinity. To show the depth of his malignity, I will mention the fact that upon my remarking upon the strength of the wind to-day, he at once replied that it was easily accounted for, "as the cherry trees had begun to blow;" and when I threatened to impale him upon a pitchfork, he said: I "That would be no joke, because it is two pointed!"

A score of us, in a large wagon, made a flying trip to Lincoln Pond to-day—our first picnic of the season. On an occasion like that, the superiority of the gymnastic costume over the usual enmanageable mass of crinoline and its concomitants, was strikingly evident, not only from the ease with which so many persons were accommodated in one vehicle, but in the impunity with which the young ladies could dash through bush and briar, over brooks and damp places, in search of Flora's early treasures. Ion.

— The Mobile News learns that a daily line of steamers between Mobile and New Orleans is about to be established, and that the arrangements are nearly completed.

— Pensacola dates of the 29th, make no mention of the surrender of the rebel Secretary Mallory.

— General Sheridan and staff have arrived at Washington.

☞ We have before us No. 1, of "Hours at Home, a Popular Monthly, devoted to Religious and useful Literature, Edited by J. M. Sherwood."—Among the contributors are Rev. Drs. Huntington, J. P. Thompson, Sprague, Bacon, and Alexander. The names of contributors are an array of eminent talent among American trinitarians. The "Hours at Home" is published by Chas. Scribner & Co., New York,—and is sold by J. H. Foster in Portsmouth, at $3 per year.

☞ Mosby's Address to his troops, just before flying to parts unknown, has some commendable elements not possessed by the farewell of Gen. Lee to his army. Mosby, with all his audacity, would never presume to dictate to this country the policy upon which it should make peace throughout the South. He confesses he is disappointed in his hopes of the independence of the Confederacy. This is the way he addresses his soldiers for the last time:

FAUQUIER, April 21, 1865.

Soldiers: I have summoned you together for the last time. The vision we have cherished for a free and independent country has vanished, and that country is now the spoil of a conqueror. I disband your organization in preference to surrendering to our enemies. I am no longer your commander. After an association of more than two eventful years, I part from you with a just pride in the fame of your achievements and grateful recollections of your generous kindness to myself; and now at this moment of bidding you a final adieu, accept the assurance of my unchanging confidence and regard. Farewell. J. S. MOSBY,

Colonel commanding battalion.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—The Tribune's Washington dispatch says it is understood Gen. Sheridan will be President of the assassination Court Martial.—The reorganized army will consist of four corps of forty thousand each; one of regulars, one of white volunteers, and two of colored volunteers. Each will have its cavalry, artillery and infantry in proper proportions.—The Herald's N. C. dispatches give various rumors of the whereabouts of Jeff. Davis, but none later or more definite than those of last week. The report that he was obliged to abandon his specie train is contradicted.—Gen. Schofield's civilities to Hardee and other leading rebels were not acceptable to the army, who have no special love for the "grybacks." The rank and file of our army do not think any better of a rebel, because he went to school at West Point, at our expense, and then rebelled against our government, and sought to destroy it.

JOHNSTON'S SURRENDER.—Intelligence from Greensboro', N. C., states that Joe Johnston's formal surrender had taken place. Beauregard, Hardee and Hoke were among the prominent Generals who surrendered. The soldiers being paroled, laid down their arms on Wednesday last and departed for their homes.

GOLD, Monday, 143 3-4 to 141 3-4. The holders of the May gold bearing U. S. Coupons do not appear to be in any hurry to draw their gold from the Treasury. But about three of the eighteen millions due on the 1st of May had been drawn out up to Saturday last.

ROME.—Vegezzi has offered to the Pope to admit Bishops in the ancient pontifical States, and has requested the Pope to recognize the King of Italy's right to appoint Bishops to other parts of Italy, conformably to former usage. The Pope hesitates.

— There will probably be a full regiment of State militia organized in Boston and vicinity, of Irish-American citizens, in the course of a few months. Many of the members have seen service on the battle-field in the late war, and the regiment will no doubt be a credit to the Commonwealth.

— W. P. Powell, a colored man, has been appointed notary public by the Governor of New York, and Wednesday took the oath of office. He is the first colored man who has occupied such a position in that city.

— A million of dollars in gold weighs well towards a couple of tons; so if Jeffy Davis has got say ten millions, that will sink him as far out of sight as his rotten Confhievery is sunk.

— Gen. Halleck has issued an order notifying everybody in Virginia and North Carolina who may be found after the 20th of May in arms, that they will be treated as outlaws.

— The First Bank of Richmond, Va., has been designated a United States Depository. H. G. Hart is President. This is the only National Bank yet established in that city.

— The first families of Virginia about Richmond, are reported to be in a starving condition. Hereafter they must dig or beg; the negroes will not do it for them any longer.

— The rebel Captain Semmes, of the Confederate Navy, was paroled with Johnston's army last Wednesday.

— Colonel Baker's N. Y. detectives, by the aid of "stool pigeons," have succeeded in making a large haul of counterfeit $50 greenbacks, so well executed that their character can only be determined by experts.

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

The sale of the first series of $300,000,000 of the 7-30 Loan was completed on the 31st of March, 1865. The sale of the second series of Three Hundred Millions, payable three years from the 15th of June, 1865, was begun on the 1st of April. In the short space of thirty days, over One Hundred Millions of this series have been sold—leaving this day less than Two Hundred Millions to be disposed of. The interest is payable semi-annually in currency on the 15th of December and 15th of June by Coupons attached to each note, which are readily cashed anywhere. It amounts to

One cent per day on a $50 note.
Two cents " " " " $100 "
Ten " " " " $500 "
20 " " " " $1000 "
$1 " " " " $5000 "

More and More Desirable,

The Rebellion is suppressed, and the Government has already adopted measures to reduce expenditures as rapidly as possible to a peace footing, thus withdrawing from Market as borrower and purchaser.

This is the ONLY LOAN IN MARKET now offered by the Government, and constitutes the GREAT POPULAR LOAN OF THE PEOPLE.

The Seven-Thirty Notes are convertible on the maturity, at the option of the holder, into

U. S. 5-20 Six per cent.
GOLD - BEARING BONDS,

Which are always worth a premium.

Free from Taxation.

The 7.30 Notes cannot be taxed by Towns, Cities, Counties or States, and the interest is not taxed unless on a surplus of the owner's income exceeding six hundred dollars a year. This fact increases their value from one to three per cent. per annum, according to the rate levied on other property.

SUBSCRIBE QUICKLY.

Less than $600,000,000 of the Loan authorized by the last Congress are now on the market.—This amount at the rate at which it is being absorbed, will all be subscribed for within four months, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loans.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

HORSE GUARDS.—The Governor's Horse Guards of New Hampshire, were originally formed as they still remain, in three Companies—one each at Concord, Nashua, and Portsmouth and vicinity.—The leading citizens of Concord and Nashua took hold of the thing at the start, and secured the filling of their Companies—men who did not wish to ride themselves, becoming honorary or fine members, and each giving a uniform to some young man who did desire to become an active member. In this way, the ranks of the first two Companies were filled; while our Company C, located hereabouts, being left to itself, has not been so strong.

Now this certainly ought not to be. Portsmouth alone should have a Company of 50 men in this corps; and will have soon, if those citizens who are able to aid in the matter, will take hold of it. We understand that an effort is being made to enlist new members, and hope to see the ranks filled in season for the coming June parade. There is every inducement which healthful recreation, social enjoyment, public spirit and patriotism can offer, to join the Guards; and the expenses are by no means heavy, as has been supposed by many, and they promise to be lighter yet in the future.

For the Chronicle.

PLAY ON WHITE, OR ON RIGHT PLAY.

Answer: If you don't leave off talking right out, right in writing-school, right away, and write away,—you will be put "write down" right off, by a man who knows his rights, "write well."

P. S.—The writer th-inks he has a right to the $25 greenbacks. Please to write "Wright-man," that you will right-hand it right over "write straight," without any rite. Write right soon, or S-Quire Wright will write a WRIT.

Communication.

Mr. Miller: I have observed with regret that your Police Reporter has lately been changed, or has changed his style:—so that instead of your former short items merely recording (as of course is proper,) the arrest or trial of certain individuals, your readers are now favored with lamentable attempts at witticisms, on a subject which should least of all provoke mirth in thinking minds; for Solomon tells us that only "Fools make a mock at sin." VERB. SAP.

[Remarks.—Our Reporter in that department will doubtless observe; and we shall merely remark, that in all such matters we generally leave writers to exercise their own taste, whether they meet ours or not. Regarding this particular matter, however, these reports have been frequently commended to us.—Ed. Chron.]

☞ The Circuit Court of the United States commenced a session here on Monday, Judge Clifford presiding. The session will probably last through the week. The Grand and Petit Juries were empannelled, and Judge Clifford made a most earnest, impressive and patriotic charge to the Grand Jurors. The business of the Court will probably commence this morning.

☞ It is a little singular that all the church organs in this city, with the exception of Mr. Day at the Universalist and a lad at the Catholic, should be played by ladies. It seems that our information that Mr. Pearson was to play the Unitarian church organ, was a little premature.

☞ We understand that the Rev. Mr. Canovan (Catholic) on Sunday last, denounced in the severest terms the organization known as the "Fenian Brotherhood." By so doing, he places himself in opposition with the laity of his parish, as many are members of the Order.

☞ The U. S. steamer Mackinaw came up to the Navy Yard on Monday morning, from Hampton Roads. Her boilers are much out of repair, and will be replaced before leaving this port.

☞ Lieut. Comd'r Wm. D. Whiting, has been detached from the school ship Savannah, at Brooklyn Navy Yard, and ordered to Portsmouth to assume command of the Tioga.

☞ We are indebted to Mr. Howard D. Lowd, of this city, for Southern papers sent us from Old Point Comfort, Va.

☞ Thomas Caswell of Strafford, N. H., was on Monday examined before U. S. Commissioner Hackett, on charge of aiding and abetting desertion, and was held in $1800 for trial. He is also reported by reliable witnesses, to have said on hearing of the President's murder, that he was "glad of it, d——n him; I would have killed him myself."

— Major-General Schofield, in an order addressed to the people of North Carolina, says that "it will be left to the judicial department of the government to punish those political leaders who are responsible for secession, rebellion and civil war with all its horors. Between the government of the United States and the people of North Carolina there is peace."

— At the S. J. Court, in Hillsboro' County, three men were fined $25 each, for peddling without license.

— Col. Thomas L. Livermore, of the 5th New Hampshire, was seriously wounded in the streets of Washington the other day. He was furiously attacked by an ox while on horseback, his horse was thrown down and fell with full weight on the Colonel, who was taken up for dead. His collar bone was broke and he received other injuries, but it is thought he will recover.

— Saturday brought us the hardest storm — northeaster—of this Spring. It will have to pass for the "Gosling Storm." Thus far we have had warmer and more pleasant weather than we ever knew before. The fields are "dressed in living green," the trees look beautiful, and the promise of fruit is abundant.

Morning Chronicle.

THE SPANIARD'S GRAVES

AT SMITH'S ISLE.

[From the April Atlantic Monthly.]

O Sailors, did sweet eyes look after you,
The day you sailed away from sunny Spain?
Bright eyes that followed fading ship and crew,
Melting in tender rain?

Did no one dream of that drear night to be,
Wild with the wind, fierce with the stinging snow,
When, on you granite point that frets the sea,
The ship met her death blow?

Fifty long years ago these sailors died;
(None know how many sleep beneath the waves)
Fourteen gray headstones, rising side by side,
Point out their nameless graves,—

Lonely, unknown, deserted, but for me
And the wild birds that flit with mournful cry,
And sadder winds, and voices of the sea
That moan perpetually.

Wives, mothers, maidens, wistfully, in vain
Questioned the distance for the yearning sail.
That, leaning landward, should have stretched again
White arms wide on the gale,

To bring back their beloved. Year by year,
Weary they watched, till youth and beauty passed,
And lustrous eyes grew dim, and age drew near,
And hope was dead at last.

Still summer broods o'er that delicious land,
Rich, fragrant, warm with skies of golden glow:
Live say yet of their forsaken band
Who loved so long ago?

O Spanish women, over the far seas,
Could I but show you where your dead repose!
Could I send tidings on this northern breeze,
That strong and steady blows!

Dear dark-eyed sisters, you remember yet
Those you have lost, but you can never know
One stands at their bleak graves whose eyes are wet
With thinking of your woe!

— The Organ of the English Tories, the London Standard, says, in speaking of the defeat of the Confederates, "It cannot be denied that whatever may be the ultimate event, to them belong the moral trophies of the war." We trust that England will soon have an opportunity of welcoming a large portion of these gentlemen, and that they will take their "moral trophies" with them.

— Alderman Quin of Rochester has declined a railroad pass tendered to him. He says nobody offered him such a favor before he was an Alderman, and now that he is a public officer he cannot honestly accept it.

— The Chattanooga Gazette learns that the Government intends soon to vacate one of the large buildings on Lookout Mountain, which has been in use for some time as a hospital, and parties are making preparations to open it as a hotel.

— One hundred millions of dollars would probably fall short of the expenditures of the rebels in their defensive gunboats, ironclads, rams, floating batteries and transports, and where are they now? Captured, burned, blown up or sunk.

— According to Bull Run Russell, it will only take 150,000 men to defend Canada against the United States, which is about equivalent to the whole regular army of Great Britian. A little more friendly feeling toward this country would be the best kind of defense for Canada.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (See the Act of 1837.)
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to procure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers for Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, which are not, I feel immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that more I MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES, and all Papers or Models, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of Specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full account of Patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessary of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which Patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part, I do not hesitate to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents. As they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the
CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes

with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Stee, and others.

The New Hampshire Petroleum Co. is organized with great care, under the management of some of the ablest financiers and most successful business men in the State, whose integrity is above reproach, and who cannot be led by excitement into speculations that have not to their minds a golden foundation. Their lands have been selected with great caution. Mr. N. R. Bates, of Titusville, who has been very successful the past year in selecting Oil Lands and boring wells, was known to our directors to be a prominent in starting this company as a man strictly honest, sagacious, and experienced in the Petroleum region, and they decided to add to selecting the proper farms. He did so. Col. B. F. Martin, Wm. F. Newell, Esq., and John B. Clarke, Editor of the Mirror, of Manchester, J. S. Fogg, Esq., of the firm of Fogg, Houghton & Coolidge, 64 Pearl St., Boston, and Daniel E. Lancaster, 419 Broadway, New York, are supposed to have contributed to the farms spoken of. Early in February they looked over the lands selected by Mr. Bates, and became convinced that they were the very best that could be had. The great Oil Basin seems to be situated between Oil Creek, East Oil Creek, and Allegheny River, and not twenty miles from one point to the other, and the Four Farms of the Company are within the Basin and on the same Oil Belt of the great flowing and pumping wells that have yielded the past year to the State of Pennsylvania, as Gov. Curtin says in his Message, $70,000,000 of dollars. The last of March, B. W. Harris, Esq., a well-known lawyer of Boston and late District Attorney, E. H. Burns, Esq., as shrewd business man of Dover, N. H., and F. A. Wilcox, Esq., a lawyer of 76 Wall Street, New York, were sent out to see to the titles of lands and make further examinations. They came to the same conclusions the others had, and the Four Farms were bought, which are thus described:

THE MATTISON FARM.

This Farm contains 84 acres and is near the confluence of Cherry Creek and East Oil Creek.—The lay of the land is beautiful for Oil; high banks on each side, Cherry Creek running directly through, and a rich undeveloped Coal vein on one side. Every inch of the land is valuable for Coal or boring wells, and there is no waste to it.

The Oil belt runs from east to west, or from north east to south west, and are from one to three miles wide. The Mattison Farm is two and a half miles in a direct line east of the great Oil flats south of Titusville, from which innumerable fortunes have flowed. Here the Steele & Mead well poured out 1000 barrels per day—the Fountain 500—the Parker 500—and scores of wells are now being worked that yield from 10 to 60 barrels daily. Nine out of every ten wells put into this flat are a success! A ten barrel well will sell for forty thousand dollars, and a sixty barrel well sell for half a million.

It is believed by good judges that every rod of the seventy-five acres of the Mattison Farm, all that is not good for coal, is equal to the Flat below, and will be worth $1000 in addition to worth $15 per ton, and if the vein of coal should work well it would be a fortune in itself. It is splendid coal, burning freely as Cannel.

The average price of oil per barrel the last year was $10 at the works, the buyers furnishing the barrels. It costs a little less than $600 to sink a well to the depth of 700 feet, and not a dry hole in ten that that. It costs $50 per day to work it after it yields oil. G. P. Ball, of the Cherry Creek Farm Petroleum Company, says of this Farm Section:

"I consider all the lands located there, as being richer in Oil, and presenting geological features of a more full and perfect character than any other that I am acquainted with; and I have spent much time during the last few months in examining and locating Oil territory in Venango, Crawford and Warren Counties, in all of which I have made considerable investments.—Professors Hayden and Stevenson, Geologists of eminence, are of the same opinion regarding the lands generally throughout the valleys of East Oil Creek and Allen Farm, coming to the expectations of Prof. Shepherd of Yale College, of Mr. Ball, of Mr. Bates, it will have pumping wells and flowing wells. The pumping wells would sell for large sums of money, and the pumping wells, if as good as those south of Titusville, would be of immense value, and there is abundant room on each acre for 18 wells, and on this farm for over 800 wells. Just make computation of the value of 800 wells, and the expectations of Prof. Shepherd of Yale College, of Mr. Ball, of Mr. Bates, it will have pumping wells and flowing wells. The pumping wells would sell for large sums of money, and the pumping wells, if as good as those south of Titusville, would be of immense value, and there is abundant room on each acre for 18 wells, and on this farm for over 800 wells. Just make computation of the value of 800 wells, and the yield and profit on the whole in a year, if they are as good as they are expected. If they only yield the minimum average, the profit of 800 Oil Belt, and your income from this Farm alone is over one million of dollars. This Company do not expect any such fortune, but merely state facts, and let each person make his own figuring and reach his own conclusions.

THE PARKER FARM

Contains 100 acres, is heavily timbered, situated near the road leading from Titusville to Oil City, East Oil Creek, and between Cherry Creek and where the Caldwell Creek empties into Oil Creek. They have heavy pumps now working on this farm and struck oil. A single good well on this large farm would enable the Company to sell or lease the lands for great profit. For further information about the location of the Mattison Farm, apply equally well to this.

THE BYLES FARM,

On Pit Hole Creek, contains 105 acres. It is about three miles east of Oil Creek, and one mile east of the Coquet Well that flows 100 barrels daily, the Jersey that flows 800, the Maple Shade and other noted flowing wells, and pumping wells without limit. This Farm is on the same Oil Belt and on the right range. There is great excitement on Pit Hole. The Frazer well on Pit Hole. It began to flow about the middle of January, and with its anchor rod in, and its pipe seven-eights full of machinery, it has flowed 250 barrels per day ever since.—They have not dared to pull out the anchor rod yet, fearing they had not sufficient tanks to hold the oil. The tanks they now have will hold 2,300 barrels. Gordon Hill well on the same Creek, another fine well has been struck, and above it is a spouting well, which, when bored low enough, will flow immense quantities. Still farther north the same company, the United States, is putting down a well that looks already better than the Frazer, and expectations are very great upon it. In sight of the spouting wells, and between the Frazer and the one which has raised so high hopes, is the Byles farm, all low land, and every rod fit for a well. It is splendidly located. It abounds in sand rocks and oil indications. Mr. Bates thinks very highly of it, and has no doubt but we shall find on it flowing wells superior to any yet struck in that section. A single flowing well struck would enable us to sell the farm in small lots for ten millions of dollars. Land on high bluffs some ways removed from the Coquet well, leases for fifty years at the rate of $50,000 for strips twelve rods by sixteen, cash down.

THE DAWSON FARM,

On WEST PIT HOLE, contains 25 acres, and is in the same wonderful oil region. It has oil springs on a small stream, and twenty-seven feet of boring bored near it with excellent show for oil. Mr. Bates is now sinking one close to it. In a letter dated March 25, 1865, he says: "My well is showing as finely as it progresses, both in gas and oil, as any well has ever shown at the same depth on Oil Creek; gas at 90 feet; a good show of oil at 112 feet; at 140 feet gas is rising and roaring loudly.

Within rifle shot of this farm, sixteen years ago a well was sunk twenty-seven feet deep for water, and oil came in and spoiled it. We have no doubt that rich oil wells will be sunk on this Farm, and there is land enough, if they are rich, to make the Farm a fortune.

Circulars, prospectuses, &c., containing every information, will be furnished on application at the office of the Company, or sent by mail to parties wishing to subscribe. Apply to or address

The property of this Company is located on "Coal Run Creek," Meigs County, State of Ohio, about 10 miles from Athens, containing one hundred and five acres of land. A large number of wells are successfully worked in the vicinity, some of which are paying handsome dividends.—This Company propose to commence operations at once, and entertain no doubt that at an early day they will be able to pay a handsome percentage on the investment. The known ability and commercial standing of the officers of this Company afford a sufficient guaranty that the affairs will be conducted in a manner to secure the confidence of those who are disposed to invest in it.

The tract of land adjoining the property of this Company has passed into the hands of capitalists, who have sent out an experienced superintendent to commence operations at once, and their first order for machinery was $16,000. Our property has been examined under instructions from Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, who pronounces the coal, which is in abundance, to be of the best quality, yielding 80 gallons of oil to the ton, and has no doubt, from the location and position of the property, that it will be found valuable in the production of oil. Most companies have to pay very high prices for their coal, all of which we save; oil can be manufactured from the coal upon the property, at a cost not exceeding ten cents per gallon, and it is proposed to commence the manufacture in connection with the sinking of wells. One dollar will buy a share of this stock, which is the par value, and all benefits derived from the lands, either by sales of oil, land or products of any kind, are to be divided among the stockholders, and in addition $200,000 worth of valuable, useful and desirable property will be given to the stockholders, as soon as all the shares are disposed of. The Company adopt this course for the purpose of disposing of their stock at the par value, rather than to sell it, as it may company has do, at a subscription price, which is usually one-half. Thus, it will be perceived that every stockholder owning ten shares, for example, will be sure to realize a handsome dividend when the property is divided; a plan which is entirely honorable, and in all respects perfectly legal.

The property to be distributed among the stockholders will be equal to any in the market, and will consist of the following described articles:

$5000 to purchase a HOUSE in Boston or vicinity.
$5000 in U. S. 5-20 BONDS, CERTIFICATES of $500 each.

☞ The President of the Sherman Testimonial Fund, in Ohio, has received the following letter from Chief Justice Chase:

"My Dear Sir: Enclosed is a contribution to the Sherman Fund.

I take this moment for making it, because just now many seem disposed to forget his great deservings, and remember only his recent convention with Johnston.

But that act, however regretted and disapproved, must not cancel in our memories or even obscure, his splendid services.

His patriotism is no more doubtful than his courage. No man's achievements have contributed more to the grand triumph of Union and freedom over rebellion and slavery. His deeds are among the choicest treasures of our own Ohio—as well as of our whole country. And we, the children of Ohio, are bound specially, and by the most sacred obligations, to defend and protect the good name of every brave and loyal son she has. She has none braver or more loyal than Sherman."

— Advices from Salt Lake say the Mormon authorities have taken action in opening a route to the head of navigation on the Colorado. The stock has also been taken to build a line of telegraph on this route to extend to Prescott, the capital of Arizona, when it will connect with the line from California. There are 42 towns and settlements on the route between Salt Lake and Colorado.

RETRIBUTION.—The losses of the South in the late contest are probably quite as great as the profit she has gained from the institution of slavery. The accumulations of generations of wrong have been swept away in a vain effort to perpetuate human bondage. The proverbial estimates of "ill-gotten gains" have beeen verified. Those who once wondered that so much wealth could be unjustly wrung from unrequited toil now see, in the rapidity with which it has vanished, another truism, that whoever "the mill of the gods grinds slowly, it grinds exceedingly fine."—Transcript.

— The prompt action of President Johnson in removing all the restrictions on trade with the insurrectionary States, will, in the opinion of Gen. Grant, do more toward restoring order and good feeling in the South, than any other measure which could be adopted.

— A man at New York has had to pay $375 for slapping another man in the face with a pair of boots, which had been removed from a vacant seat in a ferry boat, and placed upon the floor.

— The total number of National Banks authorized, is one thousand and forty-nine. Several of the States have filled their quotas.

— Seven barbers in New Haven were prosecuted for Sunday shaving, the other day, and discharged on the ground that the work was of necessity.

— There are now 2,600 men employed at the Norfolk Navy Yard, and quite a fleet is getting ready for sea.

See what the most popular and widely circulated periodicals say of our Establishment:

From the "Dispatch" of February 25, 1865.

We take pleasure in calling the attention of our readers to the announcement of Messrs. Devaugh & Co.'s Great Sale of Jewelry, Silver Ware, and Fancy Goods, in our advertising columns. We are personally acquainted with the members of this firm and believe them to be gentlemen of sterling worth and integrity. Their stock of goods, for variety and extent, we have scarcely seen paralleled.

From the "Mirror of Fashion," March 1, 1865.

Messrs. Devaugh & Co.'s Great Sale of Jewelry, etc., is spoken of in the highest terms. We venture to say that no finer display of goods was ever exhibited by any establishment in the city. The ladies thronged their bazaar almost to suffocation, although the streets were rendered nearly impassable by the melted snow and slush. We predict for them a wonderful success.

From the "Ledger," February 28, 1865.

Our lady friends should visit the extensive establishment of Messrs. Devaugh & Co., No. 15 Maiden Lane, if they wish to indulge themselves with a sight which they will long remember.—Such a profusion of elegant Watches, Chains, Rings, Earrings, and, in short, of Jewelry of every name, kind and description, we never before witnessed. Their silver and plated ware is superb, and almost casts into the shade the other splendid establishments which have long been the boast of our city. It is estimated that their stock is worth not less than one million dollars.

How You Can Get a Prize.
Send Twenty-five Cents to us, and as soon as we receive it we will mail you a Certificate showing what you are entitled to. If the article or article placed on receipt of our Certificate and One Dollar and we will forward you the article, no matter how costly it may be. If the article is not what you wish, state, when you send the Certificate and dollar, what other article of the same value you prefer, and we will send it. If you wish more than one Certificate send ten $1 and we will send five; for $2, eleven; for $5, thirty; for $10, sixty; for $50, one hundred.
Agents are wanted in this city and in every place.
We have an immense stock of goods to dispose of, and need a large number of Agents. Our terms to Agents are very liberal; some even of our Lady Agents are making from $5 to $20 a day. We give Agents 50 per cent. on all Certificates they sell provided they remit not less than $1 for eight.

The Best Ink in the World!
A CHEAP PRODUCT DISCOVERED.
A Substitute for Costly Galls, and a Writing Fluid produced that challenges Competition!
INK POWDERS
TO CARRY IN YOUR POCKET, FROM WHICH TO MAKE INK AT PLEASURE.
THE INK MADE in Three Minutes.
Forty Cents will buy Powder enough to furnish a family for a year.
FREEZING DON'T HURT IT.
An accident revealed to a Machinist, in Manchester, N. H., a certain result which by the aid of Chemistry has been used till the most beautiful writing fluid, better than anything imported or home-made, flowing freer, writing easier, handsomer, as lasting as time, not injuring the pen a whit, has been produced
It is put up in the form of a small powder, stands all climates, good for years, and can be converted into elegant black writing fluid in three minutes.
A company has lately been formed for the manufacture of these Powders, and although the Fluid has been before the public but a few weeks the most astounding testimonials have been received in its favor, all unsolicited. We select a few from the many.
The greatest qualities of these Ink Powders over everything else in the market are:
1st—It makes an ink of a beautiful, glossy, rich color, that every body will be delighted with.
2d—It flows freely, does not mud up, thicken on the pen or corrode it a particle, and never fades, and will endure as long as the paper on which it is used.
3d—Its cheapness baffles all competition. Forty cents will buy enough to fill fifty common bottles that are retailed at ten cents the.
4th—Convenience. Can be carried to the army, to sea, to the mines, to far off countries.
5th—Wipe your pen dry after using it, and a single steel pen will last with this ink till the paper wears the point off. It is as harmless as water.
Testimonials.
MIRROR AND AMERICAN OFFICE,
Manchester, N. H., Jan. 11, 1865.
To the American Ink Company:—I have tried your Ink Powders. They work to a charm. They make perfect ink in three minutes, the best ink I ever saw. It flows easily, does not gum up the pen or corrode it. I have cleared my inkstands of all other kinds of ink. JOHN B. CLARKE.
MELROSE, Mass., Feb. 1, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: I wish heartily to thank you for the Powder Ink which you have given to the public. I have made Ink, for eight years past, from Prof. Ure's Recipe, (made of Aloes, Gall, Sulphate Iron and Bichromate of Potash) and have sold large quantities of it. Have supplied the schools in this town with it for two years, and have found it gave it great praise. It is a good Ink, but my occupation is all gone now. Your Ink is the best article of the kind I ever used.—His table is put down in my diminished profits twice and it now flows just freely as at the first, and is not changed in the color a single shade. It is a beautiful black; it flows so readily that I can write one-quarter faster with it than with any other Ink. It ought to be introduced into every school in the Union.
Yours truly, J. W. POLAND.
Washington, D. C., Feb. 4, 1864.
To the American Ink Company: I have tried your Ink Powders, and I think, without any exception, it makes the best writing fluid I ever used I would not be without. I remain yours, GEO. H. HOLMES,
Battery M, 1st Mass. H. Artillery.
Kewanee, Henry Co., Illinois, Feb. 20, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: Received the Powder that you sent, and to say that I am pleased with it is true, but does not express what I should like to say. The community have long wanted an Ink Powder that could stand the test of freezing and that would not corrode the pen, and several have been produced. Prof. Ure's was an excellent recipe, but was spoiled by freezing. I have frozen this to test it, and find that it is not affected at all.
I have introduced it into my school in this place, and find it a quantity of it, it would find a ready sale. Thanking you in behalf of the community and myself for such a discovery, I remain, very respectfully, your obedient servant,
GEO. W. PARKER.
Deering, March 1, 1865.
To the American Ink Company:—This is to certify that I have used your Ink Powder and find it to be a superiority over all other Inks within my knowledge. And I would cheerfully recommend it to the lawyer, the merchant, or any person whose business requires any amount of writing.—It does not corrode, nor does it freeze after being frozen as before. Respectfully yours,
ALMON M. COREY.
Nashua, N. H., March 13, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: The ink made from the powders you sent me is the best I ever used. There is none of that sticky substance about it that there is in most kinds of Ink. It flows freely and works to a charm.
Yours truly, GEORGE W. FLANDERS.
Brookline, N. H., March 13, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: I received the Powder you sent me, and I recommend it to all those that have any writing to do, as the best Ink I ever used. I have used J. Moor's Mayhard & Moyer's, D. C. Ridenoty, and many others, but yours far excels any I ever used.
Yours respectfully, G. E. STILES.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 10, 1865.

HOW SHALL WE TREAT THE NEW FREE STATES?—Some of the best men in Salem are discussing this question. The measures proposed and discussed are substantially the political emasculation of responsible rebels and the enfranchisement of the blacks. "Nothing for vengeance—everything for safety. The feeling seems to be that we can not have indemnity for the past, but security for the future we can and will have. The political power of those States should become vested and consolidated in the laboring masses of the South. The negro is a component element of those masses. He is American, was born and will die on our soil. The war leaves him free. The war has shown him to be our most reliable ally. We shall hold the revolted States for the present, probably, with black bayonets: the sooner black ballots can be substituted for these the better. Is he ignorant? So is the white. Apply the same test of intelligence to both. We cannot afford to exclude our friend for his ignorance, while we admit our enemy in spite of his ignorance.

In 1860 South Carolina had 703,708 inhabitants, of whom 291,388 were white, and 412,320 colored. Every man, woman and child of the seven hundred thousand is now free. The representation of South Carolina in Congress is therefore now increased. Shall South Carolina come back into this Union, whose constitution guarantees a republican form of government to every State, with a larger vote in Congress than she ever before had, her delegation chosen by a select portion of her three hundred thousand whites; while four hundred and twelve thousand other persons, as free as they and infinitely worthier, Americans born,—loyal, prayerful, fighting Americans, have no voice in the choosing of that delegation? This cannot be. It is not republican. At once we must have a new basis and apportionment of representation,—a new distribution of lands,—a new qualification for suffrage. Labor must be made respectable,—idleness detestable, or Emancipation, Victory and Peace will be but empty words."

The rebel Edward A. Pollard, formerly editor of the Richmond Examiner, has published a letter in the New York News, in regard to public sentiment in Virginia. He states the conditions on which that State will voluntarily re-assume her relations with the Union, in good faith, and abide by her fate. These conditions involve the abrogation of most of the acts of this administration, and will not be acceded to. He thinks the Union will not be worth much, otherwise.

The F. F. V.'s used to be calculating the value of the Union, years ago; and now this fellow thinks it worth nothing unless we reinstate slavery, take Virginia abstractions for the supreme law of the land, and make the Union a mere Bob at the tail of the Confederate Kite. He "announces his purpose to leave the country"—but we suppose he might stop with us on the conditions above named. But the people "don't see it"—and so he will probably go. He says he has saved "personal honor," but he gives up the ghost of the Confederacy, thus:

I know very well that the cause of the Confederacy is lost; I recognize the fact before my eyes, of Northern success in the war; I am not disposed to dispute or disparage the authority which that success has established. It is only the fool who spits against the wind.

Even so, Mr. Pollard, and our northern copperheads would be wise to consider it.

The London Morning Herald, in a Jeremiad over the surrender of Lee, declares that the spectacle of a great nation thus falling in battle against its oppressors, "is enough to make angels hide their faces and men shed tears of blood."

Those angels of darkness down this way, who encouraged the rebels and discouraged the government all through the war, do hide their faces now! Nobody here weeps for that great humbug called the Confederacy, unless the same "angels" do so. Men shed their tears on a very different account, viz: for sympathy with the bereaved, whom the rebellion has made widows, orphans or childless.

Simultaneously with the first news of the sympathy of all Europe with our national loss, we learn that the greatest Empire of the Old World has been thrown into mourning by the untimely decease of the young CZAREWITCH. Born on the 8th (20th) of September, 1843, he died at Nice on April 24th, at the early age of 21 years. He had for several years been in feeble health, and was last year betrothed to Princess Dagmar of Denmark, a sister of Princess Alexandra and of the King of Greece. The Imperial family of Russia has become endeared to the American people by the sympathy which, more than any other Imperial or Royal house of Europe, they have shown with our struggle for the suppression of the Rebellion. The American people, therefore, will learn with sorrow, that the House of Russia has suffered so severe a loss.—Tribune.

— The Mobile and Ohio railroad has been completed to Moscow, and trains have commenced running.

GOLD, at the Second Board in New York, on Monday, closed at 139 1-2: at Gallagher's in the evening, after call 137 1-2.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—The U. S. Navy Department continues to receive and accept the resignations of volunteer officers. Of the entire number who entered the service at the commencement of the rebellion, five hundred were discharged for drunkenness, which was a prevalent offence.—The Treasury Department is making arrangements to pay all back indebtedness, including arrearages and bounties to the army. The Navy Department in a short time will sell many wooden vessels which were purchased to meet pressing contingencies.—Payne, the assassin, has fully confessed his crime and all the details respecting it, and the difficulties he encountered. He says that all the plans of that Friday night not being carried out, was the greatest failure that ever was.

REBEL EXCHANGE COMMISSIONERS.—Gen. Mulford informed the Richmond correspondent of the Baltimore American, that he has in his hands twenty-five thousand dollars in greenbacks, a small amount in gold and silver, and nine thousand in rebel currency, (of course worthless,) which was received from the Rebel Commissioners, Colonel Ould and Capt. Hatch. This money forms a part of that taken from our officers captured and confined in the Richmond prisons. Its distribution to those entitled to it will have General Mulford's earliest and most careful attention. Those having such claims are desired to forward them with the vouchers necessary to establish their validity. Of course the distribution will have to be made pro rata, as claims to the amount of $36,000 have already been received by General Mulford. Whether any more money will be recovered from the recusant Commissioners is not yet known. Ould and Hatch are in confinement.

PHILADELPHIA.—Forney's Press has obtained important information regarding the recent plot to burn Philadelphia. It discloses the fact that on Wednesday night, previous to the night when the city was to be burned, a large barn located within fifty yards of the State magazine, situated near Pt. Breeze, was fired by an incendiary, but the flames were extinguished. The magazine contains nearly one hundred tons of powder, part of which belongs to the United States.

— Telegraphic communication has been resumed between Cairo and Nashville. Also between Macon, Georgia, and Washington, a portion of the line extending through Georgia, South Carolina and North Carolina, where we have no troops; and the same lines which were but recently used by the rebels, are now employed in transmitting the President's Proclamation offering rewards for the arrest of Jeff. Davis and others.

RELEASE OF PRISONERS.—Wednesday a general delivery of all political prisoners in Fort McHenry, Baltimore, took place by order of the President. Prisoners of war, and guerrillas were also set at liberty. They numbered altogether about one hundred and fifty.

Out of eight thousand rebel prisoners, rank and file, confined in Fort Delaware, all but three men have taken the oath of allegiance. Nearly all the officers confined there, numbering at out two thousand, have also renewed their allegiance to the United States, Generals Page and Barringer heading the list. These officers and men are being discharged and sent home, at the rate of two hundred per day.

FROM THE SOUTH. Washington dispatches of Tuesday say:

Headquarters received information of the surrender of Dick Taylor's forces in Alabama and Mississippi, over rebel telegraph wires direct from Macon Ga., to Washington, D. C.

Gen. Wilson is still at Macon; the escape of Davis is therefore next to impossible. It is said that Davis, after leaving Yorkville, S. C., reached Washington, Ga., on the 5th inst. From here he was again driven by the approach of Stoneman. The direction taken indicates an attempt to cross the Mississippi, but he will find Wilson in his path.

The N. Y. Herald's dispatch says the evidence in possession of the government of the complicity of Jeff. Davis and his associates is such, that no foreign government will hesitate a moment in giving them up.

The World's despatch says it is expected that in a few weeks, every dollar of the public indebtedness will be discharged.

☞ The rebel Gen. Joe Johnston said Jeff. Davis did not leave his lines till the conclusion of Sherman's truce,—but we don't believe he told the truth.

☞ A New Orleans dispatch of May 3 says:—Gen. A. J. Smith with his command occupied Montgomery, Ala., on the 25th ult., and Gen. Steele, Selma, on the 27th. Gen. Canby met Dick Taylor fifteen miles from Mobile and opened negotiations for a surrender. Nothing decisive was determined upon, but Taylor was allowed several days to consider the propositions. It is believed he has acceded to the terms before this.

— It is now reported that instead of surrendering, Kirby Smith will make a desperate defense west of the Mississippi. We shall see.

☞ The result of Gen. Wilson's campaign through Northern Alabama is summed up as follows:—The capture and occupation of four of the most important cities in the confederacy, 6,000 prisoners, over 200 cannon, a large supply of small arms, devastation of the country, and destruction of at least $500,000,000 worth of property either directly or indirectly belonging to the rebel government. The Union casualties will not exceed 450 killed, wounded and missing. An instance of rebel fiendishness which occurred during the campaign is thus recorded by a correspondent of the N. Y. Herald:

Lieut. Royce, of the 4th U. S. cavalry, chief of scouts, with a party of some twelve men, accidentally ran upon Gen. Forrest and his escort only a few miles from Selma. As soon as he saw his situation, the Lieutenant threw down his arms and surrendered; but, by Gen. Forrest's order, he was shot with his men. This is well authenticated, and is only a repetition of Forrest's operations at Fort Pillow. Lieut. Royce's body was secured and buried in the cemetery at Selma with military honors. The other officers were also buried with like obsequies.

☞ The state of the Union at the present time, will make it needful for the United States to keep an army of 150,000 men, as protective garrisons and military police. And it is highly probable that 100,000 will be needful for many years to come. It is of the greatest importance that these men should be commanded by officers of known and proved faithfulness and loyalty.—We have suffered enough from traitors in commission, it would seem, to make us cautious in our appointment of commanders.

WAIFS FROM AN ESTRAY.—Dorchester, May 1, 1865.—Why people will take long and expensive trips to drink nauseous water at fashionable springs, or swelter away a few weeks in kennel-like apartments at gregarious seaside resorts, when such lovely views, such pleasing walks and drives as are to be found in this town, lie at their very doors, can only be accounted for by the enchantment which distance lends to our views. Fine houses, beautiful gardens and grounds where art is made an able auxiliary of nature, the magnificent view of Boston harbor, and the billowy range of the Blue Hills of Quincy to the southward, form a charming combination at any time, but especially so during the warm season.

Savin Hill, with its earthworks (now nearly dug away); with its natural wildness of vegetation—the savin, the wild red cherry, the nettle tree, the brier and many others—interlacing branches over cliffs and boulders of the green conglomerate or pudding-stone of which it is formed; the dikes of quartz intersecting the strata of conglomerate at nearly right angles, with the pure crystals that have escaped the geologist's hammer glistening in the sunlight; the unobstructed view of Boston, its harbor, Forts Winthrop and Independence, the copper works at Point Shirley, the rolling mills at Commercial Point, the granite quarries at Quincy; with its cordon of fine houses around the base of the hill and the ceaseless wash of its skirts by the waters of Massachusetts Bay; is worthy the little time and trifling expense necessary for a visit from the city. And this is true of nearly all parts of the town, for which nature has done so much, and to which man is constantly adding the marks of his industry and taste.

The old graveyard at Upham's Corner contains much to interest lovers of the antique, the inscriptions on the stones embracing a period of two centuries, and some of the sculptured symbols on the more ancient being more consonant with my ideas of devils that flit than cherubs that fly—a mask of Comus or a death's head with the wings of a vampyre bat. Three of the oldest graves are each entirely covered with a large stone, said to have been placed there to prevent the wolves from unearthing the bodies. The modern portion of the grounds are in good taste, and from the number of trees the whole is beautiful. ION.

☞ A correspondent with Gen. Sherman's army, dated April 29, says:

"The troops began to move northward this morning.

Brevet Brig. Gen. Hartsuff, of Gen. Schofield's staff, goes to Greensboro' to-morrow with a party of officers, charged with receiving the public property of Johnston's army, and advertising the obligation agreed upon to them.

The feeling among the rebels is one of relief, but it contains no tincture of Unionism. They are completely subdued, however, and will be readily governed.

The reason of Hampton's refusal to surrender, is stated to have been a knowledge on his part of the determination of our authorities to try him for the murder of one of our wounded soldiers. Hampton killed this soldier in the late campaign with his own sword."

— The rebel Cooper's Battalion surrendered Saturday at Springfield, Mo., and took the oath of allegiance. 40 of Price's men took the oath on Sunday, and considerable numbers are aiming from other points for the same purpose.

GOLD, Tuesday, 137 1-2 to 136 1-2.—Produce markets dull and declining.

—Miss Surratt, the daughter of Mrs. Surratt the leading female conspirator, died in prison a day or two ago, from intense suffering caused by her arrest and the developments showing that her family were so deeply the accessories immediately before the fact of assassination.

— It is well established that there are no counterfeit United States bonds in circulation either here or in Europe.

— Major R. C. Gilchrist, the traitor who fired the first shot of the war—the ball that was aimed at the steamboat Star of the West as she endeavored to sail up Charleston bay with provision for the beleaguered garrison of Fort Sumter, was among the officers paroled by the surrender of Johnston's army.

— President Juarez, of the Mexican Republic, has issued letters of marque for reprisals against French commerce.

— Among the captures made at Danville by our forces, was the machinery for manufacturing muskets, taken from Harper's Ferry.

— Judge Patterson, son-in-law of President Johnson, has been chosen U. S. Senator from Tennessee.

WM. R. PRINCE,

WHO AS PROPRIETOR OF THE LINNÆAN NURSERIES,
has for SIXTY YEARS devoted himself to the investigation of Trees and Plants, announces to those who are afflicted with the above Diseases or with any other form of Scrofulous and acquired Impurity of the Blood, or with any Chronic Diseases, that the only Sovereign and Positive Remedials presented by Nature to Man are found in the Vegetable Kingdom—NOT FLUID COMPOUNDS—EXTRACTED FROM PLANTS. These pure Extracts can only be obtained from me and by direct application. ☞ I HAVE NO AGENTS.
All patients who will test these Potent Remedials provided by God and Nature, will surely realize their great superiority over all others presented to the World. The employment of Mineral Poisons, including Calomel, (Mercury,) the most deadly of them all, as Antidotes, has blighted with misery and anguish their myriads. I now offer my "Treatise on Nature's Sovereign Remedials," comprising 85 Specific Remedies for the various Diseases. Price Ten Cents and stamp mailed.—Any Invalid who will send me a full diagnosis of his case, I will prescribe an appropriate Remedy for without charge, and I desire to receive the names of any severely afflicted persons. ☞Col. Henry O. Kent, of the Governor's Horse Guards of New Hampshire, stated at the meeting of Company C, in this city, the other evening, that having visited all the Companies in different parts of the State, he was pleased to find so strong an interest kept up in the organization, and a determination everywhere to appear with full ranks in June.

If those among our citizens who formerly took personal pride in the old and highly respectable military Companies of Portsmouth, will aid and encourage this the most creditable organization ever established in the State, the third Company will soon be able to show as full ranks as either of the others. Will they do it when called upon?

POLICE COURT, May 9.—Joanna Berry has endeavored to sustain the reputation of Number 24 Fleet Street, by keeping an "open house," thereby illustrating the seventh chapter of Proverbs, wherein the wise writer warns young men to beware of all such females as Joanna, saying that such places lead to hell,—and advising the youth not to patronize these institutions. But all things must have an end; and so at last, Miss J. Berry comes to grief, and is obliged to find bail in the sum of $200 to answer in October next, to the charge of keeping a house of ill repute. The kindness of the male gender is again evinced, and bonds being furnished, she returns to No. 24, to prepare herself to meet stern justice.

☞Mr. Adams, our new Postmaster, is assuming the duties of the office this week. Mr. Pearson, of Epping, late of the Provost Marshal's Office, is to be head clerk, in place of Mr. Jenkins.

IN U. S. CIRCUIT COURT, in this city, Tuesday, on notice of Mr. Hackett, John M. Sherley of Andover, and David Hall of Dover, were admitted to practice as attorneys and counsellors at this Court.

The Petit Jury brought over Akin v. the Manchester Print Works, for the alleged infringement of a patent. It resulted in a verdict for the plaintiff for $600, subject to the opinion of the Court upon question of law.

The Grand Jury had not come in when the Court adjourned in the evening.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Mirror says:—business in Manchester is now looking better than we ever knew it. The pay-roll for labor is larger than this city ever knew in her most flourishing period, and is increasing. Before the war the pay-roll was never over $108,000 per month; now it is $120,000.

—— Sunday morning, the 7th inst., Mr. Ephraim Eastman, living in Weare, started to drive his cow to pasture. Not returning he was followed by his son who found him dead: It is supposed his death was by disease of the heart. He was fifty years of age and leaves a widow and five children.

—— Mr. Samuel McAllister of Goffstown died very suddenly last Saturday. He fell from his chair in an apoplectic fit, and died in three minutes. He was eighty-eight years old.

— As an evidence of the speedy re-adjustment of the relations of the Union, an old Petersburg mercantile firm, composed of four members, three of whom are paroled prisoners of war of Lee's army, have applied to Jay Cooke for information about starting a national bank, it being their purpose to establish one in Petersburg, with vouchers on Raleigh and Richmond.

— A number of citizens of New York, among whom are Moses Taylor, August Belmont, Thurlow Weed, Marshall O. Roberts, and others, have made up the very handsome purse of $1600 for the brave soldier, Robinson, who saved Sec. Seward's life.

— The Vicksburg Herald says the armistice between Generals Dana and Hodges ends May 3d, when hostilities may be resumed at any moment.

— Eight-hundred cavalrymen, with their horses, (filling twenty-three cars,) passed through Burlington, Vt, Saturday morning, on their way to Ogdensburg.

☞Our Gen. Schofield, who is military governor of North Carolina pro tem., has issued an order to remove a doubt which seemed to exist in the minds of the people, declaring that slavery is abolished in North Carolina, by virtue of the President's proclamation, and the army will sustain the slaves in asserting their freedom. It is recommended to the former masters of the freedmen to employ them as hired servants at reasonable wages. And it is recommended to the freedmen that, when allowed to do so, they remain with their former masters, and labor faithfully so long as they shall be treated kindly and paid reasonable wages; or that they immediately seek employment elsewhere, in the kind of work to which they are accustomed. They will not be supported idly by the Government.

— The identical palmetto flag which was suspended in the Capitol at Columbia, S. C., upon the organization of the secession convention in December, 1860, was captured at Columbia by General Blair, and presented to Governor Fletcher of Missouri.

— An army correspondent who went down to Danville with the Sixth corps, says the inhabitants were extremely credulous. For many miles the people believed we were to stamp all their rebel bills, and to give them the same value as our own greenbacks of similar denominations.

Portsmouth, May 8, 1865.

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

The sale of the first series of $300,000,000 of the 7-30 Loan was completed on the 31st of March, 1865. The sale of the second series of Three Hundred Millions, payable three years from the 15th of June, 1865, was begun on the 1st of April.

In the short space of thirty days, over One Hundred Millions of this series have been sold—leaving this day less than Two Hundred Millions to be disposed of. The interest is payable semi-annually in currency on the 15th of December and 15th of June by Coupons attached to each note, which are readily cashed anywhere. It amounts to

More and More Desirable.

The Rebellion is suppressed, and the Government has already adopted measures to reduce expenditures as rapidly as possible to a peace footing, thus withdrawing from Market as borrower and purchaser.

This is the ONLY LOAN IN MARKET now offered by the Government, and constitutes the GREAT POPULAR LOAN OF THE PEOPLE.

The Seven-Thirty Notes are convertible on the maturity, at the option of the holder, into

U. S. 5-20 Six per cent.

GOLD-BEARING BONDS,

Which are always worth a premium.

Free from Taxation.

The 7.30 Notes cannot be taxed by Towns, Cities, Counties or States, and the interest is not taxed unless on a surplus of the owner's income exceeding six hundred dollars a year. This fact increases their value from one to three per cent. per annum, according to the rate levied on other property.

SUBSCRIBE QUICKLY.

Less than $300,000,000 of the Loan authorized by the last Congress are now on the market.—This amount at the rate at which it is being absorbed, will all be subscribed for within four months, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loans.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

GATHERING HEART'S-EASE.

I went to gather heart's-ease
When the bright sun sank to rest,
Drawing all his sheaves of sunlight
To his garner in the west;
When the blossoms and the leaves,
Losing all their golden glow,
In the slowly gathering twilight,
Faintly flutter'd to and fro.

All the ground was starred with May-blooms,
Every where they met my eye;
But I went to gather heart's-ease,
So I passed all others by.
Oh! my heart was ne'er so joyous
As it was in those glad hours,
When I wandered light and careless
Near the wood-side, gath'ring flowers.

Then I gave them all to you, dear,
And I looked up in your face,
And I wondered I could fancy
That the flowers had any grace.
Then it was I gathered heart's-ease,
Then it was, dear heart, I found
That the glory of the May-blooms
Did not lie upon the ground.

American and Foreign Patents.
H. B. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837, 76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for obtaining Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of decisions and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessary of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot confide in any more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. H. E. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which Patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SEVEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. H. B. EDDY.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the
CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes
—of the—
MAGEE PARLOR STOVE
with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 50 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Clemens, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

The New Hampshire Petroleum Co. is organized with great care, under the management of some of the ablest financiers and most successful business men in the State, whose integrity is above reproach, and who cannot be led by excitement into speculations that have not to their minds a golden foundation. Their lands have been selected with great caution. Mr. N. R. Bates, of Titusville, who has been very successful the past year in selecting Oil Lands and boring wells, was known to some of the gentlemen prominent in starting this company to be a perfectly honest, sagacious, and experienced in the Petroleum regions, and was solicited to aid in selecting the lands for this company. Mr. Bates, Mr. Martin, Wm. P. Newell, Esq., and John B. Clarke, Editor of the Mirror, of Manchester, J. S. Fogg, Esq., of the firm of Messrs. Fogg & Blodgett, 64 Pearl St., Boston, and Daniel E. Lancaster, 419 Broadway, New York, were appointed a committee to visit the lands spoken of. Early in February they looked over the lands selected by Mr. Bates, and became convinced that they were purchased on the very best that could be had. The great Oil Basin seems to be situated between Oil Creek, East Oil Creek, and Alleghany river, and not twenty miles in one point to the other, and the Four Farms of the Company are within the Basin and on the same Oil Belt of the great flowing and pumping wells that have yielded the past year to the State of Pennsylvania, as Gov. Curtin says in his Message, fifty six million of dollars. The last of March, N. R. Bates, a well-known lawyer of Boston and late District Attorney, P. H. Burns, Esq., a shrewd business man of Dover, N. H., and F. A. Wilcox, Esq., a lawyer of 76 Wall Street, New York, were sent out to see to the titles of lands, and make further examinations. They came to Boston, and gave this city for the sale of CHICKERING & SONS' celebrated Piano Fortes. tf

The property of this Company is located on "Coal Run Creek," Meigs County, State of Ohio, about 10 miles from Athens, containing one hundred and five acres of land. A large number of wells are successfully worked in the vicinity, some of which are paying handsome dividends.—This Company propose to commence operations at once, and entertain no doubt that at an early day they will be able to pay a handsome percentage on the investment. The known ability and commercial standing of the officers of this Company afford a sufficient guaranty that the affairs will be conducted in a manner to secure the confidence of those who are disposed to invest in it.

The tract of land adjoining the property of this Company has passed into the hands of capitalists, who have rent out an experienced superintendent to commence operations at once, and their first order for machinery was $15,000. Our property has been examined under instructions from Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, who pronounces the coal, which is in abundance, to be of the best quality, yielding 80 gallons of oil to the ton, and has no doubt, from the location and position of the property, that it will be found valuable in the production of oil. Most companies have to pay very high prices for their coal, all of which we save; oil can be manufactured from the coal upon the property, at a cost not exceeding ten cents per gallon, and it is proposed to commence the manufacture in connection with the sinking of wells. One dollar will buy a share of this stock, which is the par value, and all benefits derived from the lands, either by sales of oil, land or products of any kind, are to be divided among the stockholders, and in addition $200,000 worth of valuable, useful and desirable property will be given to the stockholders, as soon as all the shares are disposed of. The Company adopt this course for the purpose of disposing of their stock at the par value, rather than to sell it, as many companies do, at a subscription price, which is usually one-half. Thus, it will be perceived that every stockholder owning ten shares, for example, will be sure to realize a handsome dividend when the property is divided; a plan which is entirely honorable, and in all respects perfectly legal.

The property to be distributed among the stockholders will be equal to any in the market, and will consist of the following described articles:

$5000 to purchase a HOUSE in Boston or vicinity.
$6000 in U. S. 5-20 BONDS, CERTIFICATES of $500 each.

THE REBEL SPIRIT IN THE SOUTH.—The great danger to the country now is the adoption of some measure of hasty reconstruction which will bring the rebel States back into the Union under rebel lead. A Raleigh correspondent of the New York Tribune thus speaks of the condition of North Carolina, a State usually considered less opposed to the Government than its "wayward sisters":

The spirit of the rebellion is not broken, though its power is demolished. I see and hear every day the clearest evidence to the contrary. Treason is just as rampant as ever, even in the capital of North Carolina, as really so as it has been in Richmond for two years past. Withdraw all military pressure at once, and we abandon the real friends of the Government to persecution, perhaps to martyrdom, and render almost inevitable a second war to crush out a second rebellion. The whole Union people of the State pray that our Government will extend over them its strong protection until affairs become fully settled, and the freedom of the white man and the black alike be secured to them beyond any peradventure. These are not my views alone, but those of far-seeing and intelligent citizens of this State. God bless Andrew Johnson! Long live the Republic!

JOHN BELL. A report of the death of this gentleman has recently been current, but it appears from the following in the Knoxville Whig of the 26th ult., that he is still in the land of the living. Governor Brownlow writes to his paper as follows, from Nashville. The Parson appears to be in a merciful mood, but it need not be feared that he will be too lenient towards traitors and rebels:

There are quite a number of Tennessee refugees, South, on the opposite bank of the Tennessee river in North Alabama, anxious to return home, and they are coming home in a few days. Among those further back in the interior, I hear of Judge Ridley and John Bell. I have written to the latter to come home, and told him he would not be molested. He was never in arms, and was foolish for going South. Many leading men in the rebel service are writing back to know if they can be allowed to come home, and do some amnesty swearing. They all want some store clothes and something to eat and drink.

☞ Governor Hahn of Louisiana, has written a letter to General Sherman, transmitting resolutions of thanks from the Legislature to him and his army for their great achievements. In his reply General Sherman avows the strong faith he had always held in the permanency and strength of the Government, and that he never could be made to believe that our destiny would yield to the guidance "of the few discontented demagogues of the South, or its conceited cotton-planters and negro-owners." The Constitution, he adds, he had always regarded as a bargain, and that slave property was to be respected at the North without going into its abstract merits or defects. Had the Southern people abided by the laws and tribunals, he would have maintained their rights; but when they ignored the contract and appealed to war, he held that we were no longer bound in law or honor to respect that "obnoxious species of property." When the war is over he believed that wise men would adjust the affairs of the country "so that slaves will never again be bought or sold." The letter of General Sherman is dated April 5.

☞ The charge against Col. Ould and Major Hatch, the rebel ex-Commissioners of Exchange, is that of having misappropriated $300,000 which was intrusted to them for the relief of Union prisoners. The spirit which has actuated Col. Ould's treatment of our brave fellows, and the management of this exchange question, is exhibited in a letter in his own handwriting, addressed to Brig. Gen. Winder, under date of City Point, March 17, 1863. In this letter Col. Ould says:

"The arrangements I have made for exchanging prisoners, work largely in our favor. We get rid of a set of miserable wretches, and receive some of the best material I ever saw."

— Miss Dr. E. B. Harmer, while walking down Fulton street, in New York, the other day, dressed in Bloomer costume, was arrested by Policeman Patrick McGuire for wearing masculine attire, contrary to law. She was released at once by the captain of the precinct, but complained to the commissioners, and the policeman was discharged. The ungallant Patrick's defence was, that he "did not know whether it was a man or a woman."

— Mr. Green assured the Horticultural Society the other day, that in New England the difference between the squash and the pumpkin is not known. Green is no mismoner.

See what the most popular and widely circulated periodicals say of our Establishment:
From the "Dispatch" of February 25, 1865.
We take pleasure in calling the attention of our readers to the announcement of Messrs. Devaugh & Co.'s Great Sale of Jewelry, Silver Ware, and Fancy Goods, in our advertising columns. We are personally acquainted with the members of this firm and know them to be gentlemen of sterling worth and integrity. Their stock of goods, for variety and extent, we have scarcely seen paralleled.
From the "Mirror of Fashion," March 1, 1865.
Messrs. Devaugh & Co.'s Great Sale of Jewelry, etc., opened on the 15th ult., and we venture to say they never before had so much or so rich articles exhibited by any establishment in this city. The ladies thronged their bazaar almost to suffocation, although the streets were rendered nearly impassable by the melted snow and slush. We predict for them a wonderful success.
From the "Leader," of February 28, 1865.
Our lady friends should visit the extensive establishment of Messrs. Devaugh & Co., No. 15 Maiden Lane, if they wish to indulge themselves with a sight which they will long remember. Such a profusion of elegant Watches, Chains, Rings, Earrings, and, in short, of jewelry of every name, kind and description, we never before witnessed. Their silver and plated ware is superb, and almost costs into the shade the other splendid establishments which have long been the boast of our city. It is estimated that their stock is worth not less than one million dollars.

The Best Ink in the World!
A CHEAP PRODUCT DISCOVERED.
A Substitute for Costly Galls, and a Writing Fluid produced that challenges Competition!
INK POWDERS
TO CARRY IN YOUR POCKET, FROM WHICH TO MAKE INK AT PLEASURE.
THE INK MADE in Three Minutes.
Forty Cents will buy Powder enough to furnish a family for years.
FREEZING DON'T HURT IT.
An accident revealed to a Machinist, in Manchester, N. H., a certain result which by the aid of Chemistry has been used till the most beautiful writing fluid, better than anything imported or home made, flowing freer, writing easier, handsomer, as lasting as time, not injuring the pen a whit, has been produced
It is put up in the form of a small powder, stands all climates, good for years, and can be converted into elegant black writing fluid in three minutes.
A company has lately been formed for the manufacture of these Powders, and although the Fluid has been before the public but a few weeks the most astonishing testimonials have been received in its favor, all unsolicited. We select a few from the many.
The greatest qualities of these Ink Powders over everything else in the market are:
1st—It makes an ink of a beautiful, glossy, rich color, that every body will be delighted with.
2d—It flows freely, does not mud up, thicken on the pen or corrode it a particle, and never fades, and will endure as long as the paper on which it is used.
3d—Its cheapness baffles all competition. Forty cents will buy enough to fill fifty common bottles that are retailed at ten cents each.
4th—Convenience. Can be carried to the army, to sea, to the mines, to far off countries.
5th—Wipe your pen dry after using it, and a single steel pen will last with this ink fill the paper wears the point off. It is as harmless as water.
Testimonials.
MIRROR AND AMERICAN OFFICE,
Manchester, N. H., Jan. 11, 1865.
To the American Ink Company:—I have tried your Ink Powders. They work to a charm. They make a perfect ink in three minutes, the best ink I ever saw. It flows easily, does not gum up the pen or corrode it. I have cleared my inkstands of all other kinds of ink. JOHN B. CLARK.
MELROSE, Mass., Feb. 1, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: I wish heartily to thank you for the beautiful Ink which you have given me. I made ink from your powder, for eight years past, from Prof. Ure's Recipe, (made of Aleppa Gall, Sulphate Iron and Gum Senegal,) and have sold large quantities of it. Have supplied the schools in this town with it for two years, and every one using it gave it great praise. It is a good ink, but my occupation is all gone now. Your Ink is the best article of the kind I ever used. It is as full. Some in my inkstands froze up solid twice and it now flows just freely as at the first, and is not changed in the color a single shade. It is a beautiful black; it flows so readily that I can write one-quarter faster with it than with any other Ink. It ought to be introduced into every school in the Union.
Yours truly, J. W. POLAND.
Washington, D. C., Feb. 4, 1864.
To the American Ink Company: I have tried your Ink Powders, and I think, without any exception, it makes the best writing fluid I ever used. I would not be without it. Remain yours,
GEO. H. HOLMES,
Battery M, 1st Mass. H. Artillery.
Kewanee, Henry Co., Illinois, Feb. 20, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: Received the Powder that you sent, and to say that I am pleased with it is true, but does not express what I should like to say. The community have long wanted an Ink Powder that could stand the test of freezing and that would not corrode the pen, and several have been produced. Prof. Ure's was an excellent recipe, but very tedious in manufacturing. I have frozen this to test it, and find that it is not affected at all.
I have introduced it into my school in this place, and had I a quantity of it, it would find a ready sale. Thanking you in behalf of the community, and myself for such a discovery, I remain, very respectfully, your obedient servt,
GEO. W. PARKER.
Deering, March 1, 1865.
To the American Ink Company—Thinks to certify that I have given your Ink Powder a trial, and I am happy to state it works to perfection. It has a superiority over all other Inks within my knowledge. And I would cheerfully recommend it to the lawyer, the merchant, or any person whose business requires any amount of writing. It does not corrode, and flows as freely after being frozen as before. Respectfully yours,
ALMON M. COREY.
Nashua, N. H., March 13, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: The ink made from the powders you sent me is the best I ever used. There is none of that sticky substance about it that there is to most kinds of ink. It flows freely and works to a charm.
Yours truly, GEORGE W. FLANDERS.
Brookline, N. H., March 13, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: I received the Powder you sent me, and I recommend it to all those that have any writing to do, as the best Ink I ever used. I have used Mason's, Carter's, Noyes', D. J. Rideout's, and many others, but yours far excels any I ever used.
Yours respectfully, G. E. STILES.

THURSDAY, MAY 11, 1865.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—The military commission to try the Booth conspiracy cases has been organized, with Major Gen. Hunter for President, and Judge-Advocate-General Holt as Judge Advocate, assisted by Judge John A. Bingham of Ohio, and Major Burnet. They are to try the conspirators concerned in the assassination of President Lincoln, and the attempted assassination of Secretary Seward. The prisoners David E. Harrold, George E. Alzerott, Lewis Payne, S. B. Arnold, Michael McLaughlin, Samuel Mudd and M. E. Surratt, on being brought before the military commission, chose their counsel. As to the evidence, the only publication of it will be such as is allowed by Judge Holt, to whom it will be furnished by the official reporters. No unofficial reports will be permitted.

Secretary McCulloch announces that the three per cent. fee on goods going to insurrectionary States is abolished, and that such transportation is hereafter to be free.

Many officers are sending in their resignations, all of which are promptly accepted. The number of Generals whose resignations have been accepted is 13.

Orders have been issued by the War Department for the discharge of large numbers of citizen clerks, and the substitution of enlisted men in their places.

A meeting of 1500 men was held Tuesday night, at which speeches were made and resolutions passed having in view the prevention of returning or remaining within the District of Columbia, of former residents who have participated in the rebellion.

☞ The N. Y. Tribune's Washington dispatch of Wednesday says the "one year soldiers are to be mustered out of the service at once. The cavalry of the Army of the Potomac are not to be disbanded. Gen. Sheridan's command is to be reorganized and set at work again, and so will that in the Southwest. All will probably be placed under Sheridan. The consolidated force will number about 100,000 men. The main portion will probably be sent into the country west of the Mississippi.

The witnesses in the assassination case fear assassination. One yesterday made a verbal statement to the Secretary of War relative to the complicity of Thompson, Sanders and the rest, but positively refused to appear before the Court unless assured that his name, residence and testimony be suppressed, and newspaper reporters excluded. It was conceded, but it is believed he has fled North."

[When Washington traitors club together to become a band of assassins, it is time for their northern allies to stop pleading in their behalf, or else to share the condemnation which the world will surely heap upon them.]

JEFF. D.—A dispatch from Chattanooga, Tuesday, says Jeff. Davis was at Powelton, Hancock Co., Ga., last Friday night. Gen. Wilson has printed hand-bills, announcing the reward for his capture, and scattered them throughout the country. A Washington dispatch says the capture of Jeff. Davis is looked upon as certain by the military authorities. He was at last accounts completely enveloped by Gens. Stoneman, Wilson and Grierson. It was thought the latter would make the capture in Alabama.—It also says the steamer which sails for Europe from Boston Wednesday took full particulars of the evidence against Davis and his confederates in the work of assassination. In addition to this, photographs of Davis, Sanders, Clay and company will be circulated in Europe, so that they will be heralded as escaped criminals.

☞ The dates from the city of Mexico are to April 19th, and Vera Cruz April 23d. A new campaign is to be commenced in the State of Michoacan against the Juarists. The capture of Saltillo and Monterey by the Juarists is confirmed. Several thousand Imperial troops have been sent to Sonora and Simaloa. The Legislature of Lower California has decreed the defence of the State against the invaders. Letters from Morelia report that the Juarists had captured the town of Gentzeo, and expected to attack Morelia. The French occupied Guaymas March 29th. Large Juarist forces are reported in Queretaro. Three hundred Imperialists were captured by the Juarists at a town in Michoacan. Two hundred Austrians had arrived at Campeachy to garrison that place.

☞ As nothing has been said about the disbandment of our effective force of cavalry, it is supposed that this arm of the service will be maintained for some time in great strength, as its retention will have an excellent effect in repressing the lingering spirit of sedition, and in putting down any spasmodic outbreaks as may be anticipated. If we are to have a campaign in Texas, they would be of vast service there, and a great body of them will, in any event, be needed to repress Indian hostilities this Summer on the great plains of the West.

— Oil City contains 10,000 people. Formerly it was an old shanty only.

TEXAS.—Galveston dates are to the 25th April. The people of Houston and Springfield had held meetings, at which it was determined to continue the rebellion, though they had heard of the capitulation of Lee, to repel invasion and sustain Jeff. Davis. General Hawes, who commanded at Galveston, had resigned, and was replaced by Colonel Smith. Magruder was at Galveston, and had reviewed the rebel troops there. A Federal attack on the coast of Texas was immediately expected.

STATUS OF RETURNING REBELS.—A Washington dispatch says the President is about to issue a proclamation defining and regulating Mr. Lincoln's amnesty oath and other matters relating to the standing of returning rebels.

THE PLOT TO BURN PHILADELPHIA.—Wm. R. Donaldson, a circus clown and negro minstrel, was arrested in Washington, on Monday, as a participant in the Philadelphia arson plot. He is known to have taken part in several mysterious meetings held in Philadelphia. His trunk disclosed a number of letters from parties in the South.

☞ An order has been issued from the Adjutant General's Office for reducing the number of company and staff officers of volunteer regiments. It says: "by direction of the President all company and staff officers of volunteer regts. absent from their commands on account of physical disability, or by virtue of leaves of absence granted them on their return to loyal States as prisoners of war, will be honorably mustered out of the service of the United States on the 15th instant. Said officers will immediately apply by letter to the Adjutant General of the army for their muster-out and discharge papers; in case of physical disability from disease or wounds, the letters must be accompanied by medical certificate of the usual form. The post office address of the officers must be given in all cases.

☞ The N. Y. Times says Gen. Hartsuff, at Petersburg, has begun to experience that released negro slaves misapprehend their duties. Many are deluding themselves with the idea that they are entitled to live with and be supported by their former masters, without labor. It is said these emancipated slaves are encouraged in this view by ignorant white men, who have made them believe that the negro must be protected and defended in idleness, if he chooses to be idle. Gen. Schofield and Gen. Hartsuff promise to make short work of this delusion.—So be it; let every man work for his living:—as the Apostle says, "If any man will not work, neither should he eat." That's the true doctrine for whites or blacks.

☞ The march of the homeward bound armies continues with unabated vigor.—Sherman's legions reached the James river just as Meade's veterans left Richmond. Meade's troops are in the vicinity of Louisia Court House and are expected to reach Alexandria Saturday night. Sherman's four corps will pass through Richmond Thursday. One brigade of cavalry will be left at Lynchburg, one at Danville and one at Petersburg.

☞ A gentleman just from North Carolina, reports that the troops surrendered by Johnston are greatly demoralized and nearly beyond the control of their officers, who were striving to march them to their respective States. Quite a number of officers have been murdered to obtain the specie that the officers were supposed to have. The soldiers express great hatred of Jeff. Davis and his cabinet.

— The Richmond Whig of the 8th, records the passage through that city on Saturday, of the 2d and 5th corps of the army of the Potomac, estimated at from 45,000 to 50,000 strong. They occupied nearly six hours in passing a given point. They bivouacked ten miles east of Richmond on Saturday night. The Fourteenth Corps of Sherman's army arrived at Richmond on Sunday, and the Twentieth, Fifteenth, and Seventeenth Corps were within one day's march. The Fourteenth Corps marched 190 miles in six days.

— The subscription for $5,059,400 by the New York banking house of Fisk and Hatch, made a sensation in those circles of Philadelphia, which the news reached before evening. Fisk & Hatch are entitled to the credit of having made the largest single subscription to a Government loan ever made in this country.

— The military commission for the trial of the assassins of Mr. Lincoln met at the Penitentiary, Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock, Gen. Hunter presiding, as President of the Court.

— There is no truth in the report of English journals that Napoleon has proposed an alliance with England, for protection against the United States of Canada or Mexico.

— One million six hundred thousand rations were issued for the sustenance of Sherman's army from Richmond to Washington.

— Capt. Doswell, Assistant Provost Marshal of Richmond, under the rebel government, has been arrested and sent to the Libby prison.

WAITS FROM AN ESTRAY.—Milton, Mass., May 2, 1865.—Dorchester is not the only fine spot in the vicinity of the "hub," though on though on the Upper Road the harbor view is most charming for a number of miles. Dorchester and Milton Lower Mills, whence I now write, is not only a very attractive village, industriously considered, but the view from Milton Hill is one of the finest hereabouts. Facing an old milestone, set in a wall and bearing the inscription,

S
Miles to B. Townhoufe
By the Lower way 1738.

the beholder takes in the valley of Neponset, the whole harbor and Boston, which has grown to be quite a respectable town in the century and a third which has elapsed since the stone was first placed in position.

Taking my departure from Boston line yesterday morning, I visited the chimney of the old chemical works, on Centre street, Roxbury. The works were long since burned down, but the lofty chimney remains, and with it a remarkable echo. A slight cough inside the chimney produces an echo which resembles the puffing of a locomotive, while one stone dashed upon another causes a reverberation like the discharge of light artillery.—The echo is reproduced from ten to fifteen times, and is very distinct to the last. A gentleman remarked that he thought the owners of the chimney would have sold the same while bricks were so high, but was put to blush when Bolus remarked that some of the bricks were very high now.

The woods of Roxbury were full of children from Boston, decked with paper roses, and imparting a chill to the beholder by their white dresses. The fact is, May Day is an obstinate contradiction (in this country at least) to all the generally received ideas of what it should be.

In Boston we found quite a gap made on Sudbury street, by the burning of Minot's Buildings and the stores adjoining. The city is improved by the removal of the staring posters which flaunted everywhere during the times of drafting and recruiting. Much of mourning drapery for the President was removed on the 1st, while the remainder will probably be left to complete the thirty days.

Here, ten years ago the Catholic Church on the Upper Road was blown up. To-day there is a fine brick edifice to replace it on the Lower Road. Prejudiced persons might draw a slighting deduction from the names of the two localities.

Mills for the manufacture of furniture, chocolate, wrapping paper and printing ink flourish here, and a large paper mill is in process of erection upon the site of a ticking factory, destroyed by fire some years since. ION.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— In many parts of this State the farmers have had their cattle in the pastures for a week past, and potato planting is going on extensively. The country looks beautiful in its spring array, and vegetation is considered to be at least three weeks earlier than last year.

—— Senator Clark has accepted the invitation of the city of Manchester to be the orator and eulogist on the 1st of June in that city. The Mirror says, "Probably the churches will join with the City Council in observing the day. and the Odd Fellows, Masons, Military Organizations, Soldiers in Hospitals, and schools will be invited to do likewise."

"A Veteran," in the Manchester Mirror, desires "to call public attention to what appears a most manifest injustice to veteran volunteers. By an order from the Adjutant General, all soldiers in hospitals who have ceased to require medical treatment are to be discharged, except veterans and members of the Regular Army. It seems unfair and unreasonable that those men who came out in 1861, and who, as their times were about to expire, re-enlisted, should be held for further service, while men enlisted for one year and received from one thousand to fifteen hundred dollars bounty, should be mustered out. The injustice is apparent from the fact that one of the inducements held out to men to re-enlist was, that as soon as the government should cease to require their services they should be discharged, and now repudiates the same implied contract. The less patriotic a man is, the longer he holds back from doing his duty, the better he is treated." [Here is a defect to be remedied, or or a fault to be corrected.]

BEVERLY TUCKER'S ENERGIES, says the New York Herald, "during his whole public career, have been chiefly devoted to the development of his great natural abilities in borrowing money and drinking alcoholic fluids."

This scion of the chivalry a few years since, placed his boys at an educational institution in Switzerland, where they remained a year. He was mean enough to cheat the school master for their tuition, the boarding-house keeper for their food, and the tailor for their clothes.

The impudent swindler has issued an address to the people of Canada, in which he says, that since his residence among them he has been received with nothing but hospitality and kindness.

— The funeral of Col. John Kellogg of Gen. Sheridan's staff, took place at Shelburne, Mass., his native town, on Wednesday. He died from exhaustion, being in the saddle night and day after taking Richmond, in pursuit of Lee's army.

THE DIFFERENCE.—The late Rebellion, now subdued, was not made by the people of the South, not by the men who earned their living by work; but it was made by the oligarchs, the lords and leaders who wheedled and lied and finally forced their whole available population into the ranks of their war for a slave empire. On the other hand, the People of the United States, the loyal millions, and not their military leaders, have upheld the War for the Union. They had decided to fight, if need should be, before either the late President or his Cabinet had made up their minds to do so; and they have gone through in that spirit, with less dependence on or aid from leadership, civil or military, than any successful people ever had in so great a conflict before.

Local.

NEW ROAD TO NEWINGTON.—It will be recollected that last year a petition signed by over one hundred citizens, praying for a new road to Newington, was presented to our City authorities. The construction of the road prayed for was not in the most suitable direction, and would have incurred a heavy expense. It was not laid out. But for the public accommodation a new road should be made. To save expense, as well as to accommodate the public, it should commence near the house of the late Levi Woodbury, on the private road near by to the house of H. M. Clark, and A. W. Parsons, which is now a good road. It would then be necessary to construct a highway from that point about one mile to meet a new highway in Newington, leading to Great Bay. This mile would be over nearly level ground, in a straight line, and the road may be made at a small expense. It would increase the value of the land for house lots. The road proposed is much wanted, and would be a great annual saving of trade. An excur ion in the pleasant seasons of the year to Great Bay, (which is a large sheet of water) and sailing on it, would be conducive to health as well as pleasure.

A petition, to be subscribed by citizens in favor of the highway, will be presented to the Mayor and Aldermen.

PUBLIC GOOD.

☞ In the Police Court on Tuesday, Amos A. Curtis, John T. Crockett and Benj. Hall, for indulging too freely in whiskey, were severally fined $3 and costs $3,87. Amos couldn't "come to time," and so a mittimus was issued in his behalf. His comrades paid up, and hence are enjoying the luxury of liberty.

☞The Washington House in the pleasant village of Seabrook, is advertised for sale at auction,—with two acres of garden land, fit for business or leisure.

THE NEW ENGLAND FAIR is to be held at Concord during the first week of September, and we hope the people of our State will see to it that it shall be a creditable affair. It is a fair for all New England, but its success will depend much upon New Hampshire. The Manchester Mirror calls upon the farmers, mechanics and manufacturers to take hold of the matter in right good earnest to make it tell. Let every one of these classes that has anything good in the way of production, in his peculiar line, show it on this occasion.

"In the mechanic arts we fear no competition, only let our products in that line be exhibited. And so of manufacturers—we are behind no State in the variety and quality of our fabrics. Then no State can go ahead of us in our domestic manufactures. In horses and sheep, our farmers can make a grand display; and especially in working oxen, we can challenge the world. We think there are more really fine teams of working oxen in New Hampshire than in any other State in the Union. Our farmers make working oxen their speciality. Of course we take into account size, symmetry, color and hardiness.

Then in fruit we have exhibited apples at a Horticultural show in Boston and carried off the palm. We have native apples and pears that would make a Boston amateur's "mouth water" for more. Let but the apples and pears from Portsmouth, Greenland, Newington and Stratham, be on exhibition, and we will challenge competition unless a blight has passed over Rockingham within the last twenty years."

The first free word from thousand trembling lips.
God smiled, and chose a blessing to eclipse
All envied crowns that power and greatness wear.
Oh fair reward for life most pure and fair,
Spent in the cause of truth, for truth to die!
To seal with blood his pledge of liberty.
And closelier bind the people of his care;
To see his image in each bosom worn
Next to the loved ones mem'ry most endears;
To see his name, high above shame and scorn,
Our star of hope for brighter coming years.
When in one startled glance, that April morn,
He knew Heaven's welcome and a Nation's tears!

A soft or green Quaker would be as great curiosity as a dissipated Hebrew; but not so great a one after all as to find the woman who did not prefer the J. Monroe Taylor Gold Medal Soap to any other the world can produce. Wife says it makes old clothes look as well as new, and a cross man the pleasantest and most lovely creature on the globe.—Try it, and our word for it, you will always patronize the Gold Medal Soap. 154

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

The sale of the first series of $300,000,000 of the 7-30 Loan was completed on the 31st of March, 1865. The sale of the second series of Three Hundred Millions, payable three years from the 15th of June, 1865, was begun on the 1st of April.

In the short space of thirty days, over One Hundred Millions of this series have been sold—leaving this day less than Two Hundred Millions to be disposed of. The interest is payable semi-annually in currency on the 15th of December and 15th of June by Coupons attached to each note, which are readily cashed anywhere. It amounts to

One cent per day on a $50 note.

More and More Desirable,

The Rebellion is suppressed, and the Government has already adopted measures to reduce expenditures as rapidly as possible to a peace footing, thus withdrawing from Market as borrower and purchaser.

This is the ONLY LOAN IN MARKET now offered by the Government, and constitutes the GREAT POPULAR LOAN OF THE PEOPLE.

The Seven-Thirty Notes are convertible on the maturity, at the option of the holder, into

U. S. 5-20 Six per cent.

GOLD-BEARING BONDS,

Which are always worth a premium.

Free from Taxation.

The 7.30 Notes cannot be taxed by Towns, Cities, Counties or States, and the interest is not taxed unless on a surplus of the owner's income exceeding six hundred dollars a year. This fact increases their value from one to three per cent. per annum, according to the rate levied on other property.

SUBSCRIBE QUICKLY.

Less than $300,000,000 of the Loan authorized by the last Congress are now on the market.—This amount at the rate at which it is being absorbed, will all be subscribed for within four months, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loans.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

LEE AND HIS PHOTOGRAPHS.—In view of the fact that Gen. Lee has had his photograph taken in "six different attitudes, all very life like," the Providence Journa presumes that they represent the rebel leader in the following attitudes:

First—in a Meditative Mood—in the headquarters of General Scott. Here, as colonel and chief of staff, he is depicted, resting upon his arm, listening to the plans of General Scott for the first campaign against the rebels.

Second—a Sneaking Mood.—In this, Lee, having determined to become a traitor to his country, is sneaking away from Washington.

Third—the Dignified Attitude—receiving his commission from Jeff. Davis as General of the rebel army.

Fourth—in the Chivalric Mood—permitting the Union prisoners to be starved. It is said that he requested that Jeff. Davis might be included in the picture, but his absence prevented a compliance with the General's wishes.

Fifth—Submission—the rebel leader surrendering to General Grant.

Sixth—and last position, General Lee's late entry into Richmond.

The subscriptions to the Seven Thirty loan last week were $40,387,100. The news of the assassination of President Lincoln caused a decline in American securities abroad. It was natural. A similar event in any country of Europe would have produced confusion anywhere—anarchy almost everywhere. Occurring here when the country was involved in a civil war, a similar result was, of course, presumed to be inevitable, and confidence was shaken in American bonds. But they have yet to learn a good deal about the Government of the United States, in Europe. They did not believe that it was possible to suppress the rebellion till they were first astounded by the fall of Richmond, and then struck dumb with amazement at the surrender of Lee. The assassination of the President has added consternation to surprise, and though they recognize a giant, it is a giant tottering blindly and headlong to ruin. But their wonder is not yet over. They will hear of the American people quietly and voluntarily subscribing, on the week of that President's funeral, at the rate of six and a half millions of dollars daily to a National Loan. It is a hard and painful lesson, but Europe will be taught, at length, to know that an enlightened people, under a free Government, are strong in war and equally strong in peace; that neither treason nor assassination can strike at the charmed life of the nation.—Tribune.

The recent floods in Cairo, on the Mississippi, having given a great impetus to the whisky business, this has led philosophers in that region to remark that "retailing whiskey presents the curious phenomenon of flourishing with other branches of business, and prospering still more when other branches of business are completely stagnant. Men drink when they feel good, and gulp it down only the more voraciously when they feel bad. Hence whiskey and high water and whiskey and low water (with sugar and lemons) and whiskey and hot water are all compatible and entirely consistent with any and every phase of human enjoyments and sufferings."

[All those men who prefer drunkenness to sobriety, feel and act as above described. But they forget the great truth that we must reap what we sow, — or else they disregard it. Yet the effect of their potations is none the less certain.]

George Francis Train, in his last wild lecture in Pennsylvania, was somewhat unfortunate in his rhetorical defence of Sherman. He said: "What has Sherman done? Where is the boasted independence of the American press, that they have not pointed out that Sherman has planted one foot on the American flag, another on the Constitution, and proclaims that peace shall reign from the Potomac to Rio Grande only by the death of rebellion, and that rebels can only become citizens again by obeying the laws of the land?" This is making out Sherman's case very bad indeed. If he is trampling on the American flag and the Constitution, the sooner he takes his feet off them the better.—Advertiser.

☞ A recent visitor to Mount Vernon, reports the place in a good state of preservation, it having been religiously regarded as neutral ground. The agent of the Mt. Vernon Association who has remained there is a bitter secessionist, and has not visited Alexandria since the commencement of the war. As he is not willing to take the oath, his wife, more loyal or less scrupulous, has taken the oath and visits Alexandria for supplies. Those who contributed money for the redemption of Washington's remains from his degenerate relative, should see that they are looked after by loyalists.

PROPHECY OF A CONTRABAND.—Mrs. Swisbelm tells of a prophetic old colored woman at Washington, who, during the great rejoicing for the late victories, was much troubled in her mind, and kept saying: "They's goin' to do somthin' drefful to you. I's afeared for you all. You's a 'joicin', an they's agwine to do somethin' drefful. You 'uns don't know 'em; I know 'em; they hates you. They won't never make no peace 'long o' you. They al'ays hated you; but now you've done gone an' tuk their niggers from 'em—they hates you worse nor ever, an' they's only cheating you. They's goin' to do somethin' to you."

— The Centreville (Md.) Citizen learns that on Wednesday night, the tomb of Ex-Governor Hicks was broken open, and his body and the coffin were carried away. It is believed that they have been sunk in the Choptank river. This is another spasmodic expiring trick of the slave-power,—barbarous when in strength,—savage now in its weakness. Every such act only sinks it deeper in infamy.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the
CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water: also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, so no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the
MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes
—of the—
MAGEE PARLOR STOVE
with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable,—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the
MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

The New Hampshire Petroleum Co. is organized with great care, under the management of some of the ablest financiers and most successful business men in the State, whose integrity is above reproach, and who cannot be led by excitement into speculations that have not to their minds a golden foundation. Their lands have been selected with great caution. Mr. N. R. Bates, of Titusville, who has been very successful the past year in selecting Oil Lands and boring wells, was known to some of the gentlemen promoters of this enterprise as a man of the strictest honest, sagacious, and experienced in the Petroleum region, and was solicited to visit in selecting Oil Lands for this Company. Mr. B. F. Martin, Wm. P. Newell, Esq., and John B. Clarke, Editor of the Mirror, of Manchester, J. S. Fogg, Esq., of the firm of Fogg, Houghton & Coolidge, 64 Pearl St., Boston, and Daniel E. Lancaster, 409 Broadway, New York, were appointed a committee to visit the oil region. They left in February they looked over the lands selected by Mr. Bates, and became convinced that they were amply sufficient for what could be had. The great Oil Basin seems to be situated between Oil Creek, East Oil Creek, and Alleghany river, and not twenty miles from one point to the other, and the Four Farms of the Company are within the Basin and on the same Oil Belt of the great flowing and pumping wells that have yielded the past year to the State of Pennsylvania, as Gov. Curtin says in his Message, fifty six million of dollars. The last named gentlemen, B. Wilson, Esq., a well known lawyer of Boston and late District Attorney, P. H. Burns, Esq., a shrewd business man of Dover, N. H., and F. A. Wilson, Esq., a lawyer of 76 Wall Street, New York, were sent out to see to the titles of lands, and make farther examinations. They came to the same conclusions the others had, and the Four Farms were bought, which are thus described:

THE MATTISON FARM.

This Farm contains 84 acres and is near the confluence of Oil and East Oil Creek.—The bay of the land is beautiful for Oil; high lands on each side, Cherry Creek running directly through, and a rich undeveloped Coal vein on one side. Every inch of the land is valuable for Coal or boring wells, and there is no waste to it.

The Oil Leffs run from east to west, or from north east to south west, and are from one to three miles wide. The Mattison Farm is two and a half miles in a direct line east of the great Oil flats south of Titusville, from which innumerable fortunes have flowed. Here the Steele & Mead well flowed 1000 barrels per day—the Fountain 200—the Corkscrew 200—and scores of wells now being worked that yield from 10 to 60 barrels daily. Nine out of every ten wells bored on this flat are a success! A ten barrel well will pay for forty thousand dollars, and a sixty barrel will sell for half a million.

It is believed by good judges that every rod of the twenty-five rods in the Mattison Farm, all that is not good for coal, is equal to the Flat below Titusville. Coal in that section is worth $13 per ton, and if the Company should work well it would be a fortune in itself. It is splendid coal, burning freely as Cannel.

The average price of oil per barrel the last year was $10 at the wells, the buyers furnishing the barrels. It costs a little less than $6000 to sink a well to the depth of 1500 feet, and few go lower than that. Allow $20 per day to work it after it yields oil. G. P. Ball, of the Cherry Creek Farm Petroleum Company, says of this Farm Section:

"I consider all the lands located there, as being richer in Oil, and preventing geological features of a more decided and perfect character than any other that I am acquainted with; and I have spent much time during the last few months in examining and prospecting oil territory in Venango, Crawford and Warren Counties, in all of which I have made considerable investments.—Professors Hall and Sherwood, Geologists of eminence, are of the same opinion, and speaking the lands generally throughout the valleys of East Oil Creek. Your Farm comes up to the expectations of Prof. Shepherd of Yale College, of Mr. Ball, of Mr. Bates, it will have pumping wells and flowing wells. The flowing wells would sell for large sums of money, and the pumping wells, if as good as those south of Titusville, would be of incalculable value. There is abundant room for 12 wells to be bored on this farm for over 900 wells. Just make computation of the cost of so many wells, and the expenditure of money in the place, and if your areas goes as they are expected, if they only yield the minimum average of the wells on that Oil Belt, and your income from this farm will be over one million of dollars. This Company do not expect any such results, but merely state facts, and let each one make his own figuring and reach his own conclusions.

THE PARKER FARM

Contains 100 acres, is heavily timbered, situated near the road to Enterprise, not far from East Oil Creek, and about two miles south of the Caldwell Creek empties into Oil Creek. They have lately sunk a well right opposite this farm and struck oil. A single well good to pump, large farm would enable the Company to sell or lease the lands for great sums. The remarks about the location of the Mattison Farm, apply equally well to this.

THE BYLES FARM,

On Pit Hole Creek, contains 166 acres. It is about three miles east of Oil Creek, directly east of the Coquet Well that flows 800 barrels daily, the day by that flows 800, the Maple Shade and other noted flowing wells, and pumping wells without limit. This Farm is on the same Oil Belt and on the right range. There is great excitement on Pit Hole. The Frazer well is on it. It began to flow about the middle of January, and with its sucker rod in, and its pipe seven-eighths full of machinery, it has flowed 250 barrels per day ever since.—They have not dared to pull out the sucker rod yet, fearing they had not sufficient tanks to hold the oil. The tanks they now have will hold 2,200 barrels. Below this well on the same Creek, another fine well has been struck, and above it is a spouting well, which, when bored low enough, will pipe it substantially. The farther north the same company, the United States, is putting down a well that looks already better than Mr. Frazer well, and great expectations rest upon it. In sight of the spouting wells, and between the Frazer and the one which has raised two-high hopes, is the Byles Farm, all low land, and very good oil land. It is admirably located. It abounds in sand rocks and oil indications. Mr. Bates thinks very highly of it, and has no doubt but we shall find on it flowing wells superior to any yet struck in that section. A single flowing well struck would enable us to sell the farm in small lots for millions of dollars. Land on high bluffs some ways removed from the Coquet well, leases for fifty years at the rate of $50,000 for strips twelve rods by sixteen, each down.

THE DAWSON FARM,

On West Pit Hole, contains 25 acres, and is in the same wonderful oil region. It has oil springs on and around it, and many wells are now being bored near it with excellent show for oil. Mr. Bates is now sinking one close to it. In a letter dated March 25, 1865, he says: "My well is showing as finely as it progresses, both in gas and oil, as any well has ever shown at the same depth on Oil Creek; gas at 90 feet; a good show of oil at 112 feet; at 140 feet gas is rising and roaring lowdly.

Within rifle shot of this farm, sixteen years ago a well was sunk twenty seven feet deep for water, and oil came in and spoiled it. We have no doubt that rich oil wells will be sunk on this Farm, and there is land enough, if they are rich, to make the Farm a fortune.

The property of this Company is located on "Coal Run Creek," Meigs County, State of Ohio, about 10 miles from Athens, containing one hundred and five acres of land. A large number of wells are successfully worked in the vicinity, some of which are paying handsome dividends.—This Company propose to commence operations at once, and entertain no doubt that at an early day they will be able to pay a handsome per centage on their capital stock. The known ability and commercial standing of the officers of this Company afford a sufficient guaranty that the affairs will be conducted in a manner to secure the confidence of those who are disposed to invest in it.

The tract of land adjoining the property of this Company has passed into the hands of capitalists, who have sent out an experienced superintendent to commence operations at once, and their first order for machinery was $15,000. Our property has been examined under instructions from Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, who pronounces the coal, which is in abundance, to be of the best quality, yielding 80 gallons of oil to the ton, and has no doubt, from the location and position of the property, that it will be found valuable in the production of oil. Most companies have to pay very high prices for their coal, all of which we save; oil can be manufactured from the coal upon the property, at a cost not exceeding ten cents per gallon, and it is proposed to commence the manufacture in connection with the sinking of wells. One dollar will buy a share of this stock, which is the par value, and all benefits derived from the lands, either by sales of oil, land or products of any kind, are to be divided among the stockholders, and in addition $30,000 worth of valuable, useful and desirable property will be given to the stockholders, as soon as all the shares are disposed of. The Company adopt this course for the purpose of disposing of their stock at the par value, rather than to sell it, as many companies do, at a subscription price, which is usually one-half. Thus, it will be perceived that every stockholder owning ten shares, for example, will be sure to realize a handsome dividend when the property is divided; a plan which is entirely honorable, and in all respects perfectly legal.

The property to be distributed among the stockholders will be equal to any in the market, and will consist of the following described articles:

$5000 to purchase a HOUSE in Boston or vicinity.
$8000 in U. S. 5-20 BONDS, CERTIFICATES of $500 each.

ANDY JOHNSON'S WAY.—He was announced to speak on one of the exciting questions of the day; and loud threats were uttered that if he dared to appear, he should not leave the hall alive. At the appointed hour he ascended the platform, and advancing to the desk, laid his pistol upon it. He then addressed the audience in terms as nearly like the following as our informant could recollect:

"Fellow citizens, it is proper when freemen assemble for the discussion of important public interests, that everything should be done decently and in order. I have been informed that part of the business to be transacted on the present occasion is the assassination of the individual who now has the honor of addressing you. I beg respectfully to propose that this be the first business in order. Therefore, if any man has come here with the purpose indicated, I do not say to him, let him speak, but let him shoot."

Here he paused, with his right hand on his pistol and the other holding open his coat, while with his eyes he blandly surveyed the assembly. After a pause of half a minute, he resumed:

"Gentlemen, it appears that I have been misinformed. I will now proceed to address you on the subject that has called us together."

Which he did, with all his accustomed boldness and vivacity, not sparing his adversaries, but giving them plenty of pure Tennessee.

MURDER AND ITS PUNISHMENT.—A dispatch from St. Paul, Minn., to the Chicago Tribune, states that a small raiding party of Indians, on the previous Tuesday, reached the settlements in Blue Earth county, where they murdered a family of four persons named Jewett. A pursuit was instituted, and on Wednesday a half breed named Campbell was caught, taken by a court of citizens, and after a trial of four hours, found guilty, but the jury recommended that he be allowed a regular trial. This did not suit the crowd, and seizing their victim they placed him in a wagon, and drove beneath a tree, where a rope was already prepared, and swung him off. In the excitement they forgot to tie his hands, and he seized the rope and called for a Catholic priest who was present. The wagon was driven under him again, and the priest allowed to converse a few minutes with him, during which he confessed to having participated in the murder of the Jewett family. In the second attempt made to hang him, his hands were tied and the work accomplished. The fall was but one foot, and as his neck was not broken, it took half an hour to choke him to death. He had on clothes stolen at Jewett's, and $300 in money.

☞ A Mobile letter says the people of that city bear the Union occupation of it with commendable good grace. There are no acts of hostility. They are exceedingly hospitable and are offering their houses and the best supplies they can afford to the officers and soldiers. This is accounted for by the almost universal feeling of hopelessness in the rebel cause felt by the people. Jeff. Davis is spoke of by all as the author of all the mischief now endured under the banner of the Confederacy.

— The rebel loan in England, at last advices, was held by the sympathizing, but utterly confounded secessionists, at 11 per cent. on its original value. The three million rebel loan has, at this rate, cost John Bull about thirteen millions of dollars, dead loss; and the leading financial agent of the confederacy having started for Cuba, the interest is even more defunct than the principal.

— They are making a great ado in France about the immoderate use of tobacco. They say there is a strange increase of mental alienation and a paralysis of the brain in France, and that it has been proved that this increase has kept pace with the augmentation of the revenue from tobacco.

— On Easter Tuesday, the scholars of Christ's Hospital, London, according to custom, to the number of between 600 and 700, went in procession to the Mansion house, where they partook of some light refreshments, and, according to usage, each of the Grecians was presented by the Lady Mayoress with a guinea, the monitors with half a crown, and the rest of the boys with each a shilling, all fresh from the mint.

— The "infernal machine" which blew up the Sultana, was a pile of greenbacks given to the boiler inspector for overlooking glaring defects.

— The Committee on the Conduct of the War, have yet three big volumes to print—and the hot weather almost upon us.

See what the most popular and widely circulated periodicals say of our Establishment:

From the "Dispatch" of February 11, 1865.

We take pleasure in calling the attention of our readers to the announcement of Messrs. Devaugh & Co.'s Great Sale of Jewelry, Silver Ware, and Fancy Goods, in our advertising columns. We are personally acquainted with the members of this firm and know them to be gentlemen of starling worth and integrity. Their stock of goods, for variety and extent, we have scarcely seen paralleled.

From the "Mirror of Fashion," March 1, 1865.

Messrs. Devaugh & Co.'s Great Sale of Jewelry, etc., opened on the 15th ult., and we venture to say that no finer display of goods was ever exhibited by any establishment in this city. The ladies thronged their bazaar almost to suffocation, although the streets were rendered nearly impassable by the melted snow and slush. We predict for them a wonderful success.

Ledger, "Newspaper" February 28, 1865.

Our lady friends should visit the extensive establishment of Messrs. Devaugh & Co., No. 15 Maiden Lane, if they wish to indulge themselves with a sight which they will long remember.—Such a profusion of elegant Watches, Chains, Rings, Earrings, and, in short, of Jewelry of every name, kind and description, we never before witnessed. Their silver and plated ware is superb, and almost costs into the shade the other splendid establishments which have long been the boast of our city. It is estimated that their stock is worth not less than one million dollars.

How You Can Get a Prize.
Send Twenty-five Cents to us, and as soon as we receive it we will send you a Certificate showing what you are entitled to. If the article or articles please you, send back the Certificate and One Dollar and we will forward you the article, no matter how costly it may be. If the article is not what you wish, state, when you send the Certificate and dollar, what other article of the same value you prefer, and we will send it. If you wish more than one Certificate send us $1 and we will send five; for $2, eleven; for $5, thirty; for $10, sixty; for $15, one hundred.
Agents are wanted in the Army and in every place.
We have an immense stock of goods to dispose of, and need a large number of Agents. Our terms to Agents are very liberal and some even of our Ladd Agents are making from $5 to $20 a day. We give Agents 50 per cent. on all Certificates they sell provided they remit not less than $1 for eight.

Armandale & Co., Manufacturers' Agents
167 BROADWAY, NEW YORK,
Announce that all the above list of goods will be sold for One Dollar each.
In consequence of the great stagnation of trade in the manufacturing districts of England, thro' the war having cut off the supply of cotton, a large quantity of Valuable Jewelry, originally intended for the English Market, has been sent off for sale in this country. AND MUST BE SOLD AT ANY SACRIFICE! Under these circumstances, ARMANDALE & CO., acting as agents for the principal European manufacturers, have resolved upon a GREAT GIFT DISTRIBUTION, to be carried out the following regulations:
Certificates of the various articles are first put into envelopes, sealed up and mixed; and when ordered, are taken out without regard to choice, and sent by mail, thus giving all a fair chance.—On receipt of the certificate, you will see what you are to have, and then it is at your option to send the dollar and take the article or not. Purchasers may thus obtain a Gold Watch, Diamond Ring, or any set of Jewelry on our list for ONE DOLLAR.
Send 25 Cents for a Certificate.
In all transactions by mail, we shall charge for forwarding the Certificates, paying postage and doing the business, 25 cents each, which must be enclosed when the Certificate is sent for. Five Certificates will be sent for $1, eleven for $2, thirty for $5, sixty-five for $10, and a hundred for $15.
AGENTS.—We want agents in every regiment, and in every town and County in the country, and those acting as such will be allowed 10 cents on every Certificate ordered by them, provided their remittance amounts to one dollar.—Agents will collect 25 cents for every Certificate, and remit 15 cents to us, either in cash or in postage stamps. ARRANDALE & CO.,
mh7 Dlaw & W3m 167 Broadway, N. Y.

What the "Press" say of us.
GREAT GIFT DISTRIBUTION.—A rare opportunity is offered for obtaining watches, chains, diamond rings, silverware, etc., by Messrs. Armandale & Co., at No. 167 Broadway. They have an immense stock of articles, varying in value, and all are offered at a large quantity of silver plate, and understand that the whole of these newly imported articles are to be disposed of on a novel principle, giving great satisfaction to the public and affording extensive employment to agents. We know the firm in question to be very respectable and responsible, and we feel confident they will fulfill their promises, and recommend our friends to read their advertisement.—N. Y. Albion, Sept. 8, 1864.
By Messrs. Armandale & Co's arrangement, the advantage must be on the customer, for he has everything to gain, and nothing comparatively to lose. He knows what he will get for his dollar beforehand, and that he need not take it if it is not satisfied.—N. Y. Weekly News, Aug. 6, 1864.
EMPLOYMENT FOR LADIES.—The most eligible and profitable employment we have heard of for the ladies is the sale of certificates for the "Great Gift Distribution" of Armandale & Co. A lady of our acquaintance has been very successful in this way, not only in filling her own purse, but also in doing a good turn to those to whom she sold the Certificates, as will be seen from our advertising columns. Gentlemen can also be thus engaged.—N. Y. Sunday Mercury, Aug. 14, 1864.
In our columns, the reader will find an advertisement of Armandale & Co's Gift Distribution of watches, jewelry, and silver-ware. In payment of that advertisement we received several sets of the jewelry advertised, and we are warranted in saying that, both in finish and quality, they quite exceeded our expectations. They turned out to be just what they had been represented.—True Democrat, Lawrenburg, Ind., Aug. 17, 1864.
The British Whig of Kingston, C. W., says, Nov. 26, 1864, one of our lady subscribers became an agent for Armandale & Co., and by request bro't some twenty articles, sent as prizes for her agency, to this office for inspection, and without hesitation we can state that each and all of the articles were worth treble the amount of cost to the recipients, and some of them six times.
We have seen some very pretty specimens of Table and Tea Spoons, Gold Watches, Ladies' Chains, Fins, Bracelets, etc., which have been sent by Armandale & Co., to this place for $1 each.—Angelica Reporter, N. Y. State, Feb. 15, 1865.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 12, 1865.

☞ The N. H. daily copperhead paper, at the head of a column, speaks of the wanderer Jeff. as "Mr. Davis", and can't believe him guilty. Near the foot of the same column it speaks thus of our Sec. of War:

Stanton has richly earned the infamy that awaits him for his efforts to create jealousy and ill-will among the people of this country.

In the middle of the same column is an extract from the N. Y. News, written by Edward Pollard, late editor of the Richmond Examiner, who announces his purpose to leave the country: well, let him go,—and let the other editor stay, till by such traitorous talk he sinks his miserable party out or sight, as he will probably do, by such bitterness towards everything that belongs to the free United States, and such sweet tenderness toward the harboring of robbers and murderers. U. T.

The Democratic press is divided on the subject of negro suffrage. The New York Herald is decidedly in favor of the measure. The Express is as decidedly opposed, and maintains that political equality means the fraternization of the races, and that means everything bad. The World thinks that colored men ought to have the right to vote when they become more intelligent, but not yet. The Democratic party had better be making up its opinion about this matter.—Bos. Jour.

The loyal and honest men of that party had better cut loose, as we think they will, from the copperheads and traitors who appropriate and pervert the name of Democratic.—It is not strange they differ as to negro voting,—nor that many prejudices remain elsewhere.—But they must pass away. Loyal men, north and south, must vote and rule; while traitors will please to stand back, without much regard to color or rank.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—The Tribune's dispatch of Thursday says:

Sanguine expectations of the capture of Jeff. Davis are not indulged in by army officers here. If he is captured it will be the result of accident, though the government is exerting its utmost power to trap him.

The trial of the assassins to-day made considerable progress, much testimony having been taken. Testimony will be offered that Harold went to Canada after Booth's visit there, and conferred with accomplices.

Mrs. Surratt, one of the chief instigators of the assassination, is closely guarded, but is yet defiant and unrelenting. One of her daughters is very sick, and, it is said, has poisoned herself. It is positively known that young Surratt is now in Canada.

PIRACY.—The N. Y. Herald's Nassau correspondent says a vessel which recently sailed from Baltimore, was hailed before getting off the Patapesco river by men who represented themselves as deserting rebel soldiers wishing to obtain passage to Point Lookout, and soon as aboard the schooner they overpowered the captain and crew, put them ashore, and made sail, arriving at Salt Cay, T. I. Bahamas on the 17th ult. The American Consul made a demand for the pirates. This was not granted, and although the parties were ordered to leave in 24 hours, they did not do so. It is supposed to be their design to capture a larger vessel and commence a regular piratical cruise.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Mirror learns that several of the returned soldiers belonging to Manchester are making arrangements to leave for Mexico, for the purpose of entering the Republican army of that country. Thousands will go from other places.

—— Dr. B. W. Eastman, formerly Assistant Physician at the N. H. Asylum for the Insane, has received an appointment as Third Assistant Physician at the Government Hospital for the Insane, at Washington, D. C. The Monitor speaks highly of him.

—— Lt. Col. Parker, of the 4th N. H. Regiment, has arrived at Raleigh, after three weeks imprisonment by the rebels.

FROM MEXICO, via Havana.—A steamer from Tampico, brings official information of the capture by the Liberals under Negrete, of Saltillo and Monterey; also of Victoria, capital of Tamaulipas, by Mendez. Diaro professes to have information of the recapture of Saltillo by the French. Other accounts state that the attempt to recapture the city failed. Another was to be made.

GEN. GRANT has issued an order to send all paroled prisoners of the rebel armies now confined or detained at Alexandria, Va., to their homes. Those whose homes were, at the time of joining those armies, in States that have never been in the rebellion, and who desire to return to them, will be required to take the oath prescribed in the President's Amnesty Proclamation, provided they are not excepted from their benefits. If so excepted they will be retained. Those living in Texas will be sent in charge of an officer, and be landed on the west banks of the Mississippi River, near the mouth of Red River.

— John Brown's daughter now teaches contrabands in Henry A. Wise's parlor.

HARDER'S VIEW OF PEACE.—While the rebel Gen. Harder was at Gen. Kilpatrick's headquarters the following conversation took place:

In speaking of the war he made this remarkable assertion: "Sir, I accept this war as the providence of God. He intended that the slave should be free, and now he is free. Slavery was never a paying institution. I have often told my friends so. For instance, my wife owned about one hundred negroes; forty of the hundred were useless for work, yet she had to feed these forty in order to get the work of the other sixty. The negro will be worse off for this war. Will any of your abolitionists of the North feed and cloth half a dozen little children in order to get the work of a man and woman? Sir, our people can pay the working negroes a fair compensation for their services, and let them take care of their own families, and then have as much left at the end of the year as we had under the old system."

"General, do you think we will soon have real peace?" "I do. I think the people of the South are anxious for it. They wanted it two years ago. I then saw that our cause could not succeed."

"Will we not have guerrilla warfare?" "So help me God, sir, if we do I am willing and ready to fight to put an end to it."

"Is the same sentiment entertained by the other general officers who have been in the Confederate service?" "It is. I have not the slightest doubt but they will use every means they can command to bring quietness and security again in the land. They will in no wise support those who do not obey the laws."

"How will it be in South Carolina?" "South Carolina is the worse whipped State in the Union."

"But will not her leading spirits control the masses?" "They, too, are crushed. She has no leading spirits now. Let me impress it upon you that the people of the South want to live in peace with the people of the North, and you will find they will do it. They will do it cheerfully, provided your government does not resort to harsh measures. If it does resort to such measures, I cannot answer for the consequences. We staked our all on the success of our arms, and they failed us, and now we are willing to return to and live under the laws of the United States as we find them, although they may not be as we should desire to have them."

"Your officers have no money. What are they going to do?" "They must go to work. The prospect before them is most gloomy indeed. It will be very hard on old men like me. I cannot now commence a profession."—"Is there much cotton in the South, General?" "Oh, yes. And, by the way, let me say that it will oppress the people of the South very much if the government of the United States confiscates the cotton belonging to private individuals. These people need the cotton and tobacco to commence business on. They are the only articles they have to sell. Give them a chance to sell their cotton and their tobacco, and there will be greenbacks introduced and trade will revive. The cotton which the Confederate government owned I believe to be the rightful property of the United States; and further, believe that the people of the South should be honest, and turn that property in to the agents authorized to receive it. One man told me he had some Confederate cotton on his plantation, and that he intended to burn it before the enemy could get possession of it. I told him he would be doing very wrong in committing such an act. On my wife's plantation in Alabama I have some cotton that belonged to the Confederate government, and which I am well guarding, and will turn it over whenever the United States are ready to receive it."

BOSTON CORBETT.—A studied effort has been made to cast censure upon Boston Corbett for shooting Booth. The fact is well authenticated that his action was justified at the time by the entire party, and receives the approbation now of his own superior officer. He had vainly asked permission to enter the barn alone and attempt the arrest of Booth, when he was stationed at a corner of the building where aside board was off and where every movement of his was visible to Booth. Booth could have shot him at any time and he knew it, but he did not attempt to fire upon Booth until he saw the villain taking deliberate aim to shoot one of the guards. He then leveled his revolver, designing to shoot Booth in the shoulder, but a sudden movement of his body caused the ball to strike his neck with fatal effect. To those who know the facts and his faithful character as a soldier, it is a cause of regret that Gov. Fenton has not advanced him in the line of promotion. —Washington Special.

GEN. ROSECRANS is not a fillibuster.—On Thursday he made a speech in the State House, Boston, in which he said:

I perceived in large letters in the newspapers to-day that Gen. Rosecrans is going to raise 25,000 men to go to Mexico. Gen. Rosecrans is not going to do any such thing. I had rather see these young men returning to their homes, and having renewed all home feelings and home associations, resume, if possible, almost entirely peaceful pursuits.

☞ In the U. S. Circuit Court, Thursday, Norton Thomas, a Canadian substitute broker, was convicted of aiding and abetting a deserter from the U. S. service.

☞ The Stars and Bars man says he "pities the cows" who run "to grass" with us. Well, so great a calf as he, ought to be a judge of such green matters; but we rather think the bovines would find fully as good feed "here" as with him.

☞ The Concord Monitor says that "Here at the 'metropolis' we contemplate the approaching honor which is to be conferred on friend Hackett, (if he gets votes enough) with lively satisfaction."—Of course they allude, in this delicate manner, to the proposed elevation of the Major to preside over "the most numerous Representative body in the United States or the world."

☞ We are informed that the office of the tory, rebel, traitor organ in this city, is really being fitted up and replenished again, with a view of resuming publication of that delectable sheet in full once more. Well, we must say, we hardly expected that would ever be done—for even should the owners of the building allow longer occupancy of so dangerous a tenant, we (judging from ourselves it is a similar situation) should hardly have supposed he would ever again present a newspaper or anything else to any community which had manifested towards him such a feeling as was shown the Stars and Bars man. Faith, he "saw stars," at one time, we guess.

— There is no longer any doubt of the recovery of Secretary Seward, but it is said that he will present a sad spectacle to his friends; his face is cut and gashed, and his broken jaw disfigures him. ☞ Tony Pastor's great and diversified Combination Company, gave a fine Entertainment at the Temple last evening. TEMPERANCE LECTURE.—Miss S. L. Van Horne, the very agreeable and entertainining speaker who lectured on the subject of Temperance in the Court Street Christian Chapel on Sabbath evening two weeks since, will give a second Lecture on the same subject, at the Temple, on Sabbath evening next, when the hundreds who were privileged to hear her before, and the hundreds more who were disappointed in not being able to get into the house then, will have another opportunity offered them to listen to one of the most interesting lady speakers now before the public. The cause in which she speaks is of interest to every person; and we can assure all who wish to be edified and pleased as listeners, that Miss Van Horne will not disappoint their expectations. She has a clear, pleasant voice, her manner is affable, and her language pure, well chosen and emphatic. She speaks as one experienced concerning the evils of intemperance, and utters with enthusiasm words which express the sentiments of her heart. Let all well wishers to the cause of temperance improve this (probably the last) opportunity which will be offered to hear her, if possible, thereby to encourage her in her noble work, and add new interest, if possible, to the cause of temperance among us.

To defray expenses, an admission fee of ten cents only will be charged. T. F. W.

U. S. COMMISSIONER'S COURT.—Frank Fairbanks, a minor, of Manchester, was brought by U. S. Deputy Marshal Pickering before U. S. Commissioner Hackett, in this city, on Thursday, upon complaint of Daniel R. Prescott, of Manchester, charging him with passing counterfeit fractional currency at Manchester on the 9th of May. He waived an examination. Altered counterfeit currency was found in his possession. He was held to appear before the U. S. Circuit Court in October.

J. Christopher Weeks was also brought before the Commissioner upon charge of altering and forging fractional currency in sums of 10 to 50 cents, and passing the same at Manchester. W. plead not guilty. He was committed to the jail in Manchester, in default of $300 bail.

☞ Rev. Mr. Patterson of this city, is to deliver his Lecture on The Flag and the Cross, in the First Congregational Church at Dover, on Sunday evening, when a collection will be taken for the Freedmen's Aid Society.

☞ The veritable Holman (English) Opera Troupe, — a splendid Company, which was unable to fill their appointment to perform here on Wednesday evening,—announce to give one of their grand entertainments, at the Temple tomorrow evening. Their bill includes the comic opera of the Love Spell, and a laughable burlesque, introducing a very excellent imitation of a Minstrel Troupe.

☞ We learn that the Ladies' Soldiers Aid Society of the Unitarian Parish in this city, are to hold a Festival and Levee at the Temple, the first week in June. Well wishers of the holy cause, and sons and daughters of Portsmouth at home or abroad, who regard the good name of the city, should aid the project all they can, by contributions of money or material, or other service.

☞ The footing of the April pay-role of the mechanics and laborers employed on the Navy Yard, amounts to $141,216.00. Twenty-nine hundred and fifty-eight men are the recipients of this amount of money.

☞ In the Police Court on Thursday, the case of a man bearing the name of Rumney was considered. The circumstances of this case differ slightly from ordinary simple drunks, for the reason that this Mr. Rumney was bloodthirsty, and attempted to satiate his appetite by feasting on Police Officer Johnson's finger. But Mr. J., thinking it imprudent to allow this cannibalistic demonstration to go unrebuked, "lent him one" on the "knob"—as it is pugilistically termed—causing the blood to flow so profusely as to lead one who had not witnessed the occasion thereof, to imagine that a drove of cattle had been slaughtered in that vicinity. The operation had the effect however, to relieve Mr. R. very much, and this sanitary innovation is soon to be adopted by the police, when dealing with such individuals as Rumney—whose prefix by the way is Albion. He was obliged to disgorge $6,86 in greenbacks and currency, to cancel the matter.

A household without the J. Monroe Taylor Gold Medal SOAP always on hand, is like a garden without flowers or a family without children. U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

The sale of the first series of $300,000,000 of the 7-30 Loan was completed on the 31st of March, 1865. The sale of the second series of Three Hundred Millions, payable three years from the 15th of June, 1865, was begun on the 1st of April. In the short space of thirty days, over One Hundred Millions of this series have been sold—leaving this day less than Two Hundred Millions to be disposed of. The interest is payable semi-annually in currency on the 15th of December and 15th of June by Coupons attached to each note, which are readily cashed anywhere. It amounts to

One cent per day on a $50 note.

More and More Desirable.

The Rebellion is suppressed, and the Government has already adopted measures to reduce expenditures as rapidly as possible to a peace footing, thus withdrawing from Market as borrower and purchaser.

This is the ONLY LOAN IN MARKET now offered by the Government, and constitutes the GREAT POPULAR LOAN OF THE PEOPLE.

The Seven-Thirty Notes are convertible on the maturity, at the option of the holder, into

U. S. 5-20 Six per cent.
GOLD-BEARING BONDS,

Which are always worth a premium.

Free from Taxation.

The 7.30 Notes cannot be taxed by Towns, Cities, Counties or States, and the interest is not taxed unless on a surplus of the owner's income exceeding six hundred dollars a year. This fact increases their value from one to three per cent. per annum, according to the rate levied on other property.

SUBSCRIBE QUICKLY.

Less than $300,000,000 of the Loan authorized by the last Congress are now on the market.—This amount at the rate at which it is being absorbed, will all be subscribed for within four months, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loans.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

VAULTS versus IRON SAFES.—A Richmond paper says that if anything were wanting to show the superiority of vaults over iron safes, the experience derived from the late conflagration in that city would afford it. Out of the large number of safes which have been dug from the ruins, the contents of a large proportion of them were worthless; while in no instance, where papers and other valuables were kept in brick vaults, have they been injured at all.

SLAVERY IN KENTUCKY.—The Louisville Journal of Thursday last says:

The doom of slavery is sealed. There cannot be a question about it. It is no matter whether we like it or don't like it.—Its continued existence in this State is an absolute impossibility. The attempt to prop it up and save it, now that the avalanche is so near the base of the mountain, is to act the part of the old man who shakes his staff at the descending glacier, and expects thereby to stop it.

— The "Church of the Disciples," Boston, of which Rev. James Freeman Clark is pastor, and Gov. Andrew a chief pillar, is conducted on the free pew system, with perfect success. At the annual meeting of the Parish last week, Gov. Andrew praised the free pew system, saying that although it was sometimes difficult for him to get a seat, he had rather be crowded out by an earnest congregation than frozen up by a small one.

THE MEANEST KIND OF THIEVING.—Major Hammond, an Assistant Paymaster U. S. A., informs the New Bedford Mercury, that in the warehouse of Hazall & Co., Richmond, was discovered a lot of blankets, from 500 to 1000, marked U. S., which it was confessed were stolen from our men imprisoned there; not one of whom during last winter had a blanket.

"MUSIC," says Burney, "may be applied to licentious poetry; but the poetry then corrupts the music, not the music the poetry. It has often regulated the movements of lascivious dances, but such airs heard for the first time, without the song or dance, could convey no impure idea to an innocent imagination; so that Montesquieu's assertion is still in force, that Music is the only one of all the arts which cannot corrupt the mind.

— About six months ago, George Augustus Sala published a letter in which he related a part of the conversation between Sanders and himself, and said distinctly that Sanders told him of the plotting of atrocities which would make the world shudder. The question now arises, whether this referred to the crime of murder, or only to that of arson.

A paragraph of doubtful meaning. Is the essence of benevolence really sold at so cheap a rate, or is it only intended to state the price of that highly diluted article some people call milk?

The properties of this Company consist of 843 acres, principally owned in Fee Simple, of the most desirable Oil Lands, situated mostly in Oil Creek, Penn., upon which there are three wells now down, capable of producing from 100 to 1000 barrels per day when completed, as they are located so near the great producing interests of the Empire, Shannon and Dodge wells, on this noted creek. This Company offer inducements seldom met with. The capital stock is very small for the amount of valuable oil lands the Company possesses. Three engines are already at the wells. Our Agent at Titusville writes us that the well on the McElhany farm has commenced down 18, which, at the last accounts, was still a double of success. The Officers of this Company, in placing this property before the New England public, have the confidence that no properties yet offered are superior, or any out of which larger and more certain dividends may at once be expected. Maps and full information sent on application to the Treasurer. Subscriptions received by JOS. W. DAVIS, Banker, No. 25 State street, and at the OFFICE OF OIL CO. Cleanse the Blood.
With corrupt, disordered or vitiated Blood, you are sick all over. It may burst out in Pimples, or Sores, or in some active disease, or it may merely keep you listless, depressed and good for nothing. But you cannot have good health while your blood is impure. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA purges out these impurities and stimulates the organs of life into vigorous action, restoring to the health and expelling disease. Hence it rapidly cures a variety of complaints which are caused by impurity of the blood, such as Scrofula, or King's Evil, Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Salt Rheum, Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter or Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Cancer or Cancerous, Humors, Sore Eyes, Internal Inflammations, and a distention, Irregularity, Suppression, Whites, Sterility, also Syphilis or Venereal Diseases, Liver Complaints, and all Diseases of the Liver. Try Ayer's SARSAPARILLA, and see for yourself the surprising activity with which it cleanses the blood and cures these diseases.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla, for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla, which flood the market, until the name itself has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound "Sarsaparilla," and intend to supply such a remedy as shall redeem the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. We think we have ground for believing it has virtue which will cure many of the diseases for which it is intended to cure. We can only assure the sick, that we offer them the best alterative which we know how to produce, and we have reason to believe, it is by far the most effectual purifier of the blood yet discovered by any body.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL is so universally known to surpass every other remedy for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease, that it is useless here to recount the evidence of its virtues. The world knows them.

Prepared by J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass. and sold by all respectable druggists everywhere. Trueman, W. R. Preston, David Kimball, and all druggists.

The New Hampshire Petroleum Co. is organized with great care, under the management of some of the ablest financiers and most successful business men in the State, whose integrity is above reproach, and who cannot be led by excitement into speculations that have not to their minds a golden foundation. Their lands have been selected with great caution. Mr. N. B. Bates, of the Hogsett Company, so successful the past year in selecting Oil Lands and boring wells, was known to some of the gentlemen promoting the starting this company as a most strictly honest, sagacious, and experienced in the Petroleum regions, and was solicited to aid in selecting the premises now owned by the co. Col. B. F. Martin, Wm. P. Newell, Esq., and John B. Clarke, Editor of the Mirror, of Manchester, J. S. Fogg, Esq., of the firm of Hodgdon & Fogg, 64 Pearl St., Boston, and Daniel E. Lancaster, 419 Broadway, New York, were appointed a committee to visit the lands spoken of. Early in February they looked over the lands selected by Mr. Bates, and became convinced that they were among the very best lands that could be had. The Oil Belt in question seems to be situated between Oil Creek, East Oil Creek, and Alleghany river, and not twenty miles from the place of the Shannon Farm. The Four Farms of the Company are within the Basin and on the same Oil Belt of the great flowing and pumping wells that have yielded the most paper to the State of Pennsylvania, as Gov. Curtin says in his Message, fifty six million of dollars. The Hon. Moody Currier, Esq., Cashier of the Manchester Bank, and late District Attorney, P. H. Burns, Esq., a shrewd business man of Dover, N. H., and F. A. Wilcox, Esq., a lawyer of 76 Wall Street, New York, were sent out to see to the titles of lands, and make further examinations. They came to the same conclusions as others had, and the Four Farms were bought, which are thus described:

THE MATTISON FARM.

This Farm contains 84 acres and is near the confluence of Oil Creek and East Oil Creek. The lay of the land is beautiful for Oil; high lands on each side, Cherry Creek running directly through, rich and undeveloped. Coal vein on one side. Every inch of the land is valuable for Coal or boring wells, and there is no waste to it.

The oil wells run from east to west, or from north west to south west, and are from one to three miles wide. The Mattison Farm is two and a half miles in a direct line east of the great Oil Rate result of Titusville, from which innumerable fortunes have flowed. Here the Siecle & Mead well flowed 2000 barrels per day—the Fountain Fair well 1200—and scores of wells are now being worked that yield from 10 to 60 barrels daily. Nine out of every ten wells bored on this property will be productive of oil, and will for forty thousand dollars, and a sixty barrel well sell for half a million.

It is believed by good judges that every rod of the eastern extreme of the Mattison Farm, all that is not good for coal, is equal to the Flat below Titusville. Coal in that section is worth $18 per ton, and a single acre of coal underlying a weak well it would be a fortune in itself. It is splendid coal, burning freely as Cannel.

The average price of oil per barrel the last year was $10 at the wells, the buyers furnishing the barrels. It costs a little less than $600 to sink a well to the depth of 700 feet, and few go lower than that. Wells per day for boring, and after it yields oil. G. P. Ball, of the Cherry Creek Farm Petroleum Company, says of this Farm Section:

"I consider all the lands located there, as being richer in Oil, and presenting geological features of a more full and perfect character than any other that I am acquainted with; and I have spent much time during the last few months in examining and selecting Oil Territory in Venango and Crawford Counties, in all of which I have made considerable investments.—Professors MAYNARD and SHEPARD, geologists of eminence, have the same opinion regarding the lands generally throughout the valleys of East Oil Creek. If this Farm comes up to the representations of Prof. Shepard of Yale College, of Mr. Ball, of Mr. Bates, it will have pumping wells and flowing wells. The flowing wells would swell the returns of money, and the pumping wells, if as good as those south of Titusville, would be of incalculable value. There is abundant room for an acre for 15 wells, and on this farm for over 900 wells. Just make computation of the cost of so many wells, and the results and profit on the whole of it, if they are as good as they are expected, if they only yield the minimum average of the wells on that Oil Belt, and your return from this farm alone is over one million of dollars. This Company do not expect any such results, but merely state facts, and let each one make his own figuring and reach his own conclusions.

THE PARKER FARM

Contains 100 acres, is heavily timbered, situated near the road to Enterprise, not far from East Oil Creek, between Cherry Creek and where the Caldwell Creek empties into Oil Creek. They have lately sunk a well right opposite this farm and struck oil. A single good well on this large farm would enable the Company to sell or lease the lands for great sums. The remarks about the location of the Mattison Farm, apply equally well to this.

THE BYLES FARM,

On Pit Hole Creek, contains 105 acres. It is about three miles east of Oil Creek, directly east of the Coquet Well that flows 1000 barrels daily. Oil river by that flows 200, the Maple Shade and other noted flowing wells, and pumping wells without limit. This farm is on the same Oil Belt and on the right range. There is great excitement on Pit Hole. The Frazer well is on it. It began to flow about the middle of January, and with the rudest rod in, and its pipe seven-eighths full of machinery, it has flowed 120 barrels per day ever since.—They have not done it to pay out the sucker rod yet, leaving they had not sufficient tanks to hold the oil. The tanks they now have will hold 3,200 barrels. Below this well on the same farm, another flow has been struck, and above it is a spouting well, which, when bored low enough, will yield abundantly. A little farther north the same company, the United States, is putting down a well that looks already better than the Frazer well, and great expectations rest upon it. To the right of the spouting well, and between the Frazer and the one which has raised so high hopes, is the Byles Farm, all low land, and every rod of it is for a well. It is splendidly located. It abounds in sand rocks and oil indications. Mr. Bates thinks very highly of it, and has no doubt but we shall find on it flowing wells superior to any yet struck in that section. A single flowing well struck would enable us to sell the farm in small lots for ten millions of dollars. Land on high bluffs some ways removed from the Coquet well, leases for fifty years at the rate of $100 for strips twelve rods by sixteen, cash down.

THE DAWSON FARM,

On West Pit Hole, contains 25 acres, and is in the same wonderful oil region. It has oil springs on and around it, and many wells are now being bored near it with excellent show for oil. Mr. Bates is now sinking one close to it. In a letter dated March 25, 1865, he says: "My well is showing as finely as it prospects, both in gas and oil, as any well has ever shown at the same depth on Oil Creek; gas at 90 feet; a good show of oil at 112 feet; at 140 feet gas is rising and roaring loudly."

Within rifle shot of this farm, sixteen years ago a well was sunk twenty-seven feet deep for water, and oil came in and spoiled it. We have no doubt that rich oil wells will be sunk on this Farm, and there is land enough, if they are rich, to make the Farm a fortune.

The property of this Company is located on "Coal Run Creek," Meigs County, State of Ohio, about 10 miles from Athens, containing one hundred and five acres of land. A large number of wells are successfully worked in the vicinity, some of which are paying handsome dividends—This Company propose to commence operations at once, and entertain no doubt that at an early day they will be able to pay a handsome percentage on the investment. The known ability and commercial standing of the officers of this Company afford a sufficient guaranty that the affairs will be conducted in a manner to secure the confidence of those who are disposed to invest in it.
The tract of land adjoining the property of this Company has passed into the hands of capitalists, who have sent out an experienced superintendent to commence operations at once, and their first order for machinery was $15,000. Our property has been examined under instructions from Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, who pronounces the coal, which is in abundance, to be of the best quality, yielding 80 gallons of oil to the ton, and has no doubt, from the location and position of the property, that it will be found valuable in the production of oil. Most companies have to pay very high prices for their coal, all of which we save; oil can be manufactured from the coal upon the property, at a cost not exceeding ten cents per gallon, and it is proposed to commence the manufacture in connection with the sinking of wells. One dollar will buy a share of the stock, which is the par value, and all benefits derived from the lands, either by sales of oil, land or products of any kind, are to be divided among the stockholders, and in addition $200,000 worth of valuable, useful and desirable property will be given to the stockholders, as soon as all the shares are disposed of. The Company adopt this course for the purpose of disposing of their stock at the par value, rather than to sell it, as many companies do, at a subscription price, which is usually one-half. Thus, it will be perceived that every stockholder owning ten shares, for example, will be sure to realize a handsome dividend when the property is divided; a plan which is entirely honorable, and in all respects perfectly legal.
The property to be distributed among the stockholders will be equal to any in the market, and will consist of the following described articles:
$5000 to purchase a HOUSE in Boston or vicinity.
$5000 in U. S. 5-20 BONDS, CERTIFICATES of $500 each.
$5000 in DIAMOND RINGS, in value $25 to $500 each.

RECONSTRUCTION BEGUN.—Washington correspondence of Wednesday says:

The proclamation of President Johnson relative to reestablishing the authority of the laws of the United States in Virginia, is generally believed to be the result of a carefully matured decision in the Cabinet, and will apply as the reconstruction policy for the remainder of the Southern States.

Governor Pierpont will immediately proceed to Richmond and assume executive control of the State. It may be added everything is becoming peaceful throughout Virginia. The railroads and telegraphs are being repaired without interruption. A new telegraph line from Weldon to Richmond has been completed, and one is in course of construction from Washington to Richmond.

— It is noticed that the Canadian Confederates put a bandle to the assassin's name, styling him, respectfully, Mr. Booth.—Boston Post.

A copperhead paper now before us, always puts the handle Mr. upon the rebel Davis. The same print always spoke of Lincoln before his death, without a title, but often used some opprobrious epithet.

— Mr. Conway says Miss Muloch, author of John Halifax, etc., is to be married at Bath on the 28th, to a Mr. Craig of Glasgow. This gentleman who is much younger than Miss Muloch, was a year or two ago the victim of a railway accident by which he lost a leg. When taken to a hotel he was insensible, and the people, finding about him the address of Miss Muloch, sent for that lady, who, recognizing a youth whom she had known as a boy, nursed him tenderly. The result is a wedding.

— The person who for two years was purser of the rebel pirate Alabama, has been appointed to a first class clerkship in the Land Office. This position, with its good salary, has been given him that the Government may have his testimony available as to the capture and destructions committed by that corsair.—Wash. Cor. N. Y. Tribune.

— Wendell Phillips said in his New York anniversary speech, that the rebels thought we were weak, but Sherman wrote with the point of the sword, in letters forty miles long, on the bosom of South Carolina, that we were strong.

See what the most popular weekly civilized periodicals say of our Establishment:
From the "Dispatch" of February 25, 1865.
We take pleasure in calling the attention of our readers to the announcement of Messrs. Devaugh & Co.'s Great Sale of Watches, Jewelry, and Fancy Goods, in our advertising columns. We are personally acquainted with the members of this firm and know them to be gentlemen of starling worth and integrity. Their stock of goods, for variety and extent, we have scarcely seen equalled.
From the "Mirror of Fashion," March 1, 1865.
Messrs. Devaugh & Co.'s Great Sale of Jewelry, etc., opened on the 15th inst., and we came to say that no finer display of goods was ever exhibited by any establishment in this city. The ladies throughout the city and vicinity, in fashion, although the streets were rendered nearly impassable by the melted snow and slush. We predict for them a wonderful success.
From the "Ledger," February 28, 1865.
Our lady friends should visit the extensive establishment of Messrs. Devaugh & Co., No. 15 Maiden Lane, if they wish to indulge themselves with a sight which they will long remember.—Such a profusion of elegant Watches, Chains, Rings, Earrings, and, in short, of Jewelry of every name, kind and description, we never before witnessed. Their silver and plated ware is superb, and almost costs into the shade the other splendid establishments which have long been the boast of our city. It is estimated that their stock is worth not less than one million dollars.

SATURDAY, MAY 13, 1865.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—Of nearly 24,000 rebel prisoners at Point Lookout, all excepting two have expressed a wish to take the oath of allegiance as soon as the oath can be administered. They will be sent to Richmond, en route for their homes.

Mrs. Lincoln's health is much improved. The family intend to move from the Executive Mansion next week and proceed to Chicago.

The commanding generals of armies and departments have been ordered to immediately muster out all volunteer soldiers of the cavalry whose terms of service expire prior to October 1st.

Harris, the Maryland congressman, is proceeding with his defence in the court martial.

☞ A New Orleans dispatch of May 5, says Kirby Smith publishes a frantic appeal to his soldiers, dated Shreveport, April 21st, denouncing the surrender of Lee in the strongest terms: exhorts his soldiers to stand by their colors in adversity, and says the fate of the nation depends on them; that their resources are ample to protract the struggle until foreign aid arrives, or at least until they can secure for themselves terms due to a proud people.

The remainder of the crew of the rebel ram Webb have arrived at New Orleans.

Great trouble exists among the State and city officials in New Orleans in consequence of Governor Welles declaring the former registry illegal, and ordering a new registry. Several city officials have been removed by Gov. Welles, and others appointed. The Secretary of State declined to affix the seal of the State to the new commissions, on the ground that the Governor had no power to make the removals. Mayor Kennedy has been removed.

CONSPIRATORS' TRIAL.—The Boston Post's Washington correspondence of Wednesday says:—

The Military Commission to try the conspirators sat with closed doors to-day and will continue to do so throughout the progress of the trial. It has been positively decided that no outside reporters will be allowed to attend the trial. Such portions of the evidence as Judge Holt deems proper for publication will be officially furnished to the Associated Press, to be transmitted to the journals here and in all of the principal cities. Not one of the counsel selected yesterday by the conspirators, has yet agreed to appear; all will probably decline. Senator Reverday Johnson is in the city, but did not attend the court to-day, though tendered the proper passes by the military authorities.—A man supposed to be Surratt has been arrested and brought here. The evidence is clear that he is another of the conspirators.

EXTERMINATING GUERRILLAS.—Col. Parsons of the 9th Tennessee Cavalry, who is charged with the duty of ridding a portion of East Tennessee and Southwestern Virginia of guerrillas, has received instructions from Gen. Stoneman as follows:

"Give them to understand that no false mercy will be shown them, and no prisoners taken, and that every man found in arms, under whatever pretense, and acting without authority from Federal officers or constituted authorities of the State Tennessee, will be treated as a public enemy and outlaw, and killed like a mad dog by any one who meets him."

— In Philadelphia, Thursday afternoon, during a violent thunder storm, a row of 28 houses in the northern section of the city was blown down. Nobody injured.

— On Thursday Gen. Sherman was in Richmond, and rode at the head of the line as the 14th corps passed through the streets of that city.

— An official dispatch from Gen. Canby, in West Mississippi, May 4, says that the rebel Lieut. Gen. Taylor has surrendered, with the forces under his command, on substantially the same terms as those accepted by Gen. Lee.

— The 7-30 bonds go off like hot cakes. On Thursday, among the subscriptions were $80,000 by the Freedmen's Savings Bank of South Carolina. There were 10,752 individual subscriptions for $50 and $100 each.

— A steamer arrived at New York from Nassau 8th, reports the rebel ram Stonewall at anchor outside the harbor of Nassau when she left.

— In Tennessee, guerilla organizations are availing themselves of Gen. Thomas's order, and are coming in rapidly. No formidable body of guerillas now remains in the State.

— Pres. Johnson gave audience to a negro delegation on Thursday. In his remarks he exhorted them to work for a living, and not depend on government for a subsistence. No person could say this with a better grace than Andrew Johnson, the working-man.

— Nearly a dozen houses were unroofed or blown down in Brooklyn, N. Y., in the gale of Thursday evening, and a storehouse damaged $10,000 by lightning. Several large buildings in New York city were unroofed.

NOTES OF FORMER DAYS.

Collected and Collated by UNCLE TOBY.

Gov. John Wentworth the 2d.—Troubles—Peter Livius, 1773.

Troubles in government, often grow out of private jealousy, rivalry, and family broils. The death of Governor Benning Wentworth produced consequences that much affected his successor, Gov. John Wentworth, 2d. This family had been for many years of the first rank in the province, and some of its members and connexions had held the principal offices. In such a case, domestic union may be considered as necessary to preserve public honor. The late governor, though superseded, had been treated with every mark of respect; and having no children, it was expected his successor would be his principal heir. A later will, made in favor of his young widow, and unknown till after his death, caused a sudden disappointment.

Antiquated claims upon the late governor's estate were revived; and law-suits were commenced, which probably would not have been agitated, if the expected disposition had been made. But the most alarming effect of this unhappy disappointment was a question, which the governor moved in council, "whether the reservation of five hundred acres, in the several townships, made by the late governor, Benning Wentworth, in the charter grants, conveyed the title to him?" The council determined this question in the negative. The governor then asked, whether they would advise him to grant the said tracts, to such of his majesty's subjects, as should settle and cultivate the same? To this they gave their assent. Seven of the counsellors present on this occasion were the governor's relations. The eighth was Peter Livius, a gentleman of foreign extraction, who entered his dissent.

He had for several years served as a justice of the common pleas; but on the division of the province into counties, it was necessary to issue new commissions. Finding himself overlooked in the appointment of officers, and his private affairs calling him abroad, July 9, he sailed for England, and there exhibited to the lords of trade, articles of complaint against the governor and his council.

The memorial concluded with a general charge of partiality arising from the family connexions of the governor and council.

Copies of this memorial were sent to the governor and council, who seperately prepared and returned distinct answers to the several articles of complaint.

In these answers, the council denied that they had ever acted in their public capacity, from any private or family interest; but asserted, that they had frequently given their judgment directly against it; and they concluded with very severe reflections on the complainant.

With these answers, were transmitted a great number of depositions, from persons of all ranks and professions, testifying in favor of the governor. These being laid before the lords of trade, and the memorialist being heard in reply, May 10, 1773, the board represented to the king, that the complaint against the governor "had been fully verified." At the same time, they thought it their duty to represent, "that the reports which they had received, through different channels, of the situation of affairs within New Hampshire, did all concur in representing the colony to have been, since Mr. Wentworth's appointment, in a state of peace and prosperity; that its commerce had been extended, and the number of its inhabitants increased; and that every attempt made to excite the people to disorder and disobedience, had been, by the firm and temperate conduct of Mr. Wentworth, suppressed and restrained."

When the cause was reheard before a committee of the privy council, it was observed by the governor's advocate, July 29, 1772, that peace, prosperity and obedience, were not compatible with oppression and injustice; and that however the lords of trade had in the beginning of their report condemned the governor, they had, by the praise bestowed upon him, in the end contradicted themselves.

"That there was no foundation for any of the charges, contained in the complaint against Mr. Wentworth, and that the general conduct of his administration had tended greatly to the peace and prosperity of the province." Which report was approved by the King.

This acquittal and approbation of the Governor, gave general satisfaction. The House of Representatives congratulated him in the name of their constituents; and the citizens of this town gave a splendid ball on the occasion to the Governor and General Assembly.

In this controversy, Mr. Livius met with great support, from the interest of those who wished to displace the governor; and they became so deeply engaged to him, as to procure for him an appointment to be the chief justice of New Hampshire; but, upon more mature consideration, this was thought too likely to produce discord and confusion, and he obtained an appointment to a more lucrative office in the province of Quebec.

Mr. Livius was a gentleman of foreign descent, liberal education and handsome fortune. He came to this country for the purpose of investing his property in lands.

☞ Thanks to some friend in London, for copies of a popular English treatise on "The Independence of Canada—a tract for general circulation by A. Allison esq., author of the philosophy and history of civilization." It is an able document, but English all over and through and through.

— The ex-rebel pirate Stonewall lately captured and bonded bark New Light, from Baltimore for Rio Janeiro; and repaired and coaled at Nassau.

☞ The Herald says, the First Presbyterian Church of Newburyport "voted to pay their pastor, Rev. R. H. Richardson, twenty-five hundred dollars salary, which is an increase of thirteen hundred dollars over last year, when his salary was as high as any ever paid there. In the short time of his settlement at the old Church, he has had several calls, one we understand as high as $4,000. His people are much attached to him; and as we always value what costs us labor, it will do them, as it would any Newburyport parish, (all of them paying low salaries,) good to pay liberally, as they are willing to, for religion."

All of which is well enough, perhaps, as far as it goes; and we are by no means fearful that any good minister will get too much pay; but what shall be said or thought of Societies which try to coax, bribe, or steal away the pastors of other Churches?—It is said there may be something akin to "honor, among thieves;" but there appears to be but very little among churches in this regard. A man or woman who entices or induces the commonest menial or workman away from the employ of another, we think is guilty of one of the meanest actions; and we never could see why the same golden rule should apply less fully to the higher or more sacred walks of life. F.

☞ One of the most daring robberies was perpetrated in Newburyport on Wednesday night—which, it will be remembered was very light. The Jewelry store of Mr. Joseph Moulton was broken open, by boring the shutter and lifting the bar inside, and some eight or ten hundred dollars' value in cutlery, plated ware, chains, and jewelry taken, principally belonging to Mr. Moulton, and some to Mr. H. R. Poore, watchmaker. The bits and chisel—tools of the burglars—were left there, and the only wonder was that they had not stolen twice as much. Mr. Moulton offers a reward of $200 for the detection of the thieves. Suspicion rests upon two men, strangers in town, who were about the day before, and called at the store pricing some gold watches. They were noticed by other parties on the street, as evil-looking and suspicious characters. It is probable from the manner in which the work was done, that they were professional burglars.

GOLD, Friday, 133 1-2 to 129 7-8. Sales in Boston few and small, mostly on time.

COAL in Boston, by regular dealers, $12 per ton.

— The Spanish troops have left St. Domingo, and the Republic there is fully restored.

— Look out for swindlers who profess to be collecting money for the benefit of soldiers' widows and orphans.

— The terms of amnesty to deserters offered by a Proclamation of President Lincoln will not now avail, as the sixty days expired on Wednesday.

—— Among other regiments on the way from Richmond to Washington, we notice the 5th New Hampshire to be disbanded.

— Willard Roby has had a verdict of $2800 damages against the Grand Trunk Railroad Company for the killing of his horse, &c., on the railroad at North Stratford, N. H., in 1859.

—Three cent pieces are making their appearance in the Philadelphia markets. It doesn't pay to hoard them any longer.

— The purchase of hospital supplies has been stopped by order of the Surgeon General until the stocks on hand are exhausted.

— After all, the English rebel sympathizers have done us some good, with all the harm, for by Lee and Johnson's surrender, we fall into possession of all the arms and other war material, which they have furnished to carry on the rebellion.

☞ On Thursday, at Montreal, S. S. Gregg, one of the St. Albans' raiders, who was not re-arrested after Judge Coursal's decision, was arrested again on Judge Smith's warrant for robbing the National Bank. He was remanded until Saturday to allow his counsel to consult with the U. S. authorities.

— Fred. Douglass is to deliver a discourse on the Life and Death of Abraham Lincoln, in Cooper Institute, by invitation of the colored citizens of New York City, this week.

—Capt. Reed, of the rebel ram Webb, has been brought to Boston and incarcerated in Fort Warren. He is said to be a nephew of Jefferson Davis, and is a desperate man. He destroyed the ram Webb because the steamer Richmond was lying within river below, as he supposed, to intercept him; but it turns out that the Richmond had no knowledge of the character of the Webb, and it might have passed unmolested.

— The announcement of the surrender of the rebels to Gen. Grant was given by the Bermuda Mirror as "unwelcome intelligence;" and it says, "we await with anxiety further results of this sad termination of a noble cause."

— The class of persons who see no moral guilt in treason, and would treat it as a mere difference of political opinion, are presumed to be the same who call exulting over the assassination, the exercise of free speech—the enjoyment of an American citizen's most sacred right.

☞ The Army and Navy Journal thinks that in these glorious days of returning peace, "one point should be particularly impressed upon the minds of the people, the necessity of reorganising and increasing the Militia forces of the State. Too much praise cannot be bestowed on these volunteer organizations for the promptitude with which they rallied to the defence of the National Capital four years ago. It remains now to revive these organizations, many of which have been suspended in operation necessarily by the progress of the war, or to establish others on improved principles. And this duty is particularly imperative, now that the prompt action of Mr. Stanton gives assurance that the United States troops will be mustered out of service rapidly and in large numbers."

Does anybody doubt this? And if it is true,—can a better thing be done for Portsmouth, in this regard, than to fill up the Company of Horse Guards organized here?

ANSWER TO THE MOON QUERY. Friend Miller:—If the propounder of the Moon query in the Chronicle of 1865: 24 was not aiming merely to puzzle your readers, but was in good fair earnest, either he is not so smart as he thinks himself, or if you call him a "master mind," his query is, in the words of the Gazette of 5 May, 1864, "one blunder—a curious illustration of the mistakes that master minds make." Tell the finder of that egregious mare's nest that on some days the moon does not set at all, of necessity. On 1865: 3, for instance, the moon set at 8 minutes before midnight. It woul l take a smarter moon than ours to set some time in 1865: 4, and then again on 1865: 5, as early as one hour after midnight. But why do the New Hampshire boys wait for an answer to so simple a question to come from Illinois. Yours, I. F. H.

Hillsgrove, Ill., 1865: 66.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.—The Grand Jury came in on Wednesday morning, having found several indictments, and were then discharged from any further attendance this term.

On Friday, Norton Thomas was put on trial for aiding Parrin A. Benton, a soldier in the service of the United States, to desert. Verdict, guilty. Sentenced to 6 months imprisonment in Concord Jail, and a fine of $100.

On Friday Lemuel Laws was tried for aiding John Thomas to desert from the military service of the United States. Verdict, guilty. Sentenced to 6 months imprisonment in Portsmouth Jail, and a fine of $100. Laws is a colored man, who keeps a Sailor Boarding-house in Boston, and was arrested by U. S. Detective J. Horace Kent, in March last, charged with enticing one John Thomas, another colored man, (who will be remembered as jumping from a car window) to desert. It is stated that Laws is worth $30,000, and has acquired it in the substitute business within the past two years. Thomas was a Canadian substitute broker, who was arrested last November at Concord by Mr. Kent.

An indictment was also found against Thomas Carroll, of Strafford, for the same offence. This case was continued until the next term of the Court.

THE U. S. STEAMER MACKINAW.—This vessel has been put out of commission and gone into repairs, from the effects of injuries received in her many engagements in James river and in the battles which resulted in the capture of Wilmington. She has assisted in establishing the value of her class for such operations, and is probably immediately to be refitted for active service. The following is a complete list of her late officers:—

Commander—J. C. Beaumont.
Act'g Master—Albion Lynch.
Act'g Ensigns—Wm. H. Penfield, J. Blanchard, Jos. Estes.
Act'g Surgeon—J. F. Coitwell.
Act'g Asst Paymaster—Wm. F. Whitmore.
1st Asst. Engineer—Jeff. Young.
2d Asst. Engineers—Daniel. A. Sawyer, J. C. Cross, Wesley Randell.
3d Asst. Engineers—R. W. Mulligan, Patrick O'Hagan.
Master—J. A. Thomas, Solomon Bartow.
Gunner—Thomas Kerr.
Paymaster's Clerk—Jeffers.

☞ The veritable Holman (English) Opera Troupe, — a splendid Company, under the management of the popular Comedian, Mr. S. E. Browne, well known to our citizens, which was unable to fill their appointment to perform here on Wednesday evening,—announce to give one of their grand entertainments, at the Temple this evening. Their bill includes the romantic opera of Fra Diavolo, and a laughable burlesque, introducing a very excellent imitation of a Minstrel Troupe.

MISS VAN HORNE.—To defray expenses and compensate in some degree, one who seeks the good of humanity and the best welfare of the community, an admission fee of ten cents only, will be charged to hear Miss Van Horne, at the Temple (Sunday) evening. Doors open at half past six, lecture to commence at half past seven. Do not miss hearing her. *

We are requested to state that the Lecture for to-morrow evening is not the same delivered by her when here two weeks since,—but one altogether new to a Portsmouth audience.

☞ The Concert this evening by the Holman Troupe will be well worth attending, as those who have heard this Company know. It will be a first class entertainment, such as we have too few of. Don't fail to hear it.

☞ Auction sales to-day of varieties, at Mr. Wendell's; and a good building to be removed from near the Steam Mill.

☞ Messrs. C. W. Brewster & Son will publish this afternoon, in a pamphlet of 30 pages, Rev. Mr. Patterson's Eulogy on President Lincoln,—with an account of the Obsequies observed by the City.

☞ Arrangements are making by our State Government, for most impressive memorial services to the memory of President Lincoln, at Concord, June 1st, the National Fast Day. Prof. Patterson, one of the ripest scholars, ablest statesmen and most eloquent orators in the land, will deliver a Eulogy on the occasion. The people of the State generally, are invited by Governor Gilmore, and will of course be present in great numbers.

☞ "The Field, the Dungeon, and the Escape," by Albert D. Richardson, Tribune Correspondent, is the title of a book now in press by the American Publishing Company of Hartford, Ct. It will undoubtedly prove intensely interesting, and be widely sought after; and must contribute considerably to the reliable history of the infernal cruelties of the rebels. It will not be for sale in book-stores, but is published only by subscription; and the publishers desire agents. It will be issued in the highest style of typography, illustrated by eight spirited sketches on wood, by a portrait of the author, on steel, and a group also on steel, of seven Army Correspondents, who have become widely known during the war.

☞ Rogers, the poet, is said never to have written more than four lines of his poems in a day. He wouldn't have answered for the editor of a country Daily paper, would he?—with a dozen different things to be done at once: news copy to get out, editorials and locals to write,—not to mention previous writings to correct and set "right" on the record; to compose advertisements, deaths and marriages—get up a congratulation to a happy young couple, or a feeling obituary notice, in the shortest order, or amid a disorder—and attend to a dozen or a hundred business calls by person or letter, and find time to eat and drink, and for recreation withal. Mr. Rogers must have fulfilled the injunction to let your moderation be known to all men.

Which are always worth a premium.

Free from Taxation.

The 7.30 Notes cannot be taxed by Towns, Cities, Counties or States, and the interest is not taxed unless on a surplus of the owner's income exceeding six hundred dollars a year. This fact increases their value from one to three per cent. per annum, according to the rate levied on other property.

SUBSCRIBE QUICKLY.

Less than $300,000,000 of the Loan authorized by the last Congress are now on the market.—This amount at the rate at which it is being absorbed, will all be subscribed for within four months, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loans.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes

—of the—

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE

with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable—and no sense of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are turned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

The properties of this Company consist of 668 acres, principally owned in Fee Simple, of the most desirable Oil Lands, situated mostly in Oil Creek, Penn., upon which there are three wells now down, capable of producing from 100 to 1000 barrels per day when completed, as they are located so near the great producing interests of the Empire, Noble, Sherman and Drake wells, on this noted creek. This Company offer inducements seldom met with. The capital stock is very small for the amount of valuable oil lands the Company possesses. Three engines are already at the wells. Our Agent at Titusville writes us that the well on the McElhany farm has commenced flowing, which places this Company beyond a doubt of success. Confident of the Directors, in placing this property before the New England public, have full confidence that no properties yet offered are superior, or any cost at which larger and more certain dividends may at once be expected. Cleanse the Blood.

With corrupt, disordered and vitiated Blood, you are sick all over. It may burst out in Pimples, or Sores, or in some active disease, or it may remain quietly lurking in your system, perhaps for nothing. But you cannot have good health while your blood is impure. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA purges out these impurities and stimulates the organs of life into vigorous action, restoring the health and expelling disease. Hence it rightly cures a variety of complaints which are caused by impurity of the blood, such as Scrofula, or King's Evil, Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter or Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Cancer or Cancerous, Tumors, Sore Eyes, Female Diseases, such as Retention, Irregularity, Suppression, Whites, Uterine Complaints, and Heart Disease. Try AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, and see for yourself how it will agreeably with which it cleanses the blood and gives new life and vigor.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla, for one dollar. Most of these have been worthless as a medicine, and not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence bitter disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla, which flood the market, until the name itself has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. We will call this compound "Sarsaparilla," and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which it has long borne. We think we have ground for believing it has virtue which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases for which it is intended to cure, and we assure the sick, that we offer them the best alterative which we know how to produce, and we have reason to believe, it is the best of all the alteratives or purifier of the blood yet discovered by any body.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL is so universally known to surpass every other remedy for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptives in the advanced stages of the disease, that it is useless here to recount the evidence of its virtues. The world knows them.

Prepared by J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass. and sold by Brackett Hutchings, Tuscher, W. R. Preston, David Kimball, and all druggists.

The New Hampshire Petroleum Co. is organized with great care, under the management of some of the ablest financiers and most successful business men in the State, whose integrity is above reproach, and who cannot be led by excitement into speculations that have not to their minds a golden foundation. Their lands have been selected with great caution. Mr. N. R. Bates, of Titusville, who has been very successful the past year in selecting Oil Lands and boring wells, was known to some of the gentlemen prominent in starting this company as a man strictly honest, conscious, and experienced in the Petroleum regions, and was solicited to aid in selecting the proper farms. He did so. Col. B. F. Martin, P. H. Burns, Esq., and John B. Clarke, Editor of the Mirror, of Manchester, J. S. Fogg, Esq., of the firm of Fogg, Houghton & Coolidge, 64 Pearl St., Boston, and Daniel P. Lancaster, 419 Broadway, New York, were appointed a committee to visit the farms spoken of. Early in February they looked over the lands examined by Mr. Bates, and became convinced that they were among the very best that could be had. The farms in question are to be situated between Oil Creek, East Oil Creek, and Allegheny river, and not twenty miles from one point to the other, and are in the most productive portion within the Basin and on the same Oil Belt of the great flowing and pumping wells that have yielded the greater part of the State of Pennsylvania, as Gov. Curtin says in his Message, fifty-six millions of dollars. The last of March, B. W. Harris, Esq., a well known oil man of Boston and late District Attorney, P. H. Burns, Esq., a shrewd business man of Dover, N. H., and F. A. Wilcox, Esq., a well known oil man of 76 Wall Street, New York, were sent out to see to the titles of lands, and make farther examinations. They came to the same conclusions the others had, and the Four Farms were bought, which are thus described:

THE MATTISON FARM.

This Farm contains 84 acres and is near the confluence of Cherry Creek and East Oil Creek.—The bay of the land is beautiful for oil, high lands on each side, Cherry Creek running directly through, and a rich undeveloped Coal vein on one side, and the balance of the land is valuable for Coal or boring wells, and there is no waste to it.

The oil belts run from east to west, or from north east to south west, and are from one to three miles wide. The Mattison Farm is two and a half miles in a direct line east of the great Oil flats south of Titusville, from which innumerable large wells are flowing. Here the Rixey & Mead well flowed 1000 barrels per day—the Fountain 200—the Parker 200—and scores of wells are now being sunk that yield from 10 to 60 barrels daily. Nine out of every ten wells bored on this flat are a success. A ten barrel well will sell for forty thousand dollars, and a sixty barrel well sell for half a million.

It is believed by good judges that every rod of the seventy-five acres of the Mattison Farm, all that is not good for a well, is valuable for the below Titusville. Coal in that section is worth $18 per ton, and if the vein of coal should work well it would be a fortune in itself. It is spoken of coal, burning freely as Cannel.

The average price of oil per barrel the last year was $10 at the works, the buyers furnishing the barrels. A little less than $600 to sink a well to the depth of 700 feet, and few go lower than that. It costs 60 per day to work it after it yields oil. A. Ball, of the Cherry Creek Farm Petroleum Company, says of this Farm Section:

"I consider all the lands located there, as being richer in Oil, and presenting geological features of a more full and perfect character than any other I have seen, and I have spent much time during the last few months in examining and selecting Oil Territory in Venango, Crawford and Warren Counties, in all of which I have made considerable investments.—Professors MAYNARD and SHEPERD, Geologists of eminence, are of the same opinion respecting the lands generally throughout the valleys of East Oil Creek. If this Farm comes up to the expectations of Prof. Shepherd of Yale College, and Mr. N. R. Bates, it will have on pumping wells and flowing wells. The flowing wells would sell for large sums of money, and the pumping wells would be near the mouth of Titusville, would be of incalculable value. There is abundant room on each acre for 75 wells, and on this farm for 300 wells. I just make computation of the cost of so many wells, and the yield and profit on the whole in a year, if they are as generous as they ought to yield. The yield the minimum average of the wells on that Oil Belt, and your income from this Farm alone is over one million of dollars. This Company do not expect any such results, but merely state facts, and let each person make his own figuring and reach his own conclusions.

THE PARKER FARM

Contains 100 acres, a heavily timbered, situated near the road to Enterprise, not far from East Oil Creek, and between Cherry Creek and where the Caldwell Creek empties into Oil Creek. They have lately sunk a well right opposite this farm and struck oil. A single good well on this large farm would enable the Company to sell or lease the lands for enough to pay the interest on the location of the Mattison Farm, apply equally well to this.

THE BYLES FARM,

On Pit Hole Creek, contains 105 acres. Its about three miles east of Oil Creek, directly east of the Coquet Well that flows 100 barrels daily, the derrick that flows 300, the Maple Shade and other noted flowing wells, which have yielded millions of money. This Farm is on the same Oil Belt and on the right range. There is great excitement on Pit Hole Creek. Farm well is 1 mile. It began to flow about the middle of January, and with its sucker rod in, and its pipe seven-eights full of machinery, it has flowed 200 barrels per day over the top. They have not dared to pull out the sucker rod yet, fearing they had not sufficient tanks to hold the oil. The Rixey Farm now have well hold 3,200 barrels. Below this well, on the same Creek, another fine well has been struck, and above it is a spouting well, which, when bored low enough, will yield abundantly. A little farther north the same company, the United States, is putting down a well that looks already better than the Frazer well, and great expectations rest upon it. In sight of the spouting wells, and between the Frazer and the one which has risen so high hopes, is the Byles Farm, all low land, and every rod fit for a well. It is splendidly located. It abounds in sand rocks and oil indications. Mr. Bates thinks very highly of it, and has no doubt but we shall find on it flowing wells superior to any yet struck in that section. A single flowing well struck would enable us to sell the farm in small lots for ten millions of dollars. Land on high hills some ways removed from the Coquet well, leases for fifty years at the rate of $50,000 for strips twelve rods by sixteen, cash down.

THE DAWSON FARM,

On West Pit Hole, contains 25 acres, and is in the same wonderful oil region. It has oil springs on and around it, and many wells are now being bored near it with excellent show for oil. Mr. Bates is now sinking one on the farm, in a letter dated March 25, 1865, he says: "My well is showing as finely as it progresses, both in gas and oil, as any well has ever shown at the same depth on Oil Creek; gas at 90 feet; a good show of oil at 112 feet; at 140 feet gas is rising and roaring loudly.

Within rifle shot of this farm, sixteen years ago a well was sunk twenty-seven feet deep for water, and oil came in and spoiled it. We have no doubt that rich oil wells will be sunk on this Farm, and there is land enough, if they are rich, to make the Farm a fortune.

The property of this Company is located on "Coal Run Creek," Meigs County, State of Ohio, about 10 miles from Athens, containing one hundred and five acres of land. A large number of wells are successfully worked in the vicinity, some of which are paying handsome dividends.—This Company propose to commence operations at once, and entertain no doubt that at an early day they will be able to pay a handsome percentage on the investment. The known ability and commercial standing of the officers of this Company afford a sufficient guaranty that the affairs will be conducted in a manner to secure the confidence of those who are disposed to invest in it.

The tract of land adjoining the property of this Company has passed into the hands of capitalists, who have sent out an experienced superintendent to commence operations at once, and their first order for machinery was $15,000. Our property has been examined under instructions from Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, who pronounced the coal, which is in abundance, to be of the best quality, yielding 80 gallons of oil to the ton, and has no doubt, from the location and position of the property, that it will be found valuable in the production of oil. Most companies have to pay very high prices for their coal, all of which we save; oil can be manufactured from the coal upon the property, at a cost not exceeding ten cents per gallon, and it is proposed to commence the manufacture in connection with the sinking of wells. One dollar will buy a share of this stock, which is the par value, and all benefits derived from the lands, either by sales of oil, land or products of any kind, are to be divided among the stockholders, and in addition $200,000 worth of valuable, useful and desirable property will be given to the stockholders, as soon as all the shares are disposed of. The Directors have adopted the course for the purpose of disposing of their stock at the par value, rather than to sell it, as so many companies do, at a subscription price, which is usually one-half. Thus, it will be perceived that every stockholder owning ten shares, for example, will be sure to realize a handsome dividend when the property is divided; a plan which is entirely honorable, and in all respects perfectly legal.

The property to be distributed among the stockholders will be equal to any in the market, and will consist of the following described articles:

$5000 to purchase a HOUSE in Boston or vicinity.
$5000 in U. S. 5-20 BONDS, CERTIFICATES of $500 each.

MARCHING HOME.

"The orders for the return of our troops have already gone forth, and the columns are beginning to move."

We are marching home at last,
Now the cruel war is past,
And the time of peace draws near;
We are marching home at last,
Now the cruel war is past,
To the homes our hearts hold dear;

With our banners stained and torn,
That through many a fight were borne
Where death rained thick and fast.
Now our glorious work is done,
Now the Union cause is won,
We are marching home at last.

Marching home to those we love;
See the veteran columns move,
Hear the drums and shrill fifes play,
Hear our voices raised in song
As we proudly march along
On our homeward way!

With our trusty arms we come,
To the sound of fife and drum,
Now the cruel war is past;
Light of heart and glad are we,
Having served the cause, to be
Marching home at last.

All day long we march, till night;
Then beside the camp-fires' light,
Underneath the starry dome,
It is sweet to close our eyes,
While the night-wind softly sighs,
On our march tow'rd home;

And in sleep, to dream, we hear
Friendly voices sounding near,
Bidding welcome as we come;
Till at length the morning breaks,
And the happy dreamer wakes
To the beating of the drum.

Then once more upon the way
March we on at dawn of day,
Now the cruel war is past;
Light at heart and glad are we,
Having proved the Right, to be
Marching home at last.

EXTRACT FROM A SERMON.—So in religion, we used to worship overshadowing mountains, or dark clouds, or impenetrable forests, or thunder, or the stars, or sun, or moon, or the fire, or water, and call them Gods,—we used to make Gods out of stone and wood, and worship them. We were blind then,—but yet there is a truth back of idolatry. The time is not long past when we used to think of God as a being only greater than man in every faculty—more powerful, more knowing, more wrathful when angry, more loving when he loved; of Heaven, as a place where we should enjoy in proportion as we suffered here; where the rich would all be poor,—the poor rich; where we should do nothing but rest in idle but holy pleasure, and sing ourselves away in pious song; of Hell, as a place in the farthest part of the Universe from Heaven, where sinners suffer to all eternity, their agonies increased by the sight of the elect,—and the saved adding new joys to their lives by the sight of the damned. We used to think of Jesus as a terrible Judge, before whom gathered all souls, while upon each he pronounced a verdict, opening the gates of Heaven or Hell according to their deeds. We were blind then, but it was a great step out of darkness into the marvellous light, when God was seen to be a father, and Jesus the light of our souls; and humanity a great, toiling, struggling, suffering brotherhood; and every day a judgment day; while no law, human or divine, can keep the soul that is pure from being in Heaven every moment, or the soul that transgresses from being in Hell every moment till it repents. Leave this only, and the darkness flees away, the blindness is all gone, for infinite trust has driven away all fear: the Saviour has touched the sealed eyes, and all uncaring who he is, we say, "One thing I know,—whereas I was blind, now I see."

☞ An exchange says Harris of Maryland who is on trial for treason at Washington, is the same man who created quite a rumpus in the Chicago Democratic Convention, by knocking a man down who he thought remarked to him as he was going to his seat after making an earnest speech against the nomination of McClellan, "Go and sit down you —— traitor." The remark was made by a delegate from Massachusetts, but Harris supposed it came from an outsider who happened to be standing near him, and he gave him a blow which laid him out his full length.

— The Washington correspondent of the Tribune says:

Dr. Tumblety alias Blackburne, Chief of the Rebel department for the importation of yellow fever, is lodged in the Old Capital Prison. He is just as vain, gaudy, dirty, and disgusting as ever. He wears the same stunning clothes, and it is widely suspected that by collusion with others, he procured his own arrest on this singular allegation, in order to add a little to his already disreputable notoriety. [A later item says he is discharged.]

We see that several of the Provincial Press whose active sympathies for the South led them to prophecy disaster to the Union arms and the successful establishment of the Southern Confederacy, are again predicting an unsuccessful career for our new President, Mr. Johnson. If the editors of these journals cannot learn anything of the Northern people and their determination to maintain their republication institutions at all hazards, during the past four years of trial, we think they must be dull scholars, and should give up their business of prophesying.—Aroostook Times.

From the "Dispatch" of February 25, 1865.
We take pleasure in calling the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Messrs. Devaugh & Co.'s Great Sale of Jewelry, Silver Ware, and Fancy Goods, in our advertising columns. We are personally acquainted with the members of this firm and know them to be gentlemen of sterling worth and integrity. Their stock of goods, both quantity and extent, we have scarcely seen paralleled.
From the "Mirror of Fashion," March 1, 1865.
Messrs. Devaugh & Co.'s Great Sale of Jewelry, etc., opened on the 15th ult., and we venture to say that no finer display of goods was ever exhibited by any establishment in Boston. The ladies thronged their bazaar almost to suffocation, although the streets were rendered nearly impassable by the melted snow and slush. We predict for them a wonderful success.
From the "Ledger," February 28, 1865.
Our lady friends should call at the extensive establishment of Messrs. Devaugh & Co., No. 15 Maiden Lane, if they wish to indulge themselves with a sight which they will long remember.—Such a profusion of elegant Watches, Chains, Rings, Earrings, and, in short, of Jewelry of every name, kind and description, we never before witnessed. Their silver and plated ware is superb, and almost casts into the shade the other splendid establishments which have long been the boast of our city. It is estimated that their stock is worth not less than one million dollars.

How You Can Get a Prize.
Send Twenty-five Cents to us, and as soon as we receive it we will mail you a Certificate showing what you are entitled to. If the article or articles place you, and back the Certificate and One Dollar and we will forward you the article, no matter how costly it may be. If the article is not what you wish, state, when you send the Certificate and dollar, what other article of the same value you prefer, and we will send it. If you wish more than one Certificate send us $1 and we will send five; for $3, eleven; for $5, thirty; for $10, sixty; for $15, one hundred.
Agents are wanted in all the Army and in every place.
We have an immense stock of goods to dispose of, and need a large number of Agents. Our terms to Agents are very liberal and some even of our Lady Agents are making from $5 to $20 a day. We give Agents 50 per cent. on all Certificates they sell, provided they remit not less than $1 for eight.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, MAY 15, 1865.

By Telegraph—Sunday noon.

War Department, May 13.—The following dispatch, just received from Gen. Wilson, announces the surprise and capture of Jeff. Davis and his staff, by Col. Pritchard, of the Michigan cavalry, on the morning of the 10th inst., at Irwinsville in Irwin Co., Ga. Signed, E. M. Stanton, Sec. of War.

"Macon, Ga., May 12th.—To Lt. Gen. Grant and the Hon. Secretary of War: I have the honor to report that at daylight of the 10th inst. Col. Pritchard, commanding the 4th Michigan Cavalry, captured Jeff. Davis and family, with Reagan, Postmaster General, Col. Harrison, Private Secretary, Col. Johnson, Aid de Camp, Col. Morris, Col. Lubbeck, Lt. Hathaway and others.—Col. Pritchard surprised their camp at Irwinsville, Irwin Co., Ga., 75 miles south east of this place. They will be here tomorrow night, and will be forwarded under a strong guard without delay. I will send further particulars at once. Signed, J. H. Wilson, Brevet Major General."

Washington, May 13th.—The trial of the conspirators was thrown open to the public this afternoon. It is sufficient to say that the evidence is overwhelming and voluminous, and the depth and extent of the conspiracy and all of the promises of startling revelations will be more than sustained. The asseveration that the conspiracy originated in Canada is proved beyond the remotest doubt. It was stimulated by fiends furnished there.

New York, May 13th.—Gold closed at 130 1-8.

— A passenger from Nassau states that the pirate Stonewall had coaled, and was ready for sea on the 8th instant, and there was no doubt she had started on a marauding cruise.

— The Herald's special Washington despatch says Gens. Halleck and Sherman had had a difficulty growing out of conflicting orders in North Carolina, and it is said Sherman notified Gen. Halleck that all intercourse and correspondence between them had ceased forever. It is represented that Gen. Sherman is very much excited about the newspaper comments on his recent treaty of Peace with Johnston. It is probable Sherman will publish a defence of his course. He is very severe on Secretary Stanton and Gen. Halleck.

—General Banks has compelled the President of the City Railroad Company of New Orleans, to allow the blacks to ride in all their cars. Heretofore the company has set apart cars for the use of the negroes, but the General has now ordered that there shall be no distinction. This looks like a preparation for negro suffrage in Louisiana.

— Sanders, in an address to the people of Europe, styles the proclation of President Johnson mendacious and ferocious, and says conclusive testimony will be sent to Europe that it is founded on forged papers and suborned testimony.

— Mobile papers of the 5th contain full particulars of the surrender of Dick Taylor, but no other news.

— The steamship St. Mary's, sunk in Mobile Bay, has been raised; also the gunboat Scioto. The iron-clads Milwaukee and Osage are hopelessly wrecks.

— At the instance of rebel officers, who say they cannot govern their men, Gen. Washburn has established military posts at Holly Springs and Grenada for the protection of the people.

— Cotton is arriving fast at Memphis.—The market is active and tending upward. Middlings 31 a 34c.

— Reports from North Carolina state that, like an army of locusts, Johnston's men are absorbing everything in the shape of food, horses and plunder to be found in the country through which they pass.—Gov. Vance has gone to his home in Buncombe county, having failed to obtain permission from Gen. Schofield to resume the functions of Governor. The order of Schofield, proclaiming freedom to the slaves of that State, has created a great sensation, as it was unexpected by the leading slaveholders.

— The Tribune's Washington dispatch says Gen. Grant is daily expecting to hear of the surrender of Kirby Smith. He has been officially notified that Smith is negotiating with the view to surrender.

— Chief Justice Chase will go down the coast to New Orleans, thence up the Mississippi and back to Washington.

— The Richmond correspondent of the Boston Journal writes that a detachment of cavalry have arrived with R. M. T. Hunter, arrested while in concealment near his country residence.

"I desire to have it understood that I consider Treason as a crime and not a mere difference of opinion—as such it shall be punished."—Andrew Johnson.

"It is impossible to understand chivalric treason—magnanimous murder, and pure-minded perjury.—Gen. Butler.

MEXICO.—The N. Y. Herald's City of Mexico correspondence says the news of our triumphs over the rebels afforded vast encouragement to the adherents of Juarez. His cause is rapidly recovering ground. A number of victories over Imperialists had been gained recently. The reports of the capture of Salitillo and Monterey are confirmed. It is rumored that Matamoras has been captured. These events restore nearly the whole of North Eastern Mexico to Juarez.

The Imperialists are much alarmed at the suppression of our rebellion, fearing the enforcement of the Monroe doctrine. The expedition to Northern Mexico, and the project to fortify the Northern frontier have been countermanded, and 11,000 Imperialist troops dispatched from the capital to Matamoras. Juarez is still at Chilhuahua with a large army. Govin had returned from France with important instructions, said to be relative to Louis Napoleon's schemes in Sonora and Sinaloa.

THE GREAT CONSPIRACY.—The action of the Government in ordering a secret trial of the Booth conspirators, seems to be generally condemned,—but it may after all be the wisest and best course, and ultimately be made to appear so. It is alleged that at a Cabinet meeting, Attorney General Speed presented a written opinion on the subject. He considered that the President is de facto as well as de jure Commander in Chief of of the Army and Navy in time of war; the crime was committed at a military post, garrisoned, and under the command of a military governor. He also thought that the court should not be open to spectators, as there is a very large number of witnesses to be examined, and none should know what the others have testified to, which could not be prevented if the papers published the entire testimony. The examination of all the witnesses is far from being as thorough as it will be in court, where much additional light is expected to be thrown upon the conspiracy as it progresses.

No doubt the evidence will be spread before the public verbatim, after the trials are over,—perhaps as soon as two or three of the principals are tried. But some newspapers are very desirous to spread out the testimony every day, as the trials proceed; and some readers might like to see it. But Cui Bono?

As to the trials being by a military court rather than civil,—it is well understood that the plot was a rebel contrivance, and part and parcel of the Confederate strategy.

— "Perley" of the Boston Journal telegraphs that "Reverdy Johnson will advise with the counsel of Mrs. Surratt, but will not assume her defense. It is now the prevalent idea that the evidence of an organized conspiracy, instigated by the Jeff. Davis government, is more perfect than has been supposed. The trial of the nine persons now arraigned will doubtless be completed by next Wednesday or Thursday, when the people will learn all about their complicity with the crime."

Dr. Blackburn, who visited Bermuda to obtain clothing used in the yellow fever hospitals, for the purpose of spreading the disease in Northern cities, turns out to be Dr. Tumblety, recently the employer of Harold, the accomplice and companion of J. Wilkes Booth. We are glad to learn that the scoundrel, who was driven from Boston for his disgusting conduct, has been arrested, and is likely to suffer for his iniquities.—Traveller.

— The N. Y. Herald's Nassau letter gives a description of the rebel ram Stonewall. She is a very formidable vessel, strongly iron-plated, with two stationary turrets, three heavy guns and solid steel-pointed beak 20 feet long. Her entire crew number about 70. The Stonewall's officers acknowledge they were too late in getting afloat, and admit that the war is ended and as she could be of no use she would probably be taken back to Europe and sold. She was to leave Nassau on the evening of the 7th.

☞ Many of the papers make much talk as to where the President's murderer is buried. The miserable devil did not merit christian burial, nor is his carcass worth a thought any way.

—A correspondent who has been on an expedition through North Carolina, says that the fair sex are very sick of wearing homespun, and eagerly inquire the price of calico.

— The Daily Rebel, printed at Selma, Ala., rejoiced over the murder of the President and the assault on Mr. Seward. That Rebel has since died, as our forces have occupied Selma.

— We have now ten Territories, waiting to be made States. They are Wyoming, Arizona, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nebraska, New Mexico, Utah and Washington.

— The Vermont Caledonian says that fine wool on the brain has raised the price of beef steak in that section to 35 cents per lb. Many of our farmers have become possessed of the idea that much more money is to be made on Spanish merinos, than on neat cattle, and we begin to experience one of the results.

BALTIMORE, May 10th.

Messrs. Editors:—Rebels who left this vicinity at the breaking out of the rebellion, and who have been down South ever since, doing what they could to help that infernal cause, find that they are not received with open arms by the loyal people, on their return to their former homes. In fact, if it is a possible thing to prevent their coming back here to live, it will be done,—for their presence is an insult to every loyal citizen in Maryland, and some are determined not to have them here, if there is any way to stop them.

Meetings have been held in this city and in several of the counties to achieve this object; and orders have been issued by Gen. Wallace to the effect that no rebel soldiers be allowed to remain here over twenty-four hours, unless they take the oath of allegiance. Several clergymen, who have been all along notorious rebels, had to come up to the scratch and take the oath, or else leave. The City Council got their back up about these ministers, and passed a resolution requesting Gen. Wallace to send them out of the city; but on their promise to behave well, and be good loyal citizens, he consented to let them remain. The Council are not satisfied, though, and they may agitate the subject again.

Trade with the South is already commencing. Two lines of steamers run from here to Richmond, and several vessels are loading for the same port. The restrictions heretofore placed on trade are in a great measure removed, and the effect is already seen in the increased number of vessels and steamers leaving and arriving. The Merchants and Miners Transportation line, which before the war ran between Baltimore and Boston, has lately commenced operations again, and there will soon be some splendid steamers on this favorite route.

"Yankees" were not held in very high esteem in Baltimore four years ago, but a change has taken place since then; and now, folks who come from New England are not ashamed of the fact, and are proud to be called "Yanks"—although there are a few—who came some time ago—who are the worst rebels here, and who try to conceal that they are Northerners, but they are only despised by all, both Union and rebel.

Strawberries and peas are getting plenty, but are as yet too expensive to be indulged in to any great extent.

P. S.—The report extensively circulated by the Northern papers, that the tomb of of the late Senator Hicks had been broken open and the remains stolen, is utterly devoid of truth. No such thing has taken place. Truly Yours,

ROCKINGHAM COUNTY.

THE ASSASSINATION.—An interesting statement respecting the confession of Paine, who made the attempt on Secretary Seward's life, is given in a Washington letter to the N. Y. Times. Paine states that he had never seen Mr. Seward, that he had nothing against him, and that he attempted to kill him only because he had sworn to do it. The whole affair, he has said, was a gigantic failure—only two (Booth and himself) of the whole number concerned having kept their oaths. If it had succeeded, he says, the actors in it would never have been known. This seems at first sight inconsistent with the open exposure made of himself by Booth after assassination of Mr. Lincoln; but it was part of the plan to turn off the gas in the theatre the instant the pistol shot was heard, and the man was found at the controlling stop-cock to whom that duty had been assigned, but he failed to hear the signal.

The writer states that Mr. Seward talks freely of the assassination and of all its circumstances and antecedents, and adds:

"I do not think he was in the least surprised at it. Indeed, he has more than once within the last two years told me in conversation that we should never emerge from this great war without political assassinations. They might be attempted in the hope of aiding the rebellion, or for the purpose of revenging its defeat; but they were morally certain to come. For his own part, I know that he had made his personal arrangements with a view to the possibility of such a close of his own career."

It is believed that the trial of the conspirators will not be concluded before the 1st of August, as there are some three hundred witnesses to examine.

The arrested man, supposed to be Surratt, turns out to be no conspirator of any kind.

VIOLATION OF THE LIBERTY OF THE PRESS.—Gen. McDowell has suppressed the Amador Despatch newspaper of California. The chief offence charged upon it was that "it had been lately extolling the assassination of the President." It was a habit into which it had fallen, and not merely a single indiscretion, which marked it for the vengeance of the minions of power. This violation of the liberty of the press, the Transcript thinks,—taken in connection with the "arbitrary arrest" of the assassins themselves, cannot but draw down upon the Government the severest condemnation of all lovers of Copperhead freedom.

GOLD, in New York, Saturday morning, was quoted at 130 1-4.

— The coal-miners of Pennsylvania are on a strike, and several mines are not worked. The owners say they cannot reduce the price of coal while wages are at the present rates. Owners have given notice to the miners, that a reduction of 40 cents per ton must be made, thus reducing their wages from four to three dollars per day, which they have refused.

— The Nation, a new paper in the interest of the freedmen, is soon to appear in New York, under the auspices of the National Freedmen's Aid Union. It will be edited by Wendell Phillips Garrison, aided by Edmund Quincy, J. G. Whittier, Mrs. Child, and other eminent anti-slavery writers.

The Holman Opera Troupe gave a splendid Concert on Saturday evening—and announce a new and very attractive bill to-night. Their performances "need no bush"—they are amply able to "blow their own horns." Go and see if it isn't so.

The performances on Saturday evening were excellent throughout, and the interest kept up till the last of the long and varied programme. The audience was good, and included many of our first citizens; and it is rarely indeed that we have such fine performances here—in fact, they are hard to beat anywhere. Little Miss Sally Holman is a splendid singer, and a pleasing actress; and the whole company, though many of them are quite young, is about the most talented, agreeable, and entirely satisfactory troupe we ever saw. Everything is done up Brown, we tell you, at the Holmans.

In the Police Court on Friday, Willard Gee, one of those credulous employees of Uncle Sam technically known as "marines," was arraigned to answer to the charge of drunkenness. It is, perhaps, not digressing too much from our reportorial duty, to mention that Willard, having worn the Federal blue for a long time, desires to change the color of his garb, and so while in the oblivious condition to which we have referred, he purloins a coat from a man named George Shelley, who, by the way is a sort of Knight-marshal at a "house refuse" on Water street. The intrinsic value of the coat is about fifty cents in Confederate currency at its present quotations.

George Shelley, the man of leisure referred to above, for attempting to obtain this valuable portion of his wardrobe in an illegal manner, was fined $5 and costs $5.74.

James Malay, a soldier, for drunkenness was fined $3.00 and costs $3.86. Being financially embarrassed, he was forced to yield to his pecuniary circumstances, and accordingly was conveyed to that cheap boarding-house on Islington street, kept by Sheriff Adams.

Charles Simpson, a sailor, for a little of the P. R. practice on Officer Anderson, was fined $7.00 and costs $3.86.

John Lewis, a boy, for assaulting a Mrs. Jervis, was fined $3.00 and costs $3.86.

"Major" Langdon, a precocious youth, paid a fine of $1.00 and costs $1.27, for the privilege of exercising his lungs on the public street.

Daniel Hawley, a marine, for drunkenness was fined $3.00 and costs $3.86.

Commander E. G. Parrott, of this city, has been transferred from the command of the iron-clad Miantanomah at New York, to the command of the iron-clad Agamenticus, now lying at anchor in our lower harbor as a defense, in case of an attack by the rebel iron-clad Stonewall, should that vessel come this way.

The building located on the Portsmouth Steam Factory's grounds, heretofore used for a club bowling saloon, was sold at auction on Saturday, by Mr. Hackett, to the Factory Corporation for $270.

Senator Clark, with other distinguished gentlemen, visited the Navy Yard on Saturday and was received with the customary salute.

For the Chronicle.

— The attempt of Secessionists to be free from the "rule of the masses," gave the negroes opportunity to throw off the yoke of the "massers."

— Now that military men have "broke the back-bone" and "crushed the heart" of the rebellion, it remains for the historian to see to its tale.

— Probable—that the fugitive Davis will shortly reach an underground.

— Let those who will, offer apologies for the conduct of the rebel leaders; I will never attempt to palliate the crimes of the infamous Rhett-ches.

— The Daniel street printery not proving very stable, one cow at least has—gone to grass. YARD STICK.

— Three steamers besides the regular passenger boats Lady of the Lake and Chocorua, are now running on Lake Winnepisseogee.

— President Smith of Dartmouth College has accepted an invitation to be present in Concord, on the first of June, and conduct the devotional exercises at the public gathering.

— Senator Clark has accepted the invitation extended by the city government of Manchester, to deliver, on the day of the National Fast, a eulogy on President Lincoln.

CAPITOL AND CAPITAL.—The Capitol of "the Southern Confederacy" is a baggage-wagon; and the capital is wherever Jeff. Davis is obliged to stop to grease his wheels or beg provender for his horses.—Voice.

— In the Boston Common Council, on Thursday evening, the order relating to the opening of the reading room of the Public Library on Sunday evenings, between the hours of five and ten o'clock, came up for consideration, and was discussed at length. It was finally passed by a vote of twenty-two against eighteen.

REIMBURSEMENT TO DRAFTED MEN.—The following petition is now being circulated in all parts of the State for signatures. It explains itself.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives in General Court convened:

The undersigned represent, that during the existence of the present rebellion many persons liable to draft have been obliged to pay large sums of money to procure substitutes and get exempted from the draft; that in many instances the burden has fallen upon those who were unable to bear it without subjecting themselves to great trouble, inconvenience and distress. Wherefore, they pray your honorable bodies to enact a Law giving to cities and towns the right, at any legal meeting duly called and holden for that purpose, to refund to any and all persons who have paid money from their own funds to procure exemption from the draft, the money so paid by them; and as, in duty bound will ever pray.

— The Memphis Bulletin learns that Jeff. Tompson's command actually with him, numbered eight men, when he heard of Lee's surrender. The eight men at once abandoned him and went home, and he sent an offer to surrender, which was accepted.

— If the Mexican emigration scheme assumes any larger proportions or is likely to lead to overt acts, a proclamation will be issued warning loyal citizens against committing any breach of the neutrality laws. President Johnson will not suffer his private views in favor of the Monroe Doctrine to influence the national policy of neutrality observed by Mr. Lincoln.

— Our exchanges are discussing the matter of having the celebration of the coming Fourth of July a grand one.

— A military force will probably be retained at Staunton, in the Shenandoah Valley, until affairs in that quarter are finally quieted down.

— The American Telegraph Co. are about to extend their lines from Meredith Village, via Centre Harbor, to North Conway, thus connecting all of the Mountain Houses.

THE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.—Liberty is one of the dearest blessings which our forefathers handed down to us. It was purchased by the blood of many a valiant revolutionary hero; has been gladdened by a Washington, a Jefferson, a Clay, and a Webster. But dearer still to the hearts of the people is that world-renowned remedy, known as Coe's Cough Balsam. It cures like magic the most violent attacks of croup, and is indispensable in every family of children. Colds, sudden coughs, sore throat, hoarseness, and inflamed lungs, are instantly and surely cured by its timely use. No cough mixture has ever been known that equals it, which accounts for its great popularity with all classes. The young and the old—the rich and poor—physicians, druggists—and all who have ever tested it speak in the highest terms of its merits. We say to our readers—buy it and try it. It costs but 40 cents the bottle, contains twice as much medicine as you can obtain in any other way at the same cost, and all our drug stores keep it. ap11dawlm

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

The sale of the first series of $300,000,000 of the 7-30 Loan was completed on the 31st of March, 1865. The sale of the second series of Three Hundred Millions, payable three years from the 15th of June, 1865, was begun on the 1st of April.

In the short space of thirty days, over One Hundred Millions of this series have been sold—leaving this day less than Two Hundred Millions to be disposed of. The interest is payable semi-annually in currency on the 15th of December and 15th of June by Coupons attached to each note, which are readily cashed anywhere. It amounts to

One cent per day on a $50 note.

More and More Desirable.

The Rebellion is suppressed, and the Government has already adopted measures to reduce expenditures as rapidly as possible to a peace footing, thus withdrawing from Market as borrower and purchaser.

This is the ONLY LOAN IN MARKET now offered by the Government, and constitutes the GREAT POPULAR LOAN OF THE PEOPLE.

The Seven-Thirty Notes are convertible on the maturity, at the option of the holder, into

U. S. 5-20 Six per cent.

GOLD-BEARING BONDS,

which are always worth a premium.

Free from Taxation.

The 7.30 Notes cannot be taxed by Towns, Cities, Counties or States, and the interest is not taxed unless on a surplus of the owner's income exceeding six hundred dollars a year. This fact increases their value from one to three per cent. per annum, according to the rate levied on other property.

SUBSCRIBE QUICKLY.

Less than $300,000,000 of the Loan authorized by the last Congress are now on the market.—This amount at the rate at which it is being absorbed, will all be subscribed for within four months, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loans.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

SONNET.—EXPERIENCE.

The hopes of early years! how fond and high!
Like summer-morning hours, their roseate glow,
And music-pulsing gales, entrance the ear and eye;
Hope and Experience! so widely different!
Upon life's morning hills youth stands, while brow
Smiling, with listrous light,—his gaze is bent
Toward dawning charms of life's refucent day:
The past he views, and deems his future way
Will be as smooth and fair: experience,
Howe'er, sees aims attained, to ashes turn
Within his grasp, and palls upon his sense
Blind fortune's fickleness;—but he may learn
That blighted hopes and cherished wishes crost
Will well repay at length all they have cost.

MASTER COKER'S CONCERT.—By reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that this wonderful singer, is to appear Friday night in this city, assisted by Henri Mollenhauer, the celebrated violoncellist and several other eminent artists. The following notice is from the New York Tribune of April 28th:

Master Coker was of course the chief star of attraction, as he well deserved to be for his voice is very fine—a rich toned, pure, and melodious soprano, which we have rarely heard excelled, if equalled. He sings with charming taste, and with a sense and a sentiment which could hardly be expected from one of his tender years. Master Coker is certainly better worth hearing than two-thirds of our lady concert singers. He has no affectation, no silly tremulousness. His is straightforward singing, a clear, sustained tone, pure melody, and a simple pathos which affects every one, which won the sympathy of all, and gained for every piece a hearty and unanimous encore.

PEAT AS AN ARTICLE OF FUEL.

Messrs. Leavitt & Hunnewell, of Boston, have just issued a pamphlet containing some very interesting facts about Peat, as an article of fuel, with remarks upon its origin, composition, and many other matters of practical interest. A company has been formed in Boston to promote the use of prepared Peat for fuel.

We have before us the work referred to. In the limits of 120 pages is contained an account of the origin and composition of Peat; methods of preparation for fuel, its uses in the manufacture of Iron—for generating steam and gas. Also, its various uses in paper, paper, gunpowder, and for building and ornamental work.

Experiments made by the American Peat Co., of Boston, have demonstrated that Peat, if properly prepared, might serve equally with coal, and be afforded at 4 or 5 dollars per ton. The subject is worthy of general attention, and no work has been issued which treats the subject so fully as the above book.

Within the precincts of Portsmouth, but two miles from Market-square, in Great Swamp, is a bed of Peat which if properly prepared would be brought into extensive use in Portsmouth, and afford as good a fire as coal, at less than half the cost. In former years it has been cut and used to a small extent. But it has only been used in its crude state, and its value has not been realized.

A NEW MANUFACTORY IN PORTSMOUTH.—Among the enterprising young men of our city, we must reckon Mr. Richard Hilton, who is climbing the ladder to fortune with a steady step, and with a peculiarly happy ability of making his acquaintances very glad of it. Looking for him at the West End this week, we were a little surprised to find him located in his manufactory, newly built and extensively furnished, for making Hilton's Pop Beer, which has already a goodly renown hereabouts, and Hilton's Mineral Water, which requiring a very neat set of machinery, which he has just introduced at considerable expense. His Mineral Water is a new introduction this season—a beverage which comes next in quality to that from the soda fountain; and better, because it is portable. The bottles are charged at a pressure of from 125 lbs. to the square inch, of those of the bottled up Genius told of in the Arabian nights Entertainments,—and, as may be imagined, they furnish a lively drink. Hilton's handsome wagon by which he supplies Portsmouth and the neighboring towns, can be seen on the move at almost any time of day. Though he is generally wide-awake, he is for once surprised by this unexpected notice.

COLORED ORATOR.—The Boston Transcript of March 4th, says—Mrs. F. E. W. HARPER, a colored orator, has taken the field, and is pronounced to be superior to Miss Dickinson. She spoke before the Legislative Committee on Education in Rhode Island, delivering a most eloquent and touching address. She also lectures on Reconstruction. She will lecture at the Temple in Portsmouth in the course of next week, of which public notice will be given.

Health Regulations.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH of the City of Portsmouth call the attention of the public to the following sections of City Ordinance No. 4, and invite all interested in the preservation of health in the City to aid them in the execution of their duty.

SEC. 2.—All waste water of houses yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, &c. shall be conveyed by their own ers or occupiers to the nearest public drain, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall carry them or throw them into the river below low-water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners or occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten days from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time above specified.

SEC. 11. The health officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure to remove or destroy any nuisance or other thing deemed by them, on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier —the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said health officers may, by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel, or enclosure and cause the said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 14. The owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure shall be liable to pay the expense of the removal or destruction of any such nuisance or other thing aforesaid, including fees of the health officers who order it to be made to be removed; and the same may be recovered by action to be brought in the name of the city.

SEC. 16. And whenever any person or persons shall violate any rule or regulation, or commit any act forbidden in any section of this ordinance, it which no special penalty is annexed, shall forfeit and pay a sum not less than one dollar nor more than twenty dollars, to be recovered by complaint before the police court of this city.

The properties of this Company consist of 643 acres, principally owned in Fee Simple, of the most desirable Oil Lands, situated mostly in Oil Creek, Penn., upon which there are three wells now down, capable of producing from 100 to 1000 barrels per day when completed, as they are located so near the great producing interests of the Empire, Noble, Sherman and Drake wells, on this noted creek. This Company offer inducements seldom met with. The capital stock is very small for the amount of valuable oil lands the Company possesses. Three engines are already at the wells. Our Agent at Titusville writes us that the well on Farm No. 1 continues to improve in showing, which places this Company beyond a doubt of success. The Officers of this Company, in placing this property before the New England public, have full confidence that no properties yet offered are superior, or any out of which larger and more certain dividends may be made be expected. Maps and full information given on application to the Treasurer. Subscriptions received for sale of the COMPANY, Room 23, State street, and at the OFFICE OF THE COMPANY, No. 47 Congress Street, Boston.

Cleanse the Blood.

With corrupt, disordered or vitiated Blood, you are sick all over. It may break out in pimples, or Sores, or in some active disease, or it may merely keep you listless, depressed and good for nothing. But you cannot be well, while your blood is impure. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA purges out these impurities and stimulates the organs of life into vigorous action, restoring the health and expelling disease. Hence it rapidly cures a variety of complaints which are caused by impurities in the blood, such as Scrofula, or King's Evil, Tumors, Ulcers, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter or Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Canker, Cancerous Tumors, Sore Eyes, Female Diseases, such as Retention, Irregularity, Suppression, Whites, Sterility, and Female Weakness, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, and Heart Diseases. Try AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, and see for yourself the surprising activity with which it cleanses the blood and cures these disorders.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to sell for a cent a quart of Sarsaparilla, for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contained little or no Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla offered in the market, until the name itself has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound "Sarsaparilla," for it is what people call for, and want, and should have, and we now know they can depend on it as a good article. We do not claim for it more than we know it produces, and we have reason to believe, it is by far the most effectual purifier of the blood yet discovered for sick people.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL is so universally known to surpass every other remedy for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Incipient Consumption, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease, that it is needless here to recount the evidence of its virtues. The world knows them.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass. and sold by Brackett Hutchings, Thatcher, W. R. Preston, David Kimball, and all druggists.

The New Hampshire Petroleum Co. is organized with great care, under the management of some of the ablest financiers and most successful business men in the State, whose integrity is above reproach, and who cannot be led by excitement into speculations that have not their minds a golden foundation. Their lands have been selected with great caution. Mr. N. R. Bates, of Titusville, who has been very successful the past year in selecting Oil Lands and boring wells, was located in charge of the guidance prominent in starting this company as a man strictly honest, sagacious, and experienced in the Petroleum region, and he has faithfully and wisely selected the proper farms. He did so. Col. B. F. Martin, Wm. F. Newell, Esq., and John D. Clarke, Editor of the Mirror, J. F. Kennard, Esq., of the firm of Fogg, Houghton & Coolidge, 64 Pearl St., Boston, and Daniel R. Lancaster, 419 Hanover St., Boston, were appointed a committee to visit the farms spoken of. Early in February they looked over the lands selected by Mr. Bates, and were so pleased with what they saw, among the very best that could be had. The great Oil Basin seems to be situated between Oil Creek and the Allegheny River, about 40 miles and twenty miles from one point to the other, and the Four Farms of the Company are within this region, and are in the very centre of the great flowing and pumping wells that have yielded the past year to the State of Pennsylvania, as Gov. Curtin says, in his Message, 600 per cent on dollars. The last of March, B. W. Harris, Esq., a well-known lawyer of Boston and late District Attorney of the Boston District, and a prominent man of Dover, N. H., and F. A. Wilcox, Esq., a lawyer of 76 Wall Street, New York, were sent out to see the lands and make a thorough and careful examination. They came to the same conclusions the others had, and the Four Farms were bought, which are thus described:

THE MATTISON FARM.

This Farm contains 54 acres and is near the confluence of Cherry Creek and East Oil Creek—The bay of the land is beautiful for Oil; high lands on each side, Cherry Creek running directly through, and a rich undeveloped Coal vein on one side. Every inch of the land is valuable for Coal or borings, and all that join it seem to be.

The oil belts run from east to west, or from north east to south west, and are from one to three miles wide. The Mattison Farm is two and a half miles in a direct line east of the great Oil flats south of Titusville, from which innumerable fortunes have flowed. Here the Steele & Mead well yielded 3500 barrels per day—the Fountain 200—the Parker 200—and scores of wells are now being worked that yield from 10 to 60 barrels daily. Nine out of every ten out of the Oil flats are a success! A ten barrel well will sell for forty thousand dollars, and a sixty barrel will sell for a million.

It is believed by good judges that every rod of the seventy-five acres of the Mattison Farm, all that is not good for coal, is equal to the Flat below Titusville, and that this portion is worth $1000 per ton, and if the vein of coal should work well it would be a fortune in itself. It is spleendid farming land, cleared and level.

The average price of oil per barrel the last year was $10 at the works, the buyers furnishing the barrels. It costs a little less than $10.0 to sink a well to the depth of 400 feet, and 500 feet deeper than that. It costs $20 per day to work it after it yields oil. G. F. Ball, of the Cherry Creek Farm Petroleum Company, says of this Farm Section:

"I consider all the lands located there, as being richer in Oil, and presenting geological features of a more full and perfect character than any other that I am acquainted with; and I have spent much time during the last few months in examining and reading Oil Territory in Venango, Crawford and Warren Counties, in all of which I have made considerable investments.—Professor Hall of Albany, Geologist of eminence, are of the same opinion regarding the lands generally throughout the valleys of Pennsylvania, and that the Farms come up to the expectations of Prof. Shepherd of Yale College, of Mr. Ball, of Mr. Bates, it will have pumping wells near all the Farms. The Farm on that Oil Belt, and your Income from this Farm alone is over one million of dollars. This Company do not expect any such fortune, but simply state facts, and let each person make his own figuring and reach his own conclusions.

THE PARKER FARM

Contains 100 acres, a heavily timbered, situated near the road to Enterprise, not far from East Oil Creek, and the Farm is cut by the Creek where the Caldwell Creek empties into Oil Creek. They have lately sunk a well right opposite this farm and struck oil, at a single good vein, and this farm would enable the Company to sell or lease the lands for great sums. The remarks about the location of the Mattison Farm, apply equally well to this.

THE BYLES FARM,

On Pit Hole Creek, contains 105 acres. It is about three miles east of Oil Creek, directly east of the Farm. Well that flows 300 barrels per day, and Jerry that flows 300, the Maple Shade and other noted flowing wells, and pumping wells without limit. This Farm is on the same Oil Belt and on the right range. There is great excitement on Pit Hole. The Frazer well is on it. It began to flow well, then became exhausted, then with a shorter rod in, and its pipe seven-eights full of machinery, it has flowed 120 barrels per day ever since.—They have not dared to pull out the sucker—not yet, fearing they had not sufficient tanks to hold the oil. The tanks they now have will hold 2,200 barrels. Below this well, on the same Creek, another fine well has been struck, and above it is a spouting well, which, when bored low enough, will yield abundantly. A little farther north the same company, the Oil United States, is putting down a well that looks already better than the Frazer well, and great expectations rest upon it. In sight of the spouting well, and between the Frazer and the one which has raised so high hopes, is the Byles Farm, all low land, and not far off from the Frazer, it is splendidly located. It abounds in sand rocks and oil indications. Mr. Bates thinks very highly of it, and has no doubt but we shall find on it flowing wells superior to any yet struck in that section. A single flowing well struck would enable us to sell the farm to small lots for ten millions of dollars. Land on high bluffs some ways removed from the Cooper well, leases for fifty years at the rate of $50,000 for strips twelve rods by sixteen, each down.

THE DAWSON FARM,

On WEST PIT HOLE, contains 25 acres, and is in the same wonderful oil region. It has oil springs on and around it, and many years ago many hogsheads were bored near it with excellent show for oil. Mr. Bates is now sinking one close to it. In a letter dated March 25, 1865, he says: "My well is showing as finely as it progresses, both in gas and oil, as any well has ever shown at the same depth on Oil Creek; gas at 90 feet; a good show of oil at 112 feet; at 140 feet gas is roiling and roaring loudly."

Within rifle shot of this farm, sixteen years ago a well was twenty-seven feet deep for water, and oil came in and spoiled it. We have no doubt that rich oil wells will be sunk on this Farm, and there is land enough, if they are rich, to make the Farm a fortune.

Circular, prospectuses, &c., containing every information, will be furnished on application at the office of the Company, or sent by mail to parties wishing to subscribe. Apply to or address

The property of this Company is located on "Coal Run Creek," Meigs County, State of Ohio, about 10 miles from Athens, containing one hundred and five acres of land. A large number of wells are successfully worked in the vicinity, some of which are paying handsome dividends.—This Company propose to commence operations at once, and entertain no doubt that at an early day they will be able to pay a handsome percentage on the investment. The known ability and commercial standing of the officers of this Company afford a sufficient guaranty that the affairs will be conducted in a manner to secure the confidence of those who are disposed to invest in it.

The tract of land adjoining the property of this Company has passed into the hands of capitalists, who have sent out an experienced superintendent to commence operations at once, and their first order for machinery was $15,000. Our property has been examined under instructions from Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, who pronounced the coal, which is in abundance, to be of the best quality, yielding 80 gallons of oil to the ton, and he no doubt, from the nature of which are position of the property, that it will be found valuable in the production of oil. Most companies have to pay very high prices for their coal, all of which we save; oil can be manufactured from the coal upon the property, at a cost not exceeding ten cents per gallon, and it is proposed to commence the manufacture in connection with the sinking of wells. One dollar will buy a share of this stock, which is the par value, and all benefits derived from the lands, either by sales of oil, land or products of any kind, are to be divided among the stockholders, and in addition $200,000 worth of valuable, useful and desirable property will be given to the stockholders, as soon as all the shares are disposed of. The Company adopt this course for the purpose of disposing of their stock at the par value, rather than to sell it, as many companies do, at a subscription price, which is usually one-half. Thus, it will be perceived that every stockholder owns his shares for nothing, will be sure to realize a handsome dividend when the property is divided; it plan which is entirely honorable, and in all respects perfectly legal.

The property to be distributed among the stockholders will be equal to any in the market, and will consist of the following described articles:

$5000 to purchase a HOUSE in Boston or vicinity.
$5000 in U. S. 5-20 BONDS, CERTIFICATES of $500 each.

CHURCH FLOWERS OF THE SPRING.

First, like a flock of children, purely white,
The snowdrops lead the van, while every breeze
Seems visibly to drift the lovely foam
Upon the knolls; so sweetly do they take
Each mossy nook and arbor by surprise.
Then, as our gazes on the evening sky
And see the stars in little flashes come
Each to its place, so on the vernal earth,
Mocking the eye, the yellow primrose starts,
Till, ere the doubting sight be yet convinced,
The wood is twinkling with a thousand eyes;
And by harmonious shading reconciled
With that low-lying atmosphere of stars,
The deep Lent-lilies glow among the flowers
Like constellations girt with lesser orbs.
Next, and most loved, as seeming told to restore
The snowdrops perished in their infancy,
Comes that aerial veil of bridal white,
The thick anemones, which rather seem
The south wind's breath to mortal eye made plain
Than droves of separate flowers.

—Chur Inman's Family Mag.

A SOUTHERN EXPRESSION.—The assassination of Mr. Lincoln found a hearty and sympathetic echo in the Chattanooga Rebel, published at Selma, Ala., which thus announced the atrocious crime

"William H. Seward, the cold-blooded and heartless miscreant, who guided the infernal policy which has plunged us into this bloody and desolating war, has been arrested by an angry God in the midst of his iniquities, and has paid the penalty of his crimes, at the hands of an unknown assassin.

Abe Lincoln, too, the political mountebank and professional joker, whom Nature intended for the ring of a circus, but whom a strange streak of popular delusion elevated to the Presidency—he, also, has fallen. His career was as short as it was bloody and infamous. He has gone to answer before the bar of God, for the innocent blood that he has permitted to be shed, and his efforts to enslave a free people."

The next day the news was greatly magnified, and the Rebel announced that President Johnson and Secretary Stanton had been murdered by a mob that had taken possession of Washington; that other cities had been sacked by rioters, and that a great popular revolution was impending—all of which, very likely, the conspirators hoped to bring about.

A FOREBODING.—The following advertisement appeared in the Selma (Ala.) Dispatch in December last, and was republished in Northern newspapers. It seems to indicate the existence of an organized plot of assassination among some of the Southern leaders:

One Million Dollars Wanted, to have Peace by the First of March.—If the citizens of the Southern Confederacy will furnish me with the cash, or good securities for the sum of one million dollars, I will cause the lives of Abraham Lincoln, Wm. H. Seward, and Andrew Johnson, to be taken by the first of March next. This will give us peace and safety. If this is not accomplished, nothing will be charged beyond the sum of fifty thousand dollars, in advance, which is supposed to be necessary to reach and slaughter the three villains. I will give, myself, one thousand dollars toward this patriotic purpose. Every one wishing to contribute will address box X, Cahawba, Alabama.

R. E. LEE AND HIS SLAVES. — The clergyman who recently headed the delegation which called to "pay their respects" to General Lee in Richmond, it is reported, had in charge the "education and religious interests of the Freedmen." The New York Tribune has the following among its special Washington despatches:

The respects recently tendered to Robert E. Lee, might be somewhat modified by a knowledge of the testimony offered before a committee of the War Department by the late slaves of that Generalissimo. They were formerly held by Custis, who freed them at his death, after which Lee insisted that they should work for him five years to pay a debt owed him by Custis, his father-in-law. The emancipated slaves were mutinous and several ran away North, but were retaken and returned, and whipped terribly by the overseer in the presence of Lee.

— The London Morning Herald (ultra Tory) has, in all that relates to American affairs, ever displayed so much ignorance and absurdity, that the world has hardly done credit to its venom. It is as if the spirit of Iago should be transmigrated into the form and brain of Mrs. Gamp. Its intelligence is in such a condition of "flabby torpor" that its imbecility is a thick screen to its malice. In commenting, however, on the assassination of the President, it has fairly surpassed itself, and really reaches the top and crown of whatever sublimity there is in perfect witlessness. "He is gone," it mumbles; "the pilot is gone. His country is left to toss in the sea of dismal anarchy; a revolution of which no man can possess to foretell the issue."

THE DELANY CASE.—The Lewiston Journal learns from a gentleman who was a witness in this case, that no reliable testimony was produced against Dr. G. M. Delaney, the Augusta substitute broker, and it was the general impression that the Court's decision would be in his favor.

— The papers from all parts of the country speak of the advanced state of the season, and say that the grass crop and fruit trees promise to yield abundantly.

See what the most popular and widely circulated periodicals say of our Establishment:
From the "Dispatch" of February 25, 1865.
We take pleasure in calling the attention of our readers to the announcement of Messrs. Devaugh & Co.'s Great Sale of Jewelry, Silver Ware, and Fancy Goods, in our advertising columns. We are personally acquainted with the members of this firm and know them to be gentlemen of staring worth and honor. The low price of goods, for variety and extent, we have scarcely seen paralleled.
From the "Mirror of Fashion," March 1, 1865.
Messrs. Devaugh & Co.'s Great Sale of Jewelry, etc., opened on the 15th ult., and we venture to say that no finer display of goods was ever exhibited by any establishment in this city. The ladies thronged their bazaar almost to suffocation, although the streets were rendered nearly impassable by the melted snow and slush. We predict for them a wonderful success.
From the "Ledger," February 28, 1865.
Our lady friends should visit the extensive establishment of Messrs. Devaugh & Co., No. 15 Maiden Lane, if they wish to indulge themselves with a sight which they will long remember.—Such a profusion of elegant Watches, Chains, Rings, Earrings, and, in short, of jewelry of every name, kind and description, we never before witnessed. Their silver and plated ware is superb, and almost casts into the shade the other splendid establishments which have long been the boast of our city. It is estimated that their stock is worth not less than one million dollars.

The Best Ink in the World!
A CHEAP PRODUCT DISCOVERED.
A Substitute for Costly Galls, and a Writing Fluid produced that challenges Competition!
INK POWDERS
TO CARRY IN YOUR POCKET, FROM WHICH TO MAKE INK AT PLEASURE.
—AND—
THE INK MADE in Three Minutes.
Forty Cents will buy Powder enough to furnish a family for years.
FREEZING DON'T HURT IT.
An accident revealed to a Machinist, in Manchester, N. H., a certain result which by the aid of Chemistry has been used till the most beautiful writing fluid, better than anything imported or home-made, flowing freer, writing easier, handsomer, as lasting as time, not injuring the pen a whit, has been produced.
It is put up in the form of a small powder, stands all climates, good for years, and can be converted into elegant black writing fluid in three minutes.
A company has lately been formed for the manufacture of these Powders, and although the Fluid has been before the public but a few weeks the most astounding testimonials have been received in its favor, all unsolicited. We select a few from the many.
The greatest qualities of these Ink Powders over everything else in the market are:
1st—It makes an ink of a beautiful, glossy, rich color, that every body will be delighted with.
2d—It flows freely, does not gum up, thicken on the pen or corrode it a particle, and never fades, and will endure as long as the paper on which it is used.
3d—Its cheapness baffles all competition. Forty cents will buy enough to fill fifty common bottles that are retailed at ten cents each.
4th—Convenience. Can be carried to the army, to sea, to the mines, to far off countries.
5th—Wipe your pen dry after using it, and a single steel pen will last with this ink till the paper wears the point off. It is as harmless as water.
Testimonials.
MIRROR AND AMERICAN OFFICE, Manchester, N. H., Jan. 11, 1865.
To the American Ink Company: I have tried your Ink Powders. They work to a charm. They make perfect ink in three minutes, the best ink I ever saw. It flows easily, does not gum up the pen or corrode it. I have cleared my bookstands of all other kinds of ink. JOHN B. CLARKE.
MELROSE, Mass., Feb. 1, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: I wish heartily to thank you for the wonderful Ink which you have given to the public. I have made Ink, for eight years past, from Prof. Ure's Recipe, (made of Aleppo Galls, Sulphate Iron and Gum Senegal,) and have sold large quantities of it. Have supplied the schools in this town with it for two years, and every one using it gave it great praise. It is a good Ink, but my occupation is all gone now. Your Ink is the best article of the kind I ever used. This is no puff. Some in my bookstands froze up solid twice and it now flows just freely as at the first, and is not changed in the color a single shade. It is a beautiful black; it flows so readily that I can write one-quarter faster with it than with any other Ink. It ought to be introduced into every school in the Union.
Yours truly, J. W. POLAND.
Washington, D. C., Feb. 4, 1864.
To the American Ink Company: I have tried your Ink Powders, and I think, without any exception, it makes the best writing fluid I ever used I would not be without. I remain yours,
GEO. H. HOLMES,
Battery M, 1st Mass. H. Artillery.
Kewanee, Henry Co., Illinois, Feb. 20, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: Received the Powder that you sent, and to say that I am pleased with it is true, but does not express what I should like to say. The community have long wanted an Ink Powder that could stand the test of freezing and that would not corrode the pen, and several have been produced. Prof. Ure's was an excellent recipe, but was spoiled by freezing. I have frozen this to test it, and find that it is not affected by it.
I have introduced it into my school in this place, and had I a quantity of it it would find a ready sale. Thinking you in behalf of the community and myself for such a discovery, I remain, very respectfully, your obedient servt,
GEO. W. PARKER.
Deering, March 1, 1865.
To the American Ink Company:—This is to certify that I have given your Ink Powder a little, and I am happy to state it works to perfection. It has a superiority over all other Inks within my knowledge. And I would cheerfully recommend it to the lawyer, the merchant, or any person whose business requires any amount of writing.—It does not corrode, and flows as freely after being frozen as before. Respectfully yours,
ALMON M. COREY.
Nashua, N. H., March 18, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: The Ink made from the powders you sent me came is the best I ever used. There is none of that sticky substance about it that there is to most kinds of ink. It flows freely and works to a charm.
Yours truly, GEORGE W. FLANDERS.
Brookline, N. H., March 13, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: I received the Powder you sent me, and I recommend it to all those that have any writing to do, as the best Ink I ever used. I have used J. Moor's Maynard & Noyes', D. J. Ridout's, and many others, but yours far excels any I ever used.
Yours respectfully, G. E. STILES.

TUESDAY, MAY 16, 1865.

JEFF. DAVIS and his retinue have come to a "most lame and impotent conclusion." He has overstepped the boundary that separates the sublime from the ridiculous, and falls into the latter category. Picture to yourself, if you can, a chivalrous hero, a "christian president," running away from his foes in women's clothes,—making up a suit of petticoats and bowie-knives and boots—and the boots so masculine, and running so fast, that the pursuers knew the figure was a disguise, not made to scare crows, but to save the carcase of a coward and a thief. He does not earn the honor of being captured in a fair fight, but of being run down in a fair race.

A coppery-looking passenger in a railway train on Monday morning, hearing another passenger say Jeff. Davis was captured, asked if he had really surrendered. The answer was, "Yes, I suppose so." Then came the question, "On what terms?" Answer, "I don't know." That passenger did not know. But another said—On the same terms a boy gets when stealing apples, and the farmer clutches him by the collar. The same terms a rat gets, when a trap holds him fast. The same any other felon gets, when the sheriff lays hands on him.

Lt. Col. Harden, commanding First Wisconsin, struck Davis's trail at Dublin, Lawrence county, on the evening of the 7th, and followed him closely night and day, through the pine wilderness of Alligator Creek and Green Swamp, via Cumberlandville to Irwinsville. At Cumberland, Col. Harden met Col. Pritchard, with 150 picked men and horses of the Fourth Michigan. Harden followed the trail directly South, while Pritchard, having fresher horses, pushed down the Ocmulgee, towards Hopwell, and thence by House creek to Irwinsville, arriving there at midnight of the 9th. Jeff. Davis had not arrived.

From citizens, Pritchard learned that his party were encamped two miles out of town. He made his dispositions and surrounded the camp before day. Harden had encamped within two miles, as he afterwards learned, from Davis. The trail being too indistinct to follow, he pushed on at 3 A. M., and had gone but little more than a mile when his advance were fired upon by men of the Fourth Michigan. A fight ensued, both parties exhibiting the greatest determination. Fifteen minutes elapsed before the mistake was discovered.

The firing in the skirmish was the first warning Davis received. The captors report that he hastily put on one of his wife's dresses and started for the woods, closely followed by our men, who at first thought him a woman, but discovering his boots, suspected his sex at once. The race was a short one, and the rebel President was soon brought to bay. He brandished a bowie knife of elegant pattern, and showed signs of battle, but yielded promptly to the persuasions of the captain's revolver, without compelling the men to fire. He expressed great indignation at the energy with which he was pursued, saying that he thought our government was more magnanimous than to hunt down women and children. Mrs. Davis remarked to Col. Harden, after the excitement was over, that "the men had better not provoke the President, as he might hurt some of 'em."

The parties were evidently for the coast.

☞ The Richmond Whig says let no one trouble himself with the fear of that predicted guerrilla warfare after the war is over. When, says the Whig, the organized armies of the Confederacy yielded to the fate of war, the whole fabric crumbled to pieces, and these guerrilla bands are but the succeeding clouds of dust which the breath of popular opinion is already blowing away and will never again permit to pollute our peaceful atmosphere. War being over, the people, North or South, are not going to tolerate promiscuous brigandage, outrage and murder upon peaceable and defenceless homesteads throughout our already devastated land. Whoever dares henceforth to embark in such a trade will be successful only when we cease to produce hemp and forest trees.

☞ By order from the War Department, bearing date May 8th, re-enlisted veterans and recruits, who enlisted under the provisions of the general orders of 1863 are, on being mustered out of the service prior to the expiration of their term of enlistment, to receive the full amount of the United States bounty promised them. Those enlisted and mustered under the act of July 4th, 1864, whether for one, two or three years, will, if mustered out of the service prior to the expiration of their term of enlistment, receive only that proportion of the United States bounty allowed by said act, which had actually accrued before the date of discharge. For instance, if the soldier volunteered for two years, and is mustered out before the expiration of his first year, he cannot claim either the second or third instalment of bounty. A soldier who has served half his term can claim the second instalment. Only one who has served his whole term, the third.

— Major-General Dana has been relieved from the Department of the Mississippi, and Gen. Warren, late of the Fifth Corps, put in his place.

GOV. VANCE GOES TO BUNCOMBE.—Friday, in North Carolina, Governor Vance left for home in Buncombe county. If a new election is ordered, Gov. Vance's friends, who compose the wealth and aristocracy of the State, say they will run him against Mr. Holden on the gradual emancipation platform, and are confident of success. The order of Gen. Schofield proclaiming freedom to the slaves was unexpected by the leading slaveholders.

These North Carolina rebels are as dull scholars as some Northern blockheads who sympathize with them. Gradual emancipation they might have had, six years ago;—but that day is past:—President Lincoln's proclamation, Johnston's surrender, and Gen. Schofield's order, have brushed away that spider's web. If anybody wishes to catch black flies, they use molasses for bait. The spiders can't catch them now.

☞ The Sanitary Commission is the great benevolence of the age; and when the war is closed and the history of its whole work is known, the extent of its operations will excite the admiration of the world. Give, people, give—the sick soldiers everywhere will bless you. One of the Surgeons recently said emphatically, 'were it not for the Sanitary Commission I do not know how we should feed or clothe the patients in the hospitals.'

It does also a neat work, in clothing—in many instances from top to toe—our escaped prisoners, who arrive daily, coming in singly and in squads of from two to a dozen. These dear fellows, hungry and naked, so long held in bondage and barbarous treatment, are fed, clothed, and sent on their way rejoicing. Whose heart does not leap at the very thought of a work like this! And the need of such will not end for some time yet, by any means; and let us not weary of well doing.

☞ The Tribune's Raleigh correspondent says the people of North Carolina are as rebellious, more haughty, exacting, unsubdued, and if possible, more devilish, than they ever were. One would think that we were the subjugated and conquered people, and not the rebels. He cautions the North not to take one half of what they hear of the returning spirit of loyalty as genuine.

☞ The papers by Monday's mails are much occupied with details of the murder conspirators' trial at Washington. One of the best items we have seen about it is, that when one of the smaller lawyers wished the Court to postpone examination of a witness because the great lawer Reverdy Johnson was absent, the Court said, No: Mr. Johnson might have been there, and the Court could not wait.

— The Boston Transcript wants to know "where are the Richmond Editors who, a month ago, were playing such a havoc with the North and with the English language? Do they form a part of Davis' escort? Are they 'slinging ink' in the eyes of his pursuers? Do they still find the pen mightier than the sword? The public misses their prophetic foresight of political events, their gentle strictures on Yankee foibles, and their genial comments on national affairs generally." We hope no allusion is intended, in speaking of ink, to our friend of the Stars and Bars, which also ought to have been printed in rebeldom, if at all.

— The subscriptions to the 7-30 bonds on Friday reached nearly fourteen millions; and only thirty-five millions of the present loan remains, and that will be taken at once. When it is sold, there will be left at the disposal of the Secretary of the Treasury under the act of March 3, 1865, two hundred and thirty millions. It is presumed that this amount will be issued in the shape of a third series of a seven-thirty loan, payable in three years from the 15th of October next, and that it will have as rapid a sale as the preceding series have had.

— Montgomery, Ala., has been recaptured by our troops. The rebels, previous to evacuating, burned 97,000 bales of cotton. The great mass of the people of Alabama are rejoiced at the downfall of the rebellion, and their restoration to the Union.

— A dispatch from Des Moines, Iowa, says the guerrillas who robbed the passengers of the Great Western Stage Company have been captured, "and their bodies left in the woods."

— An airy correspondent thinks that in honor of the daring captain of the rebel ram Webb, the Copperhead papers should classify themselves as Reed Organs.

— The oldest person in Newburyport, Mrs. Sarah Kimball, died on Sunday. She was 96 years old.—A lad four years of age named William Burns was drowned near the head of Central Wharf, Newburyport, on Sunday afternoon. The body was recovered in about twenty minutes after, but life was extinct.

— Gen. Thomas has issued an order to Gen. Rousseau to send a summons under a flag of truce to every body of armed men in his vicinity, calling upon them to surrender; and if they refuse, to treat them as outlaws.

— Oliver Cromwell was a staunch Puritan, and could not brook the least approach to popery. "What are these?" he once inquired, as he saw a dozen silver statues in the niches of a chapel "The twelve apostles," replied the trembling dean. "Take them down," said Cromwell, "and coin them into money, so that they may go about doing good."

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— According to the Monitor, Governor Gilmore has received dispatches from the War Department which indicate the immediate discharge of all the regiments of New Hampshire infantry now in the field. They will come home to be mustered out, and probably reach Concord in time to participate in the ceremonies on the first of June.

—— The Dover and Winnepiesseogee branch of the Boston & Maine road is now under charge of J. P. Coombs, a young man of experience in railroad matters, for seven years station agent of the Newburyport railroad at N.

☞ In case the Confederate Governor of Tennessee, I. G. Harris, succeeds in escaping to England, and taking his place among the gentlemen of that country, the aristocracy may be sure that they have no imposter claiming their sympathies, by two peculiarities mentioned by Gov. Brownlow in his proclamation offer a reward for his arrest: "He chews tobacco rapidly and is inordinately fond of liquor." There is a Southern gentleman for you!

☞ As a schooner was discharging some guns on the wharf at Fort Nichols, Newburyport, one of the iron rods of the gin gave way and knocked down three or four of the men, striking one of them, a sailor, on the head, cutting it very badly. And as the men at the fort were mounting the guns, one slipped, and the carriage fell on a soldier by the name of Magune, breaking the bones in his left foot, and otherwise injuring his leg. The young man was furloughed and sent to his home at Pembroke.

— The trial of Congressman Harris for treason, was concluded on Friday. After a brief deliberation with closed doors, the Court forwarded their judgment to the Judge Advocate General, and adjourned sine die. Their decision will probably be published in General Orders next week.

LOSSES BY THE COTTON MILLS.—The footing up for our cotton mills for the last year shows that they have been doing a ruinous business, owing to the large quantity of cloth on hand when the prices fell. The total losses of the four corporations will not fall much short of four hundred thousand. We believe they are doing well now and rapidly making up for the past.—Newburyport Herald.

JOHNSTON'S SPOILS AND SPOILERS.—Captain J. Myers, the Ordnance officer, has received from Johnston's army nearly 9000 stand of arms, and will probably receive 150 cannon.

— There is a large emigration of Scotch coal miners to this country. If they bring their "striking" habits with them, it were better they staid at home, as there are plenty of their kind in this country already. There is a general strike at present in most of the Scotch coal districts.

— The negroes of Richmond say that Bishop Moore, in addressing them on one occasion, said: "Now, ye servants, keep your kitchens clean, make good light bread season and cook your meats to the taste of your masters, and perhaps by-and-by you may be admitted to the kitchen of Heaven."

— The striped bug, so destructive to melons and cucumbers, may be effectually got rid of by placing an open coop with a hen and small chickens near the vines. The little chicks will hunt and destroy the bugs, without injury to the plants.

— The colored woman is still living at the Freedmen's village, upon the Arlington estate, who was whipped by General Lee after the overseer had refused the job, because he thought she did not deserve it.

— The jury in the case of Maine vs. Benj. D. Peck et al, have decided that the bond on which the State sues to recover, was good against the defendants.

—Free soup of an excellent quality is daily dealt out to the citizens of Richmond, by the United States Christian Commission.

—The first point at which the rebels commenced the erection of works for blockading the Mississippi river was at Vicksburg.

— An old negress at Fortress Monroe, when she heard of the assassination of President Lincoln, found consolation in ejaculating between her sobs, "Bress de Lord, they can't kill God; they can't assassinate Him!"

— A fatal Accident occurred on the Eastern railroad, on Saturday. An Irishman named Cummings, belonging to Amesbury Mills, was going home; and for some cause extended his head and a considerable portion of his body out of the car window, when he struck a stone pier that supports a bridge, and was so injured, as to lose his life. The accident occurred soon after leaving Boston.

— The $100,000 which the Am. Unitarian Association asked of the churches of that faith, has been subscribed, and appearances now indicate there will be quite an excess contributed. The President of the Association has already acknowledged the receipt of $104,000.

— Five thousand negroes are employed clearing up the burnt district of Richmond, and business otherwise seems to be opening new channels.

☞ "Now that Mr. Lincoln is dead, says a virulent English tory journal, his good qualities seem to come to the foreground. And why, asks Goodwin Smith, in the name of common honesty and veracity, did they not come to the foreground at the time when they were being displayed? In the same article I find the new President belabored with all the aristocratic epithets bestowed till yesterday on his predecessor, with an unthinking repetition of the same impudent falsehoods. Thus slander leaves the dead, with a hypocritical tribute to the virtues it has maligned, only to fix upon the living."

How true these remarks of Prof. Smith! Vide the Stars and Bars in this city, and all similar traitor prints—every one of which, if they regret the President's murder at all, or even pretend to, avowedly do so only for fear of its effect on their cause, and not on account of the damnable crime itself.

GOLD, Monday, 130.

— Dick Turner, the brutal keeper of Libby Prison, escaped Friday night. It is thought he will be recaptured.

— Gen. Grant is not in favor of the grand review talked of, because, as he says, the boys have all marched enough.

— The Richmond post-office is in full operation, and mails go and come twice a day from the North.

— The rush for Seven-thirties is undiminished. Over thirteen million ($13,000,000) was subscribed on Friday.

— Rev. Dr. Parker, of Boston, has explained his visit to Gen. Lee. He was invited to go, but was not much pleased with his visit, nor with the rebel.

Local.

☞ The Holman Family gave another splendid Entertainment last night—in fact, two or three entertainments in one, and all first rate too. This versatile and talented Company are not only Jacks at all trades, but also good at everything they turn their hand to in the line of music and the drama. We must say that never, on any stage, have we seen any company so fully and promptly up in their parts, in every particular.—Their programme give some details of the cast for to-night, (which is their last,) and while it would be difficult for us to say too much in praise of the performances,—we shall only remark that all who love fine music, capital acting, accurate dressing for characters, and fun alive, ought to hear the Holmans. Where all is so meritorious, it is needless to particularize; which we shall only do so far as to say that Miss Sally Holman is to our mind almost as delightful a prima donna as Miss Kellogg herself; and that the crisp, clean and brilliant performance of the lady pianist on the rich Hallet, Davis and Co. instrument, is no small treat in itself. Again we say don't fail to hear the Holmans—and this evening is your last chance.

☞ A sad commentary upon the morals of our city, is the fact that such persons exist among us, who are capable of the despicable meanness of entering the sacred precincts of a burying lot, and defacing and marring the monumental stone, or rudely robbing the grave of the flowers planted or deposited thereon, which may hap have been watered by the tears of a loving friend. Passing through the Auburn Street Cemetery a short time since, our attention was called to a mutilated and shattered picture which had once occupied a place in the gravestone, at the foot of which it was lying, and had doubtless been a target for some wanton individual with a heart harder than the rock he threw,—to destroy this little remembrancer of the departed. We passed on, and noticed a beautiful marble monument disfigured apparently by stone-throwing. Frequent complaints have also been made in regard to the purloining of flowers from graves, a practice so common that immediate measures should be taken to check it.

Another disgraceful practice is the habit which many young men have,—especially at this season of the year, of loitering about and upon the walls surrounding the Yard, ogling every passer by. We say that no gentleman will do this. It is a disgrace to the city, a stigma upon the families of which they are members, and a great annoyance to those who wish to visit the spot where lies all that remains dear of those loved ones gone before.

We trust that some enterprising individual will make a move in a direction that will result in the abatement of such nuisances,—more intolerable even than the slaughter-houses so contiguous.

One or two good watchmen should be stationed in the cemetery throughout the day and evening, to guard the grounds and detect the authors of vandalism. We think no proprietor of a burial-place there would object to paying the tax resulting from the employment of two reliable men,—who also might be employed in improving the grounds. COM.

☞ In the Police Court on Monday, Hannah Griffin and Emma Dowers were convicted of night-walking and were sentenced to three months in the House of Correction. Appealed and gave bonds in the sum of $50.00.

John Soughton for fornication, was bound over in the sum of $300. Mittimus issued.

Thomas Cotton for assault, was fined $3 and costs $3.86.

Joanna Crean for larceny, ordered to recognize in the sum of $100 for her appearance at the October Court.

☞ On Sunday, at noon, when the "cheering" news of Jeff. Davis' arrest arrived, one of our first citizens took off his hat, at the telegraph-post in front of Dr. H.'s, and called for three cheers, which were given with a will by the small party present; and the example was followed by others, as they came up and read the announcement. It was also, we are told, designed to ring all the bells at midnight, &c., but the idea was given up on account of several cases of severe sickness in the city.

— Respecting Jeff.'s donning the petticoats, a very "proper" friend of ours remarked that he thought that was coming to the last shift.

FESTIVAL.—The Ladies of the Unitarian Soldiers' Aid Society, of Portsmouth, announce a Festival for the benefit of the Soldiers, at the Temple, Monday and Tuesday, June 12th and 13th prox. They invite Contributions of Money, Fancy Articles, Flowers, or Refreshments, from any who feel interested in the cause, which needs unremitting labor for some months to come. Any donations may be sent to Mrs. J. B. HALEY, No. 9 Richards Avenue, Portsmouth, or to any member of the Committee: Mrs. Haley, Mrs. F. W. Miller, Mrs. H. F. Pray, Mrs. John Sise, Mrs. M. P. Brooks, Mrs. Wm. Day, Miss M. E. L. Pickering, Miss E. W. Morrison, Miss Carrie C. Haley, Committee.

☞ B. P. Shillaber, esq., was "at home" for a few hours on Monday—that is, he was in this city; and we are happy to say he has never got weaned from the old place, as some of the sons have.

☞ We learn that a large reduction of the force now employed on the Navy Yard is proposed; orders having been received suspending a large part of the work on vessels.

☞ Philharmonic Rehearsal this (Tuesday) evening at half-past seven.

☞ It will be seen that the old and popular Atlantic House, at Rye Beach, is now open for the summer; and that Mr. Lougee, widely and favorably known as for several years connected with the establishment, is this season to conduct that favorite hostelry—in which capacity, all who know him will be sure of his giving good satisfaction.

☞ The May number of the U. S. Service Magazine is received from the publisher, Chas. B. Richardson, New York. This number contains a portrait of Phil. Sheridan, and the table of contents give promise of a literary feast in those departments to which the magazine is chiefly devoted.

☞ Part No. 47 of the Rebellion Record, with fine portraits of Gens. Starkweather and A. McD. McCook, is received from D. Nostrand, publisher, New York. The early close of the rebellion, thus allowing the completion of this publication, renders it desirable for all those wishing this valuable work, to forward their orders at once.

☞ Mr. Geo. Lunt gives notice, in the Boston Courier of Monday, that he resigns the editorship of that paper, and trusts that "whatever of obloquy or opposition may have been incurred by that paper, in consequence of the condition of parties, may be averted from it" by his ceasing to be editor. Mr. Lunt is certainly an able writer; yet he has made a most unpopular paper,—and unless it should change its tone as well as its editor, it cannot be otherwise, now that the rebellion is a failure.

— It is supposed that Jeff. Davis will be brought to Washington and tried for murder.

Free from Taxation.

The 7.30 Notes cannot be taxed by Towns, Cities, Counties or States, and the interest is not taxed unless on a surplus of the owner's income exceeding six hundred dollars a year. This fact increases their value from one to three per cent. per annum, according to the rate levied on other property.

SUBSCRIBE QUICKLY.

Less than $300,000,000 of the Loan authorized by the last Congress are now on the market.—This amount at the rate at which it is being absorbed, will all be subscribed for within four months, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loans.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. From the Portsmouth Journal.

Mr. C. Meisekth, who has been a resident in this city for the last sixteen years, as an instructor in Music, Drawing and more recently displaying his fine taste in the production of beautiful photographs, has been induced to remove his residence to Newburyport, where in connection with another gentleman he will devote his attention to the latter branch of the fine arts, of which his good taste and scientific knowledge have made him a skilful practitioner. Personally, we are under many obligations for his polite attentions, and we wish him success in his new locality.

The following naval orders have been promulgated:—Several times the Department has ordered Commander M. C. Marin to the command of the Vandalia at Portsmouth, and placed Commander E. C. Bowers, now in command of that vessel, on "waiting orders;" but by orders of the 24th ult., both commanders retain their present positions.—Marin on court martial duty, and Bowers in command the Vandalia. Commander Jas. R. Childs has been detached (April 24) from command of the naval rendezvous at Portsmouth, and is waiting orders. Also, Ass't Surgeon E. C. Vermeulen has the same orders. Passed Ass't Surgeon J. H. Clark is detached from the Portsmouth yard, and ordered to the "Molongo." The resignation of Acting Ensign Jas. H. Barry of the Vandalia has been accepted. The appointment of Acting Vol. Lieut. Henry C. Keene, of the Portsmouth naval rendezvous, has been revoked.

The Eulogy at Concord.—Governor Gilmore is making special exertions with reference to the ceremonies in Concord of the National Fast on the 1st proximo. Hon. James W. Patterson, representative from the Third District, is to pronounce a funeral eulogy upon the life, character and services of Abraham Lincoln. Social, religious, philanthropic and military organizations, Sons of Temperance, Odd Fellows, Masons, etc., are especially invited. The veteran soldiers of our State will very properly form a prominent feature in the processions of the day. This, it is expected, will be an imposing occasion, and its observances and programme will doubtless be efficiently and successfully carried out.

Rebel Influence.—Sanders and Tucker, the rebel agents in Canada, and for whose apprehension a reward was offered, have fled from Montreal after fulminating the following impudent epistle:

To Andrew Johnson, President of the United States:

Your proclamation is a living, burning lie, known to be such by yourself and all your surroundings, and all the hired perjurers in Christendom shall not deter us from exhibiting to the civilized world your hellish plot to murder our Christian President. We recognize in many of your most distinguished generals men of honor, and we do not believe their association even with you, has so brutalized them as to prevent their doing justice to a public enemy under such grave charges. Be this as it may, we challenge you to select any nine of the twenty-five generals that we name, to form a court-martial for trial, to be convened at the United States fort at House's Point, or any other place, that you will not have the power to incite the mob to assassinate—Generals Scott, Grant, Sherman, Meade, Rosecrans, Howard, Burnside, Hancock, Hooker, Sheffield, Wright, Dix, Cadwallader, Emory, Blair, Pleasanton, Logan, Steele, Peck, Hatch, Franklin, Rodman, Alexander, Carr, Reynolds and Meagher.

The money that you have so profusely offered to have the unoffending neutrality of a neighboring state violated by the unmentionable scoundrel persons, to be paid over to the professional and other expenses of our trial to the lawyers that we shall designate, and who are in no wise to be prejudiced in our defense. Our witnesses also to have the fullest protection, and upon our acquittal of the charges preferred against us in your proclamation, we are to be permitted to return under safe conduct. In conclusion, we say we have no acquaintance whatever with Mr. Booth, or any of those alleged to have been engaged with him.—We have never seen or had any knowledge in any wise of him or them, and he has never written us a note, or sought an interview with us.

The properties of this Company consist of 843 acres, principally owned in Fee Simple, of the most desirable Oil Lands, situated mostly in Oil Creek, Penn., upon which there are three wells now down, capable of producing from 100 to 1000 barrels per day when completed, as they are located so near the great producing interests of the Empire, Noble, Sherman and Drake wells, on this noted creek. This Company offer inducements seldom met with. The capital stock is very small for the amount of valuable oil lands the Company possesses. Three engines are already at the wells. Our Agent at Titusville writes us that the well on the McElhany farm has commenced flowing, which places this Company beyond a doubt of success. The Officers of the Company, in placing this property before the New England public, have full confidence that no properties yet offered are more sure, or may yield their larger and more certain dividends may at once be expected. Cleanse the Blood.

With corrupt, disordered, and vitiated blood, you are sick all over. It may burst out in Pimples, or Sores, or in some active disease, or it may merely keep you listless, depressed and good for nothing. But you cannot have good health while your blood is impure. Ayer's Sarsaparilla purges out these impurities and stimulates the organs of life into vigorous action, restoring the health and expelling disease. Hence it rapidly cures a variety of complaints which are caused by impurity of the blood, such as Scrofula, or King's Evil, Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter or Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Cancer or Cancerous, Tumors, Sore Eyes, Female Diseases, such as Retention, Irregularities, Leucorrhœa, Sterility, also Syphilis or Venerial Diseases, Liver Complaints, and Heart Disease. Try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and if you would know the virtues of a living activity with which it cleanses the blood and cures these disorders.

During the last years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla, for one dollar. Most of these have been sold at a loss, for what they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla, which flood the market, until the name itself has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which it rests upon it. We think we can do this safely, for we know the virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. We can only assure the sick, that we offer them the best medicine which we know how to produce, and we have reason to believe, it is by far the most effectual purifier of the blood yet discovered for any body.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is so universally known to surpass every other remedy for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease, that it is needless here to recount the evidence of its virtues. The world knows them.

The New Hampshire Petroleum Co. is organized with great care, under the management of some of the ablest financiers and most successful business men in the State, whose integrity is above reproach, and who cannot be led by excitement into speculations that have not to their minds a golden foundation. Their lands have been selected with great caution. Mr. N. R. Bates, of Titusville, who has been very successful the past year in selecting Oil Lands and boring wells, was known to some of the gentlemen prominent in starting this company as a man strictly honest, practically acquainted with the Petroleum regions, and was solicited to aid in selecting the proper farms. He did so. Col. B. F. Mar, Hon. W. P. Newell, Hon. D. J. Daniels, John B. Clarke, Editor of the Mirror, of Manchester, J. S. Fogg, Esq., of the firm of Fogg, Houghton & Coolidge, Pearl St. Boston, and Hon. Moody Currier, 419 Broadway, New York, were appointed a committee to visit the farms spoken of. Early in March they looked over the lands selected by Mr. Bates, and became convinced that they were among the very best that could be had. The farms are located in the Noble and Sherman Oil Creek, East Oil Creek, and Alleghany river, and not twenty miles from one point to the other, and the four farms selected are located within the Basin and on the same Oil Belt of the great flowing and pumping wells that have yielded the most yield to the State of Pennsylvania. Gov. Curtin says in his Message, fifty-six million of dollars. The last of March, B. W. Harris, Esq., a well-known lawyer of Meadville, Crawford District, Capt. J. P. H. Burns, Esq., a shrewd business man of Dover, N. H., and F. A. Wilcox, Esq., a lawyer of New Bedford, New York, were sent out to see to the titles of lands, and make further examinations. They came to the same conclusions the others had, and the Four Farms were bought, which now thus described:

THE MATTISON FARM.

This Farm contains 84 acres and is near the confluence of Cherry Creek and East Oil Creek.—The lay of the land is peculiarly for Oil; high ridges on each side, Cherry Creek running directly through, and a rich undeveloped Coal vein on one side. Every inch of the land is valuable for Coal or boring wells, and there is no waste to it.

The oil leits run from east to west, or from north east to south west, and are from one to three miles wide. The Mattison Farm is two and a half miles in a direct line east of the great Oil flats south of Titusville, from which innumerable fortunes have been made. The Steele & Reed well flows 1000 barrels per day—the Fountain 200—the Parker 200—and scores of wells are now being worked that yield from 10 to 100 barrels daily. Scores of every ten wells bored on this flat are a success. A ten barrel well will sell for forty thousand dollars, and a sixty barrel will sell for half a million.

It is believed by good judges that every rod of the seventy-five acres of the Mattison Farm, all that is not good for coal, is equal to the Steele or low Parker. Coal in that section is worth $18 per ton, and if the vein of coal should work well it would be a fortune in itself. It is splendid coal, burning freely as Cannel.

The average price of oil per barrel the last year was $10 at the works, the buyers furnishing the barrels. It costs less than one dollar per barrel to the depth of 100 feet, and low go lower than that. It costs $20 per day to work it after it yields oil. The Oil Creek Farm Petroleum Company, says of this Farm Section:

"I consider all the lands located there, as being equally valuable, and possessing features of a more full and perfect character than any other that I am acquainted with; and I have spent more time in the last three months in examining and selecting Oil Territory in Venango, Crawford and Warren Counties, in all of which I have made considerable investments.—Professors MAYNARD and SHEPHERD, Geologists of eminence, are of the same opinion regarding the lands selected, and pronounce them the best East Oil Creek. If this Farm comes up to the expectations of Prof. Shepherd of Yale College, of Oil in Bedford, it will be one of the finest wells and flowing wells. The flowing wells would sell for large sums of money, and the pumping wells, on the lands in those sections, are worth many be of incalculable value. There is abundant room on each acre for 13 wells, and on this farm for over 600 wells. Just make some putation of the value of so many wells, and the yield and profit on the whole in a year, if they are as good as they are expected to be; only place wells and flowing wells. The flowing wells would sell for large sums of money, and the pumping wells, on the lands in those sections, are worth many be of incalculable value. There is abundant room on each acre for 13 wells, and on this farm for over 600 wells. Just make some putation of the value of so many wells, and the yield and profit on the whole in a year, if they are as good as they are expected to be; only place wells and flowing wells. The flowing wells on that Oil Belt, and your income from this farm alone is over one million of dollars. This Company do not expect any such results, but merely state facts, and let each person make his own figuring and reach his own conclusions.

THE PARKER FARM

Contains 100 acres, a heavily timbered, situated near the road to Enterprise, between Cherry Run Oil Creek, and between Cherry Creek and where the Caldwell Creek empties into Oil Creek. They have lately sunk a well right opposite the farm and struck oil. A single good well on this large farm would enable the Company to sell or lease the lands for great sums. The remarks about the location of the Mattison Farm, apply equally well to this.

THE BYLES FARM,

On Pit Hole Creek, contains 105 acres. Its about three miles east of Oil Creek, directly east of the Copeland. Well that flows 1000 barrels daily, the Jersey that flows 200, the Maple Shade and other noted flowing wells, and pumping wells without limit. The farm is on the same Oil Belt and on the right range. There is great excitement on Pit Hole. The Frazer well is on it. It began to flow about the middle of January, and with its sucker rod in, and its pipe seven-eights full of machinery, it has flowed 250 barrels per day ever since.—They have not dared to pull out the sucker rod yet, fearing they had not sufficient tanks to hold the oil. The tanks they now have will hold 2,200 barrels. Within a mile of Pit Hole Creek, another fine well has been struck, and above it is a spouting well, which, when bored low enough, will yield abundantly. A little farther up the same company, the United States, is putting down a well that looks already better than the Frazer well, and great excitement exists there. In sight of the spouting wells, and between the Frazer and the one which has raised so high hopes, is the Byles farm, all low land, and every rod fit for a well. It is splendidly located. It abounds in sand rocks and oil indications. Mr. Bates thinks very highly of it, and has no doubt that when sunk it will be flowing wells superior to any yet struck in that section. A single flowing well struck would enable us to sell the farm in small lots for ten millions of dollars. Land on high bluffs some ways removed from the Coquet well, leases for fifty years at the rate of $50,000 for strips twelve rods by sixteen, each down.

THE DAWSON FARM,

On Widow Pit Hole, contains 25 acres, and is in the same wonderful oil region. It has oil springs on and around it, and many wells are now being bored near it with excellent show for oil. Mr. Bates is now making one closer to it. In a letter dated March 25, 1865, he says: "My well is showing as finely as it progresses, both in gas and oil, as any well has ever shown at the same depth on Oil Creek; gas at 90 feet; a good show of oil at 114 feet; at 140 feet gas is rising and roaring loudly.

Within rifle shot of this farm, sixteen years ago a well was sunk twenty-seven feet deep for water, and oil came in and spoiled it. We have no doubt that rich oil wells will be sunk on this farm, and there is land enough, if they are rich, to make the Farm a fortune.

The property of this Company is located on "Coal Run Creek," Meigs County, State of Ohio, about 10 miles from Athens, containing one hundred and five acres of land. A large number of wells are successfully worked in the vicinity, some of which are paying handsome dividends.—This Company propose to commence operations at once, and entertain no doubt that at an early day they will be able to pay a handsome percentage on the investment. The known ability and commercial standing of the officers of this Company afford a sufficient guaranty that the affairs will be conducted in a manner to secure the confidence of those who are disposed to invest in it.

The tract of land adjoining the property of this Company has passed into the hands of capitalists, who have rent out an experienced superintendent to commence operations at once, and their first order for machinery was $15,000. Our property has been examined under instructions from Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, who pronounces the coal, which is in abundance, to be of the best quality, yielding 80 gallons of oil to the ton, and has no doubt, from the location and position of the property, that it will be found valuable in the production of oil. Most companies have to pay very high prices for their coal, all of which we save; oil can be manufactured from the coal upon the property, at a cost not exceeding ten cents per gallon, and it is proposed to commence the manufacture in connection with the sinking of wells. One dollar will buy a share of this stock, which is the par value, and all benefits derived from the lands, either by sales of oil, land or products of any kind, are to be divided among the stockholders, and in addition $200,000 worth of valuable, useful and desirable property will be given to the stockholders, as soon as all the shares are disposed of. The Company adopt this course for the purpose of disposing of their stock at the par value, rather than to sell it, as many companies do, at a subscription price, which is usually one-half. Thus, it will be perceived that every stockholder owning ten shares, for example, will be sure to realize a handsome dividend when the property is divided; a plan which is entirely honorable, and in all respects perfectly legal.

The property to be distributed among the stockholders will be equal to any in the market, and will consist of the following described articles:

$8000 to purchase a HOUSE in Boston or vicinity.
$6500 in U. S. 5-20 BONDS, CERTIFICATES of $600 each.

VOL. XXVI. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. WEDNESDAY, MAY 17, 1865 : 135. No. 112.

The Chronicle.

PUBLIC GOOD AND PRIVATE COMFORT, or private fastidiousness and selfishness often come into collision. Queen Victoria is reported to be quite disturbed because a new railroad is to be located within sight of her estate at Balmoral. The whistle of locomotives and the rattling of cars ought not, she probably thinks, to disturb royal seclusion; and she deems it, very likely, an offence, to have the picturesque scenery of the Highlands marred by the introduction of unsightly embankments.

The occupant of the British throne is not alone in her notions. They obtain even in this Democratic country. Try to locate a schoolhouse, for instance, in any village, and straightway, whilst everybody admits the necessity of the schoolhouse, nobody wants it within a quarter of a mile of his residence. It is a part of the system of public instruction, to be sure. Theoretically it is something to boast of. But bring it practically near some well-to do citizen's front door, and straightway it becomes a nuisance. Something like this is true of all improvements designed for "the greatest good of the greatest number."

Some people come very slowly to a recognition of the truth that the community is of more account than the individual, and that the luxury and exclusiveness of the latter must, when occasion requires, give way to the better accommodation of the former. The shortest way for a man to avoid sinking a corneipdon of himself, by setting up his personal wishes, whims, ease and enjoyment against enterprises designed to benefit the public; is to remember that as one of his race, and identified with the progress of his race, he is greater than he ever can be, churlishly living with reference to himself alone. As for Victoria, she being both a Queen and a woman, has an inalienable right to fret, be capricious and consult her own fancies, even in a war against locomotives.—Transcript.

☞ Wilkes' N. Y. Spirit of the Times says "many of the leading and influential business men and merchants of that city, frequent the trotting parks for the purpose of exercising their rapid trotters. Commodore Vanderbilt, Mr Bonner of the Ledger, and Col. Harper, the senior member of the firm of Harper & Brothers, are among the most prominent men who meet there, nearly every fine afternoon. There is a pleasant and constant rivalry as to who shall make the fastest time. Mr. Bonner and the Commodore, so far, lead the others; indeed, so confident is Mr. Bonner that there is no other trotter in the world that can equal the performances of his grey mare Peerless, that he has offered $1000 to any person who can produce a horse that will go round the track in the same time that Peerless has made on it."

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, u der the Act of 1837.)
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but enjoys the convenient fact of advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE thus the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, together with an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessary of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure them early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

See that the most popular and widely circulated periodicals say of our Establishment:
From the "Dispatch" of February 25, 1865.
We take pleasure in calling the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Messrs. Devaugh & Co.'s Great Sale of Jewelry, Silver Ware, and Fancy Goods, in our advertising columns. We are personally acquainted with the members of this firm and know them to be gentlemen of sterling worth and integrity. Their stock of goods, for variety and extent, we have scarcely seen paralleled.
From the "Mirror of Fashion," March 1, 1865.
Messrs. Devaugh & Co. of the Great Jewelry, etc., opened on the 15th ult., and we venture to say that no finer display of goods was ever exhibited in any city. The elegant rooms of the ladies thronged their bazaar atmost to suffocation, although the streets were rendered nearly impassible by the melted snow and slush. We predict for them a wonderful success.
From the "Ledger," February 28, 1865.
Our lady friends should visit the extensive establishment of Messrs. Devaugh & Co., No. 15 Maiden Lane, if they wish to indulge themselves with a sight which they will long remember.—Such a profusion of elegant Watches, Chains, Rings, Earrings, and, in short, of Jewelry of every name, kind and description, we never before witnessed. Their silver and plated ware is superb, and almost casts into the shade the other splendid establishments which have long been the boast of our city. It is estimated that their stock is worth not less than one million dollars.

The Best Ink in the World!
A CHEAP PRODUCT DISCOVERED.
A Substitute for Costly Galls, and a Writing Fluid produced that challenges Competition!
INK POWDERS
TO CARRY IN YOUR POCKET, FROM WHICH TO MAKE INK AT PLEASURE.
THE INK MADE in Three Minutes.
Forty Cents will buy Powder enough to furnish a family for years.
FREEZING DON'T HURT IT.
An accident revealed to a Machinist, in Manchester, N. H., a certain result which by the aid of Chemistry has been used till the most beautiful writing fluid, better than anything imported or home-made, flowing freer, writing easier, handsomer, as lasting as time, not injuring the pen as other inks have been produced.
It is put up in the form of a small powder, stands all climates, good for years, and can be converted into elegant black writing fluid in three minutes.
A company has lately been formed for the manufacture of these Powders, and although the Fluid has been before the public but a few weeks the most astonishing testimonials have been received in its favor, all unsolicited. We select a few from the many.
The greatest qualities of these Ink Powders over everything else in the market are:
1st—It makes an ink of a beautiful, glossy, rich color, that every body will be delighted with.
2d—It flows freely, does not mud up, thicken on the pen, or corrode it a particle, and never fades, and will endure as long as the paper on which it is used.
3d—Its cheapness baffles all competition. Forty cents will buy enough to fill a common bottles that are retailed at ten cents each.
4th—Convenience. Can be carried to the army or navy, to the mines, to far off countries.
5th—Wipe your pen dry after using it, and a single steel pen will last with this ink till the paper wears the point off. It is as harmless as water.
Testimonials.
MIRROR AND AMERICAN OFFICE,
Manchester, N. H., Jan. 11, 1865.
To the American Ink Company:—I have tried your Ink Powders. They work to a charm. They make perfect ink in three minutes, the best ink I ever saw. It flows easily, does not gum up the pen or corrode it. I have cleared my inkstands of all other kinds of ink. JOHN B. CLARK.
MELROSE, Mass., Feb. 1, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: I wish heartily to thank you for the beautiful Ink which you furnish the public. I have now used the Ink for eight years past, from Prof. Ure's Recipe, (made of Aleppa Gall, Sulphate Iron and Gum Senegal,) and have sold large quantities of it. Have supplied the schools in this town with it for two years, and every one using it gave it great praise. It is a good Ink, but my occupation is all gone now. your Ink is the best article of the kind ever used. This is no puff. Some in my inkstands froze up solid twice and it now flows just freely as at the first, and is not changed in the color a single shade. It is a beautiful black; it flows so readily that I can write one-quarter faster with it than with any other Ink. I ought to be introduced into every school in the Union.
Yours truly, J. W. POLAND.
Washington, D. C., Feb. 4, 1864.
To the American Ink Company: I have tried your Ink Powders, and I think, without any exception, it makes the best writing fluid I ever used I would not be without. I remain yours,
GEO. H. HOLMES,
Battery M, 1st Mass. H. Artillery.
Kewanee, Henry Co., Illinois, Feb. 20, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: Received the Powder that you sent, and to say that I am pleased with it is true, but does not express what I should like to say. The community have long wanted an Ink Powder that could stand the test of freezing and that would not corrode the pen, and several have been produced. Prof. Ure's was the most recent recipe, but was spoiled by freezing. I have frozen this to test it, and find that it is not affected at all.
I have introduced it into my school in this place, and had I a quantity of it, it would find a ready sale. Thanking you in behalf of the community and myself for such a discovery, I remain, very respectfully, your obedient servt.
GEO. W. PARKER.
Deering, March 1, 1865.
To the American Ink Company:—This is to certify that I have given your Ink Powder a trial, and I am happy to state it works to perfection. It has a superiority over all other Inks within my knowledge. And I would cheerfully recommend it to the lawyer, the merchant, or any person whose business requires some writing. Freezing.—It does not corrode, and flows as freely after being frozen as before. Respectfully yours,
ALMON W. DUSTIN.
Nashua, N. H., March 13, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: The ink made from the powders you sent me is the best I ever used. I have tried all kinds of that sticky stuff, but none about it that there is to most kinds of ink. It flows freely and works to a charm.
Yours truly, GEORGE W. FLANDERS.
Brookline, N. H., March 13, 1865.
American Ink Company:—I received the Powder you sent me, and I recommend it to all those that have any writing to do, as the best Ink I ever saw. I have used Stafford's, Carter's and Noyes', D. J. Rideout's, and many others, but yours far excels any I ever used.
Yours respectfully, G. E. STILES.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 17, 1865.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—The N. Y. Commercial's Washington despatch says the Brewery seizures at Dubuque, Iowa, for the evasion of the revenue tax on whiskey, are more extensive than were reported. The firm of Sturgis & Sons had advanced $380,000 on the whiskey of the establishment of Bluenebergs.

Delegations from New York and Boston are urging a reduction on the Government rates of interest to five per cent.

Jeff. Davis will reach Washington by the middle or latter part of the week. He will be placed on trial, probably before the commission now in session.

The circumstantial evidence implicating him in the conspiracy is becoming more complete. Positive testimony from Richmond will not be wanting, as skillful detectives are unravelling the movements of Surrat, who was in Richmond shortly before the murder and had more than one interview with Davis and Benjamin.

The Post's dispatch says the prevailing impression among the officials is that Davis will be tried for high treason before the United States Court of the District, and that he will not be arraigned before the Military Commission. Intelligence has just been received of the approaching arrival of a large number of Polish emigrants, they having been forwarded from European ports under the auspices of the Emigration Society, established lately to provide new homes for these unfortunate exiles.

The Washington Star of Saturday says Secretary Seward is recovering steadily, and regains strength day by day.

GENS. SHERMAN AND HALLECK.—Richmond correspondence says the grand review of Sherman's army did not take place, owing to bad feeling between Sherman and Halleck, growing out of Halleck's countermanding Sherman's orders pending his negotiations with Johnston. It is represented that Gen. Sherman is very much excited about the newspaper comments on his recent treaty of peace with Johnston. It is probable Sherman will publish a defence of his cause.

Well: General may quarrel with General, exactly as "the potsherd may strive with the potsherds of the earth:" but let all the generals beware how they pitch battle with the newspapers. Steel pens, in unskilful hands, are about as dangerous to those who hold them as edge tools are to any novice who meddles with them. Gen. Sherman, as a military man, needs no defence, and no newspapers but those very coppery have found fault with him in that line; but loyal people and loyal newspapers with one accord condemned his quasi treaty, as a surrender of almost every point in the contest: and Johnston's speedy surrender, on Grant's terms to Lee, shows clearly that Sherman's concessions were as unnecessary as they were unwise! The newspapers, though they may be ignorant of military matters, certainly understand the meaning of a treaty as well as Gen. Sherman; and they see the force of words vastly better, by the General's own showing. Let him enjoy the military fame he has so richly earned; but as a negotiator with the rebels, he should desire to be forgotten as soon as possible.

U. T.

☞ A Nashville dispatch says Joe Brown, late Governor of Georgia, was brought to Nashville Sunday night as a prisoner, and left Monday evening for Louisville.

Jeff. Davis is under strong guard, and will arrive at Nashville Thursday evening.

Every body of regular soldiers and guerrilla organization in Tennessee and Northern Alabama has given up, to come in under Gen. Thomas' late order. Thousands of rebel soldiers have arrived and taken the oath, including the redoubtable Dick McCann.

Nearly all the hospitals are cleared out, and thousands of government employees are being discharged.

BOOTH'S TEXT-BOOK.—A Washington dispatch says the War Department has the bill introduced in the rebel Congress, by Cary of Ala., providing for retaliation for the emancipation proclamation, claiming that the measure was illegitimate warfare, and authorizing in retaliation the putting to death of prisoners of war, using poisoned weapons, and the right to assassinate.

— A Raleigh (N. C.) despatch says it is ascertained from Chief Justice Chase, that the administration will continue military rule in the rebellious States, until they are thoroughly reconciled to immediate emancipation and the policy of the Government, which gives great satisfaction there.

GOLD, Tuesday, 131 3-4 to 130 3-8.—Prices of grain, provisions and other goods, gently and steadily declining.

GEN. BANKS has removed the mayor of New Orleans, and put Col. Quincy in his place. The new city and State officers came too near being rebels, to suit loyal men.—Gen. Banks must take a leaf from Gen. Butler's book.

For the N. H. Gazette.

TEMPERANCE TRACTS.—Deadly drinks and drugs are gaining upon us—vitiating morals, arming assassins, and ruining young men by thousands. We need something besides Pulpits, Prohibitory Laws and Temperance Societies for this crisis. We need the Press which carries on all other causes, the popular Newspaper and short scathing Tracts by millions, which will be read in Gin palaces, and find their way into the very purlieus of sin and depths of iniquity.

We publish such Tracts. We sell them at common prices. We send them gratuitously to those who are unable to buy them. We call no man Master. We constitute our own Society. We are free to tell wine-bibbers, "temperate drinkers," rum-sellers and lordly distillers just what we think, in a fearless style.

Gentle reader, if blessed with money, send for a generous quantity of these tracts, give them to your schools, and those dear youth will spread them as snow-flakes over your place. If you are poor, but long to "snatch brands from the burning"—send for them,—you can have them without money and without price. GEO. TRASK,

Temperance Depository, Fitchburg, Mass.

[Other papers please copy.]

A RICH ITEM.—We hasten to put the following item on record, lest it be too soon forgotten. It appeared in the Boston Courier of May 15.

As the arrest of Mr. Jefferson Davis seems to be assured by official statements, we believe that it will be found that he paused for the purpose of permitting it to be made. Surely, he would not wish to leave the country, with such an imputation resting upon him as alleged implication in the murder of Mr. Lincoln; and as soon as the intelligence could reach him of the proclamation containing such a charge, we conceive that he would determine to meet it in the face of the world. We reason, of course, upon the presumption that he is entirely innocent of any complicity in this heinous crime. The assumption is too monstrous for human belief. Judging, therefore, by the ordinary instincts of human nature, we presume that Mr. Davis would risk any personal consequences, rather than accept personal safety, until his character was cleared from a charge of such terrible enormity. As to the melo-dramatic account given of the incidents attending his capture, is it not enough to say that they came through the War Department?

Surely this needs but a word of comment The reader sees the profound respect and deference to Mister Davis, and the absurd incredulity as to his guilt and cowardice as well as weakness. The reader sees also the total want of respect to our own government and people. Besides it is easy to see how fiercely the writer's incorrigible prejudice butts itself against known facts: such faith as his, strains at a gnat and swallows camels.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Rev. Henry Hill, for three years Chaplain of the Third N. H. V., has been appointed by the Secretary of War, Chaplain of the Webster Hospital, Manchester.

— Patrick Mahony of the 10th N. H. Volunteers, in one of the great battles in Virginia, a year or two since, received a ball in his face which carried away a portion of the right cheek, producing great deformity. The wound caused an opening which the army surgeons tried to close, but did not succeed.—Dr. Geo. A. Crosby of Manchester, recently performed an operation which was successful. The opening has been closed and the man much improved in appearance.

THE SITUATION IN VIRGINIA.—A civilian who came through Virginia on horseback in the track of the Second Corps and two days in its rear, reports that he neither saw or heard of guerrillas, and that he was wholly unmolested. In every county were some rebel officers and soldiers returned, still wearing their uniforms for want of other clothing, and going vigorously to work with their own hands. A few women are still defiant, but the men are subdued and seem anxious now to be let alone, for the sake of peace and agriculture, as they were four years ago to be let alone in the wicked work of destroying the Union.

— The N. Y. Herald's Washington despatch says the correspondence between Sherman and Halleck when made public, will show that Halleck tendered the hospitality of his house to Sherman, who declined it, saying he had hoped to pass through Richmond without the painful necessity of meeting him; adding "your advisory despatch to the War Department is sufficient explanation." Halleck replied, saying if Sherman knew the feeling in Washington in reference to the agreement with Johnston, he would appreciate the motive of the despatch, and assured him of his kind feeling and admiration of his services. Sherman responded that he understood the circumstances and the men sufficiently to appreciate the motives; adding "that both you and Mr. Stanton sent me a warning to beware of assassins. I did not then know that the authors of the warning were themselves the assassins I had to fear." [Gen. Sherman shows that he does not understand the opinion of the loyal millions about his famous treaty.]

DANIEL HALL,
Provost Marshal 1st Dist. N. H.

— In Portland at midnight Sunday, the more demonstrative of the population began expressing their joy over the capture of Jeff Davis. Cannon were fired, fireworks were let off, bonfires lighted, and a band of music procured, which paraded the streets, followed by a crowd. Ditto in other cities.

— The details of the Great Trial at Washington, fill the large papers, to the exclusion of their usual variety.

☞ The great "Warren Combination" Theatrical Company opens at the Temple to-night; and even if the details were not set forth at some length in the advertisement, the performers would need no introduction from us, as they are known everywhere, and so favorably that the chief names are almost household words. Warren is a museum of fun in himself, and Miss Orton was also long one of the pillars at Boston's favorite place of amusement, and Miss Mestayer is likewise of high repute. Then the Stock Company with them are said to be "talented," and not the mere "stocks" which are too often presented to fill up on such occasions.

☞ Sailmaker James R. Childs, U. S. N. has been ordered to report for special duty at the Charlestown Navy Yard.

☞ A Raleigh, N. C., correspondent of the Manchester Mirror says the 4th N. H. Regt. forms part of the garrison of Raleigh. Maj. Geo. Frank Towle of that Regiment has been appointed Asst. Inspector General of the Tenth Army Corps, with the rank of Lieut. Colonel.

☞ The undersigned in behalf of the sick in the Hospital at Fort Constitution, would gratefully acknowledge the receipt of a liberal supply of Sanitary Stores and reading matter, from Mrs. A. H. Hill and other ladies of Portsmouth. J. H. STEVENS, Hospital Steward.

☞ By the detailed exhibit which we publish this morning, and for which we are indebted to Provost Marshal Hall, it will be seen that the total call from this Cong. District of N. H. has been for 5902 men—which we responded to in full, and "went 575 better," or over. Only one town has a deficiency, and that but a single man; while many have a considerable surplus.

☞ Thermometer 82 on Tuesday, at noon, in a cool place in this city.

☞ Quite a smash-up of teams driven by seven marines and sailors collectively, occurred near the Academy on Congress street, on Monday afternoon. A chaise and a buggy were completely turned over, occupants summarily obliged to get out, horses thrown down amid a general mass of the composite parts of two carriages, and thus stranded, the drivers lay underneath the debris until rescued by some humane gentleman passing by. One of the horses was somewhat injured, to what extent we do not learn, but presume not badly.

Another accident of a similar nature occurred at the South End on the same afternoon, whereby a young son of Capt. Chas. H. Chase came near being killed; and a valuable horse belonging to the Hon. T. L. Tullock injured to some extent. The horse was walking at a slow rate through South School Street, when two boys jumped up from behind a fence, and one of them threw a stone which struck the horse, and before the driver could gather up the reins, the animal was dashing off at a furious rate, and when turning the corner into Water street, threw the boy out, and was stopped by running against a post on the corner of Pleasant and Water streets. The lad was not badly hurt, although his escape from death was almost miraculous. Boys who don't know better than to throw stones at a passing team, should be kept in the house; and those who are vicious enough to practice it for trickery, should be sent to the Reform School.

☞Victims of the law were scarce on Tuesday morning. Frank Brown, however, committed the same indiscretion that many a better clad man has done before him, viz:—that of excessive indulgence in alcoholic stimulants, causing him to be changed from a man to a brute,—and by his noisy brawls renders himself amenable to the law, and obliges him to expend the sum of $3.00 and costs $3.86 to get clear.

NO PARDON FOR DESERTERS.—The following official notification from the Provost Marshal's office sufficiently explains itself—a copy of which has been or will be forwarded to the several city and town authorities in this District. It will thus be seen that deserters who have not reported under the President's Proclamation cannot have rest nor ease while the detectives are on the alert. No rewards will be offered for deserters until further notice.

PROVOST MARSHAL'S OFFICE,
Portsmouth, N. H., May 16th, 1865.

Gentlemen:—I am instructed to notify you that all Deserters from the Military and Naval Service of the United States, who have not reported themselves under the President's Proclamation previous to the 10th inst., are now and henceforth liable to arrest.

I invite information from you and your citizens generally of the presence of any deserter in your town or vicinity—upon the receipt of which an officer will be sent at once to secure his apprehension. DANIEL HALL,

Capt. and Provost Marshal 1st N. H. District.

☞ By a dispatch to President Goodwin, of the P. S. & P. Railroad, in this city, we learn that by the fire in the Passenger Depot at Portland, Tuesday morning, the engine house and head-house, with offices, were totally consumed. No engines or cars were burned. Papers in the safe supposed to be preserved, while others in the offices are lost.

MRS. HARPER.—This lady addressed an audience last evening in the Rev. Dr. Freeman's church, in Prince St., upon the subject of "The Future Relations of the Negro to the Government." Although the address was new in its character, the same evidences of talent, thought, originality of ideas, logic, and excellent common sense were exhibited as in her previous addresses. Her reasoning is most conclusive. If the citizens of Brooklyn were aware of her ability, the Academy of Music would hardly hold the audiences that would desire to hear her.—Brooklyn Daily Union.

LIFE IN HEAVEN, is the title of a neat volume of 273 pages, published by Roberts Brothers, Boston, and sold by J. F. Shores, Jr. Portsmouth. It is the reprint of an English work, and will be popular among the same class of readers who admire A Call to the Unconverted, and Baxter's Saint's Rest.

— There is said to be a large amount of cotton in Alabama, and it begins to come down to Mobile.

FESTIVAL.—The Ladies of the Unitarian Soldiers' Aid Society, of Portsmouth, announce a Festival for the benefit of the Soldiers, at the Temple, Monday and Tuesday, June 12th and 13th prox. They invite Contributions of Money, Fancy Articles, Flowers, or Refreshments, from any who feel interested in the cause, which needs unremitting labor for some months to come. Any donations may be sent to Mrs. J. B. HALEY, No. 9 Richards Avenue, Portsmouth, or to any member of the Committee: Mrs. Haley, Mrs. F. W. Miller, Mrs. H. F. Pray, Mrs. M. P. Brooks, Mrs. Wm. Day, Miss M. E. L. Pickering, Miss E. W. Morrison, Miss Carrie C. Haley, Committee.

A TRUE AIM.—It has not been the aim of the proprietor of Hunnewell's great preparations, advertised on our inside columns, to base a false reputation by long and unmeaning advertising, but a real one by true results, to which all who try them will cheerfully assent. See advertisement

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

The sale of the first series of $300,000,000 of the 7-30 Loan was completed on the 31st of March, 1865. The sale of the second series of Three Hundred Millions, payable three years from the 15th of June, 1865, was begun on the 1st of April.

In the short space of thirty days, over One Hundred Millions of this series have been sold—leaving this day less than Two Hundred Millions to be disposed of. The Interest is payable semi-annually in currency on the 15th of December and 15th of June by Coupons attached to each note, which are readily cashed anywhere. It amounts to

One cent per day on a $50 note.

More and More Desirable,

The Rebellion is suppressed, and the Government has already adopted measures to reduce expenditures as rapidly as possible to a peace footing, thus withdrawing from Market as borrower and purchaser.

This is the ONLY LOAN IN MARKET now offered by the Government, and constitutes the GREAT POPULAR LOAN OF THE PEOPLE.

The Seven-Thirty Notes are convertible on the maturity, at the option of the holder, into

U. S. 5-20 Six per cent.

GOLD-BEARING BONDS,

Which are always worth a premium.

Free from Taxation.

The 7.30 Notes cannot be taxed by Towns, Cities, Counties or States, and the interest is not taxed unless on a surplus of the owner's income exceeding six hundred dollars a year. This fact increases their value from one to three per cent. per annum, according to the rate levied on other property.

SUBSCRIBE QUICKLY.

Less than $300,000,000 of the Loan authorized by the last Congress are now on the market.—This amount at the rate at which it is being absorbed, will all be subscribed for within four months, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loans.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

WHEN GREEN LEAVES COME AGAIN.

When green leaves come again, my love,
When green leaves come again—
Why put on such a cloudy face,
When green leaves come again?

"Ah, this spring will be like the last,
Of promise false and vain;
And summer die in winter's arms
Ere green leaves come again.

"So slip the seasons—and our lives:
'Tis idle to complain;
But yet I sigh—I stare know why—
When green leaves come again."

Nay, lift up thankful eyes, my sweet!
Count equal loss or gain,
Because as long as the world lasts,
Green leaves will come again.

For, sure as earth lives under snows,
And Love lies under pain,
'Tis good to sing, with everything,
"When green leaves come again."

—Miss Muloch.

The Alleghanians.—We take great pleasure in announcing to our citizens, that this celebrated and truly excellent troupe of singers and bell-ringers, will visit Peoria next week. Our people are not entirely unacquainted with this company, as they have had the pleasure of hearing them before; and we hope they will show their appreciation of their music, by giving them a full house at this time. Their agent, Dan Waldron, our welcome "chum" in California, called on us yesterday, looking as fresh and rosy as when we were climbing the hills of the old El Dorado together. He says the troupe maintains its former reputation—in fact, it is growing more popular each year. We can well believe this to be the case in communities where good music is appreciated. By the way, we could tell many a pleasant story on Dan, and how the sick or needy miner found in him a true friend, one who was always ready to help those who needed aid. May his shadow never grow less.—Peoria (Ill.) Times.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the
CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and and iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes

with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the best in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

The New Hampshire Petroleum Co. is organized with great care, under the management of some of the ablest financiers and most successful business men in the State, whose integrity is above reproach, and who cannot be led by excitement into speculations that have not to their minds a golden foundation. Their funds have been selected with great caution. Mr. N. R. Bates, of Titusville, who has been very successful the past year in selecting Oil Lands and boring wells, was known to some of the gentlemen prominent in starting this company as a man strictly honest, sagacious, and experienced in the Petroleum regions, and was solicited to aid in selecting the proper farms. He did so. Col. B. F. Martin, Wm. P. Newell, Esq., and John B. Clarke, Editor of the Mirror, of Manchester, J. S. Fogg, Esq., of the firm of Fogg, Houghton & Coolidge, 54 Market St., Boston, and Daniel S. Lamont, 419 Broadway, New York, were appointed a committee to visit the farms spoken of. Early in January they located on the farms selected by Mr. Bates, and became convinced that they were among the very best that could be had. The committee also consulted with Messrs. Brown Creek, East Oil Creek, and Allegheny river, and not twenty miles from one point to the other, and their report to the Company are within the Belt and on the same Oil Belt of the great flowing and pumping wells that have yielded the past year to the State of Pennsylvania, now Mr. Curtin says in his Message, fifty-six million of dollars. The last of March, D. W. Harris, Esq., a well-known business man of Boston, Counsel Attorney, P. H. Burns, Esq., a shrewd business man of Dover, N. H., and F. A. Wilcox, Esq., a lawyer of 76 Wall Street, New York, were sent out to see to the titles of lands, and make farther examinations. They came to the same conclusions the others had, and the four farms were bought, which are thus described:

THE MATTISON FARM.

This Farm contains 84 acres and is near the confluence of Cherry Creek and East Oil Creek—The bay of the Brush Creek Belt, which, high lands on each side, Cherry Creek running directly through, and a rich undeveloped Coal vein on one side. Every inch of this farm is valuable for Coal or boring wells, and there is no waste to it.

The oil veins run from east to west, or from north east to south west, and are from one to three miles from the Mattison Farm into two and a half miles in a direct line east of the great Oil flats south of Titusville, from which immeasurable fortunes have been made. Near the Belt 4 wells well flowed 2000 barrels per day—the Fountain 200—the Parker 200—and scores of wells are now being worked that yield from 10 to 60 barrels daily... Nine out of every ten wells bored on this flat are a success. A ten barrel well will sell for forty thousand dollars, and a sixty barrel well sell for half a million.

It is believed by good judges that every rod of the twenty-five acres of the Mattison Farm, all lots, will be not good to clear, is equal to the best low Titusville. Coal in that section is worth $18 per ton, and if the vein of coal should work well it would be a fortune in itself. It is splendid coal, burning freely as Cannel.

The average price of oil per barrel the last year was $10 at the works, the buyers furnishing the barrels. It costs $2500 to put down a well and well to the depth of 700 feet, and few go lower than that. It costs $20 per day to work it after it yields oil. Dr. E. Ball, of the Cherry Run Farm Petroleum Company, says of this Farm Section:

"I consider all the lands located there, as being richer in Oil, and presenting geological features of a more full and perfect character than any other that I am acquainted with; and have spent much time and labor the last months in examining and selecting Oil Territory in Venango, Crawford and Warren Counties, in all of which I have made considerable investments. Professors Maynard and Shepherd, Geologists of eminence, are of the same opinion regarding the lands generally throughout the Belt along East Oil Creek. If this Farm comes up to the expectations of Prof. Shepherd of Yale College, and Mr. Ball, of Mr. Bates, it will have pumping wells and flowing wells. The flowing wells would sell for large sums of money, and the pumping wells, if good as those south of Titusville, would be of incalculable value. There is abundant room on each acre for 12 wells, and the farm for twenty-five wells. Just make computation of the cost of so many wells, and the yield and profit on the whole in a year, if they are as good as the Fountain Farm, which yield the minimum average of the wells on that Oil Belt, and your income from this Farm alone is more than one million of dollars. I do not expect any such results, but merely state facts, and let each person make his own figuring and reach his own conclusions.

THE PARKER FARM

Contains 100 acres, a heavily timbered, situated near the south end of Brush Creek Belt, from East Oil Creek, and between Cherry Creek and where the Caldwell Creek empties into Oil Creek. They have lately sunk a well right opposite the farm and struck oil. A single good well on this large farm would enable the Company to sell or lease lots in the neighborhood, and determine about the location of the Mattison Farm, apply equally well to this.

THE BYLES FARM,

On Pit Hole Creek, contains 105 acres. It is about three miles east of Oil Creek, adjoining the Rynd Company. Well that flows 700 barrels daily, the Jersey that flows 500, the Maple Shade and other noted flowing wells, and pumping wells without limit. This Farm is on the same Oil Belt and on the right range. There is great excitement on Pit Hole. The Frazer well is on it and began to flow about the middle of January, and with its rocker rod in, and its pipe seven-eighths full of machinery, it has flowed 250 barrels per day ever since.—They have not dared to pull out the sucker rod yet, fearing they had not sufficient tanks to hold the oil. The tanks they now have will hold 2,200 barrels. Below this well on the same Creek, another fine well has been struck, and above it is a spouting well, which, when bored low enough, will yield abundantly. A little farther north the same company, the United States, is putting down a well that looks already better than the Frazer well, on the great expectations rest upon it. In sight of the spouting wells, and between the Frazer and the one which has raised so high hopes, is the Byles Farm, all low land, and every rod fit for a well. It is splendidly located. It abounds in sand rocks and oil indications. Mr. Bates thinks very highly of it, and has no doubt but we shall find on it flowing wells superior to any yet struck in that section. A single flowing well struck would enable us to sell the farm in small lots for ten millions of dollars. Land on high bluffs some ways removed from the Coquet well, leases for fifty years at the rate of $50,000 for strips twelve rods by sixteen, each down.

THE DAWSON FARM,

On West Fit Hole, contains 25 acres, and is in the same wonderful oil region. It has oil springs on and around it, and many wells are now being bored near it with excellent show for oil. Mr. Bates is now sinking one close to it. In a letter dated March 25, 1865, he says: "My well is showing as finely as it progresses, both in gas and oil, as any well has ever shown at the same depth on Oil Creek; gas at 60 feet; a good show of oil at 112 feet; at 140 feet gas is rising and roaring loudly.

Within rifle shot of this farm, sixteen years ago a well was sunk twenty-seven feet deep for water, and oil came in and spoiled it. We have no doubt that rich oil wells will be sunk on this Farm, and there is land enough, if they are rich, to make the Farm a fortune.

The property of this Company is located on "Coal Run Creek," Meigs County, State of Ohio, about 10 miles from Athens, containing one hundred and five acres of land. A large number of wells are successfully worked in the vicinity, some of which are paying handsome dividends.—This Company propose to commence operations at once, and entertain no doubt that at an early day they will be able to pay a handsome percentage on the investment. The known ability and commercial standing of the officers of this Company afford a sufficient guaranty that the affairs will be conducted in a manner to secure the confidence of those who are disposed to invest in it.

The tract of land adjoining the property of this Company has passed into the hands of capitalists, who have sent out an experienced superintendent to commence operations at once, and their first order for machinery was $15,000. Our property has been examined under instructions from Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, who pronounces the coal, which is in abundance, to be of the best quality, yielding 30 gallons of oil to the ton, and has no doubt, from the location and position of the property, that it will be found valuable in the production of oil. Most companies have to pay very high prices for their coal, all of which we save; oil can be manufactured from the coal upon the property, at a cost not exceeding ten cents per gallon, and it is proposed to commence the manufacture in connection with the sinking of wells. One dollar will buy a share of this stock, which is the par value, and all benefits derived from the lands, either by sales of oil, land or products of any kind, are to be divided among the stockholders, and in addition $200,000 worth of valuable, useful and desirable property will be given to the stockholders, as soon as all the shares are disposed of. The Company adopt this course for the purpose of disposing of their stock at the par value, rather than to sell it, as many companies do, at a subscription price, which is usually one-half. Thus, it will be perceived that every stockholder owning ten shares, for example, will be sure to realize a handsome dividend when the property is divided; a plan which is entirely honorable, and in all respects perfectly legal.

The property to be distributed among the stockholders will be equal to any in the market, and will consist of the following described articles:

$5000 to purchase a HOUSE in Boston or vicinity.
$6000 in U. S. 5-20 BONDS, CERTIFICATES of $500 each.

—On the arrival of the Sixth corps at Danville, Va., the negroes were so rejoiced that they commenced to desert the plantations in all the surrounding country, and flock into the town. This so seriously interfered with the prosecution of agricultural labor, that General Wright deemed it necessary to issue an order instituting regulations to put a stop to this hegira of the negroes, and requiring them to remain at home and attend to their usual work. General Wright has also warned all guerrillas and paroled rebel soldiers who break their paroles, that they will be immediately hang when caught.

American and Foreign Patents.
H. B. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE AGENCY OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE ULTIMATE OF ALL ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to offer patentees a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, together with the library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessary of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, the usual great delay there are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure them early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable evidence of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on never rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

See what the most popular and widely circulated periodicals say of our Establishment:
From the "Dispatch" of February 25, 1865.
We take pleasure in calling the attention of our readers to the announcement of Messrs. Devaugh & Co.'s Great Sale of Jewelry, Silver Ware, and Fancy Goods, in our advertising columns. We are personally acquainted with the members of this firm and know them to be gentlemen of standing and of business ability. Their goods, for variety and extent, we have scarcely seen paralleled.
From the "Mirror of Fashion," March 1, 1865.
Messrs. Devaugh & Co.'s Great Sale of Jewelry, etc., opened on the 15th ult., and we venture to say that no finer display has ever been exhibited by any establishment in this city. The ladies thronged their bazaar almost to suffocation, although the streets were rendered nearly impassable by the melted snow and slush. We predict for them a wonderful success.
From the "Ledger," February 28, 1865.
Our lady friends should visit the extensive establishment of Messrs. Devaugh & Co., No. 15 Maiden Lane, if they wish to indulge themselves with a sight which they will long remember.—Such a profusion of elegant Watches, Chains, Rings, Earrings, and in short, of Jewelry of every name, kind and description, we never before witnessed. Their silver and plated ware is superb, and almost casts into the shade the other splendid establishments which have long been the boast of our city. It is estimated that their stock is worth not less than one million dollars.

How you Can Get a Prize.
Send Twenty-five Cents to us, and as soon as we receive it we will mail you a Certificate showing what you are entitled to. If the article or articles please you, send back the Certificate and One Dollar and we will forward you the article, no matter how costly it may be. If the article is not what you wish, state, when you send the Certificate and dollar, what other article of the same value you prefer, and we will send it. If you wish more than one Certificate send us $1 and we will send five; for $2, eleven; for $5, thirty; for $10, sixty; for $15, one hundred.
Agents are wanted in the Army and in every place. We have an immense stock of goods to dispose of, and meet a large number of Agents. Our terms to Agents are very liberal and some even at our Lady Agents are making from $5 to $20 a day. We give Agents 50 per cent on all Certificates they sell provided they remit not less than $1 for sight.

The Best Ink in the World!
A CHEAP PRODUCT DISCOVERED.
A Substitute for Costly Galls, and a Writing Fluid produced that challenges Competition!
INK POWDERS
TO CARRY IN YOUR POCKET, FROM WHICH TO MAKE INK AT PLEASURE.
THE INK MADE in Three Minutes.
Forty Cents will buy Powder enough to furnish a family for years.
FREEZING DON'T HURT IT.
An accident revealed to a Machinist, in Manchester, N. H., a certain result which by the aid of Chemistry has been used till the most beautiful writing fluid, better than anything imported or home made, flowing freer, writing easier, handsomer, as lasting as time, not injuring the pen a whit, has been produced.
It is put up in the form of a small powder, stands all climates, good for years, and can be converted into elegant black writing fluid in three minutes.
A company has lately been formed for the manufacture of these Powders, and although the Fluid has been before the public but a few weeks the most astounding testimonials have been received in its favor, all unsolicited. We select a few from the many.
The greatest qualities of these Ink Powders over everything else in the market are:
1st—It makes an ink of a beautiful, glossy, rich color, that every body will be delighted with.
2d—It flows freely, does not gum up, thicken on the pen or corrode it a particle, and never fades, and will endure as long as the paper on which it is used.
3d—Its cheapness baffles all competition. Forty cents will buy enough to fill fifty common bottles that are retailed at ten cents each.
4th—Convenience. Can be carried to the army, to sea, to the mines, to far off countries.
5th—Wipe your pen dry after using it, and a single steel pen will last with this ink till the paper wears the point off. It is as harmless as water.
Testimonials.
MIRROR AND AMERICAN OFFICE,
Manchester, N. H., Jan. 11, 1865.
To the American Ink Company:—I have tried your Ink Powders. They work to a charm. They make perfect ink in three minutes, the best ink I ever saw. It flows easily, does not gum up the pen or corrode it. I have cleared my inkstands of all other kinds of ink. JOHN B. CLARKE.
MELROSE, Mass., Feb. 1, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: I wish heartily to thank you for the beautiful Ink which you have given to the public. I have made Ink, for eight years, from Prof. Ure's Recipe, (made of Aleppa Gall, Sulphate Iron and Gum Senegal,) and have sold large quantities of it. Have supplied the schools in this town with it for two years, and every one using it gave it great praise. It is a good Ink, but my occupation is all gone now. Your Ink is the best article of the kind I ever used. This is no puff. Some in my inkstands froze up solid twice and it now flows just freely as at the first, and is not changed in the color a single shade. It is a beautiful Ink; it flows so readily that I can write one-quarter faster with it than with any other Ink. It ought to be introduced into every school in the Union.
Yours truly, J. W. POLAND.
Washington, D. C., Feb. 4, 1864.
To the American Ink Company: I have tried your Ink Powders, and I think, without any exception, it makes the best writing fluid I ever used I would not be without. I remain yours,
GEO. H. HOLMES,
Battery M, 1st Mass. H. Artillery.
Kewanee, Henry Co., Illinois, Feb. 20, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: Received the Powder that you sent, and to say that I am pleased with it is true, but does not express what I should like to say. The community have long wanted an Ink Powder that could stand the test of freezing and thawing, and not corrode the pen, and several have been produced. Prof. Ure's was an excellent recipe, but was spoiled by freezing. I have frozen this to test it, and find that it is not affected at all.
I have introduced it into my school in this place, and find a quantity of it. It works and a ready sale. Thanking you in behalf of the community and myself for such a discovery, I remain, very respectfully, your obedient servant,
GEO. W. PARKER.
Deering, March 1, 1865.
To the American Ink Company:—This is to certify that I have given your Ink Powder a trial, and I am happy to state it works to perfection. It is a superiority over all other Inks within my knowledge. And I would cordially recommend it to the lawyer, the merchant, or any person whose business requires any amount of writing.—It does not corrode, and flows as freely after being frozen as before. Respectfully yours,
ALMON M. COREY.
Nashua, N. H., March 18, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: I have made from the powders you sent me is the best I ever used. There is none of that sticky substance about it that there is in most kinds of Ink. It flows freely and works to a charm.
Yours truly, GEORGE W. FLANDERS.
Brookline, N. H., March 13, 1865.
American Ink Company:—I received the Powder you sent me, and I recommend it to all those that have any writing to do, as the best Ink I have ever used. I used Moore's Bayard & Noyes', D. J. Rideout's, and many others, but yours far excels any of them.
Yours respectfully, G. E. STILES.

THURSDAY, MAY 18, 1865.

THE WORLD MOVES.—The Boston Courier has "experienced a change." Mr. Lunt left the chair on the 15th, after writing a rich item in favor of Jeff. Davis' innocence. On the 16th we find somebody else in the chair, who tells us the paper will still be "conservative or democratic" in its principles, as it has been. "But," he says, "we recognize the great changes that are going on around us"—and therefore he will "not seek in the musty files of the past for what must be found in the inspiration of the present."

A few extracts will show the extent of the change. The new editor says:—

While we mean in the future to maintain the political principles which we have maintained in the past, we say frankly to our readers that we do not propose to make the discussion of political questions quite so leading a feature in the conduct of the paper as it has been. * * * The old political issues are now obsolete, and the planks of the old political platforms have crumbled into dust. New combinations must arise in the future, and parties must be divided by lines which do not coincide with any now drawn. When the time comes for us to choose our side, we shall not be prevented from so doing, either by not knowing our own mind, or from a weak fear of being accused of inconsistency.

We shall endeavor to make our paper somewhat more of a business paper and of a family paper than it has hitherto been. **

But to come to what lies directly at our feet, we see no reason why the Courier should not give a manly support to the administration of President Johnson. No reasonable man will expect us to pledge ourselves to sustain every measure he may adopt, but we do pledge ourselves to sustain him wherever we can conscientiously do so, and never to turn towards him a countenance of factious opposition. We know him thus far as a democrat of the old school.

This is going a good way towards loyal and republican ideas and measures; but the next extract goes further:

But we cannot recall the past. Slavery has fallen, and fallen through the madness and the guilt of those who were most interested to maintain it. Thus a great evil has been removed, though at a fearful cost of blood and treasure; and we accept the result, though we would not have made the experiment.

Yes, indeed, slavery has fallen by the madness and guilt of the rebels who made war on liberty, union and government, and the equal madness and guilt of the northern traitors and their presses, which gave the rebels all the aid and comfort in their power.

One word more. It would be affectation in us to deny that the Courier has at this moment many enemies, and is the object of much obloquy and ill-will.

Quite true,—and the editor adds:

How much of this is deserved, and how much is undeserved; how much is due to unpopular opinions themselves, and how much to the manner in which they have been expressed—it is not necessary to inquire.

No—says Uncle Toby—it is not necessary to inquire, for it is very well known that the ill-will of loyal men toward it is richly deserved, and it is so understood by every loyal man who reads it. We have done so nearly every day for the last four years, in which time it has done all it could to weaken the hands of the United States government and the loyal people who sustained it through a terrible war.

To show that we judge rightly in the matter, we copy from the N. H. Daily Copperhead three or four lines of regret at Mr. Lunt's departure, and commendation of the Courier "as it was:"

We regret very much that he has deemed such a course necessary. The Courier for the last four years has been about the only paper in Massachusetts fit for a Democrat to read,—and we fear that the withdrawal of Mr. Lunt indicates a purpose to modify the truth, &c.

Is it so? Has the only true light in Massachusetts gone out? Oh, dismal!

But "the light was darkness"—the pro-slavery and pro-rebel opinions of the Courier, and the bitter and sour manner in which they were expressed, made the paper hateful to loyal readers, and unprofitable to the owners.

They consult their own interest, and the existence of the paper, in the change they make. It was high time to make it. U. T.

MURDER IN FRANKFORT, ME.—A correspondent of the Bangor Whig writes that on the 8th inst., while George Moore, a citizen of Frankfort, aged 68 years, was engaged in taking down a fence, he was shot at by some unseen person, the ball passing through the left lung, through the spinal column, down between the ribs and muscles of the back. He was found dead twelve hours after the occurrence, his wife supposing all the while that he was at one of his son's houses. Elijah Perry of Frankfort was arrested, charged with the murder, and after an examination, committed for trial.

— Ex-Governor Aiken, of South Carolina, recently stated in conversation in Washington, that Davis was not the man for President of the Confederacy. South Carolina denounced him without stint—but it was a position where success was impossible.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—The N. Y. Commercial's special Washington dispatch says Jeff. Davis is being brought to Washington as fast as steam can bring him. He will probably arrive by Saturday. It is said he will be tried as an accomplice of Booth and the other assassins.—Gov. Brown of Georgia is expected to arrive in a few days.

In the conspiracy trial, strong testimony shows the guilt of Spangler, of Ford's Theatre, and O'Laughlin, the intended assassin of General Grant.

The President has commuted the sentence of the Indiana conspirators who were to be hung on Friday.

Mrs. Lincoln goes to Illinois on Thursday.

Long trains, heavily laden with valuable property, captured by the National armies in North Carolina and Virginia, are now daily arriving at City Point, Va., from Danville, via Burkesville Junction. Among the articles are goods in the original packages in which they ran the blockade of the national fleets at Southern ports, and the machinery for the manufacture of firearms stolen by the rebels from Harper's Ferry.

NORTH CAROLINA.—A Greensboro' (N. C.) letter of May 4th, states that Gen. Schofield's order declaring the slaves of that State free, created great consternation, as the labor was wanted to put in the Spring crops, and the slaves refused to work, declaring that their former master owed them a living. Major Gen. Cox, of the 23d corps, however, has reassured the people by telling them that the slaves will be obliged to work to support themselves. Hon. John A. Gilmer has commenced dividing his lands up among his slaves, furnishing them facilities to work. Other masters will follow his example. Gen. Schofield's course gives satisfaction.

LOUISIANA.—New Orleans advices to May 11 say Governor Clark has called the Legislature to meet on the 18th inst., and will doubtless order a State Convention.

State officers are directed to immediately return to Jackson with the archives of the State, and county officers are required to be vigilant in the preservation of order, and the sheriff is empowered to call out the posse and military, and will keep arms for that purpose.

The State laws must be enforced, as they now are, until repealed, and masters will be held responsible as heretofore for the protection and conduct of their slaves. He earnestly advises all citizens to unite in the preservation of peace, arrest robbers and marauders, to fearlessly abide by the fortunes of the State, to discountenance at the twelfth hour the vaporing, and meet facts with fortitude and common sense. It is believed this address will materially aid in hastening the recognition of the State Government.

Gen. Dana's call for a Convention for reorganization was too short for full representation, and efforts are being made to postpone it to a more distant day, and have it meet at Jackson instead of Vicksburg.

REBEL GOVERNORS IN TROUBLE.—The N. Y. Herald's Chester (S. C.) correspondence announces the arrest of the rebel governor Vance of North Carolina; and Governor Magrath of South Carolina is being pursued by our cavalry. Gen. Jonston requested permission to go to Canada, but was refused. Admiral Semmes, Capt. Durrington and other rebels are said to be en route for Long Island in the Pacific. The late Georgia rebel Gov. Brown has arrived at Louisville, Ky., en route to Washington. He was arrested on the 9th, at Milledgeville.

FROM MEXICO.—Cairo despatches say General Negrete with four thousand five hundred Lideral troops appeared before Matamoras on the 29th, and demanded its surrender, which was refused. The Imperialists marched out and a cavalry and artillery fight occurred. Business was suspended and the streets barricaded. An attack was momentarily expected, but all was quiet on the evening of the 2nd. The custom house officers fled to Brownsville and the wealthy citizens removed all their valuables to a safe place. Eight hundred citizens had arrived at the mouth of the Rio Grande, and left for the interior. A report reached Bagdad on the 4th instant, that the Liberals were in full retreat.

RESTORATION.—Bishop Johns, of the Protestant Episcopal Church in Virginia, has just issued a circular to his clergy, enjoining a return to the Prayer Book "as it was"—i. e. to pray no more for Pres. Jeff. and the Confederacy, but for the United States, President, Congress, &c.—Northern copperheads, please to take notice.

GOLD, in New York, Tuesday evening, closed 129 3 4. Gold active on call and large sales. Stocks not very active.

GOLD, in New York, Wednesday, could not get above 130 1-4, and was generally below 130, though nearly $1,000,000 went to Liverpool by steamer.

BEEF in New York has declined 8c per lb. within 6 weeks: other meats are following.

☞ One of the witnesses at the conspirators' trial, was connected with the rebel army in Virginia, in 1863,—and became acquainted there, with Booth, who said if we only act our part right, the confederacy will gain its independence and old Abe Lincoln must go up the spout. The witness understood by that expression that he must be killed. Booth said as soon as the confederacy was nearly whipped, that was the final resource to gain the independence of the confederacy. The companions of Booth assented to his sentiments. The witness was at camp of the 2d Virginia regiment and there was a secret meeting of the rebel officers. He was not present at the meeting, but one of the officers stated its purport. The purport was to send certain officers on detached service to Canada and the borders to deliver prisoners, to lay northern cities in ashes, and finally to get after the members of the Cabinet and see the President. He heard that more than one thousand times. Booth was associating with all the officers. He heard very often that the assassination of the President was an object finally to be accomplished. He had heard it freely spoken of in the streets of Richmond. This necessity was generally assented to in the service.

☞ Among the interesting incidents, says a Richmond correspondent, which are being related in connection with the evacuation of that city, is one which may be worthy of consideration among the medical faculty. A colored girl, whose sight had long been defective, became blind about five months ago, and continued so until the terrible explosion of the magazine in that fated city, which seemed to shake creation. Recovering herself almost immediately from her fright, she exclaimed, "Mother, I can see."

☞ Maj. Gen. Canby telegraphs from New Orleans, May 15, to Sec. Stanton, as follows:

The U. S. Consul at Havana reports that the rebel ram Stonewall left that port on the 11th inst., ostensibly for Galveston. I have warned all commanders on the coast.

— A despatch from Indianapolis to the Cincinnati Commercial says it is reported that Bowles and Milligan are engaged in writing a confession, involving a full and complete history of the treasonable Northwestern conspiracy, and a great many interesting details not heretofore made public. The document, it is said, will implicate many prominent men in different parts of the State, whose names have not been hitherto connected with the conspiracy.

— Among the stories now told of Mr. Lincoln, is one to the effect that a party of Christian Commission clergymen went to see him one warm day, one of them being in his shirt sleeves. The President gave his autograph on a narrow slip of paper to all the coated ones, but the shirt sleeves man got a whole sheet of paper, with the official seal upon the margin.

— On Wednesday, May 3d, a little daughter of Mrs. Eliza J. Bushnell, of Hanover Four Corners, aged three years, being left a short time by her mother, attempted to drink from the tea kettle standing on the stove, and inhaling the steam was so badly scalded that she died next morning.

— The evidence in the case of the assassins at Washington, shows that Payne, the Surrats, Harold and Atzerott, were really and fully implicated with Booth; and the expectation was that Vice President Johnson, Gen. Grant, and others would be murdered the same hour.

— The vicissitudes of a sailor's life are painfully exhibited in the recent returns to the English Board of Trade. Of forty-seven thousand seamen whose names are recorded during the twelve years ending 1864 no less than twenty thousand died from drowning, and more than two thousand from accidents of various kinds.

— From Havana 10th we learn the rebel pirate steamship Owl, Capt. Moffat, arrived at Havana from Galveston on the 9th inst, and the steamship Imogene from the same place with 1000 bales of cotton had reached Matanzas.

— Perley says there is no truth in the story that a meeting of radical congressmen in Washington has called for a recall of the cabinet. There are scarcely any members in W. except the Committee on the Conduct of the War.

— One John Ryan is in jail in Boston for murdering his wife with an axe on Tuesday, when he was drunk—and he remained so dreadfully drunk on Wednesday that he was locked up to be examined Saturday.

—— The Coos Republican says the recent incendiary fires which have been so prevalent in Haverhill, N. H., are believed to be the work of rebel emissaries from Canada, and several parties who are tramping around as nominal clock cleaners are under suspicion.

— A letter to the Mirror, from a New Hampshire soldier, now at Savannah, states that quite a number of matrimonial alliances have taken place between "the boys in blue," and the girls of Savannah.

CHANGES AT THE NAVY YARD.—Rumors are prevalent in regard to changes of Master Workmen in many of the departments of the Navy Yard. The present incumbents are Charles W. Stimson, Master Carpenter; Thomas Staples, M. Laborer; Levi Remick, M. Machinist; Ephraim Otis, M. Smith; Samuel W. French, M. Calker; B. F. Martin, M. Spar Maker; Samuel Rowell, M. Painter; J. E. Giddings, M. Mason; Oliver Hanscom, M Cooper; Joseph Williams, M. Gun Carriage Maker; and James Norton, M. Boiler Maker; the appointment of the latter being under the direction of Chief Engineer Bartleman, of the Yard. It is asserted that the Master Painter and Master Joiner are the victims of rotation, the authority for which statement we know nothing. Of the above positions, Maine has five, and New Hampshire seven, which appears to be unjust to Maine at first sight; yet the fact that the Master Carpenter (a Maine man) controls a department equivalent in number of men to more than double that of the whole seven of N. H., serves to place the balance of power on the side of Maine.

☞ The mercury stood at 90° above on Wednesday P. M. We hung our thermometer in the sun a few minutes; it indicated 110°, and we took it in for fear it might get up out of reach.

☞ Never was rain more welcome to dusty mortals than that of yesterday evening. Judging from the quantity of hailstones that fell, and which probably knocked off a few of the earlier blossoms, the storm must have come a long distance to cool our "heated term."

☞ By our advertising columns it will be seen that the steam-propeller Alice Riggs is to run as a semi-weekly packet between this port and Boston, carrying freight as well as passengers.

For the Chronicle.

CARELESSNESS ON THE PUBLIC ROAD. Where a person driving, races with another and urges his horse to so rapid a pace that he cannot control him,—it is manslaughter if in consequence, the carriage upset and a passenger is killed.

Driving at the rate of fifteen miles an hour, or a mile in four minutes, on a pub lic highway, is unlawful; and if death ensue from a collision thus produced, without fault of the injured party, the offence, it seems, would be murder in the second degree, unless accompanied with such circumstances of passion as would reduce the offence to manslaughter.

Driving with loose reins on a frequented road, whereby death ensues, has been held manslaughter.

If each of two persons be driving a cart at a dangerous and furious rate, and they be exciting each other to drive at a dangerous and furious rate, along a turnpike road, and one of the carts run over a man and kill him, each of the two persons is guilty of manslaughter; and it is no ground of defence, that the death was partly caused by the negligence of the deceased himself, or that he was either deaf or drunk at the time. Wharton's Criminal Law.

THE AMENDMENT TO PROHIBIT SLAVERY.—The Manchester Daily Union says: This question will come before our Legislature next June. We hope every Democrat will feel a just pride in recording his name against a measure so subversive of the principles upon which our government was founded.

It is by no means certain that "every democrat" will do so, though perhaps some of them may. Those who do, will simply record their names for future scorn. There is no hope of success for them, in opposing the measure: they can damage themselves, but they can't stop the ball. Some of the best will probably vote for the measure; others be absent or fail to vote;—and a very lean minority vote Nay.

A TRUE AIM.—It has not been the aim of the proprietor of Hunnewell's great preparations, advertised on our inside columns, to base a false reputation by long and unmeaning advertising, but a real one by true results, to which all who try them will cheerfully assent. See advertisement.

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

The sale of the first series of $300,000,000 of the 7-30 Loan was completed on the 31st of March, 1865. The sale of the second series of Three Hundred Millions, payable three years from the 15th of June, 1865, was begun on the 1st of April.

In the short space of thirty days, over One Hundred Millions of this series have been sold—leaving this day less than Two Hundred Millions to be disposed of. The interest is payable semi-annually in currency on the 15th of December and 15th of June by Coupons attached to each note, which are readily cashed anywhere. It amounts to

One cent per day on a $50 note.

More and More Desirable.

The Rebellion is suppressed, and the Government has already adopted measures to reduce expenditures as rapidly as possible to a peace footing, thus withdrawing from Market as borrower and purchaser.

This is the ONLY LOAN IN MARKET now offered by the Government, and constitutes the GREAT POPULAR LOAN OF THE PEOPLE.

The Seven Thirty Notes are convertible on the maturity, at the option of the holder, into

U. S. 5-20 Six per cent.

GOLD-BEARING BONDS,

Which are always worth a premium.

Free from Taxation.

The 7.30 Notes cannot be taxed by Towns, Cities, Counties or States, and the interest is not taxed unless on a surplus of the owner's income exceeding six hundred dollars a year. This fact increases their value from one to three per cent. per annum, according to the rate levied on other property.

SUBSCRIBE QUICKLY.

Less than $300,000,000 of the Loan authorized by the last Congress are now on the market.—This amount at the rate at which it is being absorbed, will all be subscribed for within four months, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loans.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the
CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any articles can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for lifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes
—of the—
MAGEE PARLOR STOVE
with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the cone, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

The New Hampshire Petroleum Co. is organized with great care, under the management of some of the ablest financiers and most successful business men in the State, whose integrity is above reproach, and who cannot be led by excitement into speculations that have not to their minds a golden foundation. Their lands have been selected with great caution. Mr. N. R. Bates, of Titusville, who has been very successful the past year in selecting Oil Lands and boring wells, was known to some of the gentlemen prominent in starting this company as a man strictly honest, experienced in the business of the Petroleum regions, and was solicited to aid in selecting the proper farms. He did so. Col. B. F. Martin, Hon. D. J. Daniels, and John B. Clarke, Editor of the Mirror, of Manchester, J. S. Fogg, Esq., of the firm of Fogg, Houghton & Coolidge, of No. 21, Rockwell Building, Daniel F. Beatty, 419 Broadway, New York, were appointed a committee to visit the farms spoken of. Early in February they looked over the farms selected by Mr. Bates, and became convinced that they were among the very best that could be had. The farms are said to be situated between Oil Creek, East Oil Creek, and Allegheny river, and not twenty miles from one point to the other, and the Four Farms of the Company are within the Big-in and on the same Oil Belt of the great flowing and pumping wells that have yielded the past year to the State of Pennsylvania, as Gov. Curtin says in his Message, fifty six million of dollars. The last of March, R. W. Harris, Esq., a well known business man and late District Attorney, P. H. Burns, Esq., a shrewd business man of Dover, N. H., and F. A. Wilcox, Esq., a lawyer of 78 Wall Street, New York, were sent out to see to the titles of lands, and make further examinations. They came to the same conclusions the others had, and the Four Farms were bought, which are thus described:

THE MATTISON FARM.

This Farm contains 84 acres and is near the confluence of Cherry Creek and East Oil Creek—The land is flat and beautiful for Oil, high lands on each side, Cherry Creek running directly through, and a rich undeveloped Coal vein on one side. Every inch of the land is valuable for Coal or boring wells, and there is no waste to it.

The oil belts run from east to west, or from north east to south west, and are from one to three miles wide. The Mattison Farm is two and a half miles in a direct line east of the great Oil flats south of Titusville, from which innumerable fortunes have flowed. Here the Steele & Read well flowed 2000 barrels per day—the Fountain 200—the Parker 200—and scores of wells are now being worked that yield from 10 to 60 barrels daily. Nine out of every ten wells bored on this flat are a success. A ten barrel well will sell for twenty thousand dollars, and a sixty barrel well sell for half a million

It is believed by good judges that every rod of the seventy-five acres of the Mattison Farm, will yield a better vein of oil, is easier to bore and below Titusville. Coal in that section is worth $13 per ton, and in the vein of coal should work be found it would be a fortune in itself. It is splendid coal, burning freely as Cannel.

The average price of oil per barrel the last year was $10 at the works, the buyers furnishing the barrels. It costs $20 per day to work a well to the depth of 700 feet, and few go lower than that. It costs $20 per day to work it after it yields oil. G. P. Ball, of Titusville, Cashier Farm Petroleum Company, says of this Farm Section:

"I consider all the lands located there, as being richer in Oil, and presenting geological features of a more full and perfect character than any other that I am acquainted with; and have great much time during the last few months in examining and selecting Oil Territory in Venango, Crawford and Warren Counties, in all of which I have made considerable investments.—Professors MAYNARD and SHEPHERD, Geologists of eminence, are of the same opinion regarding the lands generally throughout the valleys of East Oil Creek. If this Farm comes up to the expectations of Prof. Shepherd of Yale College, and Mr. Ball, of Mr. Bates, it will have pumping wells and flowing wells. The flowing wells would sell for large sums of money, and the pumping wells, if as good as those south of Titusville, would be of incalculable value. There is abundant room on each acre for 15 wells, and I have made my calculations, and I must make computation of the cost of so many wells, and the yield and profit on the whole in a year, if they are as good as we expect. Conservatively put down the minimum average of the wells on that Oil Belt, and your income from this Farm alone is well one million of dollars a year. Suppose I do not expect any such results, but merely state facts, and let each person make his own figuring and reach his own conclusions."

THE PARKER FARM

Contains 103 acres, a heavily timbered, situated near the road to Enterprise, half mile from East Oil Creek, and between Cherry Creek and where the Caldwell Creek empties into Oil Creek. They have a tight cask 30 feet deep over one there—They have not dared to pull out the sucker rod yet, fearing they had not sufficient tanks to hold the oil. The tanks they now have will hold 3,200 barrels. Below this well, on the same Creek, another fine well has been struck, and when it is a spouting well, which, they hope, will be soon enough, will yield abundantly. A little farther north the same company, the United States, is putting down a well that looks already better than the Frazer well, and great expectations rest upon it. In sight of the spouting wells, and between the Frazer and the one which has raised so high hopes, is the Byles Farm, all low land, and every rod it for a well. It is splendidly located, with abundance of sand rock and indications. Mr. Bates thinks very highly of it, and has no doubt but we shall find on it flowing wells superior to any yet struck in that section. A single flowing well struck would enable us to sell the farm in small lots for ten millions of dollars. Land on high hills some ways removed from the Coquet well, leases for fifty years at the rate of $50,000 for strips twelve rods by sixteen, cash down.

THE DAWSON FARM,

On West Pit Hole, contains 25 acres, and is in the same wonderful oil region. It has oil springs on and around it, and many wells are now being bored near it with excellent show for oil. Mr. Bates is now sinking one close to it. In a letter dated March 25, 1865, he says: "My well is showing as finely as it progresses, both in gas and oil, as any well has ever shown at the same depth on Oil Creek; gas at 90 feet; a good show of oil at 112 feet; at 140 feet gas is rising and roaring loudly.

Within rifle shot of this farm, sixteen years ago a well was sunk twenty-seven feet deep for water, and oil came in and spoiled it. We have no doubt that rich oil wells will be sunk on this Farm, and there is land enough, if they are rich, to make the Farm a fortune.

Circulars, prospectuses, &c., containing every information, will be furnished on application at the office of the Company, or sent by mail to parties wishing to subscribe. Apply to or address

M. PROUT, Manchester, N. H.
SAMUEL CHASE, Manchester, N. H.

The property of this Company is located on "Coal Run Creek," Meigs County, State of Ohio, about 10 miles from Athens, containing one hundred and five acres of land. A large number of wells are successfully worked in the vicinity, some of which are paying handsome dividends.—This Company propose to commence operations at once, and entertain no doubt that at an early day they will be able to pay a handsome percentage on the investment. The known ability and commercial standing of the officers of this Company afford a sufficient guaranty that the affairs will be conducted in a manner to secure the confidence of those who are disposed to invest in it.

The tract of land adjoining the property of this Company has passed into the hands of capitalists, who have sent out an experienced superintendent to commence operations at once, and their first order for machinery was $15,000. Our property has been examined under instructions from Dr A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, who pronounces the coal which is in abundance, to be of the best quality, yielding 80 gallons of oil to the ton, and has no doubt, from the location and position of the property, that it will be found valuable in the production of oil. Most companies have to pay very high prices for their coal, all of which we save; oil can be manufactured from the coal upon the property, at a cost not exceeding ten cents per gallon; and it is proposed to commence the manufacture in connection with the sinking of wells. One dollar will buy a share of this stock, which is the par value, and all benefits derived from the lands, either by sales of oil, land or products of any kind, are to be divided among the stockholders, and in addition $200,000 worth of valuable, useful and desirable property will be given to the stockholders, as soon as all the shares are disposed of. The Company adopt this course for the purpose of disposing of their stock at the par value, rather than to sell it, as so many companies do, at a subscription price, which is usually one-half. Thus, it will be perceived that every stockholder owning ten shares, for example, will be sure to realize a handsome dividend when the property is divided; a plan which is entirely honorable, and in all respects perfectly legal.

The property to be distributed among the stockholders will be equal to any in the market, and will consist of the following described articles:

$5000 to purchase a HOUSE in Boston or vicinity.
$5000 in U. S. 5-20 BONDS, CERTIFICATES of $500 each.

☞ The Belfast Age has a funny correspondent, who writes from Barrancas, Fla., where the 2d Me. Cavalry is stationed. A few extracts show the drift of his pen:

This is a great country—not much for farming, but great for fleas, producing 365 1-4 crops every year. They are carnivorous in their habits, and like country schoolmasters "board round." They are no respecters of persons, though they do respect rank, being partial to descendants of Ham.

This is a great place for fruit. We have peaches, tomatoes, plums, blackberries, strawberries, etc., in abundance. They are raised in tin cans, ready preserved, cost one dollar, and the money is well worth what you get for it.

To one who, after having spent a large portion of his life in various wicked ways, wishes a place where he can repent and do penance for his sins, I say come here, or if any one wishes to go into the hermit business, I say come, for I know where there are lots of rebel magazines, unused now, which will answer splendidly for caves.

Barrancas is a remarkably quiet place, for horses never neigh here—unless you ask them if they are well treated—and the mule allows his musical talents to go uncultivated; hens never cackle here.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, w der the Act of 1857.
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that MORE SUCCESSFUL BUSINESS AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of precedents and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, full models of the patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessary of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

See what the most popular and widely circulated periodicals say of our Establishment:
From the "Dispatch" of February 25, 1865.
We take pleasure in calling the attention of our readers to the announcement of Messrs. Devaugh & Co.'s Great Sale of Jewelry, Silver Ware, and Fancy Goods, at Concert Hall, Congress St. We are personally acquainted with the members of this firm and know them to be gentlemen of standing and integrity. Persons in need of goods, for variety and extent, we have scarcely seen paralleled.
From the "Mirror of Fashion," March 1, 1865.
Messrs. Devaugh & Co.'s Great Sale of Jewelry, etc., opened on the 15th ult., and we venture to say that an order so large and diverse exhibited by any establishment in this city. The ladies thronged their bazaar almost to suffocation, although the streets were blocked by impassable by the melted snow and slush. We predict for them a wonderful success.
From the "Ledger," February 28, 1865.
Our lady friends should visit the extensive establishment of Messrs. Devaugh & Co., No. 15 Maiden Lane, if they wish to indulge themselves with a sight which they will long remember.—Such a profusion of elegant Watches, Chains, Rings, Earrings, and in short, of jewelry of every name, kind and description, we never before witnessed. Their silver and plated ware is superb, and almost casts into the shade the other splendid establishments which have long been the boast of our city. It is estimated that their stock is worth not less than one million dollars.

The Best Ink in the World!
A CHEAP PRODUCT DISCOVERED.
A Substitute for Costly Galls, and a Writing Fluid produced that challenges Competition!
INK POWDERS
TO CARRY IN YOUR POCKET, FROM WHICH TO MAKE INK AT PLEASURE.
THE INK MADE in Three Minutes.
Forty Cents will buy Powder enough to furnish a family for years.
FREEZING DON'T HURT IT.
An accident revealed to a Machinist, in Manchester, N. H., a certain result which by the aid of Chemistry has been used till the most beautiful writing fluid, better than anything imported or home-made, flowing freer, writing easier, handsomer, as lasting as time, not injuring the pen a whit, has been produced.
It is put up in the form of a small powder, stands all climates, good for years, and can be converted into elegant black writing fluid in three minutes.
A company has lately been formed for the manufacture of these Powders, and although the Fluid has been before the public but a few weeks the most astounding testimonials have been received in its favor, all unsolicited. We select a few from the many.
The greatest qualities of these Ink Powders over everything else in the market are:
1st—It makes an ink of a beautiful, glossy, rich color, that every body will be delighted with.
2d—It flows as free as fresh water, does not gum up, thicken on the pen or corrode it a particle, and never fades, and will endure as long as the paper on which it is used.
3d—Its cheapness baffles all competition. Forty cents will buy enough to fill fifty common bottles that are retailed at ten cents each.
4th—Convenience. Can be carried to the army, to sea, to the mines, to far off countries.
5th—Wipe your pen dry after using it, and a single steel pen will last with this ink till the paper wears the point off. It is as harmless as water.
Testimonials.
MIRROR AND AMERICAN OFFICE,
Manchester, N. H., Jan. 11, 1865.
To the American Ink Company:—We have tried your Ink Powders. They work to a charm. They make perfect ink in three minutes, the best ink I ever saw. It flows easy, does not gum up the pen or corrode it. I have cleared my inkstands of all other kinds of ink. JOHN B. CLARKE.
MILLBURN, Mass., Feb. 1, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: I wish heartily to thank you for the beautiful Ink which you have given to the public. I have made Ink, for eight years past, from Prof. Ure's Recipe, (made of Aleppa Gall, Sulphate Iron and Gum Senegal,) and have sold large quantities of it. Have supplied the whole village in this town with it for two years, and every one using it gave it great praise. It is a good Ink, but my occupation is all gone now. Your Ink is the best article of the kind I ever used. This is no puff. Some in my inkstands froze up solid twice and it now flows just freely as at the first, and is not changed in the color a single shade. It is a beautiful black; it keeps so readily that I can write one-quarter faster with it than with any other Ink. It ought to be introduced into every school in the Union.
Yours truly, J. W. POLAND.
Washington, D. C., Feb. 4, 1864.
To the American Ink Company: I have tried your Ink Powders, and I think, without any exception, it makes the best writing fluid I ever used. I would not be without. I remain yours,
GEO. H. HUMMES,
Battery M, 1st Mass. H. Artillery.
Kewanee, Henry Co., Illinois, Feb. 20, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: Received the Ink Powder that you sent, and to say that I am pleased with it is true, but does not express what I should like to say. The community have long wanted an Ink Powder that could stand the test of freezing and that would not corrode the pen, and several have been produced. Prof. Ure's was an excellent recipe, but was spoiled by freezing. I have tried this to test it, and find that it is not affected at all.
I have introduced it into my school in this place, and I use a quantity of it. It works in a ready sale. Thanking you in behalf of the community and myself for such a discovery, I remain, very respectfully, your obedient servt.,
GEO. W. PARKER.
Deering, March 1, 1865.
To the American Ink Company:—This is to certify that I have given your Ink Powder a trial, and I am happy to state it works to perfection. It has a superiority over all other Inks within my knowledge. And I would cheerfully recommend it to the lawyer, the merchant, or any person whose business requires any amount of writing.—It does not gum the pen, and flows as free after being frozen as before. Respectfully yours,
ALMON M. COREY.
Nashua, N. H., March 13, 1865.
American Ink Company:—Gentlemen: The inks made from the powders you sent me is the best I ever used. There is none of that sticky substance about it that there is in most kinds of ink. It flows freely and works to a charm.
Yours truly, GEORGE W. FLANDERS.
Brookline, N. H., March 13, 1865.
American Ink Company:—Gentlemen: I received the Powder you sent me, and I recommend it to all those that have any writing to do, as the best Ink I ever used. I have used J. Moore's Bernard & Noyes', D. J. Rideout's, and many others, but yours far excels any I ever used.
Yours respectfully, G. E. STILES.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, MAY 19, 1865.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—It is reported the President's amnesty proclamation is in type, and that it will proffer the oath of allegiance to all who have served in the rebel armies up to certain grades, and when accepted to constitute a full exchange and pardon. Those officers who shall be convicted of the terrible cruelties on our prisoners will be punished.

An officer at Washington from Fortress Monroe says quarters for Jeff. Davis are being prepared there.

Our military authorities prohibit any disclosures as to the progress of Jeff. Davis towards Washington.

Facts have recently been developed which fasten the responsibility for the inhuman treatment of National soldiers in Southern prisons directly on Jeff. Davis and the members of his government, and that the system of slow starvation was decided upon in Cabinet meeting in Richmond, the decisive design being to weaken the Union armies by rendering these unfortunate men forever unfit for service after being exchanged.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—General Stoneman is expected in Washington Friday or Saturday. He will remain only long enough to transact official business, and depart on a brief visit to his family in Ohio.

It has been decided that the grand review will take place on Tuesday or Wednesday next. The troops of the armies of Sherman and Meade are now marching through Washington.

Jeff. Davis is expected to arrive on Sunday. Gov. Brown of Georgia, Vance of North Carolina, and others, will soon follow.

GENERAL ORDER from the U. S. War Department.—All forces of the enemy east of the Mississippi having been duly surrendered by their proper commanding officers to the armies of the United States, under agreements of parole and disbandment, and there being now no authorized troops east of the Mississippi river, it is ordered that from and after the 1st day of June, 1865, any and all persons found in arms against the United States, or who may commit acts of hostility against it east of the Mississippi river, will be regarded as guerillas and punished with death. The strict enforcement and execution of this order is especially enjoined upon commanding officers of all U. S. forces within the territorial limits to which it applies.

☞ From the evidence in the assassination case, it appears that the conspiracy dates back to the summer of 1863, and that Booth was then engaged in it. The conspiracy contemplated the capture of President Lincoln, his murder, burning of Northern cities, creating disaffection among the Northern people with the war, and bringing about a revolution in favor of the Confederacy. Booth was the leading agent in the matter, visiting various points in the country, and holding secret consultations in Canada with George N. Sanders, Clay, Holcomb, Thompson and others. Booth was furnished with money from Richmond, and was agent to hire others.

THE TRIALS AT WASHINGTON.—The evidence taken Wednesday served to implicate Dr. Mudd deeper than before, while the whereabouts of Harrold and Atzerott on the night of the assassination were shown to be in harmony with Booth's movements at that time. Tho' Atzerott failed to carry out his part, it was further testified he had intimated that Gen. Grant was to have been assassinated.

PIRATES AND BLOCKADE RUNNERS.—By an arrival from Havana, the 13th, it appears that the Pirate Stonewall left Teneriffe April 1st, and arrived at Bermuda the 26th, thence proceeded to Nassau, but was unable to go over the bar, owing to drawing over sixteen feet of water, and then occupied three days in her passage to Havana. She was not saluted at Havana, but the Spanish General D'Marina, under pretence of showing the pirate to his daughters, paid a visit to the Stonewall. One of the Captain General's Aids and several Government officers also visited the pirate. Some difficulties were attempted to be put in the way of clearing the steamer Columbia for Key West by our Consul; but Messrs. J. M. Morales & Co. overcome it, and she was allowed to depart to warn Admiral Stribbling at Key West. The result of our Consul sending to Key West is the arrival at Havana on the 13th, of the frigate Powhattan, Captain Worden; and the gunboat Aries is outside. via

The gunboat Aries captured off the Florida coast an English blockade runner with one hundred bales of cotton, and three hundred thousand dollars in specie, and two men not on the crew or passenger list, who both refused to give their names.

— During the heavy shower Wednesday evening, a dwelling house on Coffin's Court, Newburyport, was struck by lightning and entirely consumed.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Mirror states that the remains of the old gentleman who was accidentally killed by falling through a bridge in Bedford a short time since, have been identified as those of Pierre Langlais, a Frenchman belonging in Fitchburg, Mass. His son and grandson have visited Bedford, and the body has been disinterred and taken to Fitchburg. He left his home to go to Worcester, and, not knowing the English language, he got bewildered and strayed off into this State, where he came to his death as above mentioned.

—— A Dover correspondent of the Mirror, mentions the fact that Rev. Mr. Patterson's lecture, on the Flag and the Cross, drew a crowded audience in the largest church there, the 1st Congregational, and says:

His address was full of patriotism, sound doctrine, and Christian thought. In speaking of freedmen, when he declared that they were entitled to "fire the ballot as they had the bullet," the audience applauded. We hope Rev. Mr. P. will repeat this discourse in all our prominent cities and also have it published.

—— In Dover, the Cocheco Manufacturing Co. are about starting up all their mills. Part of No. 4, and all of No. 3, have been in operation the past winter. Preparations are being made for resuming work in the rest of No. 4, and the whole of No. 5, (the largest mill of the lot.)

—— Messrs. G. H. Pierce of Dover and Albert Blaisdell, Esq., of Greenland, railroad contractors, have secured the contract for building 200 miles of the European & North American railroad from Bangor, Me., to St. Johns, N. B. A part of the road is already built, only 200 miles being necessary to connect the different portions. The ground will probably be "broken" and work commenced soon. So says a Dover correspondent.

—— Mr. John H. Kimball, offers 25 dollars reward for the recovery of horse, wagon and harness stolen from his barn in Exeter, on Monday night.

THE GREAT CONSPIRACY.—The Philadelphia Press has the following comments upon the extent of the plot to murder the chief officials of the government:

The murder of President Johnson was as deliberately planned as that of his lamented predecessor. He owes his preservation from the contemplated attack of Atzerott, only to that bravo's want of resolution, or to purely accidental circumstances. His destruction was as confidently anticipated as that of Lincoln and Seward, and as carefully provided for. Thus certainly three, probably more, of the foremost men of the Republic were pre-arranged victims of this horrible plot. Those who, in view of the majestic recovery of the nation from its terrible shock, wonder what rational motive prompted the destruction of its lamented Chief, must remember that villainy is at best a blind demon, and that the failure of a portion of the desperate device of treason happily prevented us from realizing the consequences of its entire success.

The extent of the projected crime is presumptive proof that Booth did not act "upon his own responsibility," and that he formed only a part of the infernal machinery controlled and directed by Davis through the intermediate aid of his agents in Canada. The official records discovered at the rebel capital bear witness to exorbitant demands for secret-service money. Beall's piratical adventures, the attempts to fire the hotels of New York, the raids on our Northern frontier, the conspiracy against the life of Johnson, the attack upon Seward, and the murder of Lincoln, partially explain how these immense sums were appropriated.

STARVING OUR PRISONERS.—A Washington despatch says a delegation of Western Congressmen called on the President, Tuesday, for the purpose of protesting against any action on the part of the Government, which shall extend the rights of prisoners-of-war to those officers and privates in the late rebel service who have consented to the murder and starvation of our men when prisoners-of-war. There is a great deal of feeling on the point throughout the west, which section claims to have had an undue proportion of the unfortunate blacks who have been butchered in United States uniform, and of the whites who have been reduced to skeletons by the barbarians of the now collapsed Confederacy. It is understood that President Johnson agreed with the delegation, and will proceed to act upon their representations, by directing that testimony be immediately taken upon the subject.

GOLD, in New York, Thursday, 130 to 129 1-2.

— It is supposed the conspirator J. H. Surratt has gone to Canada,—as a handkerchief marked with his name was picked up in Burlington, Vt., depot, just after the assassination.

— The U. S. Adjutant General has been directed to commence mustering honorably out of service all general field and staff officers who are unemployed, or whose service is no longer needed.

— The Army and Navy Journal thinks our army for some time will be 150,000, to be ultimately reduced to 100,000. Speaking of the Mexican emigration scheme, the editor expresses the opinion that it will draw more largely upon the late rebel army, than on the loyal.

NORTH CAROLINA.—The N. Y. Herald's correspondence from N. C. says: "The planters of the surrounding country are greatly troubled regarding the scarcity of hands to perform the necessary agricultural labor, and design visiting the North to procure laborers. They say the negroes are now free and unreliable, and the poor whites are too lazy to work. [Well, let the planters go to work themselves, as we do—and the free slaves and lazy whites will soon come to it.]

The dissolution of the rebel army has thrown upon North Carolina and other States, hordes of disorderly characters who plunder indiscriminately, causing a reign of terror and anarchy. The national troops, however, distributed at various points, are remedying to some extent this evil.

CALIFORNIA.—The people's ticket prevails in San Francisco. A despatch from Los Angelos says that about the 10th of March last, Wardwell and Thomas, accompanied by men employed by them, started for Salt Lake City, with 4000 head of sheep, and passed Camp Cady all right. After an absence of several days a large portion of their sheep returned to Majave Lane. Johnson, who had a ranche near Camp Cady, gathered together 1100 of the sheep. It is supposed the Indians have murdered Wardwell and Thomas and the men with them.

☞ An Army of the Potomac correspondent of the New York Tribune, referring to the "emigration" of discharged soldiers to Mexico, says:

"I have been unexpectedly pleased to find that Mexico is never alluded to by either officers or privates. Home has too many attractions for them to look beyond it. As a private remarked to me, 'We have saved our country; that is enough for one army.' The habits of idleness bred of camp life may lead many of them to an enlistment under a foreign flag. But the majority of this army enlisted from patriot motives, and prefer the calm pleasures of social life to the dangerous prospects of army promotion."

FURTHER DECLINE IN BEEF.—At the Cambridge market Wednesday, the Boston Herald says, the supply of beef cattle was much larger than last week, and prices declined from fifty cents to one dollar per hundred weight. More than one half of the cattle came from the West and Canada. At the close of the market, prices were still lower and extra beef was quoted at $13 50 per hundred weight. For sheep there was no sale at any price, seven cents a pound being asked but refused. The forwardness of the season and the excellent prospects of a large crop of hay have upset the calculations of beef speculators, and consumers are likely to once more enjoy roast beef at a reasonable cost.

☞ "The American Artisan" is an excellent mechanical journal, issued weekly in New York, by Messrs. Brown, Coombs & Co. The Artisan publishes a weekly list of patent claims, and its columns are replete with scientific, mechanical, and such general information as must, independently of its ably-written editorials, commend it to popular favor. The editors appear to cater for the masses, with an eye to the advancement of mechanical art. The Artisan is just commencing the second year of its publication; and the Proprietors announce that on May 10, they issued the first number of the new and large series of that journal; and it will be their aim to make it more instructive and interesting than any other periodical of similar character published in either the United States or Europe. Price $2.50 per year.

☞ Merrick's great Foundry in Philadelphia, which occupied a whole square on the 5th, 4th, Washington and Federal streets, took fire on Wednesday night, in the paint shop in the centre of the buildings, and most of the buildings on 5th street were destroyed. The room containing valuable drawings was among those destroyed. It is impossible to estimate the amount of damage, but from the extent of the fire it must be large. The foundry employed 1500 hands.

— "Will Jeff. Davis be hung?" is now a leading topic for discussion. If such a villain is to escape the halter, we think it will be quite time to abolish capital punishment altogether.

THE MORALS OF THE CAPTURE.—The capture of Jeff. Davis will be regarded in a great variety of aspects. The ridiculous aspect will probably strike the mass of the people first, and while this view of the case is uppermost, an exchange suggests the following moral suggestions:—

Don't get married. Had not J. D. been encumbered with a large wife and family—we mean a wife and large family—he could easily have made his escape.

Swap even. If you take your wife's petticoats, give her your boots. A pair of Mrs. D.'s balmorals would not have betrayed her liege.

Keep your temper. If the captors of the "President" had not controlled their angry passions, he would have "hurt some of 'em."

Be magnanimous. The energetic pursuit of the Davis family has seriously wounded the feelings of the "stern statesman."

Keep moving. If Wilson's Cavalry had measured their day's march by a red tape line, J. D. would have given them the slip.

Don't be a coward. J. D. came to grief from his unwillingness to die in the breaches.

Always wear the best. A few more springs in Mr. Davis' hoop skirt might have saved him.

Cultivate the sports of boyhood. In the race at Irwinsville, every Michigan boy showed that he could beat a hoop.

Traitors are always betrayed. J. D. fled to the woods for protection, but they proved to be trees unable.

☞ The Concert to-night by Master Coker and others, will beyond question be one of the best ever given here. Everybody says, the Hartford Times among the rest, that "Master Coker is a great musical genius, a wonder, and his efforts eminently satisfactory, and keenly enjoyed by large and highly appreciative audiences. He is a modest looking boy of about fourteen years, with a very rich, sweet and powerful soprano voice, which is entirely under his control, enabling him to execute the most difficult operatic music with all the ease and grace of a prima donna. Master Ellard, also, has musical talent, but of less brilliancy than Master Coker. He has a sweet voice, which is well trained, and sings with great ease and naturalness. Miss Bessie Coker is about "sweet sixteen," has a pretty face, sings sweetly and accurately, and makes a fine appearance on the stage. Mr. Weeks fully sustains his enviable reputation, as does Mr. Lesserve, who presides at the piano. The performances of Mr. Mollenhauer on the violoncello are beyond all praise or criticism—they are wonderful."

And our old friend Mr. Meinerth, writes us at some length from Newburyport, a very pleasant critique on this extra talented troupe, giving them the very highest praise. We regret not being able to give his nice and agreeable article in full; it concludes thus: "The whole company is a rare combination of talent. Let every one who can, go and hear, and confirm my opinion."

☞ The Ballot in mentioning that Maj. Frank W. Miller has again been commissioned as Paymaster of the Governor's Horse Guards, adds the Query: What do they draw pay for? Is it for guarding the Governor's horse? To which we answer, Yes, they guard the Governor's horse, and pay for the carriages he and the other dignitaries ride in, too. That is, the Guards always have done this; but people are beginning to think New Hampshire ought to pay a part of the Guard's expenses, as Massachusetts always has for the Boston Lancers,—and as will doubtless be done for the Horse Guards hereafter—by putting them on the same footing as other State Militia when ordered out.

☞ We think our people generally will be glad to participate in a good old fashioned Celebration of the 4th of July. Shall we have it?

HOT.—On Wednesday at noon the thermometer stood at 92 in the shade. There are not ten days in the year hotter than that. As the wind was strong we had plenty of dust, and upon the whole it was rather uncomfortable. But this is the weather for grass, and this is the chief crop of New England.

☞ Paymaster Emery at the Navy Yard, commenced making payments to the workmen on Thursday, judging from the sudden shower of greenbacks which visited this city last evening.

☞ The National Mechanics and Traders Bank, on Monday paid a dividend of 6 per cent. free of government and city taxes.

The Bank of New Hampshire on the same day paid a stock dividend of 50 per cent., or $30 per share.

☞ The Ballot alludes to the fact that the Chronicle has recently been agitating the subject of a place for mechanics to spend their evenings; and says "we would suggest that it would not be a bad idea for them, especially the heads of families, to pass an occasional evening at home."

What can our bachelor Br. of the Ballot know about "home?" And the design of the "place" referred to, is especially for those who are not the "heads of families," or at least whose homes are not here.

The Ballot also says "the attempt to galvanize the Mechanic Association, we think will hardly succeed during the lifetime of the old fogies who for many years have controlled its management. It is like building castles in the air, to anticipate any great public work from that association; unless a good degree of new blood is introduced into its veins." We venture to say that the editor knows very little about the Association, or the good it has done and is doing; and we will also predict that the Society will carry out the "great public work" now talked of.

☞ One Joshua L. Foster has petitioned the Mayor and Aldermen to pay him for damages to the Stars and Bars printing office, occasioned by a mob on the 10th of April. He estimates his loss on presses, type, &c., (for which he, or rather somebody else for him, paid $1200 or $1500,) at from five to six thousand dollars, and the damage done to the building at $200. The Board of Aldermen have given him leave to withdraw his petition. Foster has also sued Mr. D. H. Spinney for damages in the above affair, claiming fifteen thousand dollars as the amount of his loss and damage! Won't it do him good when he gets it?

By the way, can any of you tell us why the Stars and Bars Office is like the editor? Because it is rather vacant and needs repairs, in the upper story.

FIREARMS.—Messrs. Editors:—May we be permitted through the columns of your valuable paper, to caution those inspectors of guns for the High School Cadets against the careless use of firearms, as there have been so many accidents from this cause. It is possible that a gun might "go off" even if not loaded. And more than this; we have the authority of a pious old lady for saying that "a gun is a dangerous thing without lock, stock, or barrel." We would also suggest that the Spencer Repeating Rifle would be the safest and best in case of a land attack. Their safety consists in the fact that the warrior when loading this weapon may be permitted to stand behind it, and not immediately before the muzzle, by which dangerous practice so many boys have been injured. A good rule to observe also, is that which condemns the habit of of passing in front of a gun when it is being discharged. AN OLD LADY.

☞ We are requested to correct an error made in a communication of Wednesday signed "Justice," wherein it was stated that Levi Remick held the position of Master Machinist. It should have read, Levi Remick, Master Joiner; and Albert H. Drown, M. Machinist. The latter situation was formerly filled by Greenleaf J. Prescott, Esq., who died from the fatal scourge of yellow fever last summer; since which time—until within the past two or three months—the place has been vacant.

NORTH CAROLINA.—The Raleigh Standard says it is probable that steps will soon be taken to call a Convention to reconstruct a loyal State Government.

A letter dated Fayetteville, says a delegation was appointed by the Mayor of that place, to proceed to Wilmington and procure food for the inhabitants. The result was 20,000 or 30,000 rations were at once forwarded, and though the secesh swore they would not eat anything from the Yankees, they were the very first to rush in. Government horses and mules are also furnished the farmers to work with.

The railroads in N. C. are in running order, and mails and telegraphs all right. Union meetings are being held all over the State, and a great mass meeting at Raleigh

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

THIRD SERIES,
$230,000,000.

By authority of the Secretary of the Treasury, the undersigned, the General Subscription Agent for the sale of United States Securities, offers to the public the third series of Treasury Notes, bearing seven and three-tenths per cent. interest per annum, known as the

7.30 LOAN.

These notes are issued under date of July 15, 1865, and are payable three years from that date in currency, or are convertible at the option of the holder into

U. S. 5-20 Six per cent.
GOLD-BEARING BONDS.

These Bonds are now worth a handsome premium, and are exempt, as are all the Government Bonds, from State, County and Municipal taxation, which adds from one to three per cent. per annum to their value, according to the rate levied upon other property. The interest is payable semi annually by coupons attached to each note, which may be cut off and sold to any bank or banker.

The interest at 7.30 per cent. amounts to

One cent per day on a $50 note.
Two cents	"	"	"	$100 "
Ten	"	"	"	$500 "
20	"	"	"	$1000 "
$1	"	"	"	$5000 "

Notes of all the denominations named will be promptly furnished upon receipt of subscriptions.

The Notes of this Third Series are precisely similar in form and privileges to the Seven-Thirties already sold, except that the Government reserves to itself the option of paying interest in gold coin at 6 per cent., instead of 7.3-10ths in currency up to July 15th, at the time when they subscribe.

The delivery of the notes of this third series of the Seven-thirties will commence on the 1st of June, and will be made promptly and continuously after that date.

The slight change made in the conditions of this THIRD SERIES affects only the matter of interest. The payment in gold, if made, will be equivalent to the currency interest of the higher rate.

The return to specie payments, in the event of which only will the option to pay interest in Gold be availed of, would so reduce and equalize prices that purchases made with six per cent. in gold would be fully equal to those made with seven and three-tenths per cent. in currency.—This is

The Only Loan in Market

Now offered by the Government, and its superior advantages make it the Great Popular Loan of the People.

Less than $300,000,000 of the Loan authorized by the last Congress are now on the market.—This amount at the rate at which it is being absorbed, will all be subscribed for within four months, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loans.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

A MASCULINE HOUSE-MAID, a strange sort of person, named Sophia Gibbouse, died a few days ago at Cambridge, out in Guernsey County, Ohio. It was always supposed that the person in question was a woman, and for 25 years the public remained in ignorance that the would-be woman was in reality a man. Not until after death was the deception discovered. During all that time the man has dressed as a woman, associated with women, and had been employed as one in doing all sorts of rough house work from place to place.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the
CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in the city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes
—of the—
MAGEE PARLOR STOVE
with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the cool, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

The New Hampshire Petroleum Co. is organized with great care, under the management of some of the ablest financiers and most successful business men in the State, whose integrity is above reproach, and who cannot be led by excitement into speculations that have not to their minds a golden foundation. Their lands have been selected with great caution. Mr. N. R. Bates, of Titusville, who has been very successful the past year in selecting Oil Lands and boring wells, was known to some of the gentlemen promoters in starting this company as a man of honest, sagacious, and experienced in the Petroleum regions, and was solicited to aid in selecting the property in this company. Mr. N. R. Bates, Wm. P. Newell, Esq., and John B. Clarke, Editor of the Mirror, of Manchester, J. S. Fogg, Esq., of the firm of Fogg, Houghton & Coolidge, 64 Pearl St., Boston, and Daniel E. Lancaster, 419 Broadway, New York, were appointed a committee to visit the farms spoken of. Early in February they looked over the lands selected by Mr. Bates, and became convinced that they were among the best that could be had. The Oil Creek Basin seems to be situated between Oil Creek, East Oil Creek, and Alleghany river, and not twenty miles from one point to the other, and the four Farms of the Company are within the Basin and on the same Oil Belt of the great flowing and pumping wells that have yielded the past year to the State of Pennsylvania, as Gov. Curtin says in his Message, fifty six million of dollars. The last of March, B. W. Harris, Esq., partner in one of Boston and late United States Attorney, P. H. Burns, Esq., a shrewd business man of Dover, N. H., and F. A. Wilcox, Esq., a lawyer of 76 Wall Street, New York, were sent out to see to the titles of lands, and make farther examinations. They came to the same conclusion as the others had and the Four Farms were bought, which are thus described:

THE MATTISON FARM.

This Farm contains 84 acres and is near the confluence of Cherry Creek and East Oil Creek.—The lay of the land is beautiful for Oil; high lands on each side, Cherry Creek running directly through, and a rich undeveloped Coal vein on one side. Every inch of the land is valuable for Coal or boring wells, and there is no waste to it.

The oil belts run from east to west, or from north east to south west, and are from one to three miles wide. The Mattison Farm is two and a half miles in a direct line east of the great Oil flats south of Titusville, from which immense fortunes have flowed. Here the Steele & Mead well flowed 1000 barrels per day—the Fountain 200—the Corning 200—and scores of wells are now being worked that yield from 10 to 60 barrels daily. Nine out of every ten wells bored on this flat are a success. A ten barrel well will sell for forty thousand dollars, and a sixty barrel well sell for half a million

It is believed by good judges that every rod of land on this farm will be productive of wells, and that is not good for coal, is equal to the Flat below Titusville. Coal in that section is worth $13 per ton, and if the vein of coal should work well it would be a fortune in itself. It is splendid coal, burning freely as Cannel.

The average price of oil per barrel the last year was $10 at the wells, the producers furnishing the barrels. It costs a little less than $6000 to sink a well to the depth of 700 feet, and few go lower than that. At 250 per day, from which to after it yields oil. G. P. Ball, of the Cherry Creek Farm Petroleum Company, says of this Farm Section:

"I consider all the lands located there, as being richer in Oil, and preaching geological features of a more full and perfect character than any other that I have seen, and I believe I have spent much time during the last few months in examining and selecting Oil Territory in Venango, Warren and Crawford Counties, all of which I have made considerable investments.—Professors MAYNARD and SHEPARD, Geologists of eminence, have made a careful survey of the lands generally throughout the valleys of East Oil Creek. If this Farm comes up to the expectations of Professors Shepard of Yale College, of Mr. Ball, of Mr. Bates, it will have pumping wells and flowing wells. The flowing wells would sell for large sums of money, and the pumping wells, if as good as those south of Titusville, would be of incalculable value. There facts, and the reports such men offer, I rely on in this farm for over 900 wells. Just make computation of the cost of so many wells, and

NR. LINCOLN'S CANE.—Mrs. Lincoln has given to Senator Sumner a Palmetto cane, which was presented to Mr. Lincoln some months since. The head of the cane is an elaborately carved piece of ivory, representing an eagle shielding with her wings a nest containing several eaglets, and in the act of drawing up with her beak the folds of an American flag to protect the nest and her young from the insidious approach of a serpent. The idea aptly symbolizes the Union's dangers, and as developed upon the head of the cane, is quite effective as well as ornamental.

The properties of this Company consist of 643 acres, principally owned in Fee Simple, of the most desirable Oil Lands, situated mostly in Oil Creek, Penn., upon which there are three wells now down, capable of producing from 100 to 1000 barrels per day when completed, as they are located so near the great producing interests of the Empire, Sherman and Drake wells, on this noted creek. This Company offer inducements seldom met with. The capital stock is very small for the amount of valuable oil lands the Company possesses. Three engines are already at the wells. Our Agent at Titusville writes us that the well on the McElhany farm has commenced flowing, which places this Company beyond a doubt of success. The Officers of this Company, in placing this property before the New England public, have full confidence that no property yet offered are superior, or any out of which larger and more certain dividends may at once be expected. See what the most popular and widely circulated periodicals say of our Establishment:
From the "Dispatch" of February 26, 1865.
We take pleasure in calling the attention of our readers to the announcement of Messrs. Devaugh & Co.'s Great Sale of Jewelry, Silver Ware, and Fancy Goods, in our advertising columns. We are personally acquainted with the members of this firm and know them to be gentlemen of sterling worth and integrity. Their stock of goods, for variety and extent, we have scarcely seen equaled.
From the "Mirror of Fashion," March 1, 1865.
Messrs. Devaugh & Co.'s Great Sale of Jewelry, etc., opened on the 15th ult., and we venture to say that no finer display of goods was ever exhibited by any establishment in this city. We saw ladies thronged their bazaar atmost to suffocation, although the streets were rendered nearly impassable by the melting snow and slush. We predict for them a wonderful success.
From the "Ledger," February 28, 1865.
Our lady friends should visit the extensive establishment of Messrs. Devaugh & Co., No. 15 Maiden Lane, if they wish to indulge themselves with a sight which they will long remember. Such a profusion of elegant Watches, Chains, Rings, Earrings, and, in short, of Jewelry of every name, kind and description, we never before witnessed. Their silver and plated ware is superb, and almost casts into the shade the other splendid establishments which have long been the boast of our city. It is estimated that their stock is worth not less than one million dollars.

The Best Ink in the World!
A CHEAP PRODUCT DISCOVERED.
A Substitute for Costly Galls, and a Writing Fluid produced that challenges Competition!
INK POWDERS
TO CARRY IN YOUR POCKET, FROM WHICH TO MAKE INK AT PLEASURE.
THE INK MADE in Three Minutes.
Forty Cents will buy Powder enough to furnish a family for years.
FREEZING DO'NT HURT IT.
An accident revealed to a Machinist, in Manchester, N. H., a certain result which by the aid of Chemistry has been used till the most beautiful writing fluid, better than anything imported or home-made, flowing freer, writing easier, handsomer, and in lasting as time, not injuring the pen a whit, has been produced
It is put up in the form of a small powder, stands all climates, good for years, and can be converted into elegant black writing fluid in three minutes.
A company has lately been formed for the manufacture of these Powders, and although the Fluid has been before the public but a few weeks the most astounding testimonials have been received in its favor, all unsolicited. We select a few from the many.
The greatest qualities of these Ink Powders over everything else in the market are:
1st—It makes an ink of a beautiful gossy, rich color, that every body will be delighted with.
2d—It flows freely, does not mud up, thicken on the pen or corrode it a particle, and never fades, and will endure as long as the paper on which it is used.
3d—The cheapness baffles all competition. Forty cents will buy enough to fill fifty common bottles that are retailed at ten cents each.
4th—Convenience. Can be carried to the army, to sea, to the mines, to far off countries.
5th—Wipe your pen dry after using it, and a single steel pen will last with this Ink till the paper wears the point off. It is as harmless as water.

Testimonials.

To the American Ink Company:—I have tried your Ink Powders. They work to a charm. They make perfect ink in three minutes, the best ink I ever saw. It flows easily, does not gum up the pen or corrode it. I have cleared my inkstands of all other kinds of ink. JOHN B. CLARKE.

MELROSE, Mass., Feb. 1, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: I wish heartily to thank you for the beautiful Ink which you have given to the public. I have made Ink, for eight years past, from Prof. Ure's Recipe, (made of Alepps nutall, Sulphate Iron and Gum Senegal,) and have sold large quantities of it. I have supplied the schools in this town with it for two years, and every one using it gave it great praise. It is a good Ink, fully up to my occupation is all gone now. Your Ink is the best article of the kind I ever used. It will be no puff. Some in my inkstands froze up solid twice and it now flows just fully as at the first, and is not changed in the color a single shade. It is a beautiful black; it flows so readily that I can write nearly twice as much with it than with any other Ink. It ought to be introduced into every school in the Union.
Yours truly, J. W. POLAND.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 4, 1864.
To the American Ink Company: I have tried your Ink Powders, and I think, without any exception, it makes the best writing fluid I ever used I would not be without. I remain yours,
GEO. H. HOLMES,
Battery M, 1st Mass. Light Artillery.

Kewanee, Henry Co., Illinois, Feb. 20, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: Received the Powder that you sent, and to say that I am pleased with it is true, but does not express what I should like to say. The community have long wanted an Ink Powder that could stand the test of freezing and that would not corrode the pen, and several have been produced. Prof. Ure's was an excellent recipe, but was spoiled by freezing. I have frozen this to test it, and find that it is not affected at all.
I have introduced it into my school in this place, and had a quantity of it. I myself find a ready sale. Thanking you in behalf of the community and myself for such a discovery, I remain, very respectfully, your obedient servant,
GEO. W. PARKER.

Deering, March 1, 1865.
To the American Ink Company:—This is to certify that I have given your Ink Powder a trial, and I am happy to state it works to perfection. It flows freely, requires any amount of writing.—It does not corrode, nor does it freeze by freezing in the mail. Respectfully yours,
ALMON M. COREY.

Nashua, N. H., March 18, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: I have made from the powders you sent me is the best I ever used. There is none of that sticky substance about it that there is to most kinds of ink. It flows freely and works to a charm.
Yours truly, GEORGE W. FLANDERS.

Brookline, N. H., March 13, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: I received the Powder you sent me, and I recommend it to all those who are inquiring for one, as the best Ink I ever used. I have used a Mouer's Manual & Noyes', D. J. Rideout's, and many others, but yours far outstrips any I ever used.
Yours respectfully, G. E. STILES.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, MAY 22, 1865.

THE TRIAL OF THE CONSPIRATORS is making good progress at Washington. The prisoners have about twenty witnesses for their defence, and we know not what their testimony may be, but suppose it will consist mainly in an attempt to throw discredit upon the government witnesses. It is said Reverdy Johnson is preparing an elaborate argument against the jurisdiction of the Commission, which may find some endorsers, but, we think, will not prevent the Court from passing sentence upon the prisoners, if found guilty. And surely it ought not. The eminent lawyers in the Cabinet, and others who were consulted in the matter, are fully competent to decide such questions;—and much safer advisers than Reverdy Johnson and a few shaky editors.

In reviewing the evidence unfolding the great conspiracy, the N. Y. Herald is of the opinion that it dates from the battle of Gettysburg, when Davis, finding that the South could never gain its independence by legitimate warfare, commenced the more congenial system of murder and arson. Then occurred the meeting of officers in the Shenandoah valley, at which Booth was present; and then it was that the capture and murder of Mr. Lincoln was talked over in official circles at Richmond. From that time the rebel Congress began to hold its secret sessions.

The organization of the whole horrible system of atrocity dates from that summer. The fit tools were sent to Canada for that purpose; piracy began; the raids on the border were prepared; the burning of New York and the attempts against the President were set on foot. At that time the rebel leaders openly declared that war was only one of the means that they relied upon to secure their triumph; and Sanders boasted that Southern men would commit acts that would make the civilization of Europe shudder.

It was then the positive purpose of the Southern leaders to carry on a system of atrocities that should inaugurate a terrorism here—start the Sons of Liberty and the Knights of the Golden Circle, and inoculate the government that the blows against Southern armies must fail. In view of the testimony taken at Washington it is impossible any longer to doubt that that was the plan. And it is quite safe to say that history has no parallel to this wholesale and horrible depravity.

☞ The issues of the Sanitary Commission supplies have of late been principally to escaped prisoners. With the necessities of this unfortunate class all are, in a general way, acquainted; but to appreciate the extent, the eye must behold them, and a picture will be impressed that memory will ever retain. Had the Commission never done any more than what it has done for prisoners, confined and escaped, this alone would justify all its expenditures, from its inception to the present.

The list of supplies issued to Gen. Sherman's army during December and January, after its arrival at Savannah, includes woolen socks, 4382 prs.; woolen shirts, 5065; woolen drawers, 5111 prs.; overcoats, 995; blankets, 4093; pants, 931 prs.; shoes, 1020 prs.; blouses, 1019; cotton shirts, 518; hats and caps, 498; pillow ticks, 955; handkerchiefs, 1817; pillow cases, 1852; towels, 1865; combs, 3156; flannel bandages, 209; chocolate, 392 lbs; milk, 4670 lbs; coffee, 1356 lbs.; ext. beef, 9133 lbs.; to matoes, 15,926 lbs., &c., &c.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—On Friday "Secretary Seward visited the State Department, entering upon his official duties at once."

The order for the transportation of Jeff. Davis by water instead of by land will prevent a great deal of misplaced sympathy and baffle plots for his rescue.

The letters found upon Booth will constitute the most thrilling portion of the testimony."

Mrs. Extra Billy Smith is accused of appropriating to her private use the spoons and other silver belonging in the gubernatorial mansion at Richmond, and the property of the State of Virginia.

All the effects of Mrs. Lincoln are boxed and directed to Chicago. The family take their departure on Monday evening for the same place. Master Tad Lincoln was among the spectators at the conspiracy trial on Thursday.

☞ There is much suffering among the manufacturing classes of France which may lead to serious consequences, for there is nothing like hunger to beget revolution. The distress of the silk weavers is most deplorable. Forty thousand workmen are without employment of any sort; not produced by a strike, but by the momentary dearth of every kind of business. The crisis has extended to Saint Etionne, where 15,000 ribbon weavers are in a state of utter destitution. In Paris the strike is on the part of the workmen. Carriage builders, dyers, hatters and others, some 20,000 of each trade, have refused to answer the call to labor unless upon their own terms.

— By the new military bill passed by the legislature of Massachusetts, the two companies of Ancient and Honorable Artillery — Boston and Newburyport — are privileged to parade when they see fit, as in former years.

By Telegraph—Sunday noon.

Washington, May 20th.—Gen. Sherman has paid a very brief visit here to see Gen. Grant, and has returned to his camp. Most all of the armies of Georgia and Tennessee have reached the vicinity of Alexandria. Preparations for the great parade on Tuesday and Wednesday next have been completed. It is expected that there will be about 200,000 soldiers in it. Gov. Brown of Georgia has not been released on parole, nor is he here to act as witness in the trial of Jeff. Davis. It is understood that Davis was brought to Fortress Monroe yesterday on a gunboat from Savannah, and confined in one of the casemates of that fortress, which has been fitted up for his incarceration. He was unaccompanied by any of his family or his escort, except rebel Postmaster Reagan. The others captured with him are to be imprisoned elsewhere. So far as can be learned, Jeff. Davis will be tried before the U. S. Circuit Court at Baltimore, Chief Justice Chase presiding, or before the Circuit Court at Richmond. It seems settled that he will be tried for treason by the civil authorities. The Court Room of the conspirators was crowded to its utmost capacity to-day. Nearly all of the evidence taken relates mainly to the connection of the rebel authorities in Richmond with those in Canada. A cypher found in Booth's trunk compared with one obtained in Richmond, proves to be the regular cypher used by the rebel government.

New York, May 20th.—Gold closed at Gallagher's Evening Exchange at 130 1-2.

— The New York World speaking of the gold Jeff. Davis was supposed to have with him, says: "So far as yet heard from, the government is likely to make more money by the sale of Davis' wife's gown, than by the capture of Davis' gold."

— James C. Johnson, one of the wealthiest men of the South, aged 80 years, died near Edenton, N. C., on the 12th inst.—He disinherited all his relatives because they deserted him (a Union man) and espoused the rebel cause. At the outbreak of the rebellion he told his slaves—numbering near 1000—the war would free them, and they could go or remain. It was he who discharged Henry Clay's indebtedness of $30,000, unknown to the latter.

— Many of Johnston's paroled men are under the impression, by a report that France has recognized the Confederacy, that they can prevent Union men holding meetings. A Northern man will not be safe South after the withdrawal of the Union troops, unless negroes are used for garrison duty. [This item is a droll one. It displays the ignorance and credulity of the poor white trash in Johnston's army,—and the heedlessness of the man who made the item. The negroes, if used for garrison duty, will be Union troops:—and the U. S. government will surely have a garrison in every important place, till quiet becomes habitual.]

GOLD, in New York, Saturday, 131 1-8 to 130 1-2. Over $2,000,000 specie exported that day.

— Jeff. Davis has arrived at Fortress Monroe.

— Gen. Sheridan is to command all the trans-Mississippi Department.

— Gen. Banks is to be removed, says one Washington rumor. He is not to be removed, says another.

☞ An Austrian General, Towishisky, went out with native Mexican troops, to fight the Liberals, at Nava. He ordered his cavalry to charge, but most of them fired on his infantry: he began to retreat, was ambushed and killed; and his whole remaining command surrendered at once.—Not very promising for the Empire.

☞ A number of "loyal" men from North Carolina are in Washington, to consult on reconstruction. Perley telegraphs that "they do not relish the idea of negro suffrage, indeed they do not consent to discuss it."—[It is very natural that they should not relish the idea, but oppose it: this was expected. But when they do not consent or condescend to discuss any point, they should be forthwith sent home under a strong guard. Theo are not yet capable of self-government. If a man who has fought in the U. S. army to put down rebellion, can't vote in North Carolina, where he was born, then nobody ought to vote there.]

— When the despatch announcing the death of President Lincoln was read on the Liverpool Exchange, one scoundrel exclaimed "Hurrah!" He was immediately taken by the neck and kicked into the street.

JEFF. IN EFFIGY.—The late head of the rebel Confederacy, was some years since made an "LL.D." by Bowdoin College. On Wednesday morning Jeff. was found hanging from a tree in the College grounds, dressed in petticoats, with a dirk knife in his hand. He was taken down, and in the evening placed upon a stretcher, labelled "Jefferson Davis, LL.D.," and was borne upon the shoulders of four of the students, followed by the other students in procession, each having a white handkerchief tied on the left arm as a badge. After parading the principal streets, they stopped in front of the Post Office, where an appropriate speech was made, after which the body was committed to the flames.

THE YELLOW FEVER PLOT.—The Bermuda Advocate, of April 26, contains a report of the rebel conspiracy to introduce yellow fever into Northern cities of the United States by means of infected clothing. The examination resulted in the committal of a man named Swan, on the charge of having conspired with Dr. Blackburn to take charge of trunks containing infected clothing, to be forwarded to New York, Philadelphia and other cities, with the object of introducing yellow fever. Blackburn, whose bailing points were Halifax, Quebec, and "Clifton House, Niagara Falls, Canada side," made liberal promises to Swan, provided the contract was fairly carried out. The funds were to be supplied from the Confederate exchequer, and, meanwhile, Blackburn himself was to retire to Halifax and watch events till Spring, when the season would be more favorable to the spread of the disease.

Blackburn, as our readers know, has been arrested, to be tried, we suppose for violating the laws of Bermuda, and the Justices' Court of the island has elicited sufficient evidence to prove that the yellow fever plot was part of the general scheme of Confederate warfare which was to signalize the Spring campaign of 1865. The northern servants of the defunct confederacy, will find it difficult to apologize for this plot. It will not do for them to say here, as they have in some cases, that the Lincoln government got up the plot to injure the democratic party. Pres. Lincoln and Sec. Stanton were never very influential in Bermuda. It was a rebel plot, with aids and tools outside.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—John C. Breckinridge, Benj. Trenholm and Extra Billy Smith are skulking in the vicinity of Fernandina, Fla.

Gen. Sheridan has been sent in the direction of Texas. Kirby Smith, Magruder and Co. will probably soon make his acquaintance.

Gen. Sherman has sent in his report to Gen. Grant. He goes very fully into his armistice case with Johnston, arguing his case in his usual vigorous style. [The less he goes into that case, the better for him:—but "great men are not always wise."]

Rev. Dr. Ryder has obtained the lock of the Libby Prison for the use of the Northwestern Sanitary and Soldiers' Home Fair. A complete assortment of the arms used in the service, with many captured guns, &c., will also be made up for the Fair, and Secretary Stanton has promised the loan of Jeff. Davis' crinoline.

The whole number of convalescent soldiers in the hospitals at Washington to be discharged, will be 50,000. Their papers are being made out as fast as possible.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— In November last, a party of burglars broke into the dwelling of the cashier of the Walpole Bank, at Walpole, N. H., and stole from that officer's pantaloons pocket the key to the safe, and with this entered the vault, stealing $45,000 worth of bank-notes. They fled, and until recently baffled the police. But a day or two since three New York detectives, to whom the "working up of the case" had been intrusted, stumbled upon information which led them to suspect one Max Sinborn, a noted German burglar, residing near Saratoga. They accordingly went thither, and took him into custody, and on searching his palatial dwelling, found a complete set of burglar's tools, wax impressions, skeleton keys, &c., three thousand dollars United States bonds that had been stolen from the Walpole Bank, and a large number of coupons. The prisoner has been taken to Walpole for trial.

☞ The N. Y. Herald's Virginia correspondent says there is a great chance for Northern emigrants to the Southern States. Land that could not be purchased before the war for $150 per acre, is now selling at $2 a $2.50 per acre. Already a plan with the aid of Northern capital is in course of preparation, whereby the large estates of Virginia will be cut up into small tracts, with the view to cultivation by Northern farmers.

— The N. Y. Herald's correspondent with Wilson's cavalry says all the people where the national troops are stationed profess to be good Unionists, and admit they are conquered. The citizens are loud in their praise of the good order established by Gen. Wilson. There is great scarcity of food in the State of Georgia. Starvation is imminent, not only for the poor, but for the rich. Gen. Wilson issues rations to the people.

— Jeff. Davis' implication in the attempts to burn Northern cities is given as a new fact brought out by the assassination trial; but if one looks back, he will see that this was proved and admitted months ago. The defence of the raiders from Canada, and of Beall, Kennedy, and others, was that they were commissioned by the authorities in Richmond for their work.

— A two months' widower living near Hartford, Ct., went to that city the other day in search of a housekeeper, to take care of his six motherless children. He was recommended to a nice young woman, and stating his case to her, was told hesitatingly that she had no objection to going, provided she went as his wife! He hadn't thought of that, but accepted the conditions, and she rode home with him the same day.

FREEDMEN WANT THE PRIVILEGE OF VOTING.—A petition of the colored men of North Carolina to President Johnson, asking that they be granted the privilege of voting, is being extensively circulated in that State. They express their appreciation of the great boon of liberty conferred upon them by President Lincoln, and remind Mr. Johnson how all through the war they have stood by the old flag, and given all aid in their power to those that upheld it; also that many of them have fought for it, and that up to the year 1835 free colored men were allowed to vote in North Carolina, without, that they have ever heard, any detriment to its interests.

HANDSOMELY SAID.—The Halifax Sun, which has been an outspoken and unwavering friend of the Union throughout the rebellion, concludes some remarks on the remarkable vitality we have shown as a nation, as follows:

"The Ship of State, so often talked of, is clipper built, bright coppered, and moves so swift through the waves of progress that there is little chance for any of the old Barnacle family to locate about her clear run, and impede her way. Mutiny had nearly wrecked her; but once more she is all right, and so long as her course lies in the latitude of Freedom, Civilization, and Respect of Right we wish her God speed with all our heart."

Marriage Certificates.

For the use of Clergymen Justices, and others who perform the ceremony—for sale at the Chronicle Office, by the single, dozen, or hundred copies.

Local.

JUNE FIRST.—It is proposed to take the Funeral Car built in this city for the President's obsequies, to Concord, to join in the procession there; and it is desired that as many of our citizens attend as possible, either as individuals or members of some Society. The two full Companies from the harbor Forts here will go; and with our Cornet Band, and a good delegation of citizens and public bodies, a highly creditable delegation might be added to the grand and solemn procession. Half railroad fare will be accepted on the occasion—concerning which we shall have more to say hereafter.

MASTER COKER'S CONCERT.—Master Coker is one of the most wonderful singers that has ever appeared. Indeed it seems almost impossible that a mere boy like him, should be the possessor of such extraordinary vocal powers. Master Ellard, too, has a very rich, clear, contralto voice, and the two sing a charming duet. Herr Mollenhauer's performances on the violincello are familiar to all our concert goers, who know him a master over his instrument. Miss Coker, though a debutante, is calculated to become a general favorite; and Mr. Weeks the fine, rich tenor, fully sustains all that has been said in his favor. The whole concert was a luxury, and all the large and appreciative audience were most agreeably surprised to hear the rich and cultivated voice of Master Coker, so much above what was expected, and see his tact, skill, and ability in managing it. Those who did not attend, will perhaps soon have another opportunity of making up their loss in not hearing some of the best musicians in the country.

☞ In the Police Court on Saturday the feminine gender was represented in the person of Miss Sophia Norton who was charged with drunkenness. This woman is an instance of the sad state of degradation and ruin that rum will cause. Possessing many requisites which go to make up a true woman, she might have figured as an ornament in society, instead of being a stigma upon her sex, and a curse to her friends. It is a lamentable fact, that in such cases, the majority of individuals act the part of the bigoted priest and selfish Levite, and pass by "on the other side," instead of practically sympathizing with these unfortunates and encouraging their reform. No angel of mercy appearing in her behalf, and failing to raise the amount of the fine and costs ($7.86) she was sent to the House of Correction.

James Kelley, another victim of intemperance, was fined $3.00 and costs $3.86, for being drunk.

And yet another. George Marden for being drunk was fined $3.00 and $3.86.

☞ The Boston Stock Board has adjourned for the Summer. [This must not be confounded with the Broker's Board.]

— A freight locomotive on the Chicago, Alton and St. Louis Railroad, exploded on Tuesday afternoon, instantly killing the engineer, fireman and brakeman.

— Hannibal, the big elephant, died Sunday in Centreville, P. A. He was the biggest thing off or on ice in this country, weighing 7 1-2 tons and consuming 300 lbs. of hay, 3 bushels of oats and 46 gallons of water per day. He was 66 years old, and had been exhibited for 36 years. He died without a struggle and was buried with honors.

— The cabmen and omnibus owners of London waited upon Mr. Gladstone to effect a repeal of the mileage tax on the ground that railroads were not subjected to it. Mr. Gladstone remedied the trouble by taxing the railroads, and dismissed the cabmen.

— Speaking of President Lincoln's death, Wilmer and Smith's European Times says:

"There appears to have been really no strain whatever, worthy of the name, caused by the sad events, on the public institutions of America; and it may be justly questioned whether any other country in the world could have borne a pressure so sudden and unlooked for with the same calmness, combined with a sorrow that appears to have gone to every citizen's heart."

— In Kentucky on the 19th, one McGrath was shot and killed in Shelbyville by a negro soldier of Captain Kirt's company. McGrath and two or three others violently objected to negro troops occupying the United States rendezvous, and in this altercation the shooting took place. The Nashville Union says the rebel General B. Hill has turned over all his men—some 700 with their arms and horses, to the United States. The men were paroled.

— The blockade runners are rapidly retiring from business. The Liverpool Mercury says it hears of numbers of them being on the coast, making for London, Liverpool and Glasgow, and that 22 of them are lying in the Liverpool docks.

— In the patent office at Washington, there is a model of a steamboat which Mr. Lincoln whittled out of a shingle and cigar box. The prominent idea of the model was a plan to help steamers to pass over snags and obstructions in the rivers. It is described as more strong than elegant.

PARKER'S PATENT CHURN.

The only real practical Churn invented for the past twenty years.

It is a well known fact that notwithstanding more than three hundred different churns have been invented and patented within the past ten years, not half a dozen of this whole number have been worth a straw.

THE OLD-FASHION UPRIGHT DASH CHURN has been proved by years of trial to be the only churn made on true principles, and is neater, cheaper, and more convenient than any other. The only objection to it is the very severe labor of using it. No churn requires so much real hard, arm aching work, to produce butter; and still you may take the farmers in any county in the United States, and ask them what kind of a churn they prefer, and almost ninety-nine out of a hundred will at once say, "the old-fashion dash churn."

Parker's Patent Churn is the old-fashion dash churn so arranged that a child can churn ten gallons of cream with it easier, better and quicker than a full grown man can churn a gallon in the old way. It is the first and only common sense churn ever invented, and is sure to supersede all others wherever it is introduced. In fact it has no rival, and completely sweeps the field of churns as soon as put on sale.

Make Money! There is no surer or quicker way to make money than to control the sale of a good article in good territory. This churn is a good article, for which the demand is almost unlimited at a large profit; and in order that the introduction of them throughout the country may be immediate, and properly systematized, it has been decided to place the sale of them in the hands of such agents only as shall become interested as part owners of the patent right. Therefore the rights in any County or State unsold are now offered from first hands, upon such terms as to insure a fortune to the purchaser, and give him a permanent and pleasant occupation.

— A MARTYR TO THE REBELLION.—Among the deaths recently announced is that of Allen B. Martin of East Hampstead, N. H., who will be remembered by many of the members of Company B, 35th Mass, as having belonged to the 11th New Hampshire regiment. The two regiments left home at the same time and took part in several battles together. Mr. M. was a most worthy citizen, and was induced to enlist solely on account of patriotism. He had filled many offices of honor, in the town, and resigned the place of Selectman to enlist.—Newburyport Herald.

— A Baltimore paper says a brass cannon, which was placed under ground during the summer of 1861, about the time that search was made by the military authorities for arms in the hands of the secessionists, has been discovered on the premises of Mrs. Baker, No. 158 Government avenue, three or four feet under the surface, covered with a pile of bricks and earth.

FESTIVAL.—The Ladies of the Unitarian Soldiers' Aid Society, of Portsmouth, announce a Festival for the benefit of the Soldiers, at the Temple, Monday and Tuesday, June 12th and 13th prox. They invite Contributions of Money, Fancy Articles, Flowers, or Refreshments, from any who feel interested in the cause, which needs unremitting labor for some months to come. Any donations may be sent to Mrs. J. B. HALEY, No. 9 Richards Avenue, Portsmouth, or to any member of the Committee: Mrs. Haley, Mrs. F. W. Miller, Mrs. W. P. Pray, Mrs. M. P. Brooks, Mrs. Wm. Day, Miss M. E. L. Pickering, Miss E. W. Morrison, Miss Carrie C. Haley, Committee.

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

THIRD SERIES,
$230,000,000.

By authority of the Secretary of the Treasury, the undersigned, the General Subscription Agent for the sale of United States Securities, offers to the public the third series of Treasury Notes, bearing seven and three-tenths per cent. interest per annum, known as the

7.30 LOAN.

These notes are issued under date of July 15, 1865, and are payable three years from that date in currency, or are convertible at, the option of the holder into

U. S. 5-20 Six per cent.

GOLD-BEARING BONDS.

These Bonds are now worth a handsome premium, and are exempt, as are all the Government Bonds, from State, County and Municipal taxation, which adds from one to three per cent. per annum to their value, according to the rate levied upon other property. The interest is payable semi annually by coupons attached to each note, which may be cut off and sold to any bank or banker.

The interest at 7.30 per cent. amounts to

One cent per day on a $50 note.
Two cents	"	"	"	"	$100 "
Ten	"	"	"	"	$500 "
20	"	"	"	"	$1000 "
81	"	"	"	"	$5000 "

Notes of all the denominations named will be promptly furnished upon receipt of subscriptions.

The Notes of this Third Series are precisely similar in form and privileges to the Seven-Thirties already sold, except that the Government reserves to itself the option of paying interest in gold coin at 6 per cent., instead of 7.3-10ths in currency up to July 15th, at the time when they subscribe.

The delivery of the notes of this third series of the Seven-thirties will commence on the 1st of June, and will be made promptly and continuously after that date.

The slight change made in the conditions of this THIRD SERIES affects only the matter of interest. The payment in gold, if made, will be equivalent to the currency interest of the higher rate.

The return to specie payments, in the event of which only will the option to pay interest in Gold be availed of, would so reduce and equalize prices that purchases made with six per cent. in gold would be fully equal to those made with seven and three-tenths per cent. in currency.—This is

The Only Loan in Market

Now offered by the Government, and its superior advantages make it the Great Popular Loan of the People.

Less than $300,000,000 of the Loan authorized by the last Congress are now on the market.—This amount at the rate at which it is being absorbed, will all be subscribed for within four months, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loans.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

EXPLANATION.—The days of the year are numbered continuously. The Sabbaths are numbered by themselves, and are indicated by figures in parenthesis. A brace connects Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday; the next connects Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. Divide the number of the day by 7, and if the remainder be 1, the day is Sunday; divide by 30, and if the remainder be 9, it is new full moon. The sign † indicates new moon; ‡ first quarter; * full moon; ‖ last quarter.

To find the present value of a "seven-thirty note," IN ANY YEAR: If the number of the day be less than 46, add to it 138; if between 45 and 227, subtract 46; if more than 226, subtract 227; the sum or remainder will be the interest accrued on each fifty dollars, expressed in cents. Example: What is the value of a $500 note on 1866: 185 (4th July, 1866)? From 185 subtract 46; the remainder is 139; the interest then due is $1.39 on each $50; the value of the note, $513.90.

STUDIES ON THE NEW ALMANAC.

Dear Gazette:—Whoever will once solve the following problems with the above almanac before him, will be able to solve all similar ones without its aid, and without using his eyes. This shows the wonderful convenience of the new method.

I. What days of 1865 are Saturdays?

Answer: All days of which the numbers are multiples of seven; that is, measured by 7, or divisible by 7 without remainder. These are:

7—70, 77, 154, 161:

14—140, 147, 294, 301, 308, 311, 322, 329, 336:

21—210, (203), 217:

28—280, (273), 287:

35—350, (343), 357, 364:

42—384, 168, 175:

49—98, (105), 91, 182, 189, 196:

56—112, (119), 224, 231, 238, 245:

63—126, (133, 266,) 252 and 259.

II. Near what days in 1865 will the full moon be?

Answer: Remembering the series of numbers 0, 3, 6, 9, 12, 15, 18, 21, 24, 27, 30, 33 and 36, we reply: 9, 39, 69, 99, 129, 159, 189, 219, 249, 279, 309, 339 and 369, (or 1866: 4).

III. What is the difference between the average and the actual day of full moon?

Answer: A lunation being less than 30 days, the full moon is later than the average in January and earlier in December. The error in those months is 2 or 3 days, in February, March, October and November, about 2 days; from April to September, the error is 1 or 0.

IV. What are the first days of the months?

Answer: 1, 32, 60, 91, 121, 152, 182, 213, 244, 274, 305, 335: remember that the final figures, from April on, are 1, 1, 2, 2, 3, 4, 4, 5, 5. The tens are the same as in the answer to question 2d.

V. It is Saturday: my boy's birth-day (54) was a week or two since: the moon last night lacked 5 or 10 days of full. I heard cannon to-day at noon: what day is it?

Answer: It must be either 63, 70 or 77; 69 is near full moon—then to-day is 63. March begins with 60: to-day is 4th of March, and at noon Lincoln's second term began.

VI. Will Thanksgiving night be moonlight if it occurs on the last Thursday in November?

Answer: December begins with 335: 336 is Saturday; the day in question is 334—5 days before the average full moon, but 2 or 3 days before the actual full moon; therefore the moon, if unclouded, will be good. A little practice will make these calculations very easy. Yours,

I. F. HOLTON.

Hillsgrove, Ill., 1865: 63.

PARKERS CHURN POWER:

THE OLD FASHIONED CHURN IMPROVED.

From the Scientific American.

Making butter is very severe labor, when large quantities of cream are churned; and it is important that it should be lessened as much as possible. The power required to work the ordinary barrel-churn and dasher, is great, calling into action some of the strongest muscles in the frame. From the very nature of the operation it is fatiguing and cannot be long carried on without rest. The constant change of motion up and down, as well as bending the spine so often, conduces very much to weary the churner.

In the engraving herewith published, a very simple and efficient arrangement is shown for operating the dasher by a rotary movement, this being by far the easiest way in which muscle can be applied to perform a given amount of work. The rod of the churn-dasher is attached to the frame, A, sliding on the guides, B, by the pins, C. One end of this frame, A, has a lug to which the connecting rod, D, is fastened. The other end of the rod slips over a pin, E, in the slotted arm, F, of the wheel, G. This wheel is mounted in a strong bearing outside of the frame, A. The whole affair is fastened to a common churn-cover, and weighs about 30 pounds.

This cover does not need to be lifted on or off, as there is a triangular opening, H, in the cover through which the contents can be seen during the churning, and the butter removed and the churn cleaned when necessary. We have not shown this cover open, as it would hide other more important parts. The stroke of the churn-dasher can be varied instantly, to gather the butter, by slipping the screw, E, in toward the center of the wheel, thus shortening the stroke. The wheel, G, is also counterbalanced at I, to compensate for the weight of the dasher, so that the wheel moves easily and without jerk or jar.

This is obviously a very useful improvement and will no doubt prove popular, since it will much reduce the labor of churning. It was patented by Jonathan Parker, of Biddeford, Maine.

The entire patent (New Hampshire excepted) is for sale on easy terms. For further information address C. A. Shaw, Biddeford. For town or county rights in New Hampshire, or the entire State, apply at or address the Chronicle and Gazette Office, Portsmouth, N. H.

The New Hampshire Petroleum Co. is organized with great care, under the management of some of the ablest financiers and most successful business men in the State, whose integrity is above reproach, and who cannot be led by excitement into speculations that have not to their minds a golden foundation. Their lands have been selected with great caution. Mr. N. R. Bates, of Titusville, who has been very successful the past year in selecting Oil Lands and boring wells, was known to some of the gentlemen prominent in starting this company as a man strictly honest, sagacious, and experienced in the Petroleum regions, and was solicited to aid in selecting the proper farms. He did so. Col. B. F. Mar. tin, Wm. F. Newell, Esq., and John B. Clarke, Editor of the Mirror, of Manchester, J. S. Fogg, Esq., of the firm of Fogg, Houghton & Coolidge, 44 Pearl St. Boston, and Daniel E. Sickles, 419 Broadway, New York, were appointed a committee to visit the farms spoken of. Early in February they looked over the lands selected by Mr. Bates, and became convinced that they were among the very best that could be had. The great Oil Basin seems to be situated between Oil Creek, East Oil Creek, and Alleghany river, and not twenty miles from one point to the other, and the Four Farms of the Company are in this the Basin and on the same Oil Belt of the great flowing and pumping wells that have yielded the past year to the State of Pennsylvania, as Mr. Curtin says in his Message, fifty-six million of dollars. The last of March, B. W. Harris, Esq., a well-known lawyer of Boston and late District Attorney, P. H. Burns, Esq., a shrewd business man of Dover, N. H., and F. A. Wilcox, Esq., a lawyer of 78 Wall Street, New York, were sent out to see to the titles of lands, and make further examinations. They came to the same conclusions the others had, and the Four Farms were bought, which are thus described:

THE MATTISON FARM.

This Farm contains 84 acres and is near the confluence of Cherry Creek and East Oil Creek.—The lay of the land is beautiful for 1½ high lands on each side, Cherry Creek running directly through, and a rich undeveloped Coal vein on one side. Every inch of the land is valuable for Coal or boring wells, and there is no waste to it.

The oil belts run from east to west, or from north east to south west, and are from one to three miles wide. The Mattison Farm is two and a half miles in a direct line east of the great Oil flats south of Titusville, from which innumerable fortunes have flowed. Here the Steele & Read well flowed 2000 barrels per day—the Fountain 200—the Parker 200—and scores of wells are now being worked that yield from 10 to 50 barrels daily. Nine out of every ten wells bored on this flat are a success. A ten barrel well will sell for forty thousand dollars, and a sixty barrel well sell for half a million.

It is believed by good judges that every rod of the seventy-five acres of the Mattison Farm, all that is not good for coal, is equal to the Flat below Titusville. Coal in that section is worth $13 per ton, and if the vein of coal should work well it would be a fortune in itself. It is splendid coal, burning freely as Cannel.

The average price of oil per barrel the last year was $10 at the works, the buyers furnishing the barrels. It costs a little less than $6000 to sink a well to the depth of 700 feet, and few go lower than that. It costs $20 per day to work it after it yields oil. G. P. Ball, of the Cherry Creek Farm Petroleum Company, says of this Farm Section:

"I consider all the lands located there, as being richer in Oil, and presenting geological features of a more full and perfect character than any other that I am acquainted with; and I have spent much time during the last few months in examining and selecting Oil Territory in Venango, Crawford and Warren Counties, in all of which I have made considerable investments.—Professors MAYNARD and SHEPHERD, Geologists of eminence, are of the same opinion regarding the lands generally throughout the valleys of East Oil Creek. If this Farm comes up to the expectations of Prof. Shepherd of Yale College, of Mr. Ball, of Mr. Bates, it will have pumping wells and flowing wells. The flowing wells would sell for large sums of money, and the pumping wells, if as good as those south of Titusville, would be of incalculable value. There is abundant room on each acre for 18 wells, and on this farm for over 900 wells. Just make computation of the cost of so many wells, and the yield and profit on the whole in a year, if they are as good as they are expected, if they only yield the minimum average of the wells on that Oil Belt, and your income from this Farm alone is over one million of dollars. This Company do not expect any such results, but merely state facts, and let each person make his own figuring and reach his own conclusions.

THE PARKER FARM

Contains 100 acres, a heavily timbered, situated near the Farm of Prof. Shepherd, not far from East Oil Creek, and between Cherry Creek and where the Caldwell Creek empties into Oil Creek. They have a large well right opposite the farm and struck oil. A single good well on this large farm would enable the Company to sell or lease the lands for great sums. The remarks about the location of the Mattison Farm, apply equally well to this.

THE BYLES FARM,

On Pit Hole Creek, contains 105 acres. It is about three miles east of Oil Creek, directly south of the Coquet Well that flows 500 barrels daily, the Jersy that flows 300, the Maple Shade and other noted flowing wells and pumping wells without limit. This Farm is on the same Oil Belt and on the right range. There is great excitement on Pit Hole. The Frazer well is one of the best. It is now about the middle of January, and with its sucker rod in, and its pipe seven-eighths full of machinery, it has flowed 220 barrels per day ever since.—They have not dared to pull out the sucker rod yet, fearing they had not sufficient tanks to hold the oil. The tanks they now have will hold 3,200 barrels. Below this well, on the same Creek, another fine well has been struck, and another is being bored, which, when bored low enough, will yield abundantly. A little farther north the same company, the United States, is putting down a well that looks already better than the Frazer well, and great expectations rest upon it. In sight of the spouting wells, and between the Frazer and the one which has raised so high Boyce, in Byles Farm, all low land, and every rod fit for a well. It is splendidly located. It abounds in sand rocks and oil indications. Mr. Bates thinks very highly of this, and no doubt but we shall find on it flowing wells superior to any yet struck in that section. A single flowing well struck would enable us to sell the farm in small lots for ten millions of dollars. Land on high bluffs some ways removed from the Coquet well, leases for fifty years at the rate of $50,000 for strips twelve rods by sixteen, cash down.

THE DAWSON FARM,

On WEST PIT HOLE, contains 25 acres, and is in the same wonderful oil region. It has oil springs on and around it, and twenty-seven feet only being bored near it with excellent show for oil. Mr. Bates is now sinking one close to it. In a letter dated March 25, 1865, he says: "My well is boiling as finely as it progresses, both in gas and oil, as any well has ever shown at the same depth on Oil Creek; gas at 90 feet, a good show of oil at 112 feet; at 140 feet, gas is rising and roaring loudly.

Within rifle shot of this farm, sixteen years ago a well was sunk twenty-seven feet deep for water, and oil came in and spoiled it. We have no doubt that rich oil wells will be sunk on this Farm, and there is land enough, if they are rich, to make the Farm a fortune.

THE LABOR QUESTION IN TENNESSEE. It appears that many of the planters of Tennessee have not yet accepted the great fact of emancipation. Their old prejudices cling to them with such tenacity that they cannot give up the idea of again bringing the negroes into subjection and lording it over them as a servile race. They long to revive the dead past, and revel in the delights of the "peculiar institution." In consequence of this condition of things labor is completely disorganized. In an article on the subject the Memphis Bulletin remarks:

"Two influences are now operating to discourage, to drive out, to make vagrant and burdensome the blacks, whose labor rightly directed, might do much to develop the resources of our State. One of these influences is the keeping alive expectations that somehow, by some Supreme Court decision or some action of Congress, slavery may be re-established. This makes the blacks discontented, unsettles them from labor and very frequently induces them to abandon their homes and resort to cities where they are apt to become nuisances. The other influence in some degree grows out of the first. It is the refusal of many masters to pay wages to their blacks or to fulfill the promises made to them. A master believes that there is a possibility that somehow slavery may be re-established, and regarding the blacks as still his property, he is unwilling to pay them for their labor. In very many cases promises to pay the blacks wages for producing last year's crops have been broken. It cannot be expected that the blacks, who believe that their emancipation is a finality, will work regularly and steadily if they are cheated out of the wages promised them, and there is danger that our black population may become, to a large extent, permanently demoralized."

The Boston Journal remarks on the above:

The negroes will work faithfully if they are justly dealt with. A year ago a planter near Memphis offered his negroes one-half the net earnings of his plantation if they would stay with him. His offer was accepted, and the blacks worked steadily along. Several times some of them were carried off by Federal or rebel raiding parties, but they always made their way back home, and having been fairly paid what was promised them, they are working bravely upon the same terms. Others who made similar promises, but failed to keep them, are now deserted by their hands, and cannot make half a crop.

It is no doubt a hard thing, for Southern slave-holders to relinquish all power over their former chattels, pay them wages, and treat them as men and women, but they must come to it, and the sooner they do it the better off they will be.

REGENERATION.—The Boston Transcript says:—

Principles as well as pardon must be accepted by the South. The arch-conspirator is reported already to have said that the contest is only postponed to come up in another form; meaning the contest between a landed aristocracy and an industrial democracy. He is not alone in entertaining that view; and whilst a passionate, proud, indolent and half-barbarous class share it, there will be more or less of mischief lurking, for demagogues and despots to fan into a flame. The political and social reorganization of the South must precede or accompany a resumption of commercial relations and activity. If the North in its eagerness for gain fails to recognize this fact, it leaves the door open for new troubles. In some respects, the most insidious counsels of the hour are those which appeal almost entirely to the economical interests of the people. The conflict of ideas is not yet finished; will not be until the South is given over to the rule of democratic institutions. Merely to re-annex it by conquest and subjugation is only a part of the work. Prosperity in all forms will come no faster than Republican equality and homogenity are secured.

See what the most popular and widely circulated periodicals say of our Establishment:
From the "Dispatch" of February 25, 1865.
We take pleasure in calling the attention of our readers to the announcement of Messrs. Clough & Co.'s Great Sale of Jewelry, Silver Ware, and Fancy Goods, in our advertising columns. We are personally acquainted with the members of this firm and know them to be gentlemen of sterling worth and integrity. Their stock of goods, for variety and extent, we have scarcely seen paralleled.
From the "Mirror of Fashion," March 1, 1865.
Messrs. Devaugh & Co.'s Great Sale of Jewelry, etc., opened on the 15th ult., and we venture to say that no finer display of goods was ever exhibited by any establishment in this city. The ladies thronged their bazaar almost to suffocation, although the streets were rendered nearly impassable by the molten snow and slush. We predict for them a wonderful success.
From the "Ledger," February 28, 1865.
Our lady friends should visit the extensive establishment of Messrs. Devaugh & Co. 15 Maiden Lane, if they wish to indulge themselves with a sight which they will long remember—Such a profusion of elegant Watches, Chains, Rings, Earrings, and, in short, of Jewelry of every name, kind and description, we never before witnessed. Their silver and plated ware is superb, and almost casts into the shade the other splendid establishments which have long been the boast of our city. It is estimated that their stock is worth not less than one million dollars.

How You Can Get a Prize.

Agents are wanted in the drugs and in every place.

The Best Ink in the World!
A CHEAP PRODUCT DISCOVERED.
A Substitute for Costly Galls, and a Writing Fluid produced that challenges Competition!
INK POWDERS
TO CARRY IN YOUR POCKET, FROM WHICH TO MAKE INK AT PLEASURE.
THE INK MADE in Three Minutes.
Forty Cents will buy Powder enough to furnish a family for years.
FREEZING DON'T HURT IT.
An accident revealed to a Machinist, in Manchester, N. H., a certain result which by the aid of Chemistry has been used till the most beautiful writing fluid, better than anything imported or home-made, flowing freer, writing easier, handsomer, as lasting as time, not injuring the pen a whit, has been produced
It is put up in the form of a small powder, stands all climates, good for years, and can be converted into elegant black writing fluid in three minutes.
A company has lately been formed for the manufacture of these Powders, and although the Fluid has been before the public but a few weeks the most astounding testimonials have been received in its favor, all unsolicited. We select a few from the many.
The greatest qualities of these Ink Powders over everything else in the market are:
1st—It makes an ink of a beautiful, glossy, rich color, that every body will be delighted with.
2d—It does freely, does not mud up, thicken on the pen or corrode it a particle, and never fades, and will endure as long as the paper on which it is used.
3d—Its cheapness baffles all competition. Forty cents will buy enough to fill fifty common bottles that are retailed at ten cents each.
4th—Convenience. Can be carried to the army, to sea, to the mines, to far off countries.
5th—Will keep in any climate, and will not freeze.
5th—Will keep in any climate, and will not freeze.
5th—Wipe your pen dry after using it, and a single steel pen will last with this ink till the paper wears the point off. It is as harmless as water.
Testimonials.
MIRROR AND AMERICAN OFFICE,
Manchester, N. H., Jan. 11, 1865.
To the American Ink Company:—I have tried your Ink Powders. They work to a charm. They make perfect ink in three minutes, the best ink I ever saw. It flows easily, does not gum up the pen or corrode it. I have cleared my inkstands of all other ink. JOHN B. CLARKE.
MELROSE, Mass., Feb. 1, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: I wish heartily to thank you for the beautiful Ink which you have given to the public. I have made ink, for eight years past, from Fred Ure's Recipe, (made of Alappa Gall, Sulphate Iron and Gum Senegal,) and have sold large quantities of it. Have supplied the Schools in this town with it for two years, and every one using it gave it great praise. It is a good Ink, but my occupation is all gone now. Your Ink is the best article of the kind I ever used. This is no puff. Some in my inkstands froze up solid twice and it now flows just freely as at the first, and is not changed in the color a single shade. It is a beautiful black; it flows so readily that I can write one-quarter faster with it than with any other Ink. It ought to be introduced into every school in the Union.
Yours truly, J. W. POLAND.
Washington, D. C., Feb. 4, 1864.
To the American Ink Company: I have tried your Ink Powders, and I think, without any exception, it makes the best writing Ink I ever used. I would not be without it. I remain yours,
GEO. H. HUMES.
Battery M, 1st Mass. H. Artillery.
Kewanee, Henry Co., Illinois, Feb. 20, 1865.
American Ink Company: Received the Powder that you sent, and to say that I am pleased with it is true, but does not express what I should like to say. The mixture I have long wanted an Ink Powder that could stand the test of freezing and that would not corrode the pen, and several have been produced. Prof. Ure's was an excellent recipe, but it was spoiled by freezing. I have frozen this to test it, and find that it is not affected at all.
I have introduced it into my school in this place, and find it a quality of it, it would find a ready sale. Thanking you in behalf of the community and myself for such a blessing, I remain, very respectfully, your obedient serv't,
GEO. W. PARKER.
Deerfing, March 1, 1865.
To the American Ink Company:—This is to certify that I have given your Ink Powder a trial, and I am happy to state it proves to perfection. It has a superiority over all other Inks I have ever knowledge. And I would cheerfully recommend it to the lawyer, the merchant, or any person whose business requires any ink. It does not corrode, and flows as freely after being frozen as before. Respectfully yours,
ALMON M. COREY.
Nashua, N. H., March 13, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: The ink made from the powders you sent me is the best I ever used. There is none of that sticky substance about it that there is to most kinds of ink. It flows freely, works to a charm.
Yours truly, GEORGE W. FLANDERS.
Brookline, N. H., March 13, 1865.
American Ink Company—Gents: I received the Powder you sent me, and I commend it to all those that have any writing to do, as the best Ink I ever used. I have used J. Moor's Maynard & Noyes', D. J. Baldwin's, and many others, but yours far excels any I ever used.
Yours respectfully, G. E. STILES.

TUESDAY, MAY 23, 1865.

THE TRUE VIEW OF IT.—Wilkes' Spirit censures Gen. Grant severely, for allowing the rebel Gen. Lee to retain his sword at his surrender—thus acknowledging his belligerent rights, and those of the late Confederacy. He also says, in regard to Sherman and all, that: "We do not share that prevailing and rather servile sense of gratitude, which a too enthusiastic public are disposed to confer upon certain of our Generals; but regard them, rather, as ordinary public servants who have participated creditably in a contest which they could not lose. We are mindful of the fact that it was the great resolution of the People which shaped the question and supplied the men; we reflect also that it was the amazing vigor and comprehension of the War Office which overflowed every portion of the vast field with soldiers and supplies; and having beheld this, and reflected, in addition, that the rebellion, after all, instead of being struck down by blows, fell of itself through sheer exhaustion, we know how to locate the chief merit of the great performance where it properly belongs. We are not, therefore, so dazzled by the tame glories of the last six months, as to be unable to discern the sub-strategy of West Point politics, or so overcome with a sense of obligation to our Generals as to hesitate about exposing their irregular ambition."

CHARLESTON, S. C.—The N. Y. Herald's Charleston correspondent reports an attempt to hold a meeting by the old citizens of that city, on the 10th; but the "chivalry" who are endeavoring to appear Union men, left on finding a number of negroes present. A meeting, smaller in number, however, was held of out-and-out Unionists and negroes. There was excitement over the matter, the whites collecting in groups in the streets and giving vent to their feelings against the claim of the negroes to vote and consult in public meetings. The old citizens counselled the people to retire to their homes. The commotion was increasing, when Judge Chase arrived in the city. Mayor Macbeth and others waited on him: his audience room was crowded during the day. In reply to numerous questions, he expressed the opinion that it would be better for the whites and colored people, that the latter should have the right of voting in the formation of the new Constitution. He did not know what would be the action of the Government, but stated that while President Johnson was Military Governor of Tennessee, the people there adopted a Constitution that did not give the right of suffrage to the colored people, nor even the right to testify in a Court of Justice. The Constitution had, however, been accepted by the Government of the United States. Judge Chase said the Government would not recognize the present Governor of the State, or any of the present Legislative body that had been engaged in the cause of the rebellion. A new State Constitution would have to be formed and submitted to Congress. His conversation had a happy effect in reconciling the citizens to him and the new order of affairs.

In the afternoon Judge Chase addressed between 5000 and 6000 whites at Zion's church. He was received with tremendous cheering, and advocated the right of the negro to the ballot, though he was not ready to say the Government was in favor of universal suffrage. He advised them to be honest, temperate, industrious and faithful, and to lay up some of their earnings for a rainy day. His views did not seem fully to meet those of either of the conflicting parties.

There was some ill feeling between the negro troops and the 127th New York infantry on account of the sympathy of the latter with the whites; but no disturbance occurred, General Hatch having suppressed the rising symptoms of trouble.

It is said that no further meetings would be allowed, and if the white citizens don't act promptly and repeal all State laws antagonistic to the United States, it is thought the State will be entirely given over to the negroes, who will form a new Constitution.

GEORGIA.—Augusta, Ga., correspondence says that city was taken possession of by our troops under General Molinux, who found there 100,000 bales of cotton, $10,000,000 worth of ordnance and other rebel stores and $45,000 in bullion.

Part of Jeff. Davis's specie train was captured, and $150,000 in gold secured.

The Savannah River has been opened, and railroad communication from Louisville to Charleston will soon be complete.

SOUTH CAROLINA.—Advices from Columbia state that Governor McGrath still keeps up a spirit of resistance. He has ordered the mustering in of all males between the ages of 16 and 60, to form a State force under Wade Hampton. The people, however, are anxious for peace and the arrival of United States troops.

NEW HAMPSHIRE TROOPS ORDERED HOME.—The following official correspondence will throw light on the question when our New Hampshire troops are to be ordered home. The majority of them may be expected to arrive in the State before the expiration of the present month, as they will probably leave Washington immediately after the proposed review.

WAR DEPT., Washington, May 18th.

To Major W. Silvey:

All volunteer organizations of white troops in General Sherman's army and the Army of the Potomac, whose term of service expires prior to October first, next, have been ordered mustered out. The musters out are to be made in the vicinity of this city, and hereafter regiments and companies sent to States for payments. See regulations promulgated in General Orders ninety-four, of fifteenth inst.

The troops for muster out will be, first, the three years' regiments mustered into service under call of July second, sixty-two, and prior to October first of that year; second, three years' recruits mustered into number of troops and particular regiments to be discharged.

You should arrange a list accordingly, so that you will be prepared to receive and care for the troops on their arrival in the State. Furnish the Governor with a copy of this, and acknowledge receipt.

By order Sec. War, T. M. VINCENT.

WAR DEPT., Washington, May 18th.

To Gov. of New Hampshire:

Orders have been issued to muster out all volunteer white troops in the Army of the Potomac and General Sherman's army whose term of service expires prior to October first, next. THOS. M. VINCENT.

An additional order has been received by Major Silvey, designating Concord and Manchester as the rendezvous for payment of discharged soldiers.

☞ J. W. Harris, formerly of Arkansas, has made a statement that he had been employed by Dr. Blackburn in efforts to spread the yellow fever in Northern cities. He says he smuggled five trunks of infected clothing from Halifax to Boston, last summer, and that they were sent to Washington, and sold at auction; that one trunk was taken to Newbern, N. C., which caused the yellow fever there, last fall. He says he saw Jacob Thompson in Canada, and received from him funds to help carry out the nefarious plot.

☞ A Fortress Monroe dispatch, of Saturday, says: Jeff. Davis and party are on board the steamer Clyde, anchored in Hampton Roads. The prisoners comprise principally the following persons, viz:—Jeff. Davis, Mrs. Davis and four children, her brother, Alexander H. Stephens (in extremely bad health,) C. C. Clay and wife, Gen. Wheeler and staff, and Col. Johnson.

☞ A lady correspondent begs the Tribune "to suggest that Mr. Davis should be compelled to wear the usual costume of women during the period of his imprisonment. No woman, she declares, could wish him a severer punishment. She adds that if he were compelled to run in that dress one hour every day, it would probably be the death of him." All true enough—and "pity 'tis, 'tis true."

☞ At Memphis, Tenn., the influx of paroled rebel prisoners excited the negro troops to kill them in revenge for the Fort Pillow massacre, and they formed a plot for that purpose. When they sallied out of the fort for that purpose, and were ordered back, they disobeyed, and were fired upon by our white troops. 20 negroes were killed and wounded, and the rest driven back into the fort.

— The steamers Cahawba and Detroit, belonging to the Government, were put up at auction on Friday in New York. The best bid for the Cahawba, which cost the Government over $200,000, was $15,000, and for the Detroit $8000. The sale was stopped and the vessels were withdrawn. The large number of steamers belonging to the Government, which will have to be sold, will make that class of property very cheap for some time to come.

— The Richmond Commercial Bulletin says the books, accounts, reports, and, in fact, all the papers and private documents of Surgeon General Moore, lately at the head of the medical department of the rebel Confederacy, were captured at Charlotte, N. C., Doctor Moore being compelled to abandon them in his hasty retreat from that town. These papers will go far in compiling the statistics of the late war.

— The N. Y. Times' Washington despatch says General Sheridan's new command virtually supersedes Canby in command of the military division of Mississippi.

General Canby has been assigned to the command of the Department of the Gulf, which relieves General Banks.

— Rebel citizens of Newbern, N. C., who left when the U. S. army entered there, are coming back under the amnesty, paying up the U. S. taxes, and asking for their houses.

— Various notions prevail as to where Jeff. Davis will be tried. We shall soon know, and meantime speculation is worthless. But how can a jury be found, of men who have not formed an opinion?

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Dea. George Conner and wife, of Henniker, have been married seventy years, May 1st.

—— The next session of the New Hampshire Yearly Meeting will be held in connection with the 2 Freewill Baptist churches in Dover, commencing the 9th of June.

—— Rev. G. E. Sanborne, of Mt. Vernon, has received and accepted a call to become the pastor of the Congregational church in Northboro', Mass.

SONS OF TEMPERANCE.—The semi annual session of the Grand Division of this Order was held at New Market, on Wednesday. The reports show a gratifying increase in the membership, since the last session; four new Divisions have been chartered. The Annual Session will be held at Concord, on the 4th Wednesday of October.

—— David M. Winter of Georgetown, Mass., has given $1000 to the Congregational Church in Danbury, N. H., the interest to be expended in supporting preaching.

—— The salary of Rev. Mr. Flanders, pastor of the Universalist society in Nashua, has been raised to $1600 per year. The Society is considering the question of building a new and larger church, if an eligible lot can be secured.

—— On Saturday night at Piscataquog Village, Manchester, the saw and planing mill of Haines & Wallace, was destroyed by fire, for the third time. The owners have already begun to clear the ruins, and will rebuild immediately.

—— Rev. C. W. Wallace and wife, of Manchester, celebrated their silver wedding last Friday.

JUDGE HOLT.—Mr. Forney, in a letter to the Philadelphia Press, pays the following compliment to Judge-Advocate Holt for his efforts in ferreting out the assassins of the President: "It is interesting to observe the zeal, devotion, and absorbing patriotism of this gifted and unpretending gentleman. He has given his time, talents, and energies to the high duty confided to him by the President, and he moves along without seeking for praise on the one hand or caring for calumny on the other."

POLITICAL PROPHECY.—In 1856 Sir George Cornwall Lewis wrote thus of the assault of Brooks upon Sumner: "People here speak of the outrage on Sumner as a proof of the brutal manners of the Americans and their low morality. To me it seems the first blow in a civil war. It betokens the advent of a state of things in which political difference cannot be settled by argument, and can only be settled by force."

THE BEST YET.—The attention of a distinguished communicant, "late of Richmond," is invited to the last clause of the 23d verse of the 13th chapter of Jeremiah. The verse is as follows: "And if thou say in thine heart, Wherefore come these things upon me? For the greatness of thine miquity are thy skirts discovered, and thy heels made bare."

SEMI-CENTENNIAL.—Rev. Israel W. Putnam, D.D., preached two sermons at Middleboro', Mass., March 19th, commemorative of the 50th anniversary of his ordination, which took place March 15th, 1815. He gave an account of his life as a minister, and a history of his church and parish since his settlement in 1835. The Middleboro' Gazette remarks that the discourses are of great value as adding to the written history of the town. Dr. Putnam has since received from his people, at a very pleasant donation visit, presents in money and silver to the amount of $240.—Congregationalist.

— A New Haven paper says a farmer created quite a sensation on State street, on Thursday, by paying out genuine silver quarters and half dollars for groceries purchased. "He wasn't going to keep United States specie hoarded away in stockings any longer, now Gen. Lee was subdued," he said, and "had kinder been set agin the shinplasters from the beginning."

— L. B. Harwood, a St. Louis merchant, has been arrested on the charge of being implicated with the steamboat incendiaries who caused the destruction of so many boats at St. Louis last summer.

☞ About five tons of archives and documents pertaining to the Southern Confederacy, captured a few days since by portions of our forces at Charlotte, N. C., have been forwarded to Washington.

— The Merrimack Hat Company, which has its factories in Salisbury and Amesbury, last week declared a dividend of one hundred per cent., and still has a reserve of some 25 per cent.

— The largest codfish ever landed in Gloucester was caught last Tuesday, and weighed eighty-four pounds.

— President Lincoln was a tetotaller—a member of the Sons of Temperance.

— The Rebel Cruiser reported off Shanghae April 9th, is supposed to be the Shenandoah.

— The Biddeford Union says P. T. Barnum has written Mayor Shaw of that city, offering him fifteen thousand dollars for one year's services as manager of an exhibition he is about sending to Europe. Biddeford is the only Democratic city in the state, and it is just like Barnum to try and get hold of its mayor!

WAIF-ERS FROM A D-ES-K TRAY.

"N." sends the following—being

JEFF. DAVIS' DREAM.

As sung by the Hutchinsons.

Jeff. Davis awoke one night from a dream,
A horrible dream, a horrible dream;
He jumpt out of bed with a terrible scream,
A terrible scream gave he.
He dreampt that a mud sill stood close by his bed,
In the garb of a soldier all in Sauvel red;
With a noose made of hemp slipping over his head,
Saying, come along, Traitor, with me.

Jeff Davis, he stared, he trembled, he shook,
He was mightily scared, and by friends all forsook;
For a very long passage he knew he was booked,
He knew he was booked did he.
He stood all aghast as he viewed a strange scroll,
It was the hand writing he'd seen on the wall;
Predicting at once Secession's downfall,
What a mighty great, said he.

Dear Yancey, Cobb, Benjamin, Thompson and Floyd,
Your hearts are pure as the gold unalloyed;
But I verily believe we shall all be destroyed,
And I'm much annoyed, said he.
Of our villainous doings I know you won't peach,
For thirty long years Secession we've preached;
And we never stole anything out of our reach,
Quite out of reach, said he.

Our Northern Secessioners made us believe,
They'd be with us, fight for us never deceive:
But their cowardly hearts have caused us to grieve
Have caused us to grieve, said he.
Both England and France they now look askance,
For to aid us they've not even broken a lance;
Those big bullies have left us on nothing to dance,
On nothing to dance, said he.

PROF. HINMAN is offering to our citizens a Course of Instruction in Writing, that embraces, not mere copy setting for imitation, of which we have been so bountifully supplied in times past; but a real, sound, practical course of scientific instruction, including every point from the elements to the synthesis of an entire page of manuscript.

This School will commence this (Tuesday) evening, at half-past seven, at the Academy Hall. Don't forget!

From the above record, one would suppose that a cargo of R. G. whiskey had recently arrived, and that the above named individuals had been furnished with a free pass on board, and allowed to indulge to their heart's content. But no, sad to relate, our city is so fast becoming metropolitanized that these are but the victims of our local rumholes, which are fast shuffling off the inveterate drunkards, and with equal rapidity insidiously laying the snare for others, to take their places.

Henry Poole, for keeping an open shop on Sunday was fined $10 and costs $4.86. Appealed.

John Kelley, for swindling, was ordered to recognize in the sum of $100 for his appearance in the October Court.

And now we have to record a case of juvenile depravity, in which figure three boys (whose names we suppress for certain reasons) in the amusing but unprofitable amusement of running cars from the railroad track. The cars being left alone out on the track with wheels trigged, their game was to pull away the stay, and allow the cars to run on a down grade until they reached the end of the track, when they would be precipitated end over end, doing serious damage. The lads exhibited a great degree of penitence while in their dismal cell, and were let off upon the promise never again to be guilty of such an act.

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

THIRD SERIES,
$230,000,000.

By authority of the Secretary of the Treasury, the undersigned, the General Subscription Agent for the sale of United States Securities, offers to the public the third series of Treasury Notes, bearing seven and three-tenths per cent. interest per annum, known as the

7.30 LOAN.

These notes are issued under date of July 15, 1865, and are payable three years from that date in currency, or are convertible at the option of the holder into

U. S. 5-20 Six per cent.
GOLD-BEARING BONDS.

These Bonds are now worth a handsome premium, and are exempt, as are all the Government Bonds, from State, County and Municipal taxation, which adds from one to three per cent. per annum to their value, according to the rate levied upon other property. The interest is payable semi annually by coupons attached to each note, which may be cut off and sold to any bank or banker.

The interest at 7.30 per cent. amounts to

One cent per day on a $50 note.
Two cents	"	"	"	"	$100 "
Ten	"	"	"	"	$500 "
20	"	"	"	"	$1000 "
$1	"	"	"	"	$5000 "

Notes of all the denominations named will be promptly furnished upon receipt of subscriptions.

The Notes of this Third Series are precisely similar in form and privileges to the Seven-Thirties already sold, except that the Government reserves to itself the option of paying interest in gold coin at 6 per cent., instead of 7.3-10ths in currency up to July 15th, at the time when they subscribe.

The delivery of the notes of this third series of the Seven-thirties will commence on the 1st of June, and will be made promptly and continuously after that date.

The slight change made in the conditions of this THIRD SERIES affects only the matter of interest. The payment in gold, if made, will be equivalent to the currency interest of the higher rate.

The return to specie payments, in the event of which only will the option to pay interest in Gold be availed of, would so reduce and equalize prices that purchases made with six per cent. in gold would be fully equal to those made with seven and three-tenths per cent. in currency.—This is

The Only Loan in Market

Now offered by the Government, and its superior advantages make it the Great Popular Loan of the People.

Less than $300,000,000 of the Loan authorized by the last Congress are now on the market.—This amount at the rate at which it is being absorbed, will all be subscribed for within four months, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loans.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

Morning Chronicle.

RICHARD COBDEN. — The Atlantic Monthly for June contains a pleasant and truthful notice of this eminent Englishman, from which we extract the following paragraph, introducing the names of McClellan and Davis.

By the death of Mr. Cobden America has lost one of her truest friends, one who in all this conflict, which has been reflected in England in a fierce warfare of parties, has been in the thick of the fight, "the white plume of Navarre." Nothing told more for the American cause in Europe than the celebrated speech of Cobden, made at the time when the busy Southerners were trying to show that the war was not for Slavery, but Free Trade, in which he declared that he had found the Southerners, and Jefferson Davis himself, whom he had visited, utterly indifferent to the Free Trade movement. He was accustomed to speak of American affairs as an American. I well remember his vehement expression of feeling concerning the McClellan campaign in Virginia,—in connection with which he told me that he was at one time travelling with Jefferson Davis and McClellan together, and that Davis whispered to him, that, in case of a war, "That man [McClellan] is one of the first we should put into service." I thought Mr. Cobden inclined to attribute McClellan's failures to something worse than incapacity. But this is only one instance of the way in which he followed our war-steps, and was interested in the subordinate questions which are usually interesting only to Americans. It is with a melancholy pleasure that we now know that his last public utterance was the letter on American affairs to our minister at Copenhagen, which reached England in the American papers the day before his death,—and that one of his last acts was to send from his death bed a contribution to a poor and paralyzed American sailor who with his family was suffering in London, without any personal appeal having been made to him. These were the last pulses of a heart that beat only for humanity.

Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has every reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense labors of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, enable him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessary of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be certain of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made twenty-six different applications BEFORE APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the
CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the
MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes
—of the—
MAGEE PARLOR STOVE
with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

The New Hampshire Petroleum Co. is organized with great care, under the management of some of the ablest financiers and most successful business men in the State, whose integrity is above reproach, and who cannot be led by excitement into speculations that have not to their minds a golden foundation. Their lands have been selected with great caution. Mr. N. R. Bates, of Titusville, who has been very successful the past year in selecting Oil Lands and boring wells, was known to some of the gentlemen prominent in starting this company, as a man of strictly honest, sagacious, and experienced in the Petroleum regions, and was solicited to aid in selecting the property here offered. So well did Mr. E. Martin, Wm. P. Newell, Esq., and John B. Clarke, Editor of the Mirror, of Manchester, J. S. Fogg, Esq., of the firm of Fogg, Houghton & Coolidge, 64 Pearl St., Boston, and Daniel E. Lancaster, 419 Broadway, New York, were appointed a committee to visit the farms spoken of. Early in February they looked over the lands selected by Mr. Bates, and became convinced that they were among the very best Oil lands in Oil Creek. The great Oil Basin seems to be situated between Oil Creek, East Oil Creek, and Alleghany river, and not twenty miles from one point to the other, and the Four Farms of the Company are within the Basin and on the same Oil Belt of the great flowing and pumping wells that have yielded the past year to the State of Pennsylvania, as Gov. Curtin says in his Message, fifty-six million of dollars. The last of March, Mr. W. Harris, Esq., a well-known lawyer of Boston and late District Attorney, P. H. Burns, Esq., a shrewd business man of Dover, N. H., and F. A. Wilcox, Esq., a lawyer of 76 Wall Street, New York, were sent out to see to the titles of lands, and make farther examinations. They came to the same conclusions the others had, and the Four Farms were bought, which are thus described:

THE MATTISON FARM.

This Farm contains 84 acres and is near the confluence of Cherry Creek and East Oil Creek—The lay of the land is beautiful for Oil; high lands on each side, Cherry Creek running directly through, and a tributary of East Oil Creek on one side. Every inch of the land is valuable for Coal or boring wells, and there is no waste to it.

The oil veins run from east to west, or from north east to south west, and are from one to three miles wide. The Mattison Farm is two and a half miles in a direct line east of the great Oil flats south of Titusville, from which immense fortunes have flowed. Here the Steele & Mead well flowed 1000 barrels per day—the Fountain 200—the Parker 200—and scores of wells are now being worked that yield from 10 to 60 barrels daily. Nine out of every ten wells bored on this farm will be productive of Oil well worth 40 to forty thousand dollars, and a sixty barrel well sell for half a million

It is believed by good judges that every rod of the seventy-five acres of the Mattison Farm, all that is not good for coal, is equal to the Flat below Titusville. Coal in that section is worth $12 per ton, and if the vein of coal should prove well it would be a fortune in itself. It is splendid coal, burning freely as Cannel.

The average price of oil per barrel the last year was $10 at the wells, the buyers furnishing the barrels. It costs a little less than $600 to sink a well to the depth of 700 feet, and few go lower than that. It costs $250 per day to work, after it yields oil. G. P. Ball, of the Cherry Creek Farm Petroleum Company, says of this Farm Section:

"I consider all the lands located there, as being richer in Oil, and presenting geological features of a more full and perfect character than any other that I am acquainted with; and I have spent much time during the last few months in examining and selecting the Farm of my own in Venango and Warren Counties, in all of which I have made considerable investments.—Professors MAYNARD and SHEPARD, Geologists of eminence, have given me a report regarding the lands generally throughout the valleys of East Oil Creek. If this Farm comes up to the expectations of Prof. Shepard of Yale College, of Mr. Ball, of Mr. Bates, it will have pumping wells and flowing wells. The flowing wells would sell for large sums of money, and the pumping wells, if as good as those south of Titusville, would be of incalculable value. There is abundant room on each acre for 12 wells, and on this farm for over 900 wells. Just make computation of the cost of so many wells, and the yield of oil on the same, and if only half as large as good as they are expected, if they only yield the minimum average of the wells on that Oil Belt, what your income from this Farm alone, for over one million of dollars. This Company do not expect any such results, but merely state facts, and let each person make his own figuring and reach his own conclusions.

THE PARKER FARM

Contains 100 acres, a heavily timbered, situated near the road to Enterprise, not far from East Oil Creek, and between Cherry Creek and where the Caldwell Creek empties into Oil Creek. They have lately sunk a well right opposite this farm and truck oil. A single good well on this large farm would enable the Company to sell or lease the lands for great sums. The remarks about the location of the Mattison Farm, apply equally well to this.

THE BYLES FARM,

On Pit Hole Creek, contains 105 acres. It is about three miles east of Oil Creek, directly east of the Coquet Well that flows 700 barrels daily, the Jersey that flows 200, the Maple Shade and other noted flowing wells, and pumping wells without limit. This Farm is on the same Oil Belt and on the same Oil Creek. There is great excitement on Pit Hole. The Frazer well is on it. It began to flow about the middle of January, and with its sucker rod in, and its pipe connected with one of our refinery, it has flowed 230 barrels per day ever since.—They have not dared to pull out the sucker rod yet, fearing they had not sufficient tanks to hold the oil. The tanks they now have will hold 3,200 barrels. Below this well, on the same Creek, another Jersey well has struck oil, and above it is a spouting well, which, when bored low enough, will yield abundantly. A little farther north in the same company, the United States, is putting down a well that looks already better than the Frazer well, and great expectations rest upon it. In eight of the spouting wells, and between the Frazer and the one which has raised so high hopes, is the Byles Farm, all low land, and every rod in it bored, is it is splendidly located. It abounds in sand rocks and oil indications. Mr. Bates thinks very highly of it, and has no doubt but we shall find on it flowing wells superior to any yet struck in that section. A single flowing well struck would enable us to sell the farm in small lots for ten millions of dollars. Land on high bluffs some ways removed from the Coquet well, leases for fifty years at the rate of $50,000 for strips twelve rods by sixteen, cash down.

THE DAWSON FARM,

On WEST PIT HOLE, contains 25 acres, and is in the same wonderful oil region. It has oil springs on and around it, and many wells are now being bored near it with excellent prospects for oil. Mr. Bates is now sinking one close to it. In a letter dated March 25, 1865, he says: "My well is sinking as finely as it progresses, both in gas and oil, as any well has ever shown at the same depth on Oil Creek; gas at 90 feet; a good show of oil at 112 feet; at 140 feet gas is rising and roaring loudly.

Within rifle shot of this farm, sixteen years ago a well was sunk twenty-seven feet deep for water, and oil came in and spoiled it. We have no doubt that rich oil wells will be sunk on this Farm, and there is land enough, if they are rich, to make the Farm a fortune.

Circulars, prospectuses, &c., containing every information, will be furnished on application at the office of the Company, or sent by mail to parties wishing to subscribe. Address, or address

JEFF'S PETTICOAT, &c. — The N. Y. Herald's correspondent gives the particulars of the arrest of Jeff. Davis, fully confirming the official accounts already published.

When the guard went into the tent they were met by Mrs. Davis en dishabille, with "Please, gentlemen, don't disturb the privacy of ladies before they have time to dress." "All right, Madam," said the corporal, "we will wait until you have on your dress." Presently there appeared at the tent door an ostensibly old lady, with a bucket on her arm, escorted by Mrs. Davis and her sister. "Please let my old mother go to the spring for some water to wash in," said Mrs. Jeff, in pleading tone. "It strikes me your mother wears very big boots," said the guard, as he hoisted the old lady's dress with his sabre, and discovered a pair of No. 13 calf-skins; "and whiskers, too," said the sargeant, as he pulled the hood from her face; and lo, Jeff. Davis stood before them. A pistol was immediately placed at his ear, and he was placed in durance vile.

The guard with the prisoners, immediately started for Macon. The party were all sullen, and Davis remarked to Pritchard that had they not been taken by surprise they would not have surrendered without a fight. While on the road they received a copy of the President's proclamation, offering $100,000 reward for Davis. Davis read it and trembled, dropping his hands to his side, and with a groan he dropped the paper. His wife picked it up and read it along, when the entire party burst into tears.

Stephens and Wheeler were captured by a detachment of Gen. Upton's division, and Clay and his lady surrendered to General Wilson at Macon.

Only about $8000 in specie was found with the party, though several boxes were not searched. They were brought along however, and will be delivered to the authorities at Washington. There were found on the person of Postmaster General Reagan, papers showing that a large amount of specie had been shipped for London, which, will also be delivered to the authorities by Col. Pritchard.

☞ Respecting the closing work of the Sanitary Commission, Miss Abby W. May, who as Chairman of Ex. Com. of the Women's Auxiliary Association, has really done as much for the country as our most successful General in arms—writes thus:

"The war has ended. The blessed result that we hardly dared to hope for, much less to expect as so very near at hand, has come. How many years of life and progress have been compressed into the last eight weeks.—We cannot realize it all. We cannot be half grateful enough for it. But there is much finishing work to be done: and our gratitude, however poor, shall have the effect of making us more earnest to do our part faithfully. The eighty thousand men still in Hospital need our care, and will need it until they can be brought to their homes, or go to a higher home for the healing that human hands are powerless to bestow. The prisoners not yet returned shall have all the aid we can give.—Surely they do not need it less than those earlier exchanged.

"The troops, now to be gathered in garrison, shall not be neglected, in the transition period that must occur before government will be free enough to do for them the work hitherto done only by unofficial hands. No; there is no stop for us yet. We are determined—our letters from all parts of New England say so, and we heartily respond to their generous and wise spirit—that our work shall not cease till the need is entirely over. When the Sanitary Commission says the word "enough," we will sound the joyful tidings all over New England; and with one united act of gladness our work shall cease. The happy day may be postponed, possibly, for three months yet; but we can afford to wait patiently, and work earnestly for an end so near, and full in view."

— Three years ago Daniel G. Shaw of Barton, Vt., while riding from Island Pond to Charleston, lost his pocket book containing $97. The present spring, while driving over the same road, a man from Island Pond turned this wallet out of the mud on his wagon wheel, and restored it to the owner. About $70 of the money was well enough preserved to be redeemed by the banks.
